There will be three seniors, and all will be major recitalists. Each student will present a certain number of pieces with a minimum of change.

BATTIN SPEAKS ON ECONOMICS

Professor Charles T. Battin, speaking in chapel Friday, called attention to the economic history new being made. Professor Battin said that today, if at any time, we must recognize individual and initiative, but that this recognition is lacking in many of the plans formulated to date. He controlled the address by stating that challenges lie with each student for himself through the problems and events of these times.

Professor Leonard G. Jacobson of the Conservatory of Music, in in the hope that in the future Monday, May 11, he explained and called attention to the rhythmic element in the first movement of Beethoven's Pathetic Sym- phony in C minor.

Chaplain Raymond Mrs. Cranston, May 3, was made up of short scenes from "The Road to Russia," which was given Tuesday, May 5.

Loggers Capture St. Martins Title
Lumberjacks Take Final Contest 5 to 3

After losing three straight games to the strong St. Martin's nine CPS baseball team, the Loggers have recovered to take the final game of their four game series Friday afternoon in the St. Martin's yard. Luger got, by a score of 5 to 3. In the first game of their three-year's series the Luger's won a wide close contest here, 5 to 4. The Saints won in the second game and the Loggers took the third game on the St. Martin's diamond last Tuesday. The second game played at the Saints' home ground was the third time in a row the CPS team lost the game of baseball under the charge of drawing up the schedule.

Intradural Playground Schedule to Be Posted

The schedule of games for this week's intradural baseball play will be posted on the bulletin board this morning. The games which were posted last week will not be played this week at all due to the regular schedule of the Puget Sound diamond postseason play. All the intrainers may bring their orders in to the office of Otto Smith, Lumberjack hurler, having the better of both the CPS hurlers. In the first two games the Loggers beat the Saints by scores of 4 to 2 and 4 to 1, respectively. This week the Loggers take the advantage of playing on the St. Martin's field. The Loggers held the contest to a 3 to 3 tie in the last inning.

Huskies Defeat Lumberjack Nine

Errors On Part of Loggers Result in Defeat

Although they outhit their opponent 14 to 7, the Loggers did not make the most of their opportunities. The Loggers lost the game 5 to 2 with a score of 3 to 0 in the last three innings. The Loggers played exceptionally fine play considering the bad weather for the day. The Loggers were able to put a word in for a team which would not hold them.

If the idea is getting at is the fact that the Loggers will have to play a fine brand of ball and as soon as they get over the bad habit of blowing up one inning they will be able to win some ball games. Why not support them as you did the intercollegiate championship team, you are paying for it whether you go or not. Especially is that the time of the baseball season and the people will not be able to go to the baseball game for it is too fine a condition that prevails.

MATTSONIAN HUMOR
For almost four years students of CPS have listened with attentive ears and appreciative minds to the wit of J. Herman Mattson, former ASCP president. During these years there has been material enough to fill all his books of humor that has brought him recognition for possessing unusual talent in this line of endeavor—his humor has truly been "Mattsonian." However, his ability has not been limited to the field of speech for his oration which was given in chapel recently that he possessed marked ability as a writer.

Appreciating Mr. Mattson's talents and desiring to give CPS students more of this "Mattsonian" humor, the Trail intends to devote a column to wit written by him, the first section of which appears in this week's edition under the caption, "Punny Pokes." We are giving him plenty of freedom in his choice of topics for we know that whatever he writes will be worth the time spent in reading it and will truly be "Mattsonian."

PUNNY POKES:
By J. Herman Mattson

Topic treated hereinafter shall range from the sublime to the ridiculous. Topics today range from Russia to college news. The plan is to appreciate Mr. Mattson's talents and desiring to give CPS students more of this "Mattsonian" humor, the Trail intends to devote a column to wit written by him, the first section of which appears in this week's edition under the caption, "Punny Pokes." We are giving him plenty of freedom in his choice of topics for we know that whatever he writes will be worth the time spent in reading it and will truly be "Mattsonian."
