Chivalry Fails
To Catch Caravan
For Tardy Carolyn

It seems true. Carolyn Gilbert is the original "girl for all time" who missed all the fun at the Willamette-Colgate football game. An invitation to the Colgate game didn't mean much to her, either, because she had already been invited to something else.

Miss Gilbert was serving herself mock-maidenly, an automobile full of CPS knighthood offered Carolyn a lift and dashed off to oversee her car. In the meantime, over the radio she heard news that her friends were dancing and having fun.

Amusingly, she then learned that her friends had left behind a car in which the "guy behind" had just come home. The friends, who were very aware of the situation, then turned on the radio and listened to the funeltering talk that was being broadcast.

The Associated College press, an organ of the National Scholastic press association has invited Tide's student magazine of CPS to become a participant and member.

Chivalry Fails
Real Women Prefer Frosh

Womencs held on a progress for "Womencuts," to be presented by members of the freshmen class in chapel Friday, November 13. The play,佣 written by Senator Davis before the International Relations club, presents relations with those who will not understand one of the most important days of the year's celebration slogan, to the task in hand. The cast full is not yet determined.

For the college, and in addition to the other activities, they have invited a number of college students to participate. The cast is as follows:

Senior Women Eligible to Try Prix de Paris

Content, to be Sponsored by Vogue, A Course in Fashions

Senior women of accredited colleges and universities are eligible to compete in the annual annual Prix de Paris career contest sponsored each year by the Vogue fashion magazine.

The contest is conducted like a course in fashions—with critics and a final test. To enter, write, for a brochure, who have a flair for fashions and a knack of winning presentations, are excellent policy training toward a career in publishing, merchandising or advertising.

The first test is scheduled in the November issue of Vogue, and it is most important that the answers be sent in promptly to the Vogue office.

Five prizes are awarded in a year's employment with pay by Vogue at least half of the time to be spent. The six departments, merchandising, buying, sales, art, photography, and editorial, will be entered, with the last half of the test in the Vogue office with all test expenses paid, the remainder in New York.

Second prizes will be six months employment on the editorial staff of the New York office. Other women showing unusual ability may be selected for positions in the other departments. Between thirty and forty opportunities in business, identified with the fashion departments of leading stores, manufacturers of fashion merchandise and connection, newspapers and advertising agencies, will be offered to high-marking participants. It's a real opportunity for women to put a real value of training into a fashion career and permanent, well-paying positions if they mark good.

In one of those passes in the second quarter the ball found the Terriers. Weisgerber turned the field up a 10-yard stripe where he scored the second tally. Weisgerber converted the extra point, as the Salem team recovered on the 13. A series of short passes in the line of scrimmage put the ball on the 13. The Terriers took the ball on the 8 as Weisgerber went over the line of scrimmage for a touchdown. This makes his total for the season 171 yard touching downs. Although he was not in the lineup, the quarterback, the Loggers line by running the ball into a CPS interior unit, the line held the Terriers on the 13. A man slid through a hole in the Terriers line and ran back sharply, whipped around the left end of the line he opened and rushed 50 yards to the 14-yard stripe where he was tackled by Ramsay who was brought down on the 11. Ramsay, the fullback who stopped Scovell on the 20, also tackled Ramsay for a short-killing on one play.

Seeking their unbeaten conference record about to be lost in the scrap heap, the Loggers in the second half, swarmed all over the Terriers. Scovell they cut the Terriers in the middle by 90 yard mark, but fumbles and a double-threated Whitham line held them all day. The punting of Mayer was effective and the Terriers had difficulty of out of court danger.

Scovell, a fullback gained the Maroon and White via the ground route at the 14 yard line, but was stopped on the 14 by a side attack.

In four days after the Terriers, Willamette defeated Idaho State 8-0.

CPS loses out in Conference Football

Klopfenstein Eliminates Loggers by a 15-0 Score

The Willamette victory bell last Friday night, rang out the news of a 15-0 Boreal triumph over the Loggers in what sports writers had predicted would be the crucial contest of the conference schedule. The defeat practically eliminated Loggers from title hopes.

Four, not power plays, tumbled the Maroons and White from their unbeaten pedestal. With the CPS secondary playing close behind the nine inches of scrimmage to stop Weisgerber, the Bearcats completed aerial dashes, with discouraging regularity.

A series of three passes in the second quarter placed the ball on the Terriers 15. Weisgerber turned the field up a 10 yard stripe where he scored the second tally.
