Our New President

On Monday, September 22nd, right after conference, the Board of Trustees of the University met and elected Dr. E. H. Todd, as the new President of "Our University." Dr. Todd was notified of his election and a week later, the Board met again, this time to receive his acceptance. Just after accepting, our new President was with us for a couple of days, to "get the lay of the land" and then he went back to his home in Salem, Oregon to wind up his affairs there, before coming here to locate permanently. He will be back in Tacoma inside of three weeks and will then enter actively upon his duties.

As students and faculty are always vitally interested in a change of executives, a few words in regard to our new President are appropriate.

Dr. E. H. Todd received his first college training at Simpson College, Iowa. He graduated from Simpson and then further increased his education by taking a course at Boston University. Soon after finishing his work at Boston University, he came West. He was pastor of Epworth M. E. church, of this city, for two years. Then for four years he acted as Field-Secretary of our own U. P. S. He next went to Seattle, and for two years was the popular pastor of one of the M. E. churches there. He was called from there to take up school work again as Vice-President of Willamette University, which position he has held for the past three years. Everywhere he has been he has made good and we have the greatest confidence that he will make good here. He made his initial bow to the faculty and student body, when he conducted the devotionals at chapel, last Tuesday, and then made a speech which was frank but full of ginger and enthusiasm. We like you, Dr. Todd. We like your "good-fellow" smile and we like your "pep." You have our confidence and you may be sure that you will have our cooperation in your efforts to make U. P. S. what it should and will be—the greatest Christian college on the Coast. Three cheers for "Prexy!"

Poet’s Corner

WELCOME.
’Cross the green-sward hither come,
Happy faces, old and new,
’Gin we hear the tap of drum
As our studies we pursue.

“Hip Hooray!” for Puget Sound
Tigers now for teachers all
Nor a jollier bunch is found
As we trip from hall to hall.

’Tis for some a Seniors role
Some are Juniors, busy and wise,
Sophomores are seen to stroll,
Freshmen are in Paradise.

From the Chapel’s sweet-toned hall
Peal on peal the Anthem swells,
Here’s a welcome one and all
With our songs and college yells.

THE RIVALS.
Frown and Fret
Made a bet
As to which of them would get
The glad hand
In the land.
They were rivals, understand.
Frown came first,
Did his worst,
Whereat everybody cursed.
Then came Fret,
Jaws all set,
Looked determined-like, and yet
He fell down,
Just like Frown;
Everybody in the town
Swore an oath,
Said ‘they’re both
Full of indolence and sloth.’
Kicked the two
Up the flue,
That’s what every one should do.
Smile and Grin
Then came in,
Each with dimples in his chin;
Made their bow
And somehow
Joy shone forth on every brow.
Liked their style?
I should smile.
Those two fellows are worth while.
Smile and Grin
Always win
’Cause they let the sunshine in.
Frown and Fret?—
Going yet
Up in smoke as black as jet.
Up to you,
’Tween the two,
I know what you ought to do—
Grin and smile
All the while,
Then the world will like your style.

ANSWERING THE TENDERFOOT’S CALL.
(Stephen Carveth, Denver.)
Where does the Golden West begin—
The glorious Golden West?
Out where the freshest breezes blow;
Out where the tallest grasses grow;
Out where the everlasting snow
Glistens on mountain crest.

Where does the Golden West play out—
The beautiful, boundless West?
Out where fairyland seems nigh;
Out where lengthening shadows die,
As twilight crimson the evening sky,
When the sun sinks down to rest.

Who will I find in the Golden West—
The wonderful, winsome West?
The busy, bustling, boisterous throng
Of girls who're fair; of men who're strong,
Of children whose mirth, whose joy and song
And laughter sounds the best.

When shall I come to the Golden West—
The prosperous, peaceful West?
Come when the softest breezes call;
In winter, in summer, in spring or fall.
There's a glad hand welcome for each and all,
For stranger, friend and guest.

When shall I stray from the Golden West?
The busy, bountiful West?
When planets crumble and reel and spin
And above the last trump's dreadful din
The voice of the Master shouts "Come in"
To the home of the pure and blest.

Humorous

Mrs. Marsh (making an announcement in Chapel)—"Mr. Zoology will have charge of the class in Thompson, this afternoon."

"The president of the road," remarked the man in the corner of the smoking compartment, "is one of those old fashioned railroaders. He began as a brakeman. Instead of riding over the line in a private car to inspect it, he walks over it." I don't blame him, declared the man who was making his first trip over the road.

A second grade boy in one of the Philadelphia schools came in late recently. "Why are you late, Thomas?" asked the teacher. "Couldn't come no sooner." "You should get up earlier. All the first grade children were here on time." "I-I-I was up in time but I couldn't come no sooner." "Why couldn't you come any sooner if you were up in time?" "I-I-I couldn't find my pants."

When Judge Stewart of Vermont presided at the trial of a negro charged with the murder of another of his race he admitted afterwards to friends that he had serious doubts of the prisoner's guilt until he had began to pronounce sentence. His doubts vanished when after reminding the negro that he had been duly tried by a jury of 12 men and found guilty, he said, "It is my duty to warn you that your days on earth are numbered, and it behooves you to avail yourself of the little remnant of time allotted to you to make your peace with God." Just there the negro broke in with the exclamation, "Ah done made ma peace, judge, befo' Ah went out ter kill dat niggah!"

Two boys who managed to be rather unruly in school so exasperated their teacher that she requested them to remain after hours and write their names 500 times. They plunged into the task. Some 15 minutes later one of them grew uneasy and began watching his companion in disgrace. Suddenly the first one burst out with despair and between his sobs said to the teacher: "'Taint fair, mum! His name's Bush and mine's Schluttermeyer."

CHAPEL HAPPENINGS.

On Thursday, Sept. 18, we enjoyed a very pleasant and profitable visit from the members of the United Presbyterian Synod which was holding its session in the United Presbyterian church at that time. Dr. White, of Albany, Oregon, addressed the students on behalf of the synod and his address was very much enjoyed by all present.

The matriculation day address given by President Zeller, in Chapel, Sept. 19, was one of the most thoughtful and profitable addresses ever given to the student body, here. Although short, it was filled with thoughts which many of the students will carry with them through the year and profit thereby. Student body and Faculty listened throughout the address with the greatest attention and after chapel there were many expressions of gratitude for the address and for the efforts which the President has put forth in behalf of our school.

All of last year's freshman normal class with the exception of Miss Mattie Bronson have returned to school. Miss Bronson is teaching at Edison, Wash. The present class numbers 14 prospective school teachers.

Miss Ruth Rees, a popular member of the class of 1913, was married to Edward Gebert, in Everett, Wash., Sept. 3. Mr. and Mrs. Gebert are now in Salem, Oregon, where Mr. Gebert is studying for the ministry.
FOREWORD.

With a new Editor-in-Chief and a new staff of assistants, the "Trail" begins, with this issue, another year. We hope that it will be a successful year and we are going to do all in our power to make it a successful year. We have always believed that the last thing about a university or college to be neglected is its college paper. We are still of the same opinion. And to prove to the student body and faculty that our opinion is genuine, we will do the arduous labor and make the sacrifices necessary to make the Trail a credit to U. P. S. There may be times during the coming year when we will not be able to get out an issue which will be satisfactory either to you or to us. Circumstances sometimes arise which prevent our giving or receiving the best. At such times we ask you to bear with us and look forward to a better succeeding issue. We shall at all times be fair and impartial. If at any time, anything does not appear in the Trail which should have been printed, it will be because it was not sent in or because ye Editor did not get time to write it up himself. We will endeavor to cover all important happenings of the university and will also print much of interest from the outside. We ask your co-operation in the publishing of the Trail. The assistance of the student body and faculty is absolutely necessary to insure the success of the paper. Send in accounts of important happenings. If the event which you write up has already been written up by the editor, nothing is lost, while if it hasn’t been, your write-up will prevent the non-appearance of a mention of the event. An old maxim, often quoted, is as follows: "A new broom always sweeps clean." And the inference always is that after the broom is older it will not sweep so clean. In the case of this year’s Trail, however, we will endeavor to show that the reverse of the maxim is true. For if our efforts result in success our first issue will be our poorest and each succeeding issue will be better than the one which preceded it. We shall endeavor to profit by the advice given us by our teacher while learning penmanship back in the little, old, one-room school: "Be sure to make each copy better than the preceding one so that your last shall be the best of all."

THE SUMMER SCHOOL.

By Prof. Davis.

The 1913 session of the Summer School of the University of Puget Sound was one of the largest in its history and since its founding in 1894 by Ex-President Benbow and Ex-State Superintendent Dewey. The school began June 23rd and continued for six weeks.

The chief purpose of the school is to furnish a rapid and thorough review of all branches of study necessary to enable teachers to make 1st, 2nd and 3rd grade certificates. In addition, courses were offered in High School and College studies.

The Summer School Faculty was as follows: Dr. J. C. Zeller, President and Director; Professor A. L. Marsh, Treasurer; Professor F. W. Hanawalt, Mathematics and Physical Geography; Mrs. R. E. Friars of the High School, English, Arithmetic and Grammar; Dr. H. P. Selinger, Psychology, Theory and Practice; Professor R. A. Cummins, Educational Psychology and Higher Education; Professor George Blackburn, Commercial Work; Miss Stella McKee, Normal Art; Professor Robert Schofield, Normal Music; Professor Walter S. Davis, History and Geography.

The chief social event of the Summer School was the annual picnic at Point Defiance. The lecture and entertainment course was as follows: Chas. W. Blanpied, "The Problem of the Immigrant." (Stereopticon). Walter S. Davis, Stereopticon lecture on California. Miss Peabody of Washington, D. C., Stereopticon lecture on "Good Roads." Professor Bernard Lambert, Reading. Professor Eugene Knox, Reading. Professor Hanawalt. An evening with the Telescope.

Ralph Simpson, a member of the class of 1913, is teaching in the high school at Lynden, Wash.

Miss Jessie Lyons, head of the English department, last year, is now teaching in Mills College, Oakland, Cal. Miss Lyons, while here, made an excellent record as an instructor and we predict her success in her new field of work.

NOTES FROM HELEN'S HALL.

The girls from Helen's Hall accompanied by Miss Reneau left the Hall Monday morning at six o'clock for Point Defiance Park. A nice sunny spot was found overlooking the Sound where we built a fire over which coffee was boiled and weiners roasted. After this delightful breakfast and a walk thru the park we returned home feeling much refreshed.

Anyone desiring curtains measured and cut see Mary and Marie.

When Mary started to play the piano on Sunday afternoon we thought it would be alright but before she finished we found that it was Lynn Wright.

Will Vivian have Gaines at U. P. S.?

Sigma Haldora Anderson from Port Angeles is honoring the dorm with her presence and doubly honors Miss Duncan.

Minnie Kincaid one of the old dorm girls returned to school Tuesday September 23.

Anyone desiring half hour lessons in bookkeeping see Vivian Todd.

Wanted a room-mate. Must not weigh more than 200 and must come from a place of less than 1000 inhabitants. M. D. H.

The numerous receptions have almost made the dorm girls lose their reputation of punctuality at breakfast.

Do the dorm girls like peaches? Ask them.

Ice Marshall is spending the week end with her parents in Centralia.

Mary Bonds is spending the week end in Redondo.

THE BEAN FEED.

The introductory social event of the college year is always the annual bean feed. This was held in the rooms of the Dometics Science department, this year and when all was ready, about one hundred students and the faculty sat down to a sumptuous spread. After partaking of the repast the diners listened to speeches by different members of the faculty and prominent students of the student body. President Zeller acted as toastmaster and introduced the speakers. Jack Murhak, a member of the senior class and President of the Students Association, spoke for that body. He was followed by Guy Dunning, a senior in the college of liberal arts and editor of the college publication, the Trail, who enlisted the cooperation of the student body in the publishing of the paper. George Thompson spoke for the Y. M. C. A. Miss Ann Fry represent-ty were greeted enthusiastically and they and their addresses made very favorable impressions on the students present.

"THAT SWEATER STAG."
On Friday evening, the 19th, the U. P. S. gymnasium was the scene of much animation and good spirits while the annual "Sweater Stag," given by the college Y. M. C. A., was in progress there.
This sweater stag takes the form of an initiation of the new fellows into the life of the University.
At chapel on the eventful day all old students were requested to be present at the gym, that night and all new students were commanded to be there.
Every one was advised to appear in old clothes and that advice was afterwards found to be sound by those who participated in the event. Among the lessons learned by the new students were: "One must get his feet wet before he can learn to swim,"
"All that goes up must come down," "More than one can play at hot hand," "You aren't the only pebble on the beach, if the other fellow has a stronger arm and a bigger pillow." The "high moguls" who conducted the initiatory ceremonies were Guy
Dunning, Arvid Beck, Fred Crane, George Thompson and Ray Gaines. After the initiation a feed of apples and doughnuts was indulged in. Then Prof.
Lambert gave a reading, after which colleges yells and college songs marked the ending of a very successful "stag."

OUR GYMNASIUM BURNS.
Between one and two o'clock, on the morning of Sept. 24, the dread alarm of "fire" broke on the still air. Students who had gone to bed rather late because of study after the reception, roused sleepily from their couches and looked out their windows.
The whole Western sky was lighted up by the glare from some large fire. Sleepily, eyes weary from study sought to definitely locate the blaze. Then eyes which had shown only a passing interest suddenly opened wide. The fire was in the direction of the University! The owners of the eyes sprang out of bed, and looked more closely. Could it be? Ah, yes, it was hard to realize, but it was, indeed, our beloved gymnasium!

Nearly every student was at the fire and mournfully watched the destruction of the building most esteemed by the student body. For the gym had been built mostly by student hands and help. And it was a building of which the students might well be proud. Large, roomy, equipped with shower baths, lockers and all needed athletic apparatus, it was reckoned one of the best college gyms. in the West.

As we stood there watching the blaze, all our football, basketball and baseball hopes seemed to be ascending to the sky with the smoke from the fire, as a gym is practically necessary for the training necessary to put a successful team in the field in any of these sports. Whether the misgivings of the students were well founded or not remains yet to be seen, as at this writing the Board of Trustees has as yet taken no definite action.

College athletics was not all that lost as a result of the fire, however. Other departments of the college lost also, as did one of the members of the faculty. Our gymnasium also housed the Domestic Science department, and its equipment was practically a total loss.

The most severe loss of all, because it fell entirely on one individual was the loss sustained by Prof. Lambert. He had stored his household goods and library in the gymnasium preparatory to moving into a house here in town after having spent the summer at G'g Harbor. He had already made arrangements to move into his house on Wednesday, but the fire came too early on Wednesday morning. Practically all of his possessions which he had stored in the gym were a total loss. The sympathy of the entire student body and faculty is extended to Prof. and Mrs. Lambert in the hour of their misfortune.

In passing, we must not forget to mention the way in which the Tacoma fire department distinguished themselves. They distinguished themselves principally by their slowness. It is said that they were fifteen minutes after they arrived, in getting any water into play on the building. More prompt action on their part would undoubtedly have resulted in the saving of much that was in the gym.

ATHLETICS.
To some the football situation may look gloomy, but to a man who has been here for the past three seasons it is just the opposite. There is more material out for practice, in spite of the great handicap under which we are now laboring, than there has ever been. With the enthusiastic squad that we have, together with our able coach the student body can rest assured that this branch of athletics is not going to suffer if it has a reasonable amount of support from those not taking part in the sport itself. A meeting was held last week to talk over the situation. Something like thirty-five men were present and all were earnest in their desire to see the thing go through. There are plenty of chances for places on the team and the new men have a better show than is usual. Captain Beck will prove an able man to lead the squad because of his experience and enthusiasm. Now we are going to play football, that is assured, because when thirty or thirty-five men are not only willing but anxious to play it will take something to stop them. With a squad like this, there is no reason in the world why we shouldn't have a successful season and a winning team. Three cheers for football!

Y. M. C. A.

At the "Stag" reception last Friday evening, some of the new students found out how the Y. M. boys handle the new material. Mr. Ore says: "I took a high plunge into the air, and when I came down I landed in a pool of cold water." The fellows all acknowledge a good time, notwithstanding the fact that some of them are going on "three legs."

There has been about 40 men joined the Association, and about one-half have paid their dues. We hope to get every man to line up.

The Wednesday noon meetings have been well attended, and we are more than thankful for the spirit shown in these meetings. Dr. Leonard of Seattle spoke to us at the first meeting. There were about fifty men present to hear him. Its Wednesday we held a business meeting and elected Mr. Walters, vice-president and Mr. Harader Secretary and treasurer. Mr. Dupertuis was appointed Chairman of the Bible Study committee and Mr. Gardner Chairman of the Membership and Mr. Burk was made Chairman of the Devotional work. We have a full line up now, and we are hoping to accomplish great things for the good of the School. We welcome Dr. Todd to Our School, and we are going to push. Come on boys, three cheers for Dear old U. P. S.!

ORATORICAL AND DEBATING ACTIVITIES.

Activities in Debate and Oratory are promising well for an interesting year’s work.

The annual series of inter-class debates in the Academy is well under way. This series will culminate in the selection of one or two teams that will represent the Academy in contests with outside institutions later in the season. Plans are being made to have the annual contest between College Freshmen and Sophomores occur in the near future. Some good material has been discovered in both classes and the contest promises to be vigorous. In order to discover all additional good debating material in the institution, material that will later be used in inter-collegiate debates, a free-for-all debating contest will be held sometime within a month from this date. Everyone is invited to take part in this contest. The exact date of this contest together with a more detailed plan will appear in the next issue of the Trail. The regular College class in debating offering technical training in the art, has a good enrollment and splendid material is being developed in the work toward efficiency in future contests.

The date of the Academy declamatory contest has been set for December 12th and contestants are beginning to prepare selections. First and second prizes of $15.00 and $10.00 respectively are being offered for the contest and rivalry will be keen.

All who are interested in entering any of the regular Oratorical contests are urged to begin work on their productions soon. A more detailed announcement pertaining to these contests will appear in later editions of the Trail.

If anyone thinks that Y. W. girls don’t have good times, she ought to have been at our reception, or more properly speaking, frolic, on Sept. 19, all the old girls turned out to entertain all the new girls and everybody got acquainted. After a very strenuous “Field Meet,” the girls enjoyed the refreshing coolness of ice-cream cones and candies. At the first regular devotional meeting, Sept. 23, an address of welcome was given to the new girls by the President, Miss Ann Fry. We hope that all the girls will find a place for the Wednesday noon meetings and receive the benefit of some of the splendid speakers whom we are able to secure from time to time. We have prospects of having the best Bible and Mission Classes that we have ever had and we hope that the girls will avail themselves of these splendid opportunities. There’s a place in Y. W. for you; you will help the association, and the association will help you. A most cordial invitation is extended to all the women of the school to join and attend any and all of the meetings of the association.

AMPHICTYONS.

Well, we “Amphics” are back to college again, strong in numbers and fervent in spirit. In spite of a particularly successful year, last year, we are looking forward to a still more successful year which is just beginning. Every one of our officers elected for the coming year is back in school and that speaks well for our society. The last of our officers to return was Clarence Keene, our pianist. Mr. Keene will teach in the department of music here this year. We shall miss Prof. Jones and Mrs.

Jones who did so much for the society, last year, but we feel that their help will be replaced by the help of the strong students we are taking in as new members. All students, new and old, are invited to our meetings. KAPPA SIGMA THETA.

On Tuesday, September 23, the Kappa Sigma Theta sorority entertained the new girls with a picnic supper at Point Defiance. The girls kept the tennis courts fairly alive until the call came for supper. Then twenty hungry girls played havoc with a spread which only Thetas can prepare. Darkness descended all too soon, but voting their first social affair a decided success the girls took cars for home.

H. C. S.
O, Yes, we are here. Only two of us to start with but we should worry. One hundred per cent of our membership have high offices in the student body, in fact the highest officer. One is Captain of the football team and the other is President of the student body. We have increased in number a little since the beginning of the year, and anyone who says that the H. C. S. is wiped off the slate had better wipe the dust off of their specs.

P-H-I-L-O PHILIO!!
The Philomatheans are back and ready for action. We held our first program September 16 and although it was extemporaneous it was exceedingly interesting and each number was responded to promptly.

On last Tuesday evening the latest edition of “The Century Dictionary” was presented. Every phase of College life at U. P. S. from “A” to “Z” were handled with wit, humor and seriousness as the occasion demanded by the members participating.

A more loyal or enthusiastic membership can scarcely be found and we are looking forward to a bright and happy year. Won’t you forgive us while we cheer?
