Regarding the pep rally

This evening we will have in the gymnasium the first real pep rally this year. The Knights of the Log and Ladies of the Spoons in straw hats and the real band will we, "a small band of loyal sects," such as we had before. We believe there is great enthusiasm in that section. A right smart parade is a very effective means of raising our enthusiasm. The streets are now lined up by two dozen students, it will give the school a big show.

The alumni are coming back to visit us. They will be interested in our new school and our activities. We must all look well for our school spirit. If they fail to find us well equipped, the school will lose its most enthusiastic supporters.

It is up to us to make good.

TIME

During the past few years we have heard from all sides the complaint that the College of Puget Sound has lost its character. It has lost its traditions, its ideals. A student must now work his way through school, and in another line of activity which is usually neglected, the preservation of our traditions.

Football and Flunks

The usual report of grades shows that at least a few foolish heads have not learned that the College of Puget Sound is a school where there are no flunks. A student must work in order to get school credit. Those students who are interested in the work, if they put in the proper amount of time and trouble, can work their way through school in a much easier manner than they did before.

The passing of Senator Lodge

During my connection with the College of Puget Sound I have learned the value of a liberal education. It has helped me to understand the importance of our traditions, and I believe that it has been even more valuable to me than the work. I cannot emphasize too strongly the importance of our traditions, and especially the traditions of the Senate.

The students will be further interested in knowing that Senator Lodge is no longer with us. He was a member of the Senate for 30 years, and was the last of the old school. He had a higher average of scholarship and intelligent character than any other man in the history of the College of Puget Sound.
