SUB Redecoration Begins; Hutton Is New Manager

A program got under way early this week that will involve a complete renovation of the business administration of the SUB and will result in a major redecoration project in the dining room.

Holman G. Hutton, CPS RA major, has been named business manager of the SUB food services. He replaces Mrs. Florence V. Roberts, who operated the SUB through the war and resigned February 1. The business manager formerly had charge of the fountain, the cafeteria, and the upkeep of the building. Under the new system, Hutton is in charge of the fountain and cafeteria, and the janitorial work is to be directly under the Director's office.

Burrard Gerald Banks, who has had charge of reorganization of the SUB setup, said in an interview Wednesday that the cafeteria and fountain will be operated separately in the future, rather than being interdependent. The objective of the changes was to take care of the needs of the dormitory residents with three balanced meals a day with a wholesome variety for the town students as much as possible.

Master menus are being worked out by the provost of home economics and student body members. The menu will be followed closely, and altered only to fit popular demand. All phases of operation are being worked out by Banks.

Drive For Orphanage
Hits $247

Volunteers have collected a total of $247.09 in pledges and donations in the drive for aid for the French orphanage, Du Bon Secours.

The drive began at the end of the first semester. Pledges were posted out in chapel and signed by the students as to the amount they would be willing to give. Students pledged $125.33. Pledges and donations are being released at a rate of $20 a week. The last day for pledge receipts was last Wednesday.

Miss Marion Myers, English secretory, received a letter from the director of the orphanage. The letter is a thank you for the money she raised by Ms. Myers and her mother to the orphanage.

From the letter to Miss Myers and signed by Maria Moder, director of the orphanage, Du Bon Secours:

"We very badly want American help. And we would be very grateful to you in paying Miss Myers if you could remit all the students of the college and the poor French children who need your help. And if you can manage a collection in the student union." (Continued on Page Two)

Editor Mounts Soapbox

It’s a sad tradition around here that the new editor of The Trail start the semester with a statement of policy. That’s too bad. The statements all sound regrettably alike. It’s hard to turn out a paper that is of interest to the students, but accurate and adult and responsible and so on.

Well, I want to try. I sincerely hope that this semester’s Trail will live up to the standard set by last semester’s under Milen Putnam. I even hope — though I can’t really say expect — that I’ll do even better than that.

But, to the best of our ability, the other editors and I will present the news accurately and in an adult manner. We do intend to put emphasis mainly on news of student and faculty activities.

I probably will write most of the editorials. Those that are not written by me will be signed by the writer and will contain his or her initials. This will be the same letters column — and the same disregard for letters that aren’t signed.

The Opinion page will be continued, edited by Bill Sallins, one of the best old Bill Sullivan. Marion Maxim in Society Editor, and we will do the best that can be done with the material she has to deal with. Ken Adair will do his best, and Beliner is taking over the Sports page. That’s the line-up. I can’t promise where we go from here but I promise you I’m even more interested than you are.

Let The Chips Fall...

By CECE REIMR, Sports Editor

As I walked out of the Armory after the game with PLC last Saturday, I heard one fan with a big "PLC" in the front of his sweater remark, "I think CPS got a new deal!"

Blaming the referees for losing a game is not an extraordinarily novel excuse for explaining a loss. But it is this case I think the PLC fan had a point.

Every time you looked at the floor the teams were lined up under the basket and doing guy (5 times out of 7 a PLC guy) was on the free throw line.

A free throw by Wes Haddix won the game for PLC in the last seconds of the game. CPS teams were the weak weapon in the latest game. The Lutes scored 25 of their 51 points from the charity line. The Loggers got 22 of 25 (with the same route.)

CPS committed more than twice as many fouls. At least we had more than twice as many called against us. There are always those fouls which can be called either way (when two men collide and both are moving, etc.) Finally, these even up.

Beats the rule seemed to go against the Loggers Saturday, in-

Chief Cagers Beaten; Lutes Lash Loggers

After being noshed out by PLC Saturday, 51-50, the Loggers got back on the win trail Tuesday with a 62-48 victory over the Seattle University Champions.

It was a second-round contest with five minutes to go in the first half. At that point, CPS led by eight points. 24-16. But the Champions closed the gap to two in the final seconds of the first half. Bob Bledsoe drilled a layup to give the Loggers their 30-28 halftime lead.

Ten minutes into the second half, the Loggers led 44-43. The Woodloungers were never threatened seriously from then on out.

Spirited, if the Champions, was high point man, for the night with 36, Dick Brown led the Lutes with 15. The Loggers' percentage was much better. They made 25 of 54 shots from the floor, but the Champions percentage was even better. They made 30 out of 58 shots.

Surprise similar for the evening was Herb Klipper, the sensational fresh guard, who was moved up to the varsity only a week ago. Other starters were Bob Finamore and Dick Bledsoe, at forwards. Bob Haddix, center, and Bob Angeline of the other guard spot.

Tonight and tomorrow night the Champions play a home-and-home series with St. Martin's Rangers. This is the first night and at Olympia tomorrow night.

Mike Most and Keith Pembroke led their teammates to a 62-48 victory over the Seattle Greenmen.

The Lute front got off to an early start in the contest, but the sharpshooting of Bill Chesler, with 12 points, was too much for CPS. The Loggers outscored the Champions 27-11 in the first half.

The Lutes' 27-point lead at half time.

Otis, with 32 points, after leading, was out-ended by CPS for 27 points. The Champions total was 13.

Inter-Dorm Council Meets With Bursar
John Volpe was elected chairman of the inter-dormitory council at a meeting held Tuesday. Other members on the council are: Barbara Warren, Juanita Learon, Harriett Skima, Wesson Mission, Frank Parson and Bill Killman.

The social committee which will plan the social functions for dormitory students consists of Frank Peterson, chairman, Barbara Albertson, Harriett Hamline and Dorren Keachman. Don Brower was appointed to collect the news from the various dormitories on the campus for the trip.

The council with Mr. Bube, evaluated the new food program and made suggestions for improvement of the store.

The inter-dormitory council is a new organization composed of representatives from each dormitory. The purpose of the council is to integrate the functions of the four dormitories and to concert with the administration on matters which affect the administration and campus residents.
