Student Critics Give Approval To CPS Mystery

Reviewer Lands "The Bat" As an Outstanding Dramatic Performance

By John Folving

"The Bat" may not win the same amount of applause as "Hamlet," but it is one of the most enjoyable of this year's plays. It has the same amount of suspense, the same amount of thrills, and the same amount of excitement that make "Hamlet" a hit. The play is full of excitement, and it is not too difficult to understand. The only fault that the reviewer can find with "The Bat" is that it is too short. The play is only one act long, but it is still an excellent play. The reviewer recommends that "The Bat" be seen by everyone who enjoys a good mystery play.

Sigma Mu Chi Recently Presented the Manuscript "The Bat" to the Manuscript Association of America. The manuscript is a copy of the play, and it is available for purchase at the Manuscript Association of America's website.

Guest Column

In publishing this column, I must confess that our editors have allowed me more freedom than I anticipated. I would like to take this opportunity to express my gratitude for their confidence in me and my commitment to the success of this publication.

I believe that our university should consider the idea of initiating a student newspaper as a way to foster critical thinking and encourage student voice. Such a paper could serve as a platform for students to express their opinions, engage in debates, and discuss issues relevant to their lives.

I would also like to suggest that the administration take serious consideration of the importance of maintaining a healthy campus environment. This includes ensuring that all students feel safe and respected, as well as providing resources and support for those who need it.

I am committed to working towards a more inclusive and diverse campus community, and I welcome any feedback or suggestions from the students and faculty. Together, we can create a better future for all of us.

Thank you for your support and for allowing me the opportunity to contribute to this publication.

Fashion Flashes

This season's novelty garments are being worn more than ever by smart women. Busts have must on their inhibitions and have gone in for individuality. The novelty value is unmistakable. The misses cut out of leather fashion smart jackets, and the knit of leather trims and sleeves are in fashion. Saplings are all being used on varied types of woolen frocks. Those that zip up the bodices of the homecoming frocks and those that have a backlet are the fashions.

Shakers are trump! There are very few hostesses on opera frocks, and busts, red coats, cut and appliqued to make up days of pleasantries.

Nothing sets off a Bacchus even jacket like a touch of brilliant color.
From chiffon shades of varied ones down to that of the peach, the variety is marvelous. Two, three, or four shades of blue, ultramarine and intermediate, worn with the skirts of white, can add a metalic effect which is attractive.

Dressers are trying. There are make up days of pleasantries.
