THE PUGET SOUND TRAIL

PUBLISHED BY THE UNIVERSITY OF PUGET SOUND

Vol. I SEPTEMBER 16, 1911 Number 1

THE PUGET SOUND TRAIL

This year's first issue of our college paper greets the old students with a new name—The Puget Sound Trail. The Maroon is gone—not into oblivion, but into the sweet memories of many happy years and associations. Those of us who have been in the U. P. S. for several years feel a peculiar attachment to that cheery magazine, which came to visit us every month, bringing the gladness and throbbing life of the royal student who published it. And yet we will not grieve; we will revere the Maroon and welcome the Trail.

"The Trail," what does this word signify? Some might say, "To follow at length in the wake of something." Not so to the U. P. S.; but rather "to form a path," to blaze the way, pushing to the front with the hardiness of early pioneers. This name suggests to us that other Puget Sound Trail, called by some 'The Natchez Pass,' over which the first pioneers crossed the Cascades from the sage brush plains to Puget Sound—it headed straight for the Sound—obviating the necessity of the traveller making the circuitous trip on the Oregon trail down the Columbia River valley—and landed in the White River valley—and thence to Olympia. Sometimes it led over rocky mountain sides, down steep canyons, or through the dense virgin forest, where the foliage was so thick and the shade so deep that it was almost dark at noon day. Sometimes it wound among the huge fallen trees, passing under some and over others, notches being cut for the wheels to pass. It ford every stream and overcome every difficulty in its way and guided the immigrants to this garden spot of our nation.

So the "Trail" signifies to us, not smooth sailing in our quest for knowledge and development of character, but a path that leads over rugged mountains of difficulties and across streams of temporary discouragements—but whose destination is strength of character and a well trained mind. The "Trail" will represent a student body who are pioneer in spirit, who are determined to overcome every obstacle. Forward, students, let us, with a heroic spirit, blaze a trail through to the land of our noblest achievements.

ANNUAL FEED

The Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. certainly did well this year in preparing the annual "bean feed" in the library. This event has become an annual one and is surely enjoyed by all as a promoter of good fellowship; a place where we can welcome back all our old friends and begin to get acquainted with the new members of our university.

On Tuesday at 12:30 about two hundred students, faculty and friends gathered in the library to partake of the good things which the Y. W. and the Y. M. had so well provided. When the little spread was fast disappearing, and everybody was really well acquainted with his neighbors, and the fellows across the table, Dr. Zeller, as president of Puget Sound, gave a cordial greeting. In a few words, he made everybody feel at home, and then gave a good little talk upon the purpose of our college, what lay before us and around us, and the victories which should be ours. Our president acted as toastmaster, and in appropriate words introduced those who had some word of greeting and welcome from the different departments. Miss Berna Miller, president of the Associated Students, made us all feel the earnestness of her invitation to join that organization, and to part with the small sum of 25 cents. The president of the Y. W. C. A., Miss Lyle Ford, brought to all the greeting of the Christian young women of Puget Sound. Percy Scott, the "king of the forest of oaks," as president of the Y. M. C. A., gave the call for men and the need of service. Prof. Wright (just as soon as he could leave his dinner) gave a talk upon athletics, football in particular, and invited the new fellows to join the old in the first practice of the season. The Puget Sound Trail, with its many needs, financial and otherwise, was represented by Miss Mammie Conney, editor, and Frank Riley, business manager. Rev. Pfiam, assistant pastor of First Church, and Rev. Benedom, pastor of Epworth Church, gave cordial invitations to their church services, and urged the students to find a church home.

The new members of the faculty were given their first opportunity of appearing before the students, and much wit and knowledge was found to exist in that learned group. Prof. Marsh, of the Ancient Language department, told how glad he was that he could be away from us last year. Dr. Selinger, of the department of German and Sociology, Miss Randall of the School of Public Speaking, Miss McKeel of the School of Art, Miss Gale of the Junior Academy, and Miss Elliott and Miss Frith of the School of Music, each told us a little of what they thought of our school and our mountain. Prof. Thomas Scott closed the noon's enjoyable feast of beans and pleasanties and Henry Webb led the student body in a yell. Then we thanked the two organizations for our good time, and it was all over, except the feeling, for another year.
Constitution of the Associated Students of the University of Puget Sound

ARTICLE I.

Name and Membership.

Section 1. The name of this organization shall be "THE ASSOCIATED STUDENTS OF THE UNIVERSITY OF PUGET SOUND."

Sec. 2. Membership in this organization shall consist of any student in the College of Liberal Arts, College of Commerce, or Academy; and any special student who is working for a degree or diploma from any department of the University of Puget Sound; provided that each student has registered as a member of the Associated Students' Organization and paid the annual fee of 25c to the Secretary-Treasurer of said organization. The students enrolled in the Schools of Education, Home Economics, Public Speaking, Music, and Art shall be classified with the College of Liberal Arts or the Academy as indicated by the registration.

ARTICLE II.

Object.

Section 1. This organization shall foster and promote all interests pertaining to student life and welfare.

ARTICLE III.

Officers.

Section 1. The officers of this organization shall be a President, a Vice-President, and a Secretary-Treasurer.

Sec. 2. All officers of the Associated Students' Organization, the Central Board, and the Bureaus shall be elected for a term of one school year.

ARTICLE IV.

Duties and Qualifications.

Section 1. The President shall preside at all meetings of the organization and shall be ex-officio chairman of the Central Board. He shall be a Senior at the beginning of the college year following his election.

Sec. 2. The Vice-President shall assume the duties of the President in case of his absence, resignation, or forfeiture of office. He shall be ex-officio a member of the Central Board, and shall be a member of one of the three upper classes of the College of Liberal Arts at the time of his election.

Sec. 3. The Secretary-Treasurer shall keep a record of all of the proceedings of the organization, shall have charge of all disbursements from the general fund, and shall be ex-officio a member of, and Secretary of the Central Board. He shall be a Commercial student.

ARTICLE V.

The Central Board.

Section 1. Name.—This Board shall be called the CENTRAL BOARD OF THE ASSOCIATED STUDENTS OF THE UNIVERSITY OF PUGET SOUND.

Sec. 2. Membership.—The Central Board shall consist of the President, Vice-President, and Secretary-Treasurer of the Associated Students' Organization of the University of Puget Sound, one member from each Bureau governing student activities, and three members of the Faculty.

Sec. 3. Officers.—The officers of the Associated Students' Organization shall be ex-officio the officers of the Central Board.

Sec. 4. Duties.—It shall be the duties of this Board:
1. To audit the financial reports of the various bureaus.
2. To arbitrate in any conflict between bureaus, classes, or other organizations.
3. To provide for the formation of new bureaus, by the formation of tentative or provisional constitutions to be submitted to the Associated Students' Organization.
4. To make proper adjustment upon the presentation of complaints concerning the actions of any bureau, or any member thereof, or any officer of the Associated Student Organization, or of the Central Board.
5. To remove from office any officer or member of any Bureau or of the Central Board who may be found guilty of misconduct or inefficiency.
6. To consider all matters of student concern and to bring before the Associated Student Organization such matters as they deem proper.
7. To provide and regulate class rushes and such other student customs as may be initiated or maintained.

Sec. 5. Meetings.—This Board shall meet regularly every two weeks, on such day and hours as it may choose.

ARTICLE VI.

Bureaus.

Section 1. For the immediate management of the various phases of student activity there shall be: a Bureau of Athletics, a Bureau of Dramatic Art, a Bureau of Debate and Oratory, a Bureau of Social Activities, a Bureau of Student Publication, a Bureau of the Y. M. C. A., and a Bureau of the Y. W. C. A.

Sec. 2. Each Bureau shall elect from among its members a President, Vice-President, and a Secretary-Treasurer.

Sec. 3. Every Secretary-Treasurer and Financial Manager shall make a written report to the Central Board at least two weeks before the close of each term.

Sec. 4. All Faculty representatives shall be appointed by the President of the University.

Sec. 5. Each Bureau shall have at least two regular meetings each term and as many additional meetings as may be deemed necessary.

Sec. 6. The Bureau of Athletics shall consist of two representatives from the College of Liberal Arts, two from the Academy, one from the College of Commerce, and two from the Faculty.

The student members of the Bureau of Athletics shall qualify as to scholarship the same as members of any of the athletic teams.

Sec. 7. The Bureau of Debate and Oratory shall consist of three representatives from the College of Liberal Arts, one each from the College of Commerce and the Academy, and two members from the Faculty.

Duties.—This Bureau shall have control of all oratorical contests, all intercollegiate and inter-class debates, given under the auspices of the University of Puget Sound.

Sec. 8. The Bureau of Dramatic Art shall consist of three representatives from the College of Liberal Arts, one each from the College of Commerce and the Academy, and two members from the Faculty.

Duties.—This Bureau shall have charge and supervision of all public performance of a dramatic character.

Sec. 9. The Bureau of Social Activities shall consist of ten members; two from the College of Liberal Arts, one from the College of Commerce, two from the Academy, and five from the Faculty.

The student members of this Board shall be chosen from the higher classmen of both Schools of College and Academy.

Duties.—This Bureau shall have control of all social affairs subject to the regulations governing the social affairs of the University of Puget Sound.

Sec. 10. The Bureau of Student Publication shall consist of seven members; three from the College of Liberal Arts, one from the Academy, one from the College of Commerce, and two from the Faculty.

Duties.—This Bureau shall have supervision of all student publications except as elsewhere provided for.

The Faculty shall arrange two lists of nominees for Editor-in-Chief, Managing Editor, and two Assistant Editors, to be voted upon by the general student body.

The Business Manager shall be appointed by the President of the University of Puget Sound.

Sec. 11. The Bureau of the Y. M. C. A. shall consist of the cabinet of the Association and its Advisory Board, two members of which shall be from the Faculty.

The officers of the Association shall be the ex-officio officers of this Bureau.

Sec. 12. The Bureau of the Y. W. C. A. shall consist of the cabinet of the Association and its Advisory Board, two members of which shall be from the Faculty.

The officers of the Association shall be the ex-officio officers of this Bureau.

Two members from the Bureau of the Y. M. C. A. and of the Y. W. C. A. with two members of the Faculty shall have oversight of all matters pertaining to the Week of Prayer, the Weekly College Prayer Meeting, and all religious work connected with the University of Puget Sound.

Sec. 13. The Advisory Boards of the two Christian Associations shall be selected by their respective presidents and the President of the University.

ARTICLE VII.

Elections.

Section 1. A general election shall be held, annually, on the second Wednesday in May for the purpose of electing a President, Vice-President, Secretary-Treasurer, an Editor, Managing Editor, and two Assistant Editors of the Student Publication Bureau.

Sec. 2. The College of Liberal Arts shall hold an election, annually, on the second Wednesday in May for the purpose of electing three representatives for the Bureaus of Debate and Oratory and of Dramatic Art, two to the Bureau of Athletics, two to the Bureau of Social Activity, and three to the Bureau of Student Publication.

Sec. 3. The College of Commerce shall hold an election, annually, on the second Wednesday in May for the purpose of electing one representative each to the Bureaus of Dramatic Art, of Oratory and Debate, of Student Publication, of Athletics, and of Social Activity.

Sec. 4. The Academy shall hold an election, annually, on the second Wednesday in May for the purpose of electing one representative each for the Bureaus of Dramatic Art, of Debate and Oratory, and of Student Publication, two to the Bureau of Athletics, and of Social Activity.

Sec. 5. Not more than one member of a College or Academy Class shall serve on the same Bureau.

Sec. 6. Only such students as have registered as members of the Associated Students' Organization of the University of Puget Sound shall be eligible to vote at the above mentioned elections.

Sec. 7. At least ten days before the date of election, the President of the Associated Students' Organization shall appoint a board of election judges for each school, consisting of three members each, whose duties shall be to arrange for polling places for each school, see that the ballots and poll books are prepared on the Australian system, and serve on election board on election day.

Sec. 8. The Secretary of the Associated Students shall post, on the official bulletin board, at least fourteen days before the date of election, a notice of the date of said election.

Sec. 9. Not more than fourteen days nor less than seven days before date of election, all nominations for the various offices shall be handed to the Secretary of the Associated Students, who shall post the same on the official bulletin board at least seven days before date of election.

Sec. 10. Nominations for the various offices shall be in writing signed by at least ten students in the department from which the nomination is made, and the nominee signing his willingness to accept said nomination. Exception is made in the case of the three general officers, in which instance nominations may come from the University at large.

Sec. 11. The board of election judges shall post in some conspicuous place a notice designating the location of each polling place at least three days before the date of election.

Sec. 12. It shall require a majority of all votes cast in all cases for election. In case a candidate fails to secure a majority, a second election shall be held the following day at which only the two candidates securing the highest number of votes for each office for which the election of the previous day has failed to provide, shall be candidates.

Sec. 13. Any officer of the Associated Students' Organization or any member of the Central Board, or of any Bureau shall be subject, for cause, to removal from office by the Central Board.

Sec. 14. It shall require a two-thirds vote of the Central Board to remove from office any officer for cause; such cause or causes to be presented to the Central Board.

Sec. 15. In all cases the Faculty shall have power to remove from office any officer for cause; such cause or causes to be presented to the Central Board.

Sec. 16. In case of a vacancy in any Bureau all of the representatives in the other Bureaus, coming from the same school, shall meet and elect a successor to fill such vacancy.

Sec. 17. The President of the Associated Students shall have the power to call special elections for the purpose of filling vacancies in said organization.

ARTICLE VIII.
Meetings.

Section 1. Regular meetings of the Associated Students shall be held on the last Wednesday of September, the second Wednesday of January, and the first Wednesday of April; and special meetings at the call of the President of the Associated Students.

Sec. 2. Quorum.—Twenty-five per cent of the members shall constitute a quorum.

ARTICLE IX.
Amendments.

Section 1. This Constitution may be amended at any meeting by a two-thirds vote of the members present, provided that notice of the said meeting together with a copy of the proposed amendments shall have been posted on the official bulletin board for a period of not less than one week, previous to the meeting at which it is to be considered; provided further that a copy of the proposed amendments to be filed with the Secretary of the Associated Students' Organization one week before said meeting.

ARTICLE X.

Section 1. In any case not covered by this Constitution this organization shall be governed by "ROBERT'S RULES OF ORDER."

Dr. Hugo P. J. Selinger is a native German, having been born in Mannheim, Germany, where he received the earlier part of his education in the grammar school and the gymnasium. Upon completion of the equivalent of the American classical college course in the gymnasium, Dr. Selinger matriculated in the University of Heidelberg, where he spent five semesters in the study of philosophy, economics, history, and sociology. Following that, he spent one semester in the University of Munich, three semesters in the University of Berlin, and six months in the University of Paris, receiving in 1900 the degree of doctor of philosophy from Heidelberg University. In 1905 he was given the degree of master of theology by the same institution, having done graduate work. From 1907 to 1910, Dr. Selinger was assistant in sociology in the University of Chicago, at the same time doing work in various other branches. He has done extensive translating work from the German and the French, and comes to Puget Sound with a record of scholarship and rare ability in the social sciences that is equaled by few men.

School of Art
Miss McKee

The University has indeed been fortunate in securing Miss Stella S. McKee to head the School of Art. Miss McKee is a college woman, having received her bachelor of arts degree from Western Reserve University. Upon completing her college course, she spent two years in academic training in the Toledo School of Art, working in charcoal, oil, watercolor and clay. Following that she studied under Mr. Arthur T. Payne, head of the Bradley Polytechnic Institute, in metal work and jewelry for a year and a half. For one and a half years she pursued the study of letter designing in the Ohio State University. She then pursued the study of various other branches of art in the Chicago Academy of Fine Arts, paying particular attention to the ceramic industries and normal art work. Miss McKee has had considerable experience both in commercial art work and in teaching. She comes from Denison University, Granville, Ohio, where she was at the head of the department of arts and crafts. Miss McKee, by reason of her extensive training and practical experience, is particularly well qualified for the production of metal work in silver, copper, brass, hand-made jewelry, design and china painting. Miss McKee comes recommended highly as an artist of merit and as a successful instructor.

Miss Olive Edna Randall, of Mt. Vernon, Iowa, has commenced her duties as head of the School of Public Speaking, and the University is looking forward to a successful year in that department. Miss Randall is a graduate of the School of Oratory of Cornell College, and has done three years' academic work in the regular college course at that institution. Miss Randall is also a graduate of the Columbia College of Expression, and of the Missouri State Normal School. She has further done considerable post-graduate work with Miss Ursula Irvine, of New York City, and Prof. Albert Mason Harris, of Vanderbilt University. Miss Randall comes to Tacoma highly recommended as a teacher of unusual ability, a reader of rare power and charm, possessed of a knowledge of the world's best literature in which she is practically without a rival.

To former students this will bear no special significance, but to every new man let us say that the Y. M. C. A. is here primarily for service to every man. It stands as a sort of clearing house of difficulties and successes. We welcome you, new man. Glad to see you back again, old members. Do not fail to, first, become a member; second, get into the Bible classes and attend the Tuesday noon addresses in the preacher's room; third, ask questions about everything. Whatever else you do besides this, don't knock. Boost! We are all proud of "Our University," our President and our Faculty. We know you will also "get the habit" after a while and make the year 1911-12 the biggest yet. The first Association address will be given Tuesday noon, September 19th, by the Association President. Start with the first and the habit will grow and you will have gained by it. Ask the old fellows about it.

Y. W. C. A.

To each and every girl who has entered the University this fall—whether you are a new or an old student—the Young Women's Christian Association extends a most cordial welcome, and also the invitation that you join Y. W. as soon as possible.

If you were at our little informal party yesterday afternoon, you already have an idea of what a thoroughly good time the Association girls can have. If you weren't there Friday, come to the next one, for the Cabinet hopes to have several throughout the year.

Then come to our regular weekly meeting next Tuesday noon and decide for yourself whether Y. W. isn't worth while.

Remember, girls, the Association needs you, and it has a place waiting for each one of you in one or another of its departments. Besides you will find that active work here will strengthen and develop you in many ways.

Plans for a far-reaching membership campaign are already well under way, but if, by any chance, you haven't yet been asked to join, just hand in your name to any cabinet member, and do it now.

Football Schedule

The football schedule is about complete at the date of this issue. There will be eight games, five of which are already scheduled, and the other three in sight. There will be a game with the Bellingham Normal probably on November 11th or 23th, and games may be arranged with Whitworth College and Ellensburg Normal.

The schedule as now planned is as follows:

Oct. 14, St. Martin's play here.
Oct. 21, State University at Seattle.
Oct. 28, St. Martin's at Lucy.
Nov. 4, U. S. S. Philadelphia at Tacoma.
Nov. 18, Fort Worden at Port Townsend.
EDITORIAL

The Puget Sound Trail enters upon the first year of its existence with a great big expectation—that every one will do his best to make the paper a success. Give Vol. I. No. 1 a boost and then keep right on. Like several members of the student body and of the faculty, our college paper changed her name during the summer, and now it becomes our duty to do all that we can for her and give her no cause to get a divorce on the ground of non-support. We want to make the paper as truly representative of the school as possible, and we need the entire co-operation of the student body and the faculty. Let us have the benefit of your ideas; come to us with suggestions, comments, and criticism. If you have a friend of whom you have something unpleasant, or in whom there is something of which you do not approve, you go to that person and talk it over, and would not think of making things worse by circulating remarks among others. The Puget Sound Trail is your friend, so it becomes almost a duty to each and every one to do your best to make the Trail a decided success during the year of 1911-12. It's up to you.

THE CONSTITUTION.

This issue of the Puget Sound Trail is of an especial value to every student, since it contains a copy of the Constitution of the Associated Students. This constitution was prepared and adopted last spring and is almost new and unknown to old and new students alike. Read and study it carefully, and let all of us know how we are governed, what are our privileges, and what are our duties. There will be an election in a week or two, and before that takes place, it would be well to know how to nominate, whom to nominate, and what you should do then. If we are all familiar with the constitution we can avoid the troublesome and embarrassing mistakes which are otherwise sure to occur.

Mr. Riley, business manager of the Puget Sound Trail, at the social gathering on Tuesday noon, brought to the students this short but good advice, "Patronize those who patronize us." Now let us all consider what this means. In the first place, look up those who have placed their advertisements in our paper, and then go there, tell the merchants who you are, and let them know why you buy their goods. It may take a little thoughtfulness on your part, but we owe it to our advertising friends just that much and a little more. Tell your friends where you do your purchasing, and make this business the paper's business, your business. You can make the Puget Sound Trail just what you wish, and please wish to make it a paper worth while and one of which you will be proud. The lack of sufficient funds will be one of our difficulties, and it is for that reason that our cover is not more as we might wish it. But the next issue and the next and so on will improve with your help. Not between classes, not in the crowded hall, not in the class room, but in your own room in the quiet of the study hour, just take half an hour and consider this, "What am I personally doing to make the Puget Sound Trail a success?"

THE TRAIL

The slender track I go by, morn and eve,
Comes nigh to losing its brown, barren worth,
By thick and eager growth and pushing forth
Of lowly plants, that scarce a footing leave.
Oh, there are tiny flowers of every tint
That raise their cups for all the butterflies,
And there, fine grass, and vines of dainty size,
And stalks that waver at the wild bees' hint.
Abundant life is there among the maze,
Wide charities of seed and honeyed store,
With perfumes in the summer sun's hot blaze,
And tender night's refreshment dewing o'er.
What growing there, for loud-tongued praise could yearn?
For prouder ways, who from God's field would turn?

Concerning Geometry

If there should be another flood,
For safety, hither fly;
Though all the world should be submerged
This book would still be dry.

A decrepit old gas man warned Peter,
While hunting around for the meter,
Touched a leak with his light,
He arose out of sight,
And as anyone can see by reading this, it also destroyed the meter.

All men try to get the earth, but the earth gets them.
This is not a joke; it is the grave truth.

Fred—'‘If all the rivers run into the sea, why doesn’t it overflow?’"

Ben—'‘Why, because it’s full of sponges.’"

She (in a friendly tone)—'Are you going to take supper anywhere tomorrow night?’"

He (eagerly)—'Why, no; not that I know of.’"

She (serenely)—'Why, won’t you be hungry the next morning?’"

Eddie (at the zoo)—'Say, mister, is this a cross-eyed bear?’"

Mister—'‘Nope, sonny, who ever heard of a cross-eyed bear?’"

Eddie—'‘I have. They sang yesterday about the cross I’d bear.’"

Jim (in candy store)—'Have you any fresh sweet chocolates?’"

'Yes,’” said the sweet girl behind the counter.

Jim—'‘Have you any as sweet as yourself?’"

'Yes, but none as fresh as you.’"

When Ringling Brothers Circus was in Tacoma every animal in the menagerie was in the parade except the giraffe. This unfortunate fact was brought about by an action on the part of the authorities, who were afraid that these tall beasts would eat the currents off the electric wires.

An Irishman was riding a restive pony along a country road. The animal slipped into a ditch and in attempting to scramble out again caught one of its hind feet in the stirrup: 'Arrah!' said Pat, 'if you’re thinkin’ of gettin’ up here, 'tis toime for me to be gettin’ down.”

Why is it that a lamp in a room, where there are two souls with but a single thought, always goes out?

“Menzies & Stevens Clothes” are good all the way through. What you see on the outside is due to the masterful technique which is on the inside. They’re so sturdily made that the strongest and most athletic fellows will gain great pleasure and service from their wear.

And, what is of equal moment to the clever dresser, they abound in artful touches, decisive lines, and the many features desired by the athlete, the student or the business man.

“Menzies & Stevens Clothes” are typically American, though many of the fabrics have an “over the briny” look—that little “air” which stands them apart—which makes them exclusive.

We display a dozen or more models in “Rain Proof Overcoat” ranging in style from the long, waisty, convertible collar design to the looser, longer great coats.

Jimmy giggled when the teacher read the story of the Roman who swam across the Tiber three times before breakfast.

"You do not doubt that a trained swimmer could do that, do you, James?"

"No, sir," answered Jimmy, "but I wonder why he didn't make it four and get back on the side his clothes were on!"

Mike—"Pat, kin you tell me what kapes them bricks together?"

Pat—"Sure, Mike; it's the mortar."

Mike—"Not at all; that kapes them apart."

"Won't you try a piece of my wife's angel cake?"

"Will it make an angel of me?"

"That depends on the kind of life you have led."

Little Sister (running to mother): "Mother what part of the body is the scrimmage?"

Mother: "Why do you ask, my dear?"

Little Sister: "The college paper says that brother got hurt in the scrimmage and could not finish the game."

Special Election

A special election of the Associated Students will be held Wednesday, September 27, at 12:30 o'clock. The officers to be chosen are Secretary-Treasurer, and two assistant editors for the Puget Sound Trail. Nominations for Secretary-Treasurer must be in writing and signed by at least ten students. Nominations for assistant editors can only be made by the faculty. All nominations must be handed to John Everit, Secretary pro tem, not later than 12:30 o'clock, Wednesday, September 20.

New students, do not think that because you are strange here you are not particularly interested. You are one of us; you have the university at heart as much as we have; you are as anxious for the success of our college paper as we are; it is as much your duty to take an active part in student affairs as it is ours. So pick out your man and back him up.

As only paid up members are entitled to vote, do not forget to pay your 25c membership fee. Any of the officers will give you your receipt.
What They Did

Professor Wright spent his vacation looking for Freshmen, which will be used to lick the Sophs. He has had good success.

"Sunny Jim" Bailey kept himself busy regretting the fact that he left for home before Commencement, and his spare moments were spent in the harvest field.

Ande Klebe could keep himself happy only while resting in the shade of the Elder (?) bushes.

Our recent Professor Simpson collected specimens of fucus, polysiphonia, crustaceans and protozoans. While thus engaged she was taken by a humanibus marshorum, which name, in its Americanized form, has been duly attached to the nomen of the professor.

Arthur Decker's occupation was that of a shingle weaver. Mr. Decker regrets that it will not be his lot to attempt weaving some Freshmen this year.

The Mises Monroe and Allen spent an enjoyable vacation delivering topical Bibles to friends and others in our sister city, Portland.

Clark Cottrell will have to be excused if he acts the role of a section foreman; for he "bossed" a threshing crew during the summer.

If success comes to those who work for "Success," Marvin at Olympia as a representative.

Miss Starr, of the class of '11, had charge of a kindergarten during the summer and "loves how the U. P. S. routine will be quite refreshing after such an experience."

I see that one of the wise guys from across the big puddle has been writing us up again and this time in a rather complimentary vein. He writes about our picturesque Slang, which he spells with a capital "S" and refers to as being "multitude in color, and without a rival in the history of speech." I believe that’s true dope. I’ve never heard of any other nation that could hunch us on the glad lingo; in fact, I am told by well-traveled gezabas of this country that we have all countries frazzled to a fare-you-well when it comes to flowers of speech, whether vernacular or plain. I guess the "American language" is like American people—the richest on the globe. We are rich in word paintings because we get our colors from all the other races, rich in opportunities because we are new and we attract the old (which gives the proper blend), and we are rich in material because we are producers and make scads of money, and we spend it freely, thus obtaining the best products of all the nations that we know of—and we’re willing to know them all. Well, your new fall suit and sky piece is here and you can get the good colors, all right all right. But in,
