CO-EDS AND ATHLETICS

It has been whispered about the campus that Inter-Collegiate Athletics for Women would not be advisable. But we wonder if those who think this are not being brave enough to consider what would mean to the College of Puget Sound. It would mean that this College would be more closely connected with larger campuses and would tend to create greater enthusiasm and broader competition for athletics.

Playing big games with other schools will result in bigger and better turnouts. Not only will the women take pride in winning the games, but they will also take great pride in adding honor to their alma mater.

Women's athletics as yet have not been very prominent on this campus, but with the possibility of intercollegiate athletics, which will bring with it a new spirit, sports for women will be brought to the foreground.

Winners Plan Point System

Points for Baseball, Volleyball and Basketball are Arranged

A new system has been worked out for the "co-ed" sports this year. This system has been under the supervision of the Women's Letter Club and it is hoped that it will be a permanent guide for years to come to give the girls an idea of who is scoring for baseball, volleyball and basketball.

For baseball, points will be given to the girls for each hit, double, and home run. Points for volleyball and basketball will be given to the girls for each point they make against their opponents. A system of semi-finals and finals for each team is being planned.

Women still have chance to win award

Mary Pope, Tennis Expert Will All Receive Points

For girls who still have several points to earn towards a letter, there are still many events to take part in which they can earn points. The Women's Letter Club has announced that it will award a trophy to the girls who make the most points in each sport.

Team Hit by Hard Luck in Mid-Season When Gillham Is Injured in Contest

College Loses Only Two Games Out of Eight and Lands in Third Place in League

By Tom Dodgson

This year, as in past years, the College of Puget Sound was proud of their high-flying basketball star. Not only was he the school's record passer of the season, but also of the showing they made in the mid-season contests. The team was hard hit in the middle of the season, when Frank Gillham, forward, was hit by a broken leg. The team, however, has been able to push on despite the setback. They have increased their play and are now in third place in the league.

College of Puget Sound: Not only was the school proud of the conference ratings. They did their best in the middle of the season, when Whitman, both tied and repeated their performance of basketball. Wilson, forward and Seamon, tall, won their letters in Men's Basketball. Whitman, who played in the final pennant game to Williamette. Williamette ball letters this past year, and Ginn, forward. Wilson, Raymond Culver attending the College of Puget Sound, Tacoma.

J. Scott Wilson is perhaps the best known college speaker in the United States. He will be at the Seabuck conference for both addresses and private interviews.

Throughout the season, the Puget Sound sound was one of the finest in the Pacific Northwest. The team has shown steady improvement, with a final record of 12-2. The team finished fourth in the league.

LEMMERMAN AT GOSSELS IN GREAT NUMBERS

By Ralph Hoover

Out of the 648 Lewises attending the College of Puget Sound found only about 1200 who were present at the Lemmerman's meeting held in Tacoma last Tuesday evening. Although the 1200 were a little bit scattered over the wide area and not all of them could be present, it is a proud matter for them to have come. It is a proud matter for them to have come.

Of the large number of people who attended the meeting, there were some who felt that it was a bit too late. It is a proud matter for them to have come. It is a proud matter for them to have come.

But that is not enough, the Puget Sound National Bank is also interested in the young men and women who will conduct the affairs of tomorrow. This is a concern for the College students who are thoroughly preparing for themselves for business and professional life. We, with The Puget Sound Sound Club, have decided to extend our services to you, as well as to other schools.

Pacific Defeat Keeps Loggers From Championship; Men Chosen for Four Teams

Pigskin Men to Be Back to Aid Marines in Fight to Get Next Year’s Pennant

By Joe Connors

Griffith pledges gained last fall by the College of Puget Sound men have earned to place the Tritons squad at the top of the list in the Northwest Conference, and the excellent baseball season which showed the signals in its string not equal to the majority has done much toward developing the football squad.

It is a significant fact that the spirit of effort and cooperation was inspired by the persistent endeavors of Coach C. W. Adams. The men here from Oregon Agricultural College, with its women on which to base his future activity, it is evident that next year’s season will be more effective.

The 1946 grilling season did more than definite naturalization to the players. Their victories were decisive in most cases.

New Maker

As a new member to the Northwest Conference the College of Puget Sound showed its worth and proof to its credit among the principal schools of the district. When officials of sports in the colleges, B. C. F. presidents, gave them honors and placed on mythical teams its great work during the year.

All of the favorable comment directed toward the program after such a successful season creates a definite value influence on all interested in the welfare of the school. Despite the hard work, C. W. A. teams have had to become the Tec-

At the opening of the season the College of Puget Sound eleven moved the heartiest part of the owner’s play by greeting the University of Washington team at Seattle. For half a game the Maroon club stood on the ground against the Husky outfit and was only the sole enemy and impressive pounding of fresh players from the Husky ranks that prevented the score of 33 to 0. The internal clash with the “U” has proven the rating of the college team, and the last season event indicated conditions that started with the climax.

More than 60 per cent of the mechanical power used by American industry is applied through industry has not stopped there. Electric power has also been used for other purposes, such as

The result is a tremendous increase in
