FROST PARTY
An old custom is being revived at the University of Denver where the Boy and Girl Scouts have been invited to come to a "Frost Party," which is to be held on Friday night, December 19th. The purpose of the party is to give the students a chance to meet and enjoy each other's company in a friendly spirit.

The program will consist of games, music, and storytelling, and will be held in the gymnasium. Refreshments will be served, and everyone is encouraged to bring a small gift to exchange with others.

Everyone is welcome to attend, regardless of their affiliation with the Boy or Girl Scouts. The party is open to the public, and all are invited to join in the fun.

The Boy Scouts will be led by Patrol Leader Mike Johnson, and the Girl Scouts will be led by Captain Emily White.

JANUARY 6

The temperature has dropped significantly in the Denver area, and the snow has started to fall. The ski resorts are already seeing good crowds, and many are looking forward to the winter season.

For those who are not interested in skiing, there are plenty of other winter activities to enjoy. Ice skating, sledding, and snowshoeing are just a few of the options available.

Whether you are a seasoned skier or a first-time snowboarder, there is something for everyone to enjoy.

RITUAL OF THE SAND BAR

Every year, the campus community gathers at the sandbar to celebrate the end of the fall semester. The ritual is a time of reflection and appreciation for all that has been accomplished.

This year, the sandbar was particularly special, as it marked the end of the first year of the new academic year. The students gathered around the campfire, sharing stories and songs, and reminiscing about the past year.

The ritual ended with a call to the future, as everyone looked forward to the challenges and opportunities that the new year would bring.
