Freshman Hazing
No green beanie—green dye
EDITORIAL

It is a treat to walk around campus and see so many eager faces underneath the traditional green beanies. There is no doubt about it, the freshman class of 1952 has considerably more than its share of bounce and vitality. Given a leading hand by a few of the old and decrepit sophs, juniors and seniors, this group could well produce the needed punch to create the "Greater CPS" that we all, deep down, would like to see.

The frosh are at the cross-roads. It is largely up to them, but probably even more the responsibility of the upper classmen as to which road they will travel.

Are they going to continue their energetic ways, or are they going to slip into the opposite pattern that would be so detrimental to CPS?

To have an "I don't care" attitude is bad enough, but to actually hold to, and spread, the theory that CPS is stagnant and will never progress is, in my opinion, a fine example of malicious laziness. The students that say that CPS is too far gone to save are trying to cover up for their own disinterest. At the same time they are smothering the interest some other people might have.

It is granted that there is a lot of room for improvement at the College of Puget Sound. However, few improvements will be made until we have a prouder student body. Given that, it will still take time to make the school what it probably should be.

At this time I would like to invite a flock of letters to the editor. Give me your ideas, both for a "Greater CPS" and a "Prouder CPS." Tell me your "beefs," but try to have some ideas for a solution. For a starter, how do you think the parking lot along side the SUB can be smoothed out, at a minimum of expense?

We are gifted with a talented and energetic student body president. Let's get behind him and boost the school pride, campus, and spirit to an unheralded high. To those of you that are of the opinion that it can't be done, please stand aside. Your part will be merely not to hinder us.

Frosh Plays Tomorrow...

Oct. 4th, 8:15 p. m. Mark that date! The curtains of Jones Hall auditorium will part for the 12th annual production of "Frosh One-Act Plays."

Admission is complimentary. Spurs will usher you to your seat.

Opening the evening's entertainment will be the play "The Third Angle." The story concerns a husband who continually falls in love with other women, and whose wife seems to handle the situation quite aptly. Members of the cast include: Victory Knapp, Susanne Swayze, and Shirley Musgrove.

The second play involves the attendance of a man's spirit at his own funeral, listening to his friends. Want to know what he hears? Then be on hand to see, "Balcony Scene." Cast members are: Donald Rehfeld, George Selvy, Linnaea Churchward, Thelma Fry, Jane Mueller, David Bullat, Robert Wright, Cora Ann Keller, and Richard Lane.

"Red Caranation," the third play of the evening, takes place at a masked ball and involves a chance meeting. Players are: Charles Holtzinger, Donald Pirie, and Delores Keller.

China of long ago is then brought before you. A narrative involving a young girl who's father has promised her hand to a man she does not love is the setting of the following play, "Romance of a Willow Pattern." Cast members are: David Ernst, and Millicent Bulatao; with Patrick Chapman, Pat Lewis, and Rita Richardson as supporting actors.

The last play of the evening, "Below Par," brings you to the home of a psychiatrist and his niece. Surprise and laughter galore are in store when the young niece depicts her adventure with her uncle's patients.

Campus Playcrafters, working with Martha Pearl Jones and Wilbur H. Baisinger, faculty directors, are Richard Lane, student director; Donald Wolvers, Jack Gallaher, Pat Wovak, Marilyn Rosso, and Marilyn Planje.

Hey, you!!

Don't forget, fans—only three more weeks until Homecoming. All you erstwhile Gene Kelly's better start thinking about digging up a partner for the big shin-dig at the Feldhouse after the game. And all you Greek and Indee thinkers better start putting pencil to paper and figure out your floats for the big parade.

A band hasn't been found that the committee thinks suitable, yet, but from all reports it looks like the biggest and best Homecoming of all is right around the corner. Let's dig in and put out for the "Political Stew in '52".
CENTRAL BOARD MINUTES

September 25, 1952

The meeting was called to order by President George Fossen.

Roll call was taken. The minutes were read and approved.

DEPARTMENTAL REPORTS

Dramatics — Dick Lane reported that Stunt Night was very successful and that the Freshman One-Act Plays are in progress.

Music — Fred Peterson announced that there are opening in the Adelphi Choir for all voices.

Forensics — Plans are now being made for a Practice Tournament, which will be held in October.

Trail — Ralph Mackey reported that the first issue of the Trail will be an 8-page picture edition.

Jim Nelson then yielded the floor to Jack Gallaher who read the following statement to the Central Board:

"Mr. President:

"As this meeting is called in open forum and as I am a dues paying member of the ASCPS I have certain things to say partially in defense of my own reputation and partially in defense of the student body as a whole.

"The only person involved, or rather, personality involved in this discussion is myself. On the main this statement is in defense of principles. It is not intended as an attack, or dastardly backstabbing sour grapes spew on any individual or group of individuals.

"As some of you may know and some of you know very well for some time it was my pleasure to cover the activities of this board for the campus publications. My job as it was assigned to me was to attend the meetings of this group and attempt a fair and unprejudiced report of the business that passed before this group. I attempted to do so. And I think I did. It so happened that at the first meeting I covered the chief executive of the student body jump the track, went off half cocked and passed along a lot of information that at a later date was said to have been only half the story. I reported these facts almost word for word in my story. Someone in the student administration evidently thought I was sniping. I was not. I was simply doing my job, as it was assigned for me to do. It was noticed from then on by myself and others that I have talked to that the language and the actions of the central board were considerably cleaned up. But the actions of the student body government were considerably hushed up. Pressure was brought to bear on the editor of the college publication with the excuse that my work was not printed and the resulting bad practices in journalism in this school contributed greatly in the eventual resignation of the journalism professor.

"All this I believe is necessary to establish my case.

"According to the way the journalism department was being administered students so desiring could make application in later part of May for the job of editor on the Campus publications. The applications were gone over by the journalism advisor and in consultation with the president of the college and several other faculty members the editors were chosen. This as I have discovered according to Chapter I, Section 4 of the ASCPS Constitution was merely an extended courtesy on the part of the journalism professor. Sec 4 reads, "The student managers and the editors-in-chief of the official publications shall be appointed by the faculty advisors of the activities concerned."

"This year two people applied for the job of Trail editor and one for the job of Tamanawas editor. The journalism professor at that time felt that the one applicant for the job of Tamanawas editor did not have the experience necessary to carry out the job. Therefore he recommended that I be appointed Trail editor and Pat Smyth be appointed to Tamanawas editor. We are both seniors, however I am the only one majoring in Composition-Journalism-Literature as the journalism major is called in the registrar's office.

"At this point, during the summer when we should never have had such weather, Fog shrouds the issue. The fog by the way is the same or seems to be the same that shrouded the activities of this board last spring.

"The results are that a sophomore, was appointed to the Trail editor and one for the job of Tamanawas editor. The journalism professor at that time felt that the one applicant for the job of Tamanawas editor did not have the experience necessary to carry out the job. Therefore he recommended that I be appointed Trail editor and Pat Smyth be appointed to Tamanawas editor. We are both seniors, however I am the only one majoring in Composition-Journalism-Literature as the journalism major is called in the registrar's office.

"I would like to point out that I do not want the job of Trail editor at this time. I want an explanation. I want to point out that there have already been many violations of the ASCPS constitution. A group of laws our President has been sworn to enforce. One of the most flagrant violations so far occurred last spring. That violation makes this elective board and our officers all illegally elected. By Laws Article VI

All candidates for elective offices of ASCPS shall be required to satisfactorily complete an examination on the Constitution of ASCPS and on Roberts Rules of Order. The Judiciary council shall administer the examination.

"You are sworn to uphold this constitution but you can't legally do it because your test was administered by the vice-president of the student body.

"As a member of the ASCPS I want you to take some action and explain your selves. Bring out in the open. We can understand mistakes but we can't understand or tolerate puffing up smog banks to conceal mistakes. The way looks jammed but it up to you to straighten it out."

(read by) Jack Gallaher.

Mr. Capen moved that the foregoing statement be spread on the minutes of this Central Board.

Mr. Fossen made a brief response; revealing what and how it happened step by step during the past summer. He stressed that nothing underhanded or malicious had taken place. He also stressed that fact that he had taken every step and will take every step to see that the ASCPS constitution is not violated.

ENTERTAINMENT
Sunday Night Firesides...

Good, wholesome entertainment and fellowship are yours at any of the local church groups which meet Sunday evenings. Consult the bulletin board in the SUB for the time and meeting place of the various organizations. Belonging to a church youth group will add much to your college adventure, and you will gain many new friends.

The following churches have organized weekly fellowships: Mason Methodist, First Methodist, and Epworth.

Opera Lovers...

Tuesday evening, Oct. 7, will feature Mozart's comic opera, "The Marriage of Figaro" at the Temple theatre. The performance will feature four world famous opera stars from New York. Eugene Linden is the musical director, and the program will have all English text supported by dance chorus and symphony. The curtain is scheduled for 8 p.m., and all seats are reserved, with base admission at $1.50.

Debate...

As the heros of the gridiron got off to a fine start, those who seek victory in a less violent but equally hard-fought contest prepared for the year's battles. Led by Dr. Battin and assisted by Tom Stanfield, last year's Pi Kappa Delta president, the forensic department prepared for the events of the coming year. The topic will be: "Resolved, the congress should enact a compulsory fair employment practices law."

Members who were on last year's team include: Ed Durocher, Arlis Johnson, Bob Zelasko, Nadene Taylor, Barbra Swall, and Richard Dunn.

New members include: John Bart, Peter Walker, John Huston, Duanne Erickson, David Griffiths, James Osborne, Charles Dunn, Milton Williams, Eugene Pitts, Mary Lu Mackey, Alberta Conklin, Mary Ann Norton, Bonnie Jean Walker, Doug Muir, Bob Harder and Deloris Jungert.

Mr. Nelson of St. Martin's invited the squad to a seminar to be held at St. Martin's to share the results of an investigation on the FEPC done by one of the Fathers. Dr. Battin emphasized that sportsmanship of this type is far better than having a winning team and wished to thank Mr. Nelson for his offer.

Pi Kappa Delta...

Following the trend of most of the school organizations, members of Pi Kappa Delta, national forensic society, held an informal meeting last week. President Ed Durocher and debate manager Arlis Johnson said that there had been two meetings held during the summer and plans were made for a program of better acquainting the student body with the activities of the Chapter and the forensic department. This program will include convocation programs, exhibition debates, and an intramural program among other school organizations. This program which was introduced in Convocation Tuesday, will be for men and women who have never debated in college events. There will be permanent trophies for the winners of men's and women's divisions. Announcements of this have been sent to the organization and those interested should inquire at their organization office. Coaching help may be had by contacting Dr. Battin.

Announcement has been made of the annual kick-off banquet which will be held at the Top of the Ocean Oct. 9 at seven p.m. The banquet is for Pi Kappa Delta members, their guests and anyone who is interested in forensic activity. Tickets may be purchased from Ed Durocher or Richard Dunn.

As is usual when a group like this meets there is talk of past events, and this time it was the trip to Hawaii last year by Bob Zelasko and Arlis Johnson. From the abundance of young ladies from those islands question as to how much time they who enrolled this year there is some devoted to debate while there. As yet there has been no official comment on this fact.
They're pledges, ain't they?
"Let's all sing 'For He Was a Jolly Good Fellow!'"

"Oh that. Some sort of self-improvement plan the sophomore girls started."
Panhellicn... Jolly Johnson, secretary of Panhellenic, has announced the names of the girls who have pledged the campus' sororities this fall. Panhellenic is headed by Francis Ellerson. Her Veep is Joanne Wood and Barbara Hill is the Treasurer. Mrs. James is the organization's advisor. Girls who wanted to register for snap bidding signed up in the SUB this week. Their bids will be in Mrs. Drushel's office on October 14th.

Pi Beta Phi Barbara Hagen, Pat Lewis, Barbara Gonia, Sally Nelson, Elisabeth Regester, Rita Richardson, Kathleen Maguire, Ann Ethel Schafturon, Bette Schaffer, Janice Mooers, Mary Lee Gray, Janet Brinkman.

Delta Alpha Gamma Sharon Campbell, Bonnie Rae Case, Nancy Eastwood, Lynn Green, Janice Johnstone, Beverly Jones, Bonnie Jordahl, Karlyn Kurth, Marian Roberts, Audrey Stenholm, Alta Weseman, Sally Charleston, Mary Gibbs, Barbara Ahlberg, Carol Barr.

Lambda Sigma Chi Maureen Helms, Evelyn Dodge, Joanne Wood, Jo Ann Huchtoen, Bonnie Nold, Joan Hemminger, Sharon O'Brien.

Foreign Correspondents, Take Heed... If you wish to carry on a friendly correspondence with a pen-pal in Germany, here is your chance. The Trail editor has received a letter from Miss Anna-Maria Braum of the Internationales Korrespondenz-Buro in Munchen, Germany, asking for pen-pals for English-writing German students of your own age. Here is your chance to help to better foreign relations. Consult the bulletin board in the Trail office for the necessary information.

Fraternity Pledges... The Dean of Men has announced that the following men have accepted fraternity bids:

Theta Chi Edland, Ed; Lancaster, Gene; Nicholson, David; Wernofsky, Lester.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon Cranfill, Jack D.; Goodman, Jon W.; Martinez, Richard G.; Rich, Wallace N.

Sigma Nu Bergquist, Louis L.; Bos, Leo; Bullat, Dave M.; Burglin, Robert E.; Cartwright, Jim W.; Clapp, Mathew N. II; Diven, Joel O.; Goff, Bruce K.; Johnson, Edward C.; Johnson, Gary K.; Klint, Dale A.; Koski, William A.; Kroger, Wesley G.; Kruger, Charles C.; McGee, Lee M.; Pudists, Udlin; Sivertsen, David; Webster, Marvin E.; Willis, Wayne B.

Greek News for Trail... There are a few changes to announce and suggestions to make concerning the printing of Greek News. All copy that is requested publication will be in the Trail office by Wednesday noon. A box is provided on the 15th Street side of office for "Greeks." We request that the material be typed. We also request that a photo, or negative, of the feminine victor accompany each engagement announcement. We do not need nor want a photo of the vanquished male. News of recent alums is especially appreciated. Any pictures that are thought suitable for publication would be appreciated. Either print or the negative will serve the purpose. It is suggested that the Greek organizations each appoint one reliable person to gather and turn in news for their group.

Indee News... Lenora Stevens was elected president of the Independent organization on the campus at a meeting held last Monday night. Other officers elected were vice-president, Marjorie Casebier; secretary, Carolyn Newhouse; treasurer, Joan Warren; sergeant-at-arms, Charles Dunn. Karin Anderson and Jeannie Cameron were chosen program chairmen. The Independents hold their meetings every Monday night at the Independent room at the SUB at 7:30 p.m. Membership is open to all CPS students who do not belong to fraternities or sororities. Dues are two dollars per semester. All non-Greeks were urged by the Indees to attend the meetings and take an active part in the group. Advisers for the group are Dr. John Phillips and John Blake.
LETTER TO THE EDITOR

No Smog Anyway...

Last Thursday at Central Board, a prepared statement was read by Mr. Jack Gallaher.

First of all, according to Mr. Gallaher, it was a defense of his own reputation. He wanted to know why he was not chosen for the editorship of the Trail for this fall. The reasons were simply that he was not felt to have the necessary leadership ability or the suitable temperament needed for this position.

He stated, "It is my belief that campus politics are attempting to control campus publications." As this appointment was left up to me this last summer I feel that I am one of the individuals to whom this comment was directed. So I will begin as I did immediately after he issued this statement in Central Board last Thursday.

Due to the resignation of Mr. Morgan, publications advisor, and due to the fact that we did not as yet have a new advisor, the ASCPS Constitution could not be carried out. In order for us to have any Trail at all at the beginning of college this fall it was necessary to get editors and business managers to take care of organizational problems such as securing paper, advertising, and staffs.

I used every resource available to me this summer to select the students most capable for these positions. After serious and thorough consideration of the issue I asked Jack Nelson if he would handle the Trail and Pat Smyth if she would handle the Tamanawas. These amounted to temporary appointments. Even to this date they are not official, although Mr. Ed Garrison, the new publications advisor, has written a letter to Central Board requesting permanent appointments of these two.

At no time did I ever see, hear or know of any application or recommendation of Mr. Gallaher or anyone else. This was a duty I did not seek but rather a problem I was confronted with which had no simple solution. In my own mind I feel certain that they are the ones best deserving of the editorships. That Pat Smyth was selected like Mr. Gallaher stated was not following any recommendation of Mr. Morgan but rather by coincidence.

Secondly, according to Mr. Gallaher, his statement was a defense of the student body as a whole. He has brought to the attention of the student body a violation in the constitution which occurred in a past administration, not my own; the fact that the Judiciary Council had passed out of existence. This council was one of the first things I set out to revive. It is already completed and is ready for Central Board the revisions for the Election Rules plus an amendment to the ASCPS Constitution. Also, in the near future all elective Central Board members can expect a test as required by the Constitution administered by the Judiciary Council.

I would like it to be understood that personally I do not feel any ill will toward Mr. Gallaher.

To my knowledge there has not been any violation of the ASCPS Constitution since our new Central Board has been in office. I have been and will continue to do everything in my power to see that the ASCPS Constitution is not violated in the future.

—George Fossen.
Green beanies, autumn leaves, and few scattered brown bottles all mean that the College of Puget Sound has once again opened its doors. The freshman class had their first taste of campus social life when they jumped head first into Greek rush. Candy floss, hominy grits, and canned turkey highlighted several rush menus. The office of the Dean of Men furnished Alka-Seltzer, black coffee, and ice packs to the victims of illegal fraternity rushing. I.F.C. placed great appreciating on the way rush was conducted, announcing that there were only six houses who broke rules. This is a good average, and should set a record in Puget Sound Greek minutes.

Students were greeted by many new improvements on the campus this fall. Several of these future expansion projects are furnishing entertainment in their own right. Many students joined Dr. Alcorn and other sidewalk superintendents in watching the steamshovel crew excavate beside Howarth hall. This is definitely an economical form of amusement, and can sometimes be very educational, states the Doctor. The project has had some bad luck, however. There have been rumors that Dr. Regester accidentally walked over the edge of the hole while crossing the Howarth lawn.

Puget Sound has long been noted for its wholesome extra-curricular atmosphere. To the returning students, it offers pretty much the same thing; to the entering freshman, not much more. Here at CPS you will find an educational opportunity second to none, coupled with a social life that will take 99% of your time. Be sure to open a book at least once a week, especially if you live in the dormitories. Books should be aired once a week to prevent mildew.

Attending classes has long been considered impractical by the more indoctrinated students, who sleep in every day and drink sub coffee by the hour. One must be careful in drinking with the wrong company, however, for several students have been caught by the Dean’s MVD. These unfortunate individuals are now serving time in the Puget Sound Convocation Camp.

Class assignments are changing with the times. It seems a recent report for the classical literature department was a report on the weekly adventures of Pogo. Incidentally, Dr. Jaeger of the bookstore may possibly take subscriptions for the Fogo fan club, if there are enough interested.

Teach and Wilbur will present the annual Frosh One Acts this weekend. The Knights are expected to pass out eggs and tomatoes at the door. Eating them will be optional. Upperclassmen feel that this will encourage a better performance on the part of the freshman class. Intermission will feature a novelty “can-can” dance by the Spurs. They will wear their traditional sweaters.

On the serious side, Nita Church, band president, announced that the marching band will play at the game tonight. The turnout has been far better than last year at this time, and prospects are great for a new high in Logger spirit. The band will present a concert later in the year, and may accompany the team to out-of-town games.

Everyone seems to be anticipating Homecoming. Committees have all been appointed, and the inside scoop is that it will probably be the best ever . . . if everyone does his part. Let’s hit it hard.

Getting back to this weekend, it looks like a full one for everyone. Studying should be held to a minimum, otherwise our student body may become dull. Most of the fraternity houses will find it convenient to have their pledges at a study table upstairs while the remainder of the group hold a fireside in the basement. Some Greeks looks down on this, however, and make their pledges hit the sack right after the game and plays. Are pledges human or not? Ask any member for that answer.

The sororities have a terrific weekend scheduled. Panellenic is sponsoring a weekly sewing circle on Friday and Saturday evenings for all women without dates. Mrs. Drushel was elected as Keeper of the Needles, while Professor Peterson of the Psychology department will act in the capacity of counselor.

Mrs. Snyder, housemother at Anderson Hall, is asking the cooperation of male students who park outside of the dormitory in the evening. Please do not honk horn or blink lights for service.

Intramurals . . .

Now that the school is back into the swing of things, it is time for the Intramural program to commence. The first sport on the agenda is football which begins Monday, Oct. 6, and will continue on every Monday and Wednesday to November 19. All games will be played at Jefferson Park.

These games are for the enjoyment of the students, both as participants and spectators. If you are looking for something to do on Monday and Wednesday afternoons, drop over to Jefferson field and cheer for your favorite team. There will be two games on each field both afternoons. This will give you a good variety.

The week’s schedule will be published in the Trail and also posted in lower Jones. To start out the season, Kappa Sigs and ROTC tangle on Jerson’s upper field while the Phi Deltas and Theta Chi battle it out on the lower field. The first two games start at three o’clock and will be followed by the night cap at four.

Let’s get out and support these brave gents who risk life and limb for their favorite organization.

Mon., Oct. 6—Kappa Sig vs. ROTC.
Phi Delta vs. Theta Chi.
Wed., Oct. 8—Sigma Nu vs. Sigma Chi.
Todd Hall vs. SAE.
Mon., Oct. 13—ROTC vs. Sigma Nu.
Kappa Sig vs. Sigma Chi.
Wed., Oct. 15—Theta Chi vs. SAE.
Phi Delta vs. Todd Hall.

Ellensburg High Grads, Note

The Trail is in possession of a letter from the Ellensburg High School homecoming committee. It was sent to this publication in an attempt to reach any Ellensburg alumni that are over here and would like to go back for the homecoming festivities.

The celebration will take place from the 8th through the 10th. Any of you that are interested will find the letter on the bulletin board in the Trail office.

Hey Gals . . .

Need a job? Positions for CPS girls who can type and take shorthand are now available.

See Gracia Wegner or Bob Beck in the Job Placement Bureau, room J 14.

A list of jobs is posted on the bulletin board on the second floor in Jones hall.

For further information inquire in the Placement Bureau.
SPORTS

Meet Coach Hemel...

Joe Hemel belongs to one of those new faces you have been seeing around the campus. He is the head baseball coach here at the college besides being assistant basketball and football coach. Joe also heads the intramural sports program and teaches Physical Education. You can see he has a busy schedule.

Coach Hemel has a very athletic background. Born here in Tacoma he attended Lincoln High where he received letters in football, basketball, and baseball. After graduation he enrolled at Washington State college. In 1943 he played end on the football team under Bob Hollingberry. After serving a hitch in the navy he returned to W. S. C., resuming his football career under Phil Sarboe and also playing varsity baseball.

After his eligibility had been used up at State, Joe stayed on for a year as Freshman football coach and assistant varsity coach. From W. S. C. he went to Rockford High school where his baseball team won the league championship. Next Coach Hemel won the baseball championship in the Trico league while coaching baseball and football at Cathalame High, which is in Southwest Washington. From there he came to CPS to work with John Heinrick.

Joe is 33 years old, five feet 11 inches tall, weighs 220 pounds and is an eligible bachelor.

Viking Continue to Meet Coach Hemel...

Western's big quarterback, Spud Walley, and his powerful Viking eleven, scored another victory over CPS last Saturday night in Bellingham, the score was 13-6. Walley passed for both touchdowns after Spike Schrette, Logger fullback, gave CPS an early lead by plunging over from the eight yard line.

It was a heart-breaking loss for the Loggers since they went to Bellingham with one purpose in mind. That purpose was to repay Western for spoiling our Homecoming celebration last year when they handed us our only defeat of the season by the score of 19-0. Even more painful to remember is the fact that it was Spud Walley who was largely responsible for our loss last year, since he passed for two touchdowns and was a constant thorn in the side of the Loggers during the entire game.

The Loggers, however, went down fighting last Saturday night and kept the Western rooters on edge at all times. Spike Schrette and Wally Erwin gained a lot of yardage against the Viking defense and the entire CPS team showed promise of developing into one of the better teams in the Evergreen Conference. Although this defeat will be forgotten for some time in the light of the remaining games of the season, the Logger team will be OUT TO GET Western next season when they again come down to our home field.

Willamette Promises To Be No Pushover...

Willamette University's 53-0 victory over Chico State last Saturday is reason enough in itself to consider the Bearcats as a formidable opponent in the game this Friday night at 8 p.m. at Tiger Park. Willamette aerialists Benny Holt and Johnny Kent ran wild against the hapless Chico State eleven and they promise to give our Loggers a lot of trouble.

Who's Who On the Logger Football Squad...

Some of the outstanding members of our football team include:

WALLY ERWIN, first string right half back, a senior, three-year letterman and co-captain of this year's eleven. Wally was a team-mate of All-American Don Heinrich while attending high school in Bremerton.

JOE RETALLICK, first string right end, a senior, two-year letterman, All Conference selection last season, co-captain of this year's team. Joe attended Bellarmine High School in Tacoma.

NED CONLEY, first string right tackle, a senior, two-year letterman, second team All-Conference last season. Ned attended Gonzaga High School in Spokane and spent one year at Portland University before coming to CPS.

DICK HARTNETT, first string left tackle, a senior, two-year letterman and teammate of Ned Conley while attending Gonzaga High.

SPIKE SCHRETTE, first string fullback, a sophomore from O'Dea High School in Seattle. First year at CPS. Attended Napa Jr. College in California for one year.
