LOGGERS DEBATE C. S. C. HERE

Two bitter grubs from the soil have been fomented by the leaders, and their respective arguments rest on the solid foundation of the principles of the old and the new. The presentations were well reasoned and well elaborated, and were a sight to see. The audience was quite taken with the arguments of both sides, but in the end, the old traditions came out on top.

LOGGERS CHORE FOR COACH

The loggers have been appointed to help the coach with his chore. They are expected to assist in keeping the field clean and tidy, and will be rewarded for their efforts. The loggers are well respected by the community and are always ready to lend a hand when needed.

KAPPA SIGMA THETA The Kappa Sigma Theta Beta affiliate at the University of Washington has been working in their new room for some time. New drapes and pillows were made and furniture was purchased. The furniture is well made and the drapes are of a shade that will add substantially to the decor of the room. The house officers have worked hard and the house is well lighted and attractive.

LAMDA SIGMA CHI

The Lambda Sigma Chi chapter met on Thursday afternoon to elect the following officers: Kenneth A. Kimball, President; Charles J. Herndon, Secretary, and F. E. Bascomb, Treasurer. Invocation, by Mr. Isabell, was given. After the business was transacted the house adjourned.

SPRINGTIME

We're all getting a little long in the tooth. Business, books, and work are coming on fast. From now on, we need to be careful about our health and time.

CROWNS

In the music room Paul met Miss Cowan. Paul was not friendly and did not make a good impression on her. Miss Cowan is very interested in music and thought Paul was rather dull. She suggested he practice more.

FUEL LESSON

The weather here is very cold. It is necessary to have a good fuel supply. Paul was not able to provide enough fuel for the coming months. He has ordered a large supply and is planning to build a storage shed.

CROWS

In a field in sunny Spain stands a stone monument. Crows hover around it, picking up bits of grain and feathers. Here Marcheta, in the fresh bloom of her youth, will come to pour out her love. For years she will pour out her love. The stone will stand up for the love that once crossed paths. But the crow can faint away their black glades upon a woman aging early and beat to old. Old Marcheta — still in her thirties. The American woman does not pour out her love. She still beats carpet; she still pounds clothes; she still does her daily tasks which electricity can do better, and in half the time.

All sports write have their news and the last to fill up space in the weekly paper is with the greatest regret. This is the case with all the other media as well. The finale of the sports season is the final blow of the fall season. The final is the time when the final score is made and the team is announced. The final is the time when the final game is played. The final is the time when the final outcome is decided.

SPRING SIGNS

Lacy Mary of the Community Club may be sure of more than a season's sprouting this year, for she has recently planted a number of bulbs in the club's garden near the high school. The bulbs, which she planted in the fall, are beginning to sprout, and in a few weeks will be in full bloom. The garden is a favorite spot for the club members, who enjoy the beauty of the flowers and the fresh air it provides.
