Early Returns Show Light Student Vote

By Thursday noon some 560 CPS students exercised their right to cast votes for student body officers and May Queen in the primary election. Breakdown of the voting will not be available until school resumes the week following vacation. It is urged by the present student body officers that those who have not cast their ballots to do so today.

"If a representative student government is to be made available to the CPS student body, at least three-quarters of the enrollment must vote," said ASCPS President Clayton Anderson.

The voting machine will be closed at four o'clock this afternoon, according to the election committee. Students should present their student body cards to the voting registrars before pulling the lever for their favorite candidates.

The final election will be held the week of April 8.

Drama Department Buys New Curtains

The muscles in John Hall auditorium are about to get a new home. After 10 years of service in the Lower chapel of the Daffodil show, the curtains will be replaced.

The new curtains will be the focal point for annual spring plays. They will hang in front of the stage, where the student body officers and May Queen are installed. The total cost is about $400.00.

Daffodil Show Set for Next Week

The largest Daffodil show in the Northwest, the sixteenth annual Puyallup Daffodil Festival, will be celebrated April 4 to 10 in Tacoma, Puyallup and Sumner. The parade honors the blooming of 15,000,000 yellow blossoms. The Daffodil Festival includes the Daffodil Cup ski race at Mt. Rainier, and an expanded flower show in Tacoma April 8, 9 and 10.

The flower show displays the best blossoms created by the daffodil-growing industry on the West Coast. For professional growers it has long been the focal point for annual spring flower shows. It is open to professionals from as far away as Holland to see what the American bulb-growing industry has produced.

The show has outgrown former quarters and this year will be held in the brand-new field house of the CPS. For non-professional visitors, here, a continuous program of entertainment will be offered, beginning with the coronation of Daffodil Queen Mary Gropper and her Princesses Patricia McElroy and Frances Deemer on Friday evening, April 8, and continuing with appearances of Shearer's, Puyallup and Tacoma musical and dramatic organizations throughout the three days.

The flower show is under the general chairmanmanship of Ovett Brown, Sumner, and is co-sponsored by the Central District of the Washington State Federation of Garden Clubs.

The Daffodil Cup ski race, which was initiated in 1948, is the only sanctioned ski race to be held this year at Paradise Valley. It is sponsored by the Tacoma Ski Club and is expected to draw nationals on April 10. The course is a 75-foot street parade, and a big, big feed. A new set up will make a very versatile stage for the spring play, April 26 and 27.

70% Intramural Meet

Lichtfield-footed Mel Light, looks like a promising candidate for the 1953 Olympic in the decathlon. So far this season, Mel has been turning out regularly in every event except the shot put, discus and high jump.

In the Women's event, the Maroon league is still in the limbering up stages a few days ago. As yet the runners are still in their warm-up conditions.

The forwards are Barbara Prochek, Bev Johnson, and Sara Petrie, four girls who can shoot from almost any position under almost any condition. Since only two of the Pi Phi games have been played, Petrieh hasn't had the chance to say much for the girls, Petrieh can rack up the points when she puts her hook-shot to work. Prochek and Johnson generally shoot from a set position, while Bevier shoots on the fly.

There could certainly be little doubt as to the three best guards this year. With such stars as Morgan Barofsky, Ernie Aleatha Dieatrick and Freda Garnett, guards.
