Second Meeting Tonight Before College Alumni Appraisal Committee

Robert Byrd, junior, was elected president of the YMCA, representation of the College last Tuesday evening. Men of the College who were in attendance in the new organization met at that time to elect officers for the remaining eight months of the year. Ann Whiter was elected vice-president and Ed Birtley as secretary-treasurer.

The group is founded on a creed for student affairs in which the officer of the group overcomes group loyalties in favor of a greater loyalty for the school as a whole.

Tom Phipp, Ed Ridgele and Max Miller are a committee to draw up a constitution and by-laws.

There will be a second meeting the evening of 7:45 tomorrow, before the basketball game, and at the meeting Tuesday, December 18, a full meeting will be presented.

Dean Regester, representing the administration, spoke on the possibility of a social room in the College building to be given to the organization.

The YMCA and the YMCA are working on a student program, chapter serial, December 11, which will be open to all students of the College.

New Photography Books in Library

"Photography is today one of the most popular hobbies among students. The beauty of the College and other outdoors is a country and abroad. It is this interest, in photography, that the Library's recent addition of books on the subject.

Books covering various phases of the photographer's art are on the library shelves among which are the following: "How To Make Good Photos From Your Window" by H. S. L. C. Collected Ojiastry" by the Eastman Kodak Company. "Photography for Young Artists" by George W. R. The "Photographer's Darkness" by R. F. A. E. "Youth's Guide to Modern Photography" published yearly under the editorship of O. R. Holme.

Trustees of Ambrose college voted December 5 to purchase 40 new copy books, that they may be installed on the upper floor.

Class Numerals To Be Inserted In New Walks

Central Board Considers Paint System, Recreation and Athletic Programs

With the completion of the common walkway which already is in front of Jesse Hall a new tradition will begin on the campus. Remember, these lower-classmen classes will be placed above the outside of the building parallel to the building in which to insert their numerals.

The following underclassmen classes have been assigned to their signs as soon as working conditions will allow for the work. ASCPS: president, graded classes, he will also be the first to graduate. The signs will be hung on the following dates.

According to present plans, the signs will be made of bronze or some other material, covering in color the name, and will be placed of figures of four inches in height, on a metal post. The plan is that of a formula which is to be followed by the committee.

Several other items of interest to ASCPS students were decided upon by Central Board at its meeting on Thursday, December 2.

A committee has been put in charge of a possible projects in graduate courses. Dorothy Ann Simpson is chairman, with Miss Delilah D. Custer and Artem Adamaitis as members.

Activities will be held Thursday afternoons, with a certain badge placed upon each. Each student's activities will be determined by the number of tickets which can be attended on one night.

Jack Quidel and Allan Draven, with recommendation of the Chapel committee, have been appointed to become members of that body to sit the vacancy made by the withdrawal of several members.

Smoke's New Taking Tamazawas Photos

The committee for the individual photographs has been again given to the Smith Studio. The pictures are $3.00 for our sitting and $2.00 for the additional large-size plate. Magazine sizes are in charge and appointments can be made by Mr. John P. Anderson, and Bob Anderson.

The installment plan dance at Oregon State college offers men students plenty of variety—if they have enough money. There are enough clubs to meet each security for free and extra, and they have dinner at most of the downtown restaurants. There were 20 junior women who had a party at the home by Pool Dining. Most of the students who went to the party were married. They took care of the arrangements and the costs. The party was held in the home of a junior woman named Jane Anderson. She invited a few of her friends and they all had a good time. The party lasted three hours.

It's fairly late to be giving advice to someone who can no longer be heard, but some have not been examined and are too far to report. President, however, will be given primary attention.

This infernal test is part of a national movement to stamp out the disease. The examinations have recently been given in the Tacoma high school in order to check a spread of tuberculosis and they were given last year at CPS.

The test is sponsored by the College's own health service. If a positive reaction is shown by the patient, it does not necessarily mean that the disease is active at the present time but that it has been active some time during his life. And secondly, steps can be taken to prevent re-infection and spread.

Linfield Walks Out of Conference at Annual Meeting

Round-Robin
Play Is Cause Of Argument

Efforts to Form Stronger Conference Including Gonzaga Rumored

In a heralded verbal battle between leaders at the McMinnville Meets of Portland last Friday the presidents of the six member schools of the Northwest Conference went into session. In the last two years a memorandum of understanding has been signed by the presidents of the six schools. This memorandum of understanding has been signed by the presidents of the six schools. The memorandum provided that the presidents of the six schools would meet at least once a year to discuss problems of the conference.

In accordance with the round-robin policy inaugurated last year Linfield was scheduled to play the Huskies team. The conference policy was intended to give every team an equal opportunity to play against every other team in the conference.

Linfield's action has long been anticipated and some of the members of the confed. eracy believe that the round-robin setup was only a pretense for Linfield to secure its own conference.

Williamette also is dissatisfied with the present setup. Dean Frank M. Wilson of the Willamette school, wrote to the McMinnville group last week, saying that if the present round-robin play continued he would have to withdraw from the conference.

As a way out of the dilemma the McMinnville group is considering various alternatives. One alternative would be to continue with the present round-robin setup for a year and then to reorganize the conference.

Logger Casaba Quintet Makes Debut In Gym Tonight Against Woco Five

Team of Five Lettermen Will Oppose Strong Wadero O Mighty Aggregates

Coach Joe Mac's loop squad made its debut tonight at the Oregon of Pacific gym when they met the mighty Wadero five in a conference affair.

The two aggregations will meet at 7:30 Friday afternoon in the gym.

Joe Mac has only twelve men on his team but they average six feet two, with the exception of Jobst and seeley, who are six feet one and six feet two respectively.

Although the Wadero team is by no means a powerhouse, they are surely a competant outfit and Joe Mac is looking forward to the game.

Joe Mac himself is a great coach and a great teacher. He has been coaching for many years. However, Joe Mac cannot be beaten in the gym.

The Linfield squad is made up of the following players: Boss, Jobst, seeley, Smith, and Wegg.

The Wadero team is made up of the following players: Mott, Taylor, and McFadden. The Linfield squad will be playing against the Wadero team. The Linfield team is expected to win.

Linfield college has pulled up its drawbridges and no trouble seems to be in store. The Linfield team is expected to win.
