Foreword

So that the events and experiences of this school year will not go unrecorded into the past, the yearbook staff presents as a common memory to be shared by all members of the Student Body, this edition of the Tamanawas, 1940.
Dedication

To SENATOR WALTER A. DAVIS, in grateful acknowledgement for many years of faithful service to our college, we lovingly dedicate this annual.

The theme of this Tamanawas is intriguing to the imagination and challenging to those who are interested in the anthropology of this country.

From whence came the aborigines of the Northwest, and when did they arrive? Much research and perhaps reasoning can answer these questions meagerly. The same soil, the rich deposits of mineral, the same climate, the expansive forests, the plants and shrubs, and the wild life were here in great profusion. All lay untouched and undiscovered.

The men of that day gathered from the surface that which supplied their unambitious needs. They looked upon the towering mountain. To them it was the giver and preserver of life, so they bowed down reverently and worshiped “the Mountain that was God.”

But a new race with another civilization appeared. The undeveloped resources made a different appeal. Their trained vision saw beneath the surface. The towering mountain pointed to God as the giver of these gifts. This Northwest now presents an entirely different picture. It is a country known not only by those who live here, but around the world, as one of the garden spots of the earth. The change of inhabitants determined its destiny and multiplied its productivity.

A young man lay sick with a disease from which few recover. The individual corpuscles of his blood were steadily being destroyed. Transfusions of healthy blood had little effect. The physicians finally created a toxin from the blood of the young man and inoculated his father. When the father’s blood became immune a transfusion of his blood was made. This blood was not only immune but it aggressively attacked the disease germs, destroying them.

The young men and women who go out from the College of Puget Sound should be immune to the attacks of anything which is low, groveling, unsocial, impure and unholy. If so, communities will be changed for their good. But added to immunity there must be the power and disposition to attack those evils of society which destroy it. These two elements must be present in the character of each and every person if communities are to be changed and civilization is to be advanced.

It is for this purpose that the College of Puget Sound exists. It rejoices in the fact that a large number of its graduates and former students are making the world of men better, purer and stronger, the land more productive and the scenery more accessible, and are raising humanity to a higher level.

The affairs of the College of Puget Sound Alumni have been handled during the past year by the following officers: Franklin Johnson, president; Elizabeth Shackleford, vice-president; Maureen Henderson, secretary; Ethe lyn Lewellen, treasurer; Richard D. Smith, executive secretary.

The Alumni Association is now well established and through its program is working for the mutual benefit of the college and the alumni. Alumni groups exist at the present time in many states with New York City, Berkeley, Calif., and Washington, D. C., being centers for reunions of far away members during this year.
Central Board

Central Board directs activities and funds of the Associated Students. It has the legislative authority in the constitution of the ASCPS. It enforces traditions and confers honors and awards. Student committees and managers of activities are directly responsible to Central Board.

Because it is a representative body, its members represent every ASCPS activity. Serving on the Board this year were Robert Sprenger, William Reynolds, senior representatives; Lyall Jamieson, Jack Perry, junior representatives; Frank Walter, Lawrence Henderson, sophomore representatives; Robert Elliott, freshman representative; John Poling, Trail; Marcia Woods, Tamanawas; Ruth Jensen, women's athletics; John Boyle, varsity athletics; Clair Hanson, intramural athletics; Neil Richardson, dramatics; Wilfred Woods, music; Barbara Healy, forensics.

Activities
Enjoying one of its most successful seasons for some time, the Dramatic Art department closed its activities in May with the annual spring interpretation recitals and may look back upon three three-act plays and two nights of one-act plays during the 1939-40 season.

The Dramatic department’s contribution to the Homecoming celebration was the mystery thriller, “The Cat and the Canary,” which played October 26 and 28. Directed by Miss Martha Pearl Jones, who is now in her tenth year as head of the drama department, the cast included:

- Wilbur Baisinger, who played the part of the West family’s lawyer; Annabel Miller, the pretty heiress who is handed down a fortune by an eccentric uncle and then almost killed in an attempt to rob her of it; Dick McKnight, the stuttering hero; Richard Sloat, the murderer and insane member of the family; Garth Dickens, June Peele and Tad Burd, other members of the odd family; Charles Swanson, the asylum guard; Ernie Hessler, the wary doctor; and Mildred McKenzie, the East Indian servant.

The Cat and the Canary
Second Childhood

A novel scheme of casting was worked out in connection with the production of the rollicking comedy-farcce "Second Childhood" which was directed by Dorothy Padfield, graduate director and assistant to Miss Jones, and presented on November 10th. Two casts were chosen to enact two separate halves of the comedy. The plot had to do with a professor who invented an "elixir of youth" which brought people back to their second childhood and provided the inventor with a pack of trouble.

The Servant in the House

Next Miss Jones cast "The Servant in the House," Charles Rann Kennedy's powerful five-act religious drama and after a number of successful performances throughout Western Washington, the Campus Playcrafters presented it at the First Methodist Church before one thousand members of the Washington State Youth Conference. The play concerned a vicar whose church and very family were going to decay before his eyes and the change that was brought about by a servant who was the Holy Spirit personified.

Freshman Stunts

Opening the year’s program was the annual freshman stunt night which served to introduce the incoming students to CPS and to allow them to display their talents before what proved to be a “full house.” These stunts were student written and directed, and went before the footlights as a climax to Freshman week.

One Act Plays

Last on the dramatic department’s calendar for the year were two nights of one-act plays, one for the annual high school debate tournament and the others for the student body and their friends. All of these one-acts were done in workshop and directed by student directors.

The many helpers and stage crew members that helped on these one-act plays as well as the three-acts, deserve credit for their work—the unnoticed kind that goes on behind the scenes. They are Neil Richardson, dramatics manager; Willard Bellman, electrician; Cyril Hanson, stage manager; Clair Hanson, scene design; and Mathew Seto and Julius Beck, stage assistants.
Debate

The biggest year in forensic history, 1939-40, brought many additions to the debate team. Miss Lucille Meredith assisted Dr. Charles Battin by handling Freshmen debate and oratory. The highlight of the season was the Linfield College Tournament in February, the entire squad entering competition with thirty-five colleges from seven states. CPS made the semi-finals in every division. Margaret and Marie Gilstrap, Dewane Lamka, Larry Henderson, Sam Batt and Herman Kleiner reached the debate finals.

The registration for the High School tournament outnumbered all other years. This event has become interstate, Lewiston, Idaho, winning first place over sixty teams representing leading high schools in Washington.

CPS was host at the Sixth Annual Junior College meet in February. The following CPS teams were entered: Lucia Gjuka, Justine DeWolfe; Anita Wegener, Helen Hite; Pomla Norman, Ruth McCrea; Bob Hardy, Gene Albertson; Dick Dewes, Russell Alsgaard; Herman Kleiner, Sam Batt; Bob Elliot, Frank Hanawalt.

The National Tournament in Knoxville, Tenn., climaxed the debate season. Larry Henderson, Dewane Lamka, and the Gilstrap twins entered in debate; Barbara Healy in oratory; and Justine DeWolfe was the representative at the Pi Kappa Delta unicameral Student Assembly.

Dewane Lamka won honors for CPS by making the semi-finals in debate.
Oratory

Margarita Irle and Sylvia Langdon placed first and second, respectively, in the women's division of the annual Burmeister Oratorical contest. Dick Dews won men's first prize and Frank Hanawalt, second.

At the Linfield Tournament, Bob Elliott placed third in the junior men's oratory. Barbara Healy was also a finalist in senior women's oratory. The other orators were Waichi Oyanagi, Dick Dews, Frank Hanawalt, Dewane Lamka, and Margarita Irle.

Extemp

Pomla Norman, Larry Henderson, Yoshiteru Kawano, Judd Day, and Russell Alsgaard were in the extemporaneous contest held in Linfield. Barbara Healy, Sam Batt and Charles McNary reached extemp finals in this contest.

Charles McNary brought honor to CPS by placing second in Impromptu Speaking. Judd Day and Herman Kleiner took part in after dinner speaking.

Adelphians

The Adelphian Choral Society under the excellent direction of John Paul Bennett, made its annual spring tour the first week in April through Eastern Washington.

The officers for the past year were Esther Waterman, president; John Carter, vice-president; Betty Warner, secretary; Betty Peterson, librarian; Wilfred Woods, music manager.

Band

Each year sees new growth and interest in CPS's band which aids in arousing the "ol' pep" for our football games and rallies. Mr. Louis Wersen is the leader of the band; Ruth Pauline Todd is president.
Leaders among the music minded students are Wilfred Woods, manager; Ruth Pauline Todd, president of the band; Esther Waterman, president of the Adelphians; Dean Tuell, president of the Singers.

Puget Sound Singers

A new choral group on the campus, organized and conducted by Mr. Bennett, is the Puget Sound Singers. Besides numerous radio and chapel programs, this group provided the choral music for the Easter Sunrise service that was sponsored by the Knights Templar.
The seven honorary societies at the College of Puget Sound serve not only to give credit to certain students for meritorious study but to bring together groups of students genuinely interested in a particular subject or activity.

There are two scholastic honoraries, two service honoraries, two departmental honoraries, and one activities honorary.

The requirements and activities of the groups are widely varied and offer students of CPS a number of interests and achievements.

Pi Kappa Delta

Membership in Washington Alpha chapter of Pi Kappa Delta, national forensic honorary, is open to outstanding forensic students. This year six members from CPS attended the national convention of the fraternity in Knoxville, Tenn., where 155 colleges were represented. The delegates were Margaret and Marie Gilstrap, Barbara Healy, Justine DeWolfe, Larry Henderson, and Dewane Lamka.

Social events of the group include a banquet held in the fall and a picnic each spring with election of officers. Guest speaker at the banquet was Mr. Herman Matson, a former ASCPS president.

Officers for the past year were Margaret Gilstrap, president; Marie Gilstrap, vice-president; Yoshiteru Kawano, secretary-treasurer; Barbara Healy, reporter; Dr. Charles Battin, advisor.

Mu Sigma Delta

Mu Sigma Delta was organized in 1929. Its purpose is to promote an appreciation of scholarship, particularly in the liberal arts field. Pending the establishment of a chapter of Phi Beta Kappa or of Sigma Xi on the campus, Mu Sigma Delta undertakes to perform functions similar to those performed by the national organizations. A chapel program is given each year presenting the claims as a college activity. At this year's chapel program an address on "Scholarship and Democracy" was given by Dr. Holland F. Burr.

At the initiation banquet held at the close of each college year a distinguished speaker is invited to address the members. The 1939 speaker was Mr. John H. Binns.

The officers include Dr. Raymond S. Seward, president; Mrs. Lyle F. Drushel, vice-president; Miss Jean Hartman, recording secretary; Mr. Richard D. Smith, corresponding secretary; Mr. Charles A. Robbins, treasurer.

Otlnah

Otlnah is an honorary organization for senior women who have maintained a high average in scholarship and who have also participated in extra curricular activities during their college career.

It was first organized in the spring of 1922 at the suggestion of the faculty for the purpose of honoring senior women who had excelled in scholarship and activities.

The club's activities this year included an early spring tea, honoring the mothers of students in the college, a chapel program announcing next year's pledges, and the annual alumni tea in June. Officers of this group are Frances Cruver, president; Phyllis Anderson, vice-president; Doris Day, secretary; Mrs. Raymond Seward, advisor.
Spurs

Spurs, the sophomore women's national service organization, is represented at CPS this year by 17 members. The members of the local chapter which was organized in 1926 are chosen for their interest and participation in school activities, dependability, and scholarship, their purpose to promote school spirit through service.

At the regional convention held this year at Bozeman, Montana, on April 5th and 6th, CPS was represented by Lillian Mattson, Doris Wittren, Virginia Judd, and the regional director, Marie Mulligan.

OFFICERS FOR THIS YEAR INCLUDED VIRGINIA JUDD, PRESIDENT; RUTH PAULINE TODD, VICE-PRESIDENT; FRANCES COLE, SECRETARY; BLANCHE HAYNES, TREASURER; MARGARITA IRLE, HISTORIAN; LUCY SPAETH, EDITOR.

Knights of the Log

Knights of the Log is a local sophomore men's service honorary whose members are chosen for scholarship, leadership, and participation in extra-curricular activities. Selected from the five fraternities and the independent group on the campus, each group is allowed a maximum of four members and a minimum of one.

OFFICERS FOR THE FALL SEMESTER WERE LAWRENCE HENDERSON, PRESIDENT; HARRY KAPLIN, VICE-PRESIDENT; LAWRENCE LAVIK, SECRETARY-TREASURER; ROBERT HUTCHINSON, SERGEANT AT ARMS.

Spring semester officers were Frank Walter, president; Philip Walesby, vice-president; Lawrence Lavik, secretary-treasurer; Ed Granlund, sergeant at arms.

Mr. Louis Grant is advisor; Ronald Rau, Jack Perry, and Lyall Jamieson form the advisory committee, composed of junior men.
Student Affiliate A. C. S.

Formerly a member of the national Chi Pi Sigma, chemistry fraternity, the group this year became the Student Affiliate Chapter of the American Chemistry Society requiring of its members nine hours of B or 18 hours of C in chemistry.

The activities of the society of this year were to attend the regional meetings at the University of Washington and to present various speakers to the college students.

Officers for the past year have been William Reynolds, president; Robert Sprenger, vice-president; Leland Thune, secretary; Robert Spring, treasurer; Dr. Philip Fehlandt, and Dr. Eugene Huffman, advisors.
Outstanding among the Art Exhibits presented by the Art department this winter was a show which displayed several original Picassos among other drawings and paintings of the contemporary French school. It was by far the finest and most expensive exhibition ever to be displayed at CPS.

International Relations

Sponsored by the Carnegie Endowment Fund, this club meets for the purpose of studying international affairs. Officers this year were Bill Reynolds, president; Jim Burr, vice-president; Barbara Longstreth, secretary; Dr. Williston, advisor.

Writers' Club

Meeting for the purpose of criticizing and perfecting their own original manuscripts, this group has chosen Sonya Loftness, president, and Miss Van Norden, advisor.

zations
Der Deutsche Verein
Organized to familiarize themselves with German customs and speaking, this group sponsors each year a German Camp which is held for two weeks in the summer, and open to any student of German. Officers for this year were Bill Stewart, president; Margaret Huseman, secretary-treasurer; Dr. Tomlinson, advisor.

La Mesa Redonda
Each year the Spanish Club is host to a convention of representatives from high school Spanish clubs and classes from all over the state. Prominent in Spanish club affairs this winter were Bob Hardy, president; Mrs. C. A. Robbins, advisor.

Ski Club
The important activity of the Ski Club is the sponsoring of All College Ski Day at the mountain each February. It also plans for a high school ski meet. Officers for this year were Gene Hall, president; Gwen Roach, secretary-treasurer; Dr. Tomlinson, advisor.

Women's Federation

Women's Federation was formed to provide for equal financing for four other groups, namely, Spurs, W. A. A., Y. W. C. A., and Otlah. The president and treasurer of each of these groups are members of the Federation which plans for fall and spring style shows, candy sales, and other money raising activities.

Officers for the year were Doris Day, president; Blanche Haynes, secretary; Audrey Albertson, treasurer; Mrs. Drushel, advisor.

Kappa Phi

Kappa Phi is a national organization having the aim “Every Methodist women in the university world of today, a leader in the church of tomorrow.” The members of Chi Chapter are women of Methodist preference who are now attending CPS.

Independents

All students not affiliated with any social greek organization are automatically members of the Independent group. Organized for social and service purposes, this group elects a cabinet and council representatives to carry out these plans. Among the winter's activities this year were several parties, a dance, skating party and a caroling service.

Officers chosen for the year included Betty Myers, president; Herbert Smiley, vice-president; Bobbe Nadeau, secretary-treasurer; Bob Hardy, Larry Brown, Dick Wagner, council representatives.

Witan

For the purpose of providing as satisfactory and economical living conditions as possible for out-of-town men, the Witan was organized in 1932 to furnish fellowship and experiences for out-of-town men. Although not a fraternity in the sense that it sponsors a set social program, numerous firesides and parties are held by the group.

Officers for the winter were Richard McKnight, president; Wilfred Woods, secretary-treasurer.
All college women are eligible for membership in this group, which has Christian fellowship as its aim. The programs this winter were centered around "Christianity and Democracy in Crisis."

Activities are directed toward the promotion of service projects and social affairs. Filling Christmas baskets, furnishing a room at the White Shield Home, pot-luck dinners, and Firesides are among the highlights of the year's program.

The upperclass cabinet includes Irma Jeuling, president; Helen Cessaman, vice-president; Carol Pratsch, secretary; Audrey Albertson, treasurer; Florence Darrow, social chairman; Ruth Pauline Todd, program; Muriel Woods, service; June Peele, religion; Marie and Margaret Gilstrap, family relations; Margarita Irle, international relations; Phyllis Anderson, Seabeck; Dorothy Ann Brenner, economics; Evelyn Shaw, freshman representative; Mrs. Drushel, advisor.

The freshmen organize separately and carry out a joint program with the upperclassmen, in order to develop interest and leadership among first year college women. Their officers include Doris Sommers, president; Virginia Lantz, vice-president; Pat Keene, secretary; Enid Rummel, treasurer; Virginia Mason, social chairman; Jane Lund, program; Betty Bradley, service; Marie Brown, publicity; Annabel Miller, freshman advisor; Dr. Helen McKinney, advisor.
Two years ago the Y. M. C. A. was revived to give the men of the college greater opportunity to share in discussion and recreation. The past year this organization has kept two objectives in mind in working out a well-rounded program.

Fellowship, the first objective, became real in a stag party climaxed by apple cider, doughnuts and jui-jitsu. The first all-college hike was sponsored by the YW and YM jointly, and the regular meeting each Tuesday in the Little Chapel afforded opportunity for a type of mental exercise not practiced in the classroom.

The Tuesday meetings included brief stimulating discussions on the heavy issues presented by the world anarchy, labor strife, and religious speculation. One meeting brought light handy information on how to behave (properly) when meeting, introducing, or escorting the college co-ed.

Y. M. C. A. meetings are open to all for the club wants to serve any who would benefit from its fellowship and standards. In its second year of revival the YMCA has become a more stable unit and thus gives promise of adding much to the life and standards of the campus in years to come.

The officers for the past winter were Gene Albertson, president; Ash Walker, vice-president; Mark Porter, secretary; Lee Thune, treasurer; Clair Hanson, recreation; Paul Lantz, publicity; Samuel Batt, freshman representative.
Women's Residence

Becoming an active group on the campus, the women of the Residence Hall are an organized society with officers and meetings every week. This past year being the first full year of occupation has been important in the establishing of certain precedents. Social affairs sponsored by the Hall include a dance, two dinner dances, a scavenger hunt and a picnic.

Officersthe first semester were: Cora Atkinson, president; Annabel Miller, vice-president; Florence Darrow, secretary; Kay Evans, treasurer; Signa Gustafson, social chairman; Kay Sutherland, scholarship; Margaret Varnes, courtesy; Tad Burd, sergeant at arms.

Elected for the spring semester were: Kay Sutherland, president; Lillian Mattson, vice-president; Virginia Judd, secretary; Jane Hudson, treasurer; Jane Sorenson, social chairman; Annabel Miller, scholarship; Florence Darrow, courtesy; Dorothy Matson, sergeant at arms.

Flying Club

Last September a new and distinctive course was added to the College curriculum. It was the Flight Training course sponsored by the Civil Aeronautics Authority. At the beginning of the first semester twenty students signed up and began their ground school work under Dr. Raymond S. Seward. Three months later they eagerly reported at Mueller Harkins airport for their first flying lesson. From then on instructors Ben Barry, Bud Oswald, and Bert Thrasher had their hands full as the budding aviators diligently practiced spins, spirals, verticals, forced landings and the various other maneuvers in which a flyer must be proficient in order to qualify for his Private License. By the middle of June most of the participants will have accumulated the necessary 35 hours of flying time and have passed the examination for their license.

Bound together by a mutual interest in aviation, the flyers organized the College of Puget Sound Flying Club which is the first organization of its kind on the campus. Sherman Jonas was elected president; Warren Hoit, vice-president; Gene Hall, secretary; Harry Kaplin, treasurer; Bill Dickson, historian.
Comprising a central council by which difficulties and problems that arise among the fraternities may be solved and settled, the inter-fraternity council is made up of the president and an elected representative from each of the five fraternities. In addition to formulating rushing plans and other fraternity business, the council sponsored a dance which was held in May.

Composed of presidents and representatives from each of the four social sororities on the campus, the inter-sorority council promotes a feeling of unity among the groups. Business for the winter included planning next fall’s rushing rules and sponsoring an inter-sorority dance that was held in January.

May Day

Queen Ruth Raymond presided over the annual May Day festivities that were held this year on May 3. Attended by Princesses Beulah Eskildsen and Doris Granlund, she received in her court duchesses from each class in college as well as visiting duchesses from various high schools in the state. Master of ceremonies for the occasion was Lyall Jamieson, ASCPS president.

Japanese Students' Club

Organized only within the past year, the membership of the Japanese Student's Club numbered sixteen this year. In addition to social affairs, the club presented a chapel in March in which talented members of the club took part in singing and dancing.

Most notable activity of the year, however, was the gift to the college of sixteen Japanese cherry trees that have been planted in a friendship circle in front of the Residence Hall.

Officers for this year were Hitoshi Tamaki, president; Yoshiteru Kawano, vice-president; Masaye Jinguji, secretary; Mathew Seto, treasurer; Mayme Semba, historian; Ken- ny Hayoshi, publicity.

Coach Leo Frank and his Maroon and White gridders met the Cheney Savages in the first grid encounter of the 1939-40 season. The Loggers held the Cheney aggregation scoreless in the first half, but superior reserve strength told on the tiring Lumberjack in the third and fourth cantos. Madden and Maycumber were the Logger luminaries.

College of Puget Sound, 20

Whitman, 7

With Underwood, Madden, Neely, and Tucker proving to be the mainstays of the squad, the Loggers played the best game of the year against the always tough Whitman Maize and Blue.

Underwood scored on a long pass from Madden in the first half, and Lowe ran the count to 13 to 7 on a 60-yard touchdown run after a pass interception. Madden accounted for the final Logger tally in the dying moments of the game on a reverse good for 30 yards. It was the fifth consecutive CPS win over the Walla Walla squad.

College of Puget Sound, 0

Pacific, 13

The eventual Conference Champs were held scoreless for the first three quarters, and but for an injury to Underwood, star Logger end, the Badgers would have gone down in defeat. It was in this game that CPS was scored upon after the gun had sounded ending the contest.

Line play was exceptional in this tilt, and the showing made by the Maroon and Whites as a whole gave much to look toward for the coming seasons.

Linfield College vs. C. P. S.
Using a squad that was riddled with injuries, the Loggers were held to a scoreless tie by an inspired Whitworth College eleven in the first home game of the year.

Both Madden and Underwood remained on the sidelines for the duration of the game, and although the Frank coached squad outplayed their Spokane opponents, they were consistently held for no gain when pay territory loomed.

Spec Keene’s Willamette Bearcats were scheduled for the homecoming game, but not even the prospect of playing before the largest crowd of the year was enough inspiration to overcome the battered condition that the Logger regulars were found to be nursing.

Late in the last quarter Madden heaved a short touchdown pass to McLaughlin for the only CPS tally of the evening.

Central Washington College led the Tacoma squad 12 to 7 at half time, but with the Loggers driving during the second half the Ellensburg rooters went into a frenzy as Madden led the Maroon and White down field toward scoring territory.

A pass interception by an alert Normal player stopped the rally short of a winning score and added to the Central total.

In a game marked by offensive play, CPS jumped into an early 12 to 0 lead, but a sparkling Frosh back for the McMinville team tossed passes right and left to defeat the Loggers in their last game of the season.

Under the capable coaching of Louis O. Grant, the College of Puget Sound hoopsters brought the first conference basketball championship in Pacific Northwest Conference history into the fold during the 1939-40 season.

Using a starting lineup composed for the most part of Freshmen, Coach Grant won a total of 14 games while losing only five.

In circuit play the Maroon and White won six and lost two for a percentage of .750. College games alone gave the Loggers a .750 average also, as the wins outnumbered the losses 12 to 4.

Non college tilts found the Tacoma basketeurs with a .667 average that included two wins and one loss, that to the strong Washington Alumni team from Seattle.

Other honors shared by the Loggers included All-Conference awards to Guard Harry Werbisky, who also won the honorary captaincy for the year, and to Norm Walker, versatile center for the Maroon and White. Bill McLaughlin was voted the inspirational award winner for the second successive season.

The individual scoring championship for the conference was taken by Norm Walker with a total of 95 points for the eight games, an average of 11.7 points per game.
Guarantee that CPS would have basketball material for several years to come was born out by the excellent showing of the Freshman basketball squad that won 8 and lost only 2 of the 10 games scheduled.

The starting squad found Granlund, Hanawalt, Bacon, Nelson, and Duncan in the lineup during most of the season. And the stellar work of these five players plus that of capable reserves will greatly enhance the chances of next year's varsity team.

Head basketball coach Lou Grant was assisted by Leo Frank, football and track coach.

Riding the crest of a six meet victory wave, the College of Puget Sound thincilads head for Walla Walla on the 17th of May and a crack at the Conference title held so long by the Whitman Missionaries.

At the time of printing it would appear that the meet will be a close one with the Loggers being the favorites to cop the second CPS championship of the year and the second Maroon and White victory in track in the history of the Pacific Northwest Conference.

Logger cinder artists, headed by John McDonald, conference record holder in the 880, and consistent 10 point winner in every meet in the mile and half, will attempt to avenge last year’s defeat at the hands of the Missionaries and on the basis of this year’s dual with the Maize and Blue, appear to have an upper hand.

Outstanding performances during the current season include McDonald’s record bettering 880 yard run in 1:59.1.

Coach Leo Frank.

Albertson and the discus.

McDonald sets a half mile record against Pacific.
and Julius Beck's 9:49.7 in the two mile, a mark that better the college, track, and conference records by 11 seconds.

Seniors Lloyd Baker and Gene Albertson have contributed from 8 to 10 points consistently per meet during the past year, and have proved to be mainstays in the Maroon and White team.

In the hurdles Bill Tucker and Bob Maycumber have proved invaluable, and both should be first place winners in the Conference meet.

While in the pole vault, high jump, javelin, and broad jump, Bennatts, McCord, Walker, Underwood, and McLaughlin have been consistent winners.

Running events have been ably taken care of by Werbisky and Hale in the sprints; Sharp and Leggee in the 440 and 880; and Melton, Forsman, Mansfield, and Crain in the longer distances.

To provide a place in the activities of the Women's Athletic Association and thence in the extracurricular activities of the school is the ultimate object of WAA. To foster participation in athletics, to promote qualities of leadership, good sportsmanship and cooperation and to offer democratic fellowship are the primary purposes of the organization.

Starting off in Freshmen Week with a Sports Spree for the women, WAA operates under a full program throughout the year. In October is held the annual invitational Play Day for the high schools of the county.

The Gym Jubilee, which is an exhibition of the achievements of the association and the Physical Education Department in the arts of Fencing, Basketball and Badminton, was held on March 30th with Lois Kuhl reigning as queen of the Jubilee. The Loggetettes, an alumnus team from the college, played and defeated a picked group from the college in the basketball game. The Badminton exhibition match was played by Louise Cales and Bud Barrett against Mary Ann Jelusich and Bob Sloat.

The Award banquet is to be held on the 21st of May and will complete the activities of the organization and the department for the year.

Officers for the year were Lois Kuhl, president; Ruth Jensen, general manager; Doris Granlund, vice president; Virginia Judd, secretary; Mary Reitzel, treasurer; Margarita Irie, historian; Vera Healy, program chairman; Louise Jayko, publicity chairman, and Mrs. Marjorie Mann as advisor for the group.
All Star Hockey

For the third time in as many years the hockey squad journeyed to Seattle to play against the University girls, playing to the second tie of the series. The girls were divided into two teams for interclass competition; the juniors and freshmen made one team and the seniors and sophomores the other. Games were played with the senior-sophomore aggregation on the winning end of the score. From these groups was chosen the All-Star team.

D. A. G. Basketball

Once again the Gamma sorority team won the intersorority basketball tournament. With Helen Pierce leading the scoring, and Doris Granlund and Doris Sommer holding down the big end of the defense system, the team marched straight on to victory with no defeats. The girls active in the interclass tournament entertained the girls from the University of Washington for an evening of play. Three games were played with the University taking two of them.

Senior - Junior Volleyball

The Volleyball tournaments for the year, both interclass and intersorority, ended in ties necessitating a combining of two teams to represent the championship. In the interclass tourney the junior and senior teams divided the honors. Outstanding for the seniors were Lois Kuhl, Doris Granlund, Ruth Jensen; while the junior stars were Helen Berg and Helen Wiltschko.
Hiking

Hikes are led in both semesters of the year totaling twelve. The first six were led by Margarita Irle in the fall semester, and the second group is now in progress under the leadership of Muriel Woods. Walks around outlying districts of Tacoma and vicinity afford pleasurable enjoyment for many of the girls.

Badminton

Badminton was so popular this year that the girls gave more time to it than to any of the other activities except basketball. Both intersorority and interclass tournaments were held. Outstanding in the sport were Louise Claes and Mary Ann Jelusich, with Doris Granlund and Lois Kuhl giving them good competition.

Riding

Riding is offered through the physical education department for class credit. The girls ride at an academy on the outskirts of town and many meals are eaten from mantels at the beginning of the season.
Baseball Champions

Baseball champions from last year were the junior-senior team. Because the seniors were not in school for the pictures the junior team of last year is representative. Mary Reitzel, playing first base, turned in a good account of herself and her abilities, with Barbara Wilson helping her to star.

Fencing

Fencing is a comparatively new activity in the department and two left-handers, Margarita Irle and Elizabeth Bona, stood out in the field. The sport is handled only in the special gym class for the majors and minors in physical education.

Golf

Increasing the golfing program every year the department this year had three classes, each of which met twice a week for instruction, and in addition were given special tickets to enable them to play at other times at the Allenmore golf course.
Tennis

The Tennis tournament is being run off by the ladder challenge method. Last spring Mary Reitzel ended up in the top position; but attempts are now being made by Mary Ann Jelusich to dislodge her from that spot.

Archery

Archery is fast developing into one of the most popular of all the sports offered by the department. Ruth Pauline Todd is the only girl remaining in school who was named on the All-Star selections for last year.

Swimming

Inaugurating intersorority swimming in the program for this year the interest in the sport has picked up so that the pool at the YWCA is used for three periods on Tuesdays. Previously only one or two classes have been offered. Two of the hours are now used for regular class instruction and the third is used as a plunge period free of charge to anyone who has passed the physical examination.

The state of Washington is dependent upon its forest resources for many of the things which make life enjoyable and worthwhile.

Forest land owners very generally desire to keep their properties in a high state of production.

Such an undertaking requires public cooperation in prevention of fire in forest properties, in securing adequate markets at home and abroad for forest products, and in maintenance of equitable systems of taxation.
