COLLEGE OF PUGET SOUND
Foreword

Striving continually ahead, the College of Puget Sound advanced with the thought of bettering her college family foremost in her mind. The Alma Mater grew and expanded, pausing between spurts of growth and studying to indulge in the lighter side of campus life. Some students read the dedication on the ivy-covered tower of Jones; others stood on the steps and looked over the campus. From the distance of the Fieldhouse to the President's new home, they gazed, and swelled with pride, for they had helped build this place, and they were part of the history which follows—the 1950 history of Puget Sound.

Dedication

No college could have a finer dean than John D. Regester. For twenty-five years he has been a commanding influence at the College of Puget Sound. His scholarship has international recognition. His sympathetic understanding of both student and academic points of view makes him an ideal man. Those who know him appreciate his subtle sense of humor, and his deep and penetrating insight into administrative problems. He gives unstintingly of his time and energy to make the College of Puget Sound the best alma mater possible. We salute him for his quarter century of service.

College
Faculty
As "Tamanawas" means dedication to the highest, so the College of Puget Sound seeks to make available to her students the best in education. Here awakening youth finds association with great minds, high ideals, and a way of life which creates opportunities for tomorrow.

1950 records the close of the College's sixty-second year. It also means graduation for nearly three hundred seniors. As these sons and daughters of the maroon and white go out, they leave a touch of sadness within the heart; but at the same time they leave us their joy of achievement for work well done. We shall follow their careers with personal interest because we see in them leadership for today. The College of Puget Sound is proud to have an influence in the moulding of the destiny of our age.
Administration

Mrs. Marian Herstrom
Secretary to the President

Miss Marlys Wallace
Secretary to the Dean

Mrs. Georgeanna Thompson
Secretary to the Dean of Men

Miss Jeanne Shugard
Secretary to the Dean of Women
The administrators of the college, President Thompson, Registrar Dick Smith, Dean Regester, Dean Drushel, Dean Powell, and Mr. Banks, worked hard during the year to see that the college functioned properly. They helped the college family to register properly, solved their various problems, counseled and guided them, made out the college calendar, collected their money, and answered the numerous questions presented by students throughout the day. Besides his many duties as college president, Dr. Thompson again became the official “crown” of the campus queens, and in her office in the SUB, Mrs. Drushel was housemother for Kittredge Hall residents and watched over the activities there during the day. The administrators kept their respective secretaries and office staffs continually busy throughout the day, sorting, filing, and typing the miscellaneous articles which passed through their offices.
The Art department occupies five rooms in Jones Hall and most of "A" wing in South Hall. Exhibits in the two art galleries are frequently changed, and they sometimes contain internationally famous paintings. Through a grant from the Carnegie Corporation, the art library has now a collection of art books and prints of famous paintings. Students on trips in the Biology department during the year collected new specimens for addition to the rapidly growing Puget Sound Museum of Natural History. The museum, which occupies the top floor of the science building, contains over 12,000 specimens of various variety. The B.A. and Economics departments contain almost one-third of the school's departmental majors. Courses have been reorganized to provide for a graduate study leading to a master's degree, and courses now offered in the two departments will be expanded to allow for growth and further training. The Chemistry department aims to give science majors the proper fundamentals to develop their own thinking, and to give an understanding of chemistry today to the students taking the course to fulfill college requirements.
This year the Education department offered a program for the training of elementary teachers. This program was made available when the state legislature repealed the law prohibiting the granting of more than one type of teaching certificate from any one school. The English and Literature department offers a basic background for either the teaching or the everyday use of the courses offered. The Geology department offers the standard academic courses and this summer will offer field trips to the Olympic mountains. The advanced students learn to work under actual field conditions. The History department is one of the most popular on the campus, and this summer will offer a European travel workshop for the first time. The Home Economics department, which is rapidly expanding, this year held an open house for students and their mothers in the newly decorated dining room. The department is divided into three fields: clothing and textiles, foods and nutrition, and management and child development.
The Mathematics department has expanded until there are approximately 300 students enrolled each semester. The Pre-Engineering courses have been incorporated into the Math department and are comparable to the first two years of engineering school. The school library offers study facilities and provides a complete library of books for reference, besides numerous pamphlets, magazines, and newspapers. The music department at the present time covers more campus territory than any other, because of the scattered buildings in which it is housed. The department recently earned accreditation from the American Music Association. Plans are now under way for the building of a new music building, which will house all phases of the department, as well as private workrooms for the music organizations. The Adelphian Choir will also have a room to call its own.

Physical Education

A class in weaving.

The aim of the Occupational Therapy department is "treatment through activity. The department works toward future aid in general and orthopedic hospitals. The Physics department strives to give students a general understanding of the nature of matter, sound, heat, electricity, and the like. The Physical Education department is in charge of the five semesters of physical activity required for graduation, and supervises men's and women's athletics. The Religion department offers the required non-denominational course in religion. Its extra-curricular branch is the Student Christian Council, which sponsors discussion groups and meditation periods during the year. The Psychology department has its courses correlated to provide basic ground work for advanced training in teaching, government service, politics, and law. The Speech department supervises the work of the drama students, the various productions, and the Choral Readers.

Classes
Senior Class

Climaxing four years of college activity the class of 1950 bade a fond farewell to their school days in June. Ably led by class president Dick Lewis, and his cabinet, Bob Mills, vice-president; Lorayne Rockway, secretary; Stan Langlow, sergeant-at-arms; and Bob Angeline and Dick Frederick, representatives to Central Board, the class wound up its final year with a bang. The seniors worked with the other classes, helped them, and made a name for themselves which their classmates will not forget. They gave the annual Junior Prom in December honoring the junior class. They were the guests of honor at the Senior Ball the night before their graduation. In May they managed a successful sneak to Lincoln Park in Seattle, completely eluding the juniors. Bill Stivers directed the student body as president and also captained the basketball team. Yvonne Battin was ASCPS vice-president; Fern McCulloch was Tamanawas business manager. During their transition from green beanies to mortar boards the class of 1950 was active in every phase of school life. They worked harder than in previous years, preparing themselves for the outside world. They sang "we love thee Alma Mater" the last few times with tears in their eyes, for the song brought memories of games, dances, picnics, and the other functions which they attended, some for the last time. They carried off trophies at the Awards Chapel, proudly and a little humbly, remembering the things they had done to earn them. From the day of matriculation when they passed the color post for the first time until they again passed it for the last time, the seniors were a proud, hard-working class, representative of the spirit of C.P.S.

With two years of college life behind them, the juniors came back to school in September, determined to make their two remaining years a success. They were led through the work and play of the year by Class President Ralph Wehmhoff. Helped by his cabinet, Alice Palmer, vice-president; Jeanne Shugard, secretary; and Jim Ernst and Howie Meadowcroft, Central Board representatives, Ralph did an exceptional job. Early in the year, the class put forth its efforts in a successful campaign to raise money for a large maroon and white banner to be used at all home basketball games. In December the class was honored by the seniors at the annual Junior Prom, which was one of the biggest social events of the year. In the spring, the juniors returned the favor and bade the seniors farewell by sponsoring the annual Senior Ball. In May, the seniors successfully eluded the juniors on their sneak, but the class of '51 managed to console themselves with a picnic when they could not find the seniors. This year's outstanding class members were Nancy Riehl, ASCPS secretary; Ed Balarezo, Tamana-was editor; Alice Palmer, AWS president and Ray Harbert, Inter-fraternity Council president. Barbara Albertson and Ralph Wehmhoff were co-chairmen of homecoming and Gloria Ellexson reigned as homecoming queen. Roberta Westmoreland was chosen as the Beaux Arts Belle. This year, the junior class showed exceptional interest and enthusiasm in their school, and as a class was always ready to participate in school activities.

Looking ahead to the Sophomore Tests in the spring, the class of '52 came back to school in the fall, full of promise and enthusiasm for the year ahead. Class President Bob Rieflin and his cabinet, Mary Dobbs, vice-president; Rae Jeanne Neeley, secretary; Tom Swayze, sergeant-at-arms; and Representatives Joanne Stebbins and Ben Fawcett worked hard to make the year a success. Chuck Caddey led the Yell Team through a season full of school spirit and pep, and was assisted by the sophomore members of the Rally Committee, Doris Beardsley, Tom Rutledge, Claude St. Amand, Bill Stidwell, and Lorayne Willoughby. Journalistically inclined members of the class, Lois Wasmund, Trail editor, Don Jaenicke, managing editor, Doris Beardsley, and Dorothy Ross worked continually to meet deadlines. The Spurs and the Knights, the sophomore women's and men's honoraries, ushered at chapels, sold lollipops, gave Christmas presents, and guarded the polls in school elections. Sophomores singing with the Adelphians were Mary Lou Moore, Grace Fullager, Laurine Schore, Mary Dobbs, Paul Kelly, Neal Miller, and Leo Morris. Don Murdock, Bob Carlson, Roy Bodine, Cal Frazier and Dwayne Westlin represented the class in the athletic field. This year the sophomores worked in all phases of college life, made names for themselves wherever they went, studied some, played a lot, and in general added to the spirit of the college.

Last September a horde of frightened students wearing their green beanies close to their heads passed the color post and became an integrated part of college life. They were the freshmen. Early in the year they chose their officers, Dave Schweinler, president; Nancy Bartles, vice-president; Joanne Wood, secretary; and Joan Stensen and Ted Vaughn, representatives to Central Board. Outstanding in music were four members of the Adelphians, Delora Johnson, Margie Lutz, Mary Lee Staggs, and Joan Stensen. The freshmen took over the yell team this year with three of its five members, Money Dessen, Liz Fleming, and Doug McArthur. Active in sports were Wally Erwin, Gerry Murdock, Art Via-fore, Danny Buford, Dick Palamidessi, Bruce Jorgenson, and Ken Bayer. Not to be outdone for beauty, the class was represented by Ski Queen Gloria Christianson, who reigned over the Winter Carnival, and Janet Hunt, who was Daisy Mae and also an attendant to the Beaux Arts Belle. Active in AWS were Joyce Wilfley and Dot Dobie who worked on the council. With the coming of spring, the freshmen became more a part of the school life at the college. They tried to learn to study, definitely learned, with the rest of the school, how to drink coffee to keep awake and also warm, and brought a good deal of school spirit into the college.

"... To provide an organization for promotion and control of students' affairs, and to encourage student cooperation with the college administration and faculty in maintaining the standards of the college. . . ." is the purpose of the Associated Students of the College of Puget Sound.

Bill Stivers ably led the Associated Students of the College of Puget Sound in one of its most successful years. Changes were made and the student body is now running more smoothly than ever.

Aiding Bill were Yvonne Battin, vice-president; Nancy Riehl, secretary; Gerard Banks, treasurer; and Ellery Capen, general manager.
Central Board

Finance Committee

Central Board is vested with the responsibility of appointing committee heads, supervising the control of A.S.C.P.S. finances, choosing publication heads, and planning special campus events.

The Board is made up of the following: Bill Stivers, A.S.C.P.S. president; Yvonne Battin, vice-president; Nancy Riehl, secretary; Gerard Banks, treasurer; Ellery Capen, general manager; Bob Angeline and Dick Frederick, senior representatives; Jim Ernst and Howie Meadowcroft, junior representatives; Ben Fawcett and Joanne Stebbins, sophomore representatives; Joan Stensen and Ted Vaughn, freshman representatives; Herb Stark, drama representative; Ken Campbell, forensics representative; Bob Angeline, intramural representative; Jean Tipp, women's athletics representative; Leonard Raver, music representative; Chuck Howe, Deep Creek representative; Ed Balarezo, Tamanawas Editor; and Gale Hilstad, Trail business manager.

The Finance Committee recommends to Central Board solutions and ideas on financial difficulties. The committee includes Bill Stivers, Yvonne Battin, Nancy Riehl, Gerard Banks and Ellery Capen.
This year's chapel committee presented a number of outstanding programs. Faculty and student musical presentations, speakers, and movies helped to insure interest of the students. The candidates for royal positions at dances and for A.S.C.P.S. activities and class offices were introduced.

Religious Emphasis Week brought to the college Dr. Allan Hunter who spoke each day on the subject, "Life—Road or Rut?"

Among the outstanding speakers were Dr. Thompson, Dr. E. Stanley Jones, Dr. Cyrus Albertson and Dr. Ezra Cox.

The chief duty of the Student Affairs Committee is the arranging of a schedule of social functions for the college year with as few conflicts as possible.

Composed of faculty and students, the group includes Inter-sorority and Inter-fraternity council presidents, the A.S.C.P.S. president and a representative from the Independent organization. Dean Lyle Ford Drushel is chairman of the committee.
With Nadine Kensler as fall editor, the Trail made a switch to a 10x7 news magazine format, successfully carrying out the experiment which was begun with the final issue last spring. Covers depicting campus events were used, and special alumni and high school issues were published. The new style proved highly successful, for copies were “few and far between” after they had been distributed. Gale Hilstad was business manager, and Lois Wasmund news editor. The editorial staff consisted of Grant Barker, art editor; Doug McArthur, sports editor; Don Jaenicke, faculty and administration; Don Glen, people; Dorothy Ross and John MacDonald, students; and George Victor, entertainment. Reporters were Dick Madden, Jim Gipple, Bob Peterson, Pat Novak, Milan Herben, Bill Mason, Marilyn Jacobson, Bette McMullin, Hazel Mika, Peggy Larson, Helen Hanson, and Leonard Docherty. The staff artists were Marilyn Strandwold.
and Mel Baker; and Leon Clark drew the cartoons. Jack Gallagher and Bob Rudsit were the cameramen.

Lois Wasmund took over the editorship the spring semester, assisted by Don Jaenicke, the managing editor. The style continued in the magazine format, but the editorial positions were cut down. Gale Hilstad was business manager again. The department editors were Don Jaenicke, faculty and administration; George Victor, student affairs; Dorothy Ross, Greeks; Doug McArthur, sports; Dick Madden, entertainment; and Jim Gipple, people. Grant Barker stayed on as art editor, as did cartoonist Leon Clark and photographers Jack Gallagher and Bob Rudsit. Pat Novak handled circulation. The reporters were Marilyn Jacobson, Helen Hanson, Doris Beardsley, Duane Hagen, Marge Van Well, Dwight Long, Robbin MacDonald, Craig Lowry, Joyce Brynestad, and Marilyn Strandwold.

Shouting orders to a mutinous Tamanawas staff, editor Ed Balarezo battled deadlines to reach publication of the 1950 edition according to schedule. Without an office to call its own, this industrious crew worked six days a week in a cluttered corner of the Art lab. Stacks of loose copy and pictures, paste jars, dummies (of both kinds), clicking typewriters, weary, cursing editors, and timid, confused reporters helped bring gray hairs to the heads of advisors Lynn Wentworth and Ed Hungerford.

Up to their elbows in grease and paint, the Brothers Price, Ray and Bill, managed to design this year’s cover. They were assisted by Annette Ogden, Len Holton, and Jackie Johnson.

The grasping hand belonged to Fern McCulloch, who managed the financial affairs this year, Ellery Capen was again business advisor. Chasing after ads were Carole Long, Janis Peterson, and Bonnie Shields.

Saturday afternoons in the Art lab became routine for the editor, along with associate editor Dorothy Ross and layout editor Wayne Gunderson and their assistants, Bonnie Shields and Joanne Stebbins.

Rally Committee

Rally Committee was organized in April, 1949, as an official hospitality committee for the director of athletics, to encourage school spirit by pre-game rallies, to arrange stunts for halftime entertainment, and to co-ordinate the activities of the yell team. Numerous rallies were held throughout the year, and a special welcoming delegation met the Hamline University team at the airport. The committee arranged halftime entertainment for basketball games and originated card stunts for both football and basketball games. Rooters' caps were sold during the year. Sandy Bremner served as president the fall semester and Jack Babbit, the spring semester. Ron Stenger was secretary and Doris Beardsley treasurer. The constitution, revised in February and accepted in March, provided for an increase in the number of officers to 7 and the membership to 55 for a better working organization.

The yell team, selected by the Rally Committee, has grown to five members. The fall semester yell team was Barbara Albertson, Maureen Dessen, Liz Fleming, Bruce Andreason and Chuck Caddey. Doug McArthur replaced Bruce Andreason who was unable to continue during spring semester.
In 1949 Mu Upsilon Sigma affiliated with the national Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, a professional music fraternity composed of men interested in music as a profession or an activity. This organization sponsored the varsity show “Sho’ Nuff,” and an American music concert, and co-sponsored the song fest with Sigma Alpha Iota. It is helping to bring the United States Navy Band to the fieldhouse next year. Officers were Jack Potter, president; Don Hazel, vice-president; John Schartow, secretary; Jess Smith, treasurer, and Bob Peterson, sergeant-at-arms. Leonard Jacobsen is advisor.

Sigma Alpha Iota is a national music sorority composed of women of high scholastic standing who are majors or minors in music. The purpose is to promote musical interests and talents of its members. The C.P.S. chapter was installed on the campus in the spring of 1948. Many musicals and guest artists were sponsored throughout the year. Roberta Westmoreland was the president, assisted by Georgia Tippie, vice-president; Nancy Riehl, recording secretary; Lavonne Schuler, corresponding secretary; George Ann Frank, treasurer, and Kathleen Weidkamp, chaplain.

The work of the Adelphian Concert Choir is to bring the attention of the community and the country to the College. Comprised of forty-one mixed voices, the group is limited to sophomores, juniors and seniors.

Its first public appearance this year was in the fieldhouse when several of the Tacoma churches joined in at Christmas to present Handel's great oratorio, the "Messiah." In February the choir assisted Miss Margaret Myles in the Friends of Music series in the Wedgewood Room. The climax of each year's activity is the annual tour, which, this year, included concerts in six western states. The choir performed with skill and spirit, and won wide acclaim. Highlight of the tour was an all-sacred concert in the First Congregational Church in downtown Los Angeles.

The choir is directed by Clyde Keutzer. Assisting him this season were Don Hazel; president; Kathleen Weidkamp, secretary-treasurer; Wilbur Sepetoski, librarian, and Leonard Raver, music manager.
With 65 bright new uniforms, the symphonic band, formerly the concert band, toured Northern Washington with concerts in five cities under the direction of John O'Connor. At home they presented music from the United States and Russia in two concerts of the Music of the Nations series. The band appeared in two chapel programs of student-directed music, at athletic events, in the Homecoming parade, and on May Day.

Announced as winner of the annual Symphonic Band Inspirational Award was Iverson Cozort. Officers were Robert Peterson, president; Peggy Nelmes, vice-president and historian; and Delia Shaver, secretary-treasurer.
Playing original compositions and arrangements of the Modern Arranging Classes, the Workshop Band traveled to eight cities with the concert band this year. Under the direction of Dick Henderson, the group also presented programs in Tacoma and Puyallup high schools, in chapel and on Campus Day.

The annual concert was held in Jones Hall on May 5 and featured original interpretations of campus scenes.
Discussing a Marshall Plan for the Orient and Nationalization of the Basic Industries, the Forensic Department, under the guiding eye of Doctor Charles T. Battin, weathered the storms of another successful year. They were slow getting started, but the trip to Palo Alto last fall served as a proving grounds, and the experience proved valuable in future tournaments. The ball got rolling at the Town Meeting Tournament in Portland, where Jackie Hodgson, Ken Campbell, and George Loerch placed sixth, seventh, and eighth, respectively out of 39 speakers entered.

At the annual Tyro Tournament held on campus, Edna Niemela added the first cup of the year to the trophy case with a first in women's after-dinner speaking. Hal Simonson, Vanette Chenoweth, and Marilyn Strandwold entered individual events finals. At Linfield, Edna Niemela took third in after-dinner speaking, and Barry Garland took fourth in men's oratory, while Herb Richert and Jim Gipple went undefeated into debate semifinals before being eliminated. Lloyd Gaddis entered interview finals.

St. Martin's added three new cups to the trophy case as Jackie Hodgson and Edna Niemela captured first place in women's debate. Jackie took first in Extemp and third in Oratory while Edna took second in both events.
Marilyn Strandwold entered interpretive reading finals, and C.P.S. walked away with women's sweepstakes. For the men, Barry Garland and Lyle Lindelien were second in men's debate while Bruce Rector entered finals in Extemp.

In the last two tournaments at Stockton, California, and Missoula, Montana, Edna Niemela entered finals in individual events. Thus another year came to an end, and the debaters retired to rest their voices for another year.

Pi Kappa Delta

Washington Alpha, the local chapter of Pi Kappa Delta, national honorary, is maintained on the campus for those who have distinguished themselves in forensics. Requirements of membership include inter-collegiate competition in debate, oratory, extemporaneous, or impromptu speaking. Four degrees are offered to honor outstanding speakers for their ability. Pi Kappa Delta sponsors regional and national tournaments to which C.P.S. sends representatives. The officers were Jackie Hodgson, president; Otho Halligan, vice-president; and Dick Drues, secretary. Dr. Charles T. Battin was the advisor.
C.P.S. has the honor of sponsoring the only Verse Choir in the Northwest. They are now in their ninth year as a choral reading group, and are in constant demand after they have prepared their programs. Their tenth anniversary concert was presented in February, and honored the members of the first Choral Readers group which was started in 1941, and former members from other years. Special stage sets and lighting were designed by Don Crabs for the group. The members were Dave Stell, Mary Kincheloe, Ellen Davenport, Claudia Zediker, Herb Stark, Kaye Klopfenstein, Helen Pearson, Gloria Nelson, Dale Lien, Fern McCulloch, Mel Gidley, Bill Gianelli, Homer Johnson, and Doug Cullen.
The Spring Play, James Hilton's "Lost Horizon," was presented in April by the drama department. It is the story of four people who crash in a forsaken valley somewhere in China, and then are discovered and taken to Shangri-La. Conway, Mallison, Bernard, and Miss Brinklow were portrayed by Homer Johnson, Bob Harader, Edward Lund, and Ellen Davenport. Others in the cast were Joan Otterson, Beverly McKinney, Tom Cherrington, Dick Lane, Dick Boyd, Gloria Nelson, Diane Jensen, Bruce McKinney, and Barbara Holmberg.

The annual workshop plays, ranging from comedy to romance to drama, were presented in March. The one act plays, which were complimentary to the public, varied in length from one to ten minutes. The plays given were, "All on a Summer Day," "Sit-Down Strike for Love," "Arrival in Person," "Poor Old Jim," "Tit for Tat," "Dog Tricks," "Romance," and "Would Your Husband Shoot?" The plays were directed by Martha Pearl Jones.
"Uncle Fred Flits By," this year's Homecoming Play, proved to be two hours of fun and surprising action. Uncle Fred (Robert D. Peterson) carried the show. Bill Gianelli was well cast in the role of Wilbur Robinson, the jilted lover. Robert Wolf, who portrayed the unfortunate nephew, Pongo, provided many laughs. Almost always faithless Julia (De-lores Gutoski) tried to understand Pongo's difficulties. Dale Nelson in his first comedy role was always "rallying round."

The Associated Women Students is composed of all women students at the college. They automatically become members upon their matriculation. The purpose of A.W.S. is to further scholarship service and cultural aims of the women of C.P.S.. The first event of the year was the frosh activities tea, which introduced the new students to the college and the many activities offered. The annual informal tolo was held in February, with the theme "Oceana." Cal Frazier was chosen as King Neptune to reign over the festivities. Alice Palmer was president of the organization. The cabinet consisted of Joann Smith, vice-president; Ruth Wolland, secretary; Jeanne Shugard, treasurer; Dot Dobie and Joyce Wilfley, freshman representatives; Carol Strain and Edna Niemela, sophomore representatives; Carol Swenson and Delores Breum, junior representatives; and Patty Schaller and Mary Gruenewald, senior representatives.

Sports
Athletic success takes player material, but the material is useless without men to direct it. This job of directing, planning—and worrying—is the lot of the coaching staff.

Heading the Logger mentors was John P. Heinrick, who added to his already impressive record by leading the C.P.S. footballers to a tie for first place in the Evergreen Conference. He also showed his ability in basketball by bringing home a second place tie with Central Washington College of Education.

Assisting Heinrick were Harry Bird, line coach and head scout; Ray Mahnkey, backfield coach; Rod Giske, line coach; Tippy Lockhart, assistant backfield coach; Joe Mahoski, assistant backfield coach; and Bud Greedy, assistant line coach.

Bird and Giske also coached track, Bird handling the running events and Giske taking the field division.

Mahnkey coached frosh basketball and, in the spring, took over the baseball squad.

Inspirational Award

Tabbed by Coach Heinrick as "the league's best all around back," Bob Robbins was honored by his teammates with the presentation of the inspirational award. It climaxed a brilliant four-year football career for the blocking-back who was also one of the leading ground gainers.
Halfback Mel Light opened the Logger scoring season with a 54-yard run in the King's-X encounter with Pacific Lutheran. The Logger line and backfield presented a prevue of coming football games with precise blockers and elusive ball carriers. Light, Robbins, Kalapus, Buford, and Don Murdock showed their ball handling skills with every play. As the game progressed and the scores added up, the Lutes were unable to lash back with their aerial maneuvers. Inability by C.P.S. to throw the ball was overshadowed by the 27-0 flogging of P.L.C.
C. P. S. 27 - - St. Martins 0

St. Martin's provided a 27-0 win for the Loggers at Lacey in the first conference game. In the first quarter, an intercepted pass by Wood carried the ball to the 19. Several plays later, Buford went over from the 6 to score. On the second play after the kickoff, Greenwood blocked a St. Martin's kick which was recovered by C.P.S. on the St. Martin's 6, and Light carried the ball over for the second touchdown. In the third period Pollom intercepted a pass and carried it 52 yards to score. In the fourth period Viafore scored after a C.P.S. drive from midfield.
As Eastern Washington and C.P.S. clashed, Warren Wood blocked his way to the future East-West game, in on almost every tackle as the Loggers stopped the Savage powerhouse eleven. Both teams hammered away for two quarters, until Dale Larson walked over the goal line in the third period. The fourth quarter opened with a punting dual which ended when the Savages decided to punt again. Dick Hermsen blocked the punt and Bob Demko recovered in the end zone. Eastern intercepted a pass in the last minute of play and the scoreboard read 13-7.
Confidence was high as the Loggers took to the field against Central Washington. C.P.S. was unbeaten, and when Mel Light scored the first touchdown in the second quarter with a 71-yard run around right end, it looked like just another football game. Suddenly, the Wildcats clawed back with three quick touchdowns. Although Mel Light scored on another 88-yard run, and Bob Demko’s and Verne Martineau’s tackles hurt the Wildcats, the Loggers staggered home to lick the wounds of their first defeat of the season, 21-13.
Everyone wore smiles as the alums and students gather to watch the Homecoming game, but behind the smiles were fears that Willamette would take advantage of the Loggers’ weak pass defense. As the game progressed, the Bearcats chased the Loggers over the field, but Mel Light streaked 28 yards to score and to break the jinx. The Bearcats’ claws crumbled under the blocking of Brown, Martineau and the pounding of Light, Don Murdock, Ross, and Viafore. With five seconds of the fourth quarter left, Ross pounded over the left guard to pay-dirt, and Wood converted, to make the score 27-0.
Footballs dotted the skies of Spokane as Whitworth and C.P.S. battled via the air routes. The Pirates had nothing to lose, while the Loggers were out for the co-championship of the Evergreen Conference. Although the Loggers’ hopes were high, the score was higher as the pigskin floated over the Pirate’s heads to waiting Loggers in the end zone. Kalapus, Don Murdock, and Brown picked up a pair of tallies and Norm Pollom the other, as the Heinrick forces rolled up the highest score in conference play all season, 46-7.
For half a game Western Washington desperately held off the on-rushing Loggers. The second half opened with a barrage of punts and a 51-yard march to the Western 3-yard line where the ball was fumbled. A partially blocked punt put the Loggers on the Viking 15-yard stripe. Mel Light scored around end and Warren Wood's conversion was blocked. Western returned the attack to the C.P.S. 32-yard marker where a muddy wall stopped them. Seven plays later Don Murdock scored, but the conversion failed, and the score stood at 12-0.
Half-interest in the Evergreen conference football crown was secured by C.P.S. as the Loggers smothered Pacific Lutheran in the last game of the season, 20-0. The scoring spree began midway in the opening quarter when Kalapus intercepted a Lute pass. Forty seconds later Robbins scored the first touchdown. In the second period, the Lutes were forced to punt, and Spalding took over to twist his way inside end for the second touchdown. The final score came in the third quarter as Jack Heinrich scored on a quarterback sneak after Spalding intercepted another Gladiator pass.

* N. A. I. B. Playoffs at P. L. C.
 N. A. I. B. Tournament at Kansas City
On-again-off-again was the Logger cage season. With an Evergreen Conference record of ten wins and four losses, C.P.S. tied with Central Washington for second place. Going up against Red Reese’s highly favored Eastern Washington Savages, the Loggers handed them their only defeat on this year’s record in the first conference game. From there it was a massacre of the Whitworth Pirates, and then the slump. P.L.C. downed Heinrick’s squad by three points, and a 62-41 disaster struck on the home floor of Central Washington. Then, with a half-and-half record, the Loggers tightened up, and eight consecutive opponents fell before the attack until they again met Whitworth. Just before the Eastern game, five Whitworth men stuck it out alone for an entire game and a 51-46 win to blanket the Logger’s title hopes. The next night Eastern completed the demoralization and revenged the outcome of their first meeting with Puget Sound. Heinrick won a toss with Central to put C.P.S. in the N.A.I.B. playoffs at P.L.C., and although the Loggers lost out, they still went to Kansas City, filling a vacant spot in the tournament schedule. Louisiana State Teachers’ College was the first opponent, and victory seemed imminent for the Loggers when the score stood at 63-55 in their favor with eight minutes to go. But Gibbs and Rinker fouled out with five minutes left, and Louisiana took advantage of the situation to tie it up at 64-all at the final gun. Baskets by Frazier, Sater, and Brown gave the Loggers a two-point lead, and the game went to C.P.S. with a 70-68 score. Hopes crashed the next day after a Brooklyn College defeat, 64-47, after which the squad took the train for home. In conference play, the Loggers, led by Rod Gibbs and Don Ellis, stacked up 699 points in fourteen games, for an average of 49.92 points per game. Gibbs had 212 points for the conference season, and Don Ellis was next with 112, followed by Dick Brown and Bob Rinker with 111 each. Bobby Angeline, one of last year’s top scorers, was kept out for a large part of the season with injuries.
With 17 seconds to go the Loggers came from behind to score a 46-45 victory over the heavily favored Eastern Washington squad. C.P.S. began the game with a three-point lead, but by half-time Eastern’s Savages led 20-13. Eastern continued to lead until 25 seconds remained, and the scoreboard read 45-42. Then Bill Stivers let loose with a two-handed set shot. Both teams’ tall men jumped for the rebound and Dick Brown was fouled as the ball swished through the net. Brown stepped to the foul line and sank both shots, to send the Loggers ahead for keeps.
Jack Grader opened the scoring with a field goal and the Loggers held their only lead of the game. Hamline University’s Pied Pipers took over at that point. By intermission the Loggers were behind 34-22 as the St. Paul squad continued their relentless hammering. The Pied Pipers held a 47-25 margin at the end of the third quarter. A sudden uprising by the Loggers carved 11 points off the lead, but their poor marksmanship and the Hamline accuracy gave the Pied Pipers a 67-51 victory.
Roughness ruled as Pacific Lutheran and C.P.S. battled not only for a berth in the Evergreen conference but for the annual city collegiate championship. Despite heavy fouling the Loggers were able to continue their eight-game winning streak by defeating P.L.C. 42-37. A see-saw first half left the scoreboard reading 17-16 at intermission. Scarcely 15 seconds after the second half began, Rod Gibbs sank a hook shot and then two more free throws to put the Loggers ahead. A "keep-away" performance by C.P.S. succeeded in revenging the 52-55 previous loss to the Parklanders.
Central Washington contributed the seventh straight Logger victory, and the win put C.P.S. in the conference second spot. Rod Gibbs began the scoring race after two minutes of play. By the half, the Loggers were ahead 35-17 and from then on Central continued to trail by 19 points. The Loggers started the second half with Don Danielson, Dick Brown, and Rod Gibbs hitting field goals to push the count to 41-22. It was sweet revenge for the Loggers after the 62-41 beating of a month before as the night’s scoreboard read, 64-38.
Puget Sound took a 56-53 decision from Eastern Washington in the first game of the state NAIB playoffs. With 50 seconds left in the game, Dick Brown erased the 53-52 Eastern lead, and Bob Sater sank a lay-in 30 seconds later. Central won over Gonzaga, 44-30, thus matching the Wildcats and the Loggers in the playoff. Central outshot C.P.S. 63-50 despite a 55-foot field goal by Garry Hersey in the first half. Central led the scoring from the initial field goal. Halftime score was 33-24 and as the third quarter opened, C.P.S. cut the lead to five points, but to no avail.
Turning in a better performance than they had in several starts, CPS trounced the Seattle U. Chieftains 57-49. The Loggers trailed for the first three minutes of play, then tied the score at 7-7, and again at 9-9. On Frazier's next throw, CPS spurted ahead to hold a lead throughout the remainder of the game. The half-time score was 27-21 with the Chieftains climbing. With minutes left in the game, they had come within two points of the CPS score, but with new speed the Loggers hit 45-37 and were never again threatened.
Two previous Evergreen conference track records were broken this spring by C.P.S. freshman Frank Smith. He tossed the shot 48 feet 1 inch and the discus 140 feet 8 inches. The previous shot record was 44 feet 1 inch and the discus 127 feet 7½ inches. The Loggers won the second place trophy in the St. Martin's relays in competition with eleven other schools. Returning lettermen Captain Dick Lewis, low hurdles and relay; Jack Fabulich, 440 and relay; Dale Larson, sprints and relay; Wayne Mann, high jump; John McCorry, 100 yard sprint and relay; and Dwayne Westlin, high hurdles; were Coach Harry Bird’s main point-getters, along with new men on the squad, Alton Brooks, 440; Wally Erin, pole vault; John Friars, high hurdles; Emmett Ludwig, pole vault; Burt Ross, low hurdles; Ed Saferite, 880; Earl Sholin, 880 and mile; Frank Smith, shotput, discus, and javelin; and Odey Victor.

Skiing
This year the hickory riders saw many new developments towards the crystallization of collegiate skiing at CPS. Under the leadership of Captain Chuck Howe, the varsity squad participated in the Banff Intercollegiates; various Intercollegiate Invitationals throughout Washington; and numerous Pacific Northwest Ski Association class A, B, and C races.

Golf
With nine straight wins the College of Puget Sound's golf team under the direction of Coach Jack Enright became the "team to beat" in the Evergreen League. Bruce Andreason, Morgan Barofsky, Dick Carter, Jimmy Gibson and Don Mozel were the returning lettermen. The other two berths on the squad were held by newcomers Jack Sweeting and Bud Holmes.
Baseball

This spring Coach Ray Mahnkey had 13 returning lettermen, six of them pitchers, to defend the Loggers' Western division title of the Evergreen Conference.

Veterans on the mound staff include Weldon Stidwell, Don Semmern, Keith Predmore, Roy Loper, Bob Snodgrass and Len Kalapus. Besides the ball twirlers there were Don Greenwood on first base, Elbert Beamer, Earl Birnel and Garry Hersey playing second and short; and the outfielders were Ed Annas, Larry Higdon and Cam Haslam.

The team started the season badly with a 10 to 2 pasting from Pacific Lutheran, but they retaliated the next Monday at 5 to 2. The Loggers then out-socked St. Martin's 8 to 4, dropped two games to Western Washington College of Education, and beat the Lutes once more and St. Martin's twice.

C.P.S. won the Western half of the Evergreen Conference only to later lose the Conference title to Central.
Intramural Sports

Under the direction of Harry Bird and the watchful eye of Manager Bob Angeline, intramural sports were run off this year in fine fashion. All of the men’s organizations on campus—the Indees, Todd Hall, and the fraternities—entered teams in competition for football, bowling, basketball, skiing, ping pong, volleyball, track, badminton, and softball honors. With the experience which was gained through this year’s schedule, next fall should see the opening of an even more successful calendar.

Women's Athletic Association

Alice Bond

Membership in the Women's Athletic Association is the reward for 200 points earned by women during noon turnouts in major and minor sports. One hundred points are awarded for every major or minor sport completed. Aside from a rigorous athletic schedule which includes both inter-class and inter-sorority competition, W.A.A. finds time for a social calendar. Co-recreational nights were sponsored in the gym during the year. Sport tours were outstanding phases of the schedule. A group of girls attended a field hockey conference at the University of Washington in November. Later, twelve girls were sent to another conference at Oregon State in Corvallis.

Organizations
Thirteen girls live at Kittredge Hall, better known as the SUB, amid the bustle of hundreds of students who eat, talk, study, and play the juke box there throughout the day. At Christmas, the girls caroled the other living groups on the campus, and had an exchange of gifts party given for them by their house mother, Mrs. Lyle Ford Drushel. The president of the group was Betty Nutting.

The smallest dorm on campus has come to mean much to its six residents as their college home. Last minute dashes to the store, the addition of a huge monkey tree on the front lawn, the small and nearly invisible wires upsetting visitors, Herman the mouse and his frequent visits, drifts of snow inside the house during the blizzard, trumpet and clarinet practice in the basement, gab fests until the wee hours, mad dashes for the telephone, coming home to find the furniture re-arranged, all served to liven life at the Cottage.
Residents of Anderson Hall had another busy year. At Christmas they entertained at Madigan Hospital. They were hostesses at the Council of Churches Youth Center. Their big social functions included a Christmas party and a spring cruise.

Officers serving under Luba Ostofichuk,
the fall semester president, were Anne Ev

Stefon, Bonnie Trefren, Delores Breum, Dot
Dobie, Esther Voegelein, Doris Smith, Marian Swanson, and Mary Dobbs.

With the spring semester president, Mary
Gruenewald, were Doris Bremner, Mary Dobbs, Peggy Campbell, Barbara Hill, Elizabeth Bradham, Marilyn Ruchty, and Esther Voegelein.

Mrs. Peterson was again kept busy this year, sewing buttons and mending rips for her adopted sons. Fire hose fights, pie feeds, "barbershopping," ultimatums from Dean Powell, late studying, cold water in the morning, shower singers, and broken washing machines, all combined to provide excitement for the 100 men who called Todd Hall "home." Fall and spring officers were George Rice and Frank Peterson, president; Bill Morton and Byron Brady, vice-president; Ralph Mackey and Bernard Bailie, secretary; Cal Frazier and Calvin Gentle, treasurer; and Tom Cherrington, historian.

SPRING OFFICERS—Byron Brady, Frank Peterson, Tom Cherrington, Calvin Gentle.
From a small group of girls at Montana State in 1922 came the beginning of a service organization known as Spurs, national sophomore women’s honorary. The group banded and expanded with the motto, “At Your Service.” Since the first C.P.S. chapter was initiated in 1926, the motto and the group have survived and assisted other new chapters in the west. A Spur group consists of 15 sophomore women, tapped in the spring of their freshman year on the basis of scholarship and activities. Commencement is Spur time, a weekend of bustling activity, when the new tapees spend the entire weekend working at the college, ushering and decorating. At the beginning of the fall semester, now fully initiated, the girls’ first big project is the job of registration and freshman week orientation. Wearing their maroon and white circle emblems, the Spurs work in charitable drives, school activities, civic events, and sales campaigns. Before becoming inactive, the chapter holds a meeting to decide tapees for the coming year, and at the A.W.S. banquet in May “the Spurs of Puget Sound all march the table round, to tap a Spur to tap a Spur to tap a baby Spur.” Officers were Patty Doe, president; Jean Hagemeyer, vice-president; Jo Copple, secretary; Corrinne Engle, treasurer; Lois Wasmund, editor; Grace Fullager, song leader, and Joanne Stebbins, historian.
The motto of the Inter-Collegiate Knights, “Service, Sacrifice, and Loyalty,” was carried out this year in many ways. The maroon sweaters and knight emblems were a familiar sight around campus as the Knights continued their service projects. The group is composed of sophomore men tapped in their freshman year for service. A freshman mixer was sponsored by the Knights in the fall to introduce the new students to the campus. The evening was spent scavenger hunting and dancing, and free refreshments were served. Ushering at chapels, the Varsity Show, and the song fest, passing out cards for card stunts at football games, and helping at election time were only a few of the many services performed. Other projects were building the stage for the Varsity Show, passing out Christmas candy, decorating and obtaining the annual Christmas tree for Jones Hall, and serving dinner for campus day.
Independents

The Independent organization was formed to provide unaffiliated students an opportunity to participate in school activities and functions. Their main activity of the year was the sponsorship of the annual all-school Sadie Hawkins dance and the election of Daisy Mae and Li’l Abner, who were Janet Hunt and Jim Petrich.

The Independents also participated in sports, forensics, and other college functions. Independent Gloria Ellexson reigned as Homecoming Queen, and Cal Frazier was the A.W.S. Tolo King. Byron Norton was president; James Beyer was vice-president; Edna Niemela, secretary; and Robert Goslee, treasurer.
Spanish Club

The Spanish Club, La Mesa Redonda, is organized to provide outside speakers and discussions for those Spanish students who are interested. Speakers during the year covered various aspects of Cuban, Mexican, Bolivian, and Spanish culture. Waldo Davila of Bolivia and Genero Perez of Mexico were guests of the club at its Tuesday night meetings. Students who had visited South America showed slides and talked on their experiences. Officers were Ken Adair, president; Elsie Palo, vice-president; and Barbara Jugovich, secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Ella Mai Clark was the advisor.

Geological Society

The Geological Society, a student chapter of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers, has the purpose of promoting interest in geology and its application to various fields. The president of the group this year was Howard Dutro. Doc Mobley was the vice-president, Gerry Bryant, the treasurer, and Henry Sandahl, the program chairman.
Mu Sigma Delta

Mu Sigma Delta membership is one of the highest honors which can be received on the campus. High grade point averages are required of upperclassmen and faculty members in the local scholastic honorary. Meetings are held three times yearly, with new members being initiated at an annual spring banquet.

Otlah

Otlah, senior women's honorary, is similar to the national Mortar Board. Membership is composed of senior women who have maintained a B grade average and have participated in collegiate activities for two years. New members were tapped at the A.W.S. banquet.

Advisor for the group is Mrs. Raymond S. Seward. Officers were Luba Ostofichuk, president; Diane Jensen, vice-president; Patricia Schaller, secretary; and Yvonne Battin, treasurer.
German Club

The Deutscher Verein was organized to promote understanding and interest in the German language and the German people.

Among many functions were a Christmas program at the University Place Grade School, a program of Christmas carols in Jones Hall, and the co-sponsorship of the German dinner.

The club officers were John Rieman, president; Beverly Sinkovich, vice-president; John Chapman, secretary-treasurer; and Noralee Hoerr, program chairman.

Home Economics

The purpose of the Home Economics Club is to provide leadership experience, to promote friendships, and to create interest in the field of home economics. Activities included a Spanish dinner, a Christmas Tea, a German dinner, making costumes for the varsity show, and sponsoring demonstrations by home economists. Georgia Tippie attended the province meeting in Montana, and Betty Sorenson and Delores Breum were delegates to the state convention in Spokane, Delores being elected state vice-president for the coming year.
Chemical Society
To promote an interest in chemistry, to hear and meet outstanding men in the field of chemistry at monthly lectures, and to acquaint its members with A.C.S. is the three fold purpose of the student affiliate of the American Chemical Society. Students who are majoring or minor in chemistry or chemical engineering are eligible for membership in ACS. Opportunities for the presentation of papers and for interchange of ideas by the active membership as well as by outstanding guest speakers are given to the members of ACS.

Alpha Psi Chi
Alpha Psi Chi is the psychology club at C.P.S. Its purpose is to bring before the group a study and discussion of topics of interest to the members. Psychology films were shown, and speakers from Tacoma and the vicinity addressed the group, in keeping with the varied program which was presented during the year. Syd Pryor was the president of the group. Walter Henry served as vice-president, and Jean Gudmundson as secretary-treasurer. Richard Peterson was the advisor.
Pre-Med Club
The Pre-Med Club brings a closer relationship between pre-med students and their prospective vocation. Meetings and membership are open to any student interested in the medical field. Projects included a library of catalogues from most of the well-known schools, aiding the T.B.X-ray unit on the campus, procuring a film on cancer for a chapel program, and organizing a tour through the University of Washington's new Health Sciences Building. Bob Johnson and Roger Grumme; served as fall and spring president, respectively.

Occupational Therapy
The O.T. club enables O.T.'s to keep up with developments in the field, become better acquainted with one another, and maintain a registry of alum members. The club sponsors an open house in the department to promote interest and publicize the profession. The officers were Betty Ann Jensen, president; Rosemary Rees, vice-president; Jean Hagemeyer, secretary-treasurer; Ruth Perry, publicity chairman, and Gwen Jones, open house chairman. Miss Edna-Ellen Bell was the advisor.
Axemen

The Axemen, more familiarly known as the Lettermen’s Club, has as its purpose the fostering of collegiate athletics and athletic interests, and the upholding of ideals and regulations of sportsmanlike conduct among its own members and also other sports enthusiasts. Eligibility is limited to those men who letter in at least one major sport. Football, basketball, baseball, track, and other sports are all represented in the membership. Sidetracking their athletic interests for one night, the Axemen sponsored their annual Varsity Ball, an informal all-school dance, early in the basketball season. Guiding the organization as president, Howie Martin saw that the ideals of the club were upheld during the year. Harvey DeCarteret served as vice-president, Earl Birnel kept the minutes, Milt Hegstrom was treasurer, and Dick Hermsen rounded out the officer’s roster as sergeant-at-arms.
Fulfilling the religious needs of students is the concern of the Student Christian Council. Three years ago the Council was formed and now includes ten Tacoma churches. To round out a religious program on campus, committees are organized which conduct the activities. Major projects have been morning meditations, cell groups, deputation teams, W.S.S.F. drive, Lenten Booklets, and a square dance.

Members of the executive committee were Frank Peterson, Byron Brady, Nanette Lindstrom, and Dave Key. The faculty advisors are Professors John Magee and John Phillips.

Kappa Phi is a national organization with membership open to every woman student of Methodist preference on the campus, regardless of other affiliations. This year as a service organization, Kappa Phi had as its project the helping of the underprivileged people of Tacoma. The officers were Patty Voshmik, president; Marlene Lutz, vice-president; Donajoy Johnson, recording secretary; Marian Swanson, corresponding secretary; Mary Lou Luck, treasurer; VeOna King, chaplain; Virginia Wahlquist, program chairman; and Lela Williams, historian.
Phi Sigma
Formerly known as the Biology Club, the Alpha Phi chapter of Phi Sigma was founded on the campus in 1948. Phi Sigma is a national biological honorary society whose membership is based on scholastic and research ability. The officers were Howard Irwin, president; George Fairfax, vice-president; and Robert Johnson, secretary-treasurer. The advisor was Dr. James R. Slater.

International Relations
The purpose of the International Relations Club is to give American students and those from other lands the opportunity to mingle, and to stimulate interest in international affairs and problems. The club sponsors a drive to raise money for the Du Bon Secours Orphanage in Paris, which the students of C.P.S. have adopted. Delegates were sent to the annual IRC regional convention, and C.P.S. was chosen as the site of next year's conference. Don Bremner is the club president.
Chinook

Chinook, the former Ski Club, has taken over the sponsorship of all school outdoor activities. The headquarters for the group are located at the resort at Deep Creek, where skiing, ice skating, and living accommodations are provided for the membership and the student body. The organization is affiliated with the Pacific Northwest Ski Association. Gloria Christianson was crowned queen of the Winter Carnival, which was sponsored by the club. Numerous ski races were also sponsored during the skiing season. Harry Caren was president; Dick Drues, vice-president; Wyleen Wilson, secretary-treasurer; Chuck Howe, recreation manager; and Dr. Robert Sprenger was the advisor.

Alpha Rho Tau

Alpha Rho Tau, one of the two art honoraries on the campus, sponsored a high school art competition and reception in January this year, and co-sponsored the second annual Beaux Arts Ball, which was held in the Fieldhouse in March. Victor Hugo wielded the gavel, assisted by George Stark, vice-president; Kim O'Brien, secretary; Dick Crabs, treasurer; Dorothy Ross, publicity chairman, and Alice Kessler, refreshments chairman. Membership in Alpha Rho Tau is open to art students on campus, regardless of their major.

Delta Phi Delta

Alpha Omicron chapter of the national art honorary Delta Phi Delta made its bow a year ago as one of the newer honor societies on the campus. Major projects have been the co-sponsorship of the Beaux Arts Ball, a high school art competition, and a Saturday art class for children. Officers for the current year have been Howard Hitchcock, president; Richard Frederick, vice-president; Alice Kessler, corresponding secretary; Ingwald Thompson, recording secretary; and Yvonne Battin, treasurer.

Standing: Don Crabs, Dick Frederick, Miss Wentworth, Miss Chubb, Howard Hitchcock, Victor Hugo, Yvonne Battin, Ing Thompson, Ron Hendrickson. Seated: Miss Walters, Genevieve Grant.
Fraternities
Sororities
Inter-Sorority Council

The Inter-Sorority Council functions as the only linking group between the four sororities on campus. It sponsored an all-sorority Christmas party in December, and co-sponsored the first annual Greek Ball in April. Dean Drushel and the council president scheduled meetings to discuss the various problems which arose during the year. Fall members were Patti Lemley, president; Roberta Westmoreland, vice-president; Corrine Sule, secretary; Chris Ostrom, treasurer, and the representatives, Joan Mooney, Lorayne Rockway, Lorna Hill, and Ruth Wolland. The spring members were Doris Beardsley, president; Jane Simmons, vice-president; Joyce Brynestad, secretary; Mary Dobbs, treasurer, and the representatives, Ruth Wolland, Annette Ogden, Nancy Riehl, and Mary Louise Moon.
Alpha Beta Upsilon, a local sorority, was founded in 1925 and received its charter in 1926. The Betas, continually striving to better themselves each year, have been active in school affairs. During the past year, they have kept busy with numerous social affairs, both sorority and all-school. Throughout the year there have been many parties, dances, and firesides. One of the first events was the successful pledge sneak to the Starlight Athletic Gym. The annual pledge dance followed, as an informal affair held at Wells Hall. Only recently the sorority held its annual spring dinner dance at the Winthrop Hotel. The Mother-Father-Daughter Banquet was a smorgasbord affair held at the Top of the Ocean. Since 1947 the Betas have been working for a chapter in a national sorority, and this spring they petitioned Kappa Alpha Theta.

When scrapbooks, meeting minutes, bank books, and a gavel are turned over to new officers, a year of sorority activity ceases and a new one begins. To some 55 girls of Delta Alpha Gamma, it will mark the end of a social and academic year. From rush week to the Rose banquet honoring senior girls, the Gamma events seem a blur of activity. A Gay Nineties dessert supper, a Dutch split-date tea, and the Cinderella preference filled rush week. The pledge kidnap breakfast, their sneak, and initiation ceremonies followed. The spring dinner dance was held at the Country Club and the mothers were feted at a spring tea. Volleyball, bowling, and the Beaux Arts punchbowl award went to the Gammas. Under the supervision of the cabinet, the Gammas brought a full and brimming year to a slow quiet hum for the summer months, to wait until the fall arrives, and another piece of sorority history falls into place.

Lambda Sigma Chi, social sorority for women, was originally organized April 26, 1922, by the women of the Amphictyon Society of the College of Puget Sound. The Amphictyon Society, one of the four literary societies on the campus, was a co-educational group organized in 1908. It was founded by Senator Walter S. Davis, a professor of history, and college alumni. It was Senator Davis, the advisor of Amphictyon in 1922, who helped organize Lambda Sigma Chi. Most of the charter members were either freshmen or sophomores and were active for two or three years. Following the example of these women, all members of Lambda Sigma Chi have been required to participate in at least two college activities or organizations. The importance of good scholarship has been stressed continually.
In September, 1948, the jeweled arrow of Pi Beta Phi replaced the golden triangle of Kappa Sigma Theta, oldest local sorority on the campus. Pi Phi, the first national sorority at C.P.S., also bears the distinction of being one of the oldest national women's social sororities. As the 94th chapter of Pi Beta Phi, the C.P.S. group bears the title of Washington Gamma. Besides the usual college social activities, the group has an active interest in the settlement school in Tennessee, and holds the coveted scholarship cup with a 2.8 average. The social activities of the sorority include the annual draw dance with Kappa Sigma, a joint dance with Sigma Chi, and the spring formal dinner dance. The Tacoma Alumnae Club is closely associated with the sorority. Traditionally, every April 28th, the two groups meet at a formal dinner to celebrate Founder's Day. Invitations were also exchanged with the University of Washington chapter for firesides and dances.

Inter-Fraternity Council

This year the Inter-Fraternity Council enjoyed one of its most progressive years. The rush week picnic, which started the year off, was held at Titlow Beach. In November, a delegation of six, a representative of each fraternity on campus, attended the Western Region Inter-Fraternity Conference held at Washington State College. From this meeting came the idea of Greek Week, inaugurated at C.P.S. in February. The week was a combined week of constructive projects on the campus by pledges. To round out the year, I.F.C. combined its efforts with Inter-Sorority Council to sponsor the Greek Ball which was held in the fieldhouse. The Council put forth the hope that next year will be a bigger and better year for the fraternity system on the campus.
Delta Kappa Phi

When Delta Kappa Phi was founded in 1922, its charter called for scholarship, leadership, and brotherhood in the membership. Delta Kappa Phi’s charter sets a high standard; because of it, Delta Kappa Phi is an organization of which its members are very proud. The scholarship achievement of the fraternity is reflected in the record of 17 annual trophies in 18 years. In 1947, the DK’s acquired their present fraternity house which is located at North 8th and Adams. Since the purchase, the chapter has renovated the house with a new roof, exterior paint, and a new heating plant. Recently, an open house was sponsored by the Mother’s Club, an affair which followed the redecorating of the interior and the acquisition of new furniture. The structure comfortably houses fourteen men. The local Delta Kappa Phi alumni association numbers nearly 400 active men, and the Mothers’ Club totals almost 50.

Joanne Stebbins, Ken Campbell, Dwight Bell, Gloria Christiansen, have some punch at the DK dinner dance.
Kappa Sigma

A year of varied activities was enjoyed by the members of Epsilon Lambda chapter of Kappa Sigma. Hard work and carefree play were intermingled as the members added many house improvements to the usual calendar of social and athletic events. The annual Pi Beta Phi-Kappa Sigma pledge dance was one of the first social events. Kappa Sigma took honors in the homecoming celebrations, emerging with first places in the clown acts and the floats, and second place in house decorations. The annual Waffle Breakfast was given for new sorority pledges. Early in October, Kappa Sigma registered another first, as it became the first chapter to install a permanent house mother. One of the finest events on the social calendar was the annual Black and White dinner dance. In the spring a reception honoring Eddie Peabody, the famous Banjo King, and master of ceremonies for the Shrine Circus, was held.
Pi Tau Omega, the youngest fraternity on campus, began its year with the acquisition of a house, and subsequently, an open house celebration. The regular social functions, firesides, dances, and banquets, were observed with great interest. The organization of a Mother-Wife club was a prominent activity, and the fathers of the members met at the second annual Father-Son banquet, at which the outlines for a Father's club were made. Inside the fraternity itself, Pi Tau sponsors two scholarship awards for its members. A trophy cup is given for the highest grade average, and a merchandise prize is given for the greatest improvement in grade points; both factors contribute to the scholarship average of the fraternity which held the scholarship cup for campus organizations this year. A plaque representing the inspirational award is given each year to the member who has given most unselfishly and cheerfully of his time to the activities of the fraternity.
The small germ of a seed that was planted in the form of the Clionian Literary Society in 1893, which in turn grew into Amphictyon and then into Sigma Mu Chi in 1921, finally blossomed forth as the Delta Phi chapter of Sigma Chi fraternity on February 4th of this year.

The second highlight of the year was the climax of the full and splendid social calendar when Delta Phi chapter proudly crowned Miss Joan Otterson, of Lambda Sigma Chi sorority, the first “Sweetheart of Sigma Chi” at the lavish Sweetheart Ball in the Crystal Ballroom of the Winthrop Hotel.

In the line of campus participation, Sigma Chi annexed permanent possession of the Homecoming House Decorations trophy after its third straight year’s winning performance.

Growing stronger and richer in tradition and brotherhood through increased activity as a unit, scholastically, socially, and as an active part of campus and community life, Sigma Chi has gained even greater luster and respect from those who have come into contact with its members and activities.
The most notable Sigma Nu achievement for the year was the completion of the recreation room. The "rec" room was made from a garage which stands behind the fraternity house at 1402 North Oakes. It proved its value for many firesides and exchanges throughout the year. The informal pledge costume dance highlighted the fall social calendar. It was under the direction of the fall pledge class, the largest in the history of the chapter, with 27 pledges. During "Greek Week" the front hall of the house was repainted and tile was laid in the front hall, dining room and kitchen. Carpet was put on the stairs and the upstairs hall. The big social event of the spring semester was the White Rose Formal, which was held at the Towers. Candidates for White Rose Queen were chosen, and Kay Kyser, a Sigma Nu bandleader, picked the Queen, Chris Ostrom. The White Rose Formal also commemorated the second anniversary of the installation of Zeta Alpha chapter of Sigma Nu.
Theta Chi

Theta Chi, one of the more recent additions to the ranks of national fraternities on campus, was formerly known as the local Delta Pi Omicron, which was founded by Wallace Drake in March of 1927. Since its inception the fraternity has carried on through ups and downs and through the war years to the place it now occupies on the campus. Theta Chi, a long established national fraternity, was founded at Norwich University, Vermont, in April of 1856. Today Theta Chi has a chapter roll of an even hundred, with many locals seeking admission. Known on this campus as Gamma Psi chapter, Theta Chi has been very active in campus activities. Some of the outstanding events of the past year were the pledge dance, the Wife's Club Christmas Dance, the Mother's Club Banquet, and the annual spring formal. Graduation will find the membership of Theta Chi somewhat diminished, but with the new year, the members hope to have an even greater chapter.

Shown in the picture above is a part of the St. Helens Tree Farm. The cut-over area in the foreground illustrates the company's practice of harvesting by area selection in the Douglas fir region. As other timbered sections are logged, this clear-cut area will naturally reseed and grow a new crop of trees for harvesting in years to come. Tree farms like this are maintained to provide a continuing supply of forest raw material to our mills forever.

Acknowledgments

After much planning and hard work, the 1950 Tamanawas has finally become a reality. The staff has tried hard to make progressive improvement from former annuals. We leave it to our readers to judge whether or not we have reached our goal.

The editor and business manager would like to take this opportunity to thank the entire staff for the fine work done and especially thank the people who did more than their share of the work.

We would also like to express our appreciation of the help we received from the Johnson-Cox Company and the Tacoma Engraving Company. Without the cooperation and patience of these two firms this book could not have been a reality.

Mr. John Blake, Gordon Pollock and Jack Gallaher deserve credit for aiding the staff photographer. We appreciate the fine work done by these men. Miss Cathie Reed deserves the credit for the fine job done on the division pages. We would also like to express our appreciation to the faculty members and students who were not officially on the Tamanawas staff, but who contributed their time and efforts to making this year's annual one of the best.
