Board of Trustees vote $5,000,000 plan to be completed in 10 years

By Robert Hennessey

A bold step has recently been taken by the College of Puget Sound in the direction of a financial stabilization of the university. The college has inaugurated a $5,000,000 plan which will be completed within 10 years.

The plan is modeled after the University of Washington, which has a similar plan. The plan includes the redistribution of the endowment funds, the creation of new sources of revenue, and the improvement of the educational facilities of the university.

The amount of the endowment is currently $3,000,000. The new plan will raise this to $5,000,000. The increase will be achieved through the sale of some of the college's property, the creation of new sources of revenue, and the improvement of the educational facilities.

The plan includes the creation of a new school of business, the expansion of the school of engineering, and the addition of a new school of medicine. The plan also includes the establishment of a new library, the construction of a new dormitory, and the improvement of the campus.

The new plan is expected to provide a stable financial base for the university, and to ensure its continued growth and development. The college is to be congratulated on this bold step toward financial stabilization.

SPRING

Possibilities

I've been enjoying the weather so far. It's been pleasantly warm and sunny, and I've been catching up on my sleep. Last night, I attended my first concert of the season, and it was fantastic. The performance was put on by the local symphony orchestra, and they played some beautiful pieces. I'm looking forward to more concerts in the coming weeks.
