The trip took the three students to Mt. St. Helens, where they studied the salamander in its natural environment. The purpose of the trip was to study general biology and amphibians.

Debate Season Appears Bright

Plan to Enter Linfield Tournament

Debate prospects look very bright this year with five returning seniors and a promise of a large turnout. Among the returning members are Philip Smith, Frank Yepez, Herman Matlau and Charles Thomas. The team will be building new coaches on the basis of their showings in try-outs which will be held soon.

Tournament plans are being made to enter the annual Noise Float and Noise Competition. This year the Noise Float will be held at Linfield College in February. Fifteen or more teams from Pacific Northwest colleges will compete for the various division awards, oral and impromptu speaking. The competition rules do not participate in the tournament and last year but four teams did participate. It is expected that both divisions will be to 70 successful, thus the college plans to have both men's and women's teams.

Dr. John D. Ruggerio is debate advisor. Dr. Marven R. Shafer, director of the men's and Charles T. Balbin is women's coach. Charles Thomas, debate manager, is coaching the fresh team. The staff consists of the team manager and Melba Allemann, women's debate manager.

Freshmen are, Alwine, Anderson, Aas, Backeburg, Beers, and others. The ensemble is the most attractive this year. The drummers are also included in the foregoing list. No experience is necessary for this sport, and freshmen women are particularly invited to join the girls. The tumblers put on two main exhibitions a year, at the Women’s Gym Jubilee and at the May Day Festival. The class meets for practice at 1:00 p.m. Friday.

NEW INTRAMURAL SPORT IS ADDED

The next intramural sport on the college calender is track, which will be played on the Y. M. C. A. course is scheduled to begin as soon as the teams get organized. Teams will be composed of two singles, and two doubles. In track teams taking part in the singles being unable to take part in doubles. A plaque has been secured from the Standard Paper Company and it will go to the winning team each year as do the other intramural trophies.

Juniors Defeat Frosh Netters

Junior net players showed their superiority over the freshmen when they defeated the "greenies" in the first round of the intramural tennis tournaments last week. The sophomoric tilts are not completed as yet. When the second and fourth players settle their difficulties, the winners will be selected to represent the junior class for the school title. This final series is expected to get underway this week.

As a joke. Does the nation as a whole feel that we are playing our part in the national questions? How intelligently do college students handle the national problems? The poll is being taken from an informed group. The questions will be non-committal. Only the sincere attitude of the students will be recorded.

The approaching presidential election now holds the center of public interest as the nation prepares to follow in the footsteps of her fathers and to select the man who will lead it into the future. The wise and the foolish, the young and the old, are giving much thought to the choice they shall make. As the campaign progresses, it is estimated that about 80 percent of the eligible voters will go to the polls.

Both Democratic and Republican candidates are striving to win the hearts of the people, and to secure the votes of those who will go to the polls. The people are being asked to consider not only the past records of the candidates, but also their future plans and policies. The campaign is a battle for the minds and hearts of the people, and the outcome will determine the direction of the nation's future.

The candidates are making their appeals through the press, radio, and public speech. The campaign is taking place on a national scale, with the eyes and ears of the nation focused on the race. The candidates are striving to present their ideas and concepts in a way that will appeal to the people, and to show that they are the best choice for the nation's future.
