Robert and Edith Williams, Seattle Puppeteers, will bring a Company of Sixty-six to Play in the "Lonely Princess of Yang".

Presenting at the latest puppet show, at a time when puppets are in the news, is Mr. and Mrs. Robert Williams, a puppeteer team performing at the College of Puget Sound. Robert and Edith Williams, both of whom have been teaching at the College for several years, are well known in the puppet world and their productions have been well received. Their new show, "The Lonely Princess of Yang," is a fantasy that combines music and puppetry in a way that is sure to delight both children and adults.

The Williamses make a check of their puppet inventory, looking for new ideas and familiar ones that can be adapted to the new show. They are working on a number of new puppets for their upcoming production, with the hope of creating something fresh and exciting. The puppet show is a collaboration with local artists and will be performed in the College's Student Union this weekend.

"The Lonely Princess of Yang" is one of the many puppetry projects that Robert and Edith Williams are working on. They have been active in the puppetry community for many years and are known for their creativity and dedication. The Williamses are excited about the new show and look forward to sharing it with their audience.
Informals of Sororities Come As Gay Events of Saturday

Clever Ideas Featuring "The Rustie" Motif and "Winter" Will be Used In Appointments

Tomorrow night will be a "gala" occasion for three of the local sororities because their annual event, the "informal," will be held at the Homecoming Hotel from 8:30 to 11:30. The sororities are Alpha Delta Gamma, Delta Delta Delta and Nu Sigma Sigma. Some 200 people will enjoy the evening.

This is the social event held by the sororities, which are social organizations of women who have a strong interest in their social development. The sorority members are responsible for the success of the event, and they are encouraged to participate fully.

The Homecoming Hotel will be the site of the event, which will begin with a cocktail hour, followed by dinner and dancing.

North Pole Motif Is Theme of Informal

Lambada, Chi Entertainers at Suite Inn Hotel

Decorated to be King of theitemName, the suite inn hotel will be hostess to 1000 guests. The hotel will be decorated in a north pole motif, with decorations including Santa Claus figurines, snowflakes, and holiday music.

The hotel will be adorned with a Christmas tree, with lights and ornaments to create a festive atmosphere. The hotel will also be decorated with wreaths and garlands, with greenery and vegetables to add to the holiday theme.

Many sorority sisters will be hostesses at the event, and they are expected to wear winter clothing, such as scarves, hats, and gloves.

Honors Mothers at Thanksgiving Dinner

Modern Inn Is Scene of Very Formal Dinner Given by Honorary Mothers

A dinner at the Modern Inn will be served to the mothers of members of the college, and a formal dinner will be given. The event will be held on Thursday evening, November 24, at 7:30 p.m., and it will be attended by the mothers of the college students.

The event will feature a formal dinner served at the Modern Inn, with a menu that includes appetizers, entrees, and desserts. The mother will be seated at a table, and a gift basket will be presented to her as a token of appreciation.

In summary, the event will provide an opportunity for the mothers of the college students to interact with each other and to enjoy a formal dinner together.
