Still crazy after all these years.
I met my old lover
On the street last night
She seemed so glad to see me
I just smiled
And we talked about some old times
And we drank ourselves some beers.
Still crazy after all these years
Still crazy after all these years

I'm not the kind of man who tends to socialize
I seem to lean on Old familiar ways.
And I ain't no fool for love songs
That whisper in my ears
Still crazy after all these years
Still crazy after all these years
Four in the morning
Craped out
Yawning
Longing my life away
I'll never worry
Why should I?
It's all gonna fade
Now I sit by my window
And I watch the cars
I fear I'll do some damage
One fine day
But I would not be convicted
By a jury of my peers
Still crazy
Still crazy
Still crazy after all these years
Sherlock Holmes; A New Adventure by Thomas Hinton

What's crazy?

Crazy could be offering someone a pumpkin instead of something else, or snoozing in the SUB Lounge instead of in bed.

It could be serving soyburgers and grease fries while wearing a bright smile (or crazy could be eating it).

It could be not going to your dentist with your oral problems, or maybe getting strange requests for "natural" foods in Cellar X.
Perhaps being "Still Crazy" involves making a strange face when you know that the photographer is going to take the picture and put it in 2000 yearbooks. Maybe it's making believe a fork is more than a fork. Maybe it's launching yourself into space after a ball that's 2 feet out of your grasp. Or just maybe it's playing "touch" (and nibble) football.
UPS hosted its traditional football game with Pacific Lutheran University not by burying them in the Baker Stadium Bog, but in air-conditioned comfort rattling around in the cavernous Kingdome.

Students and alumni trekked to Seattle in buses and overloaded Chevy Novas to become part of the 13,000 spectators that attended the contest. It was a long drive for everyone, especially for the Lutes – they lost, 23-21.

The traditional homecoming celebration took a non-traditional turn this year; it was fun. Led by John Oppenheimer, homecoming included a dance on a superferry, an outdoor barbeque, a songfest, hair styling, open mike, and an ice cream social (oh yes, and a football game - we lost to Chico State).
After seven long weeks of trying to suppress the urge, everyone succumbed in mass to utter craziness.

Even though Halloween was officially on Monday night, it obviously did not deter the faithful from partying non-stop from Friday afternoon until Tuesday morning (with breaks for lunch, of course).
Clockwise from upper left: The Chi O's; Lloyd Zimmerman feeling good about his Student Senate victory (either that or making payoffs with donuts); Richard Planagin and Deb Anderson; Ball twirler; Rorschach; and Judy Stanton demonstrating typical spider tactics to an unimpressed Kathy Rockway.

UPS Loggers finished the '77 season on a winning note by chalking up a 6-4 win/loss record and copping the greatly prized Totem trophy. This coveted award is presented to the victor of the annual UPS-PLU game, which was held at the Seattle Kingdome this year. Four individual records were broken by juniors Steve Levenseller, Ivy Iverson, Mark Makland, and Brent Wagner this year, and who will surely be back for next year's winning season.

Inspirational Player of the Year went to Bob Ogden, also, Pat O'Loughlin received the scholarship award for maintaining a 3.9 gpa. Other awards included: Mr. Offense—Wyatt Baker, Offensive Blocker of the Year—Casey Sander, Top Tackler and Mr. Defense—Mark Madland, and Big Hitter—Kevin Skalisky. Logger club nominees included Kevin Billings, Rick Gehring, and Bob Ogden.

The Logger Soccer Team closed the season with wins over PLU and Oregon State, and a loss to Simon Fraser University. Both wins come relatively easy for the Loggers, as they defeated the Lutes 2-0 and Beavers 4-2. Although the Loggers were at peak performance, the Simon Fraser Clansmen dominated most of the game and defeated UPS with a score of 2-0. Notable efforts were made by goalie Mark Campbell and Dave Cottier. The Logger's overall season results were six wins, five losses, and one forfeit, giving them a fourth place seat in the Pacific Northwest League.

Men's Cross Country wrapped up its regular season play with a second place finish in an invitational held at Lakewood's Ft. Steilacoom Park. This was the Logger's best season performance, with many runners displaying notable improvement and two in particular, Brian Mayer and Scott Nichols, shaving two minutes off their previous times. Team captain Steve Miner led his fellow teammates in a triumphant season.

Highlighting the Women’s Cross Country season was qualification for the Association of Intercollegiate Athletics National Cross Country Championships by Becky Skelton and Renee Trucksess. Nationals were held November 19, with both girls giving fine performances against unusually strong competition. Cross Country excelled as a whole throughout the season and the majority of the women exhibited much improvement. An interesting excursion of the season was a trip to Vancouver to participate in the Canadian National Championships.

The '77 season was one of the best in Logger history for the UPS Water Polo Team. Defeating PLU, Central and the University of Washington twice, they closed the season with a 10-1 win/loss record. The Loggers were led by strong efforts from Dan Seelye and Vic Swanson on offense and Brian Boettcher on defense. Freshman Vic Swanson was leading scorer for the season. Senior members included Brian Boettcher, Pete Tonellato, and Dale Ehrenheim. Though their talents will be missed, the remaining undergraduates show great promise for next year's team.

Although not evident by the 8-9 win loss record, the '77 season was a very successful one for the Women's Varsity Volleyball Team. Coach Roberta Wilson felt that the team was greatly improved over last year's team. This is partially because of the number of incoming players from high school. Already skilled in the fundamentals of volleyball, the team was then able to concentrate on developing more advanced strategies and play at a more sophisticated level. The most rewarding match came against University of Washington whom they took to five games. Despite the close loss, the women were well satisfied with their performance against such a tough competitor. Unfortunately, the team did not receive an at-large invitation which is necessary to compete at Regionals. Coach Wilson is confident that next year's team will be even better despite the loss of two senior setters, Jan Maddox and Alice Sigurdson.

It strikes me funny how we all come together from so many separate lives. Each affected by different influences, memories, hopes, and dreams, and touch each other. men's basketball

The 1978 Men’s Basketball Team again strove to make UPS the number one ranking team in the Northwest. Playing their ability to the utmost, the Loggers never let their confidence slacken and maintained high hopes to return to the NCAA Championships.

Outstanding performances by seniors Tim Evans and Rick Walker, the team’s “gruesome twosome,” consistently made them a double threat to their opponents. Both racked in an average of 18 points per game, making them prime choices for the All-American candidacy for the third year in a row. Other fine performances were turned in by seniors Rocky Botts, Steve Freimuth, Mike Hanson, Mike Kuntz, Matt McCully, and Brian Steberl, all of whom will be greatly missed next season. The team hopes to add to and strengthen the remaining players for next year however, and with freshmen Eric Brewe, and Joe Leonard displaying promising ability, future success for UPS can be anticipated.

women's basketball

"It was an optimistic season, although we were lacking in several vital aspects such as height and experience," commented Ev Goldberg, coach of the '78 Women's Basketball Team. Throughout the season, the women were pitted against strong competition including several scholarship teams.

With the win-loss record standing at 5-9 in February, the '78 season showed a great improvement over last year. All members gave fine performances and three especially notable efforts were made by freshman Donna Brown, the most consistent player, and center Karen Esary and Lea Nequette, who formed the nucleus of the team.

The 1978 Wrestling Team turned in a good season despite a considerable lack of depth. With only seven men on the squad, The Loggers experienced a serious disadvantage by not being able to fill four weight classes in competition and thus losing many points. Individual performances were outstanding however, with Bill Stout, the undefeated division champion, chalking up a remarkable 23-0-1 season record. Rick Rakevich and Frank Girolami also led the team in scoring. These three will represent UPS at the NCAA Championships held at Cedar Falls, Iowa on March 3 and 4.

Finishing with a 6-4 win loss record, the Logger swimmers ended their season on a victorious note. Vic Swanson, a freshman, was a strong asset to the team and performed remarkably by breaking several school records including the 500 meter freestyle in 1:42.32 minutes.

The team met their biggest challenge at the University of Washington meet which was held February 17. Notable performance was given again by Vic Swanson who placed in the 200 freestyle. The men's most impressive performance was given in a triumphant meet against Central Washington on February 4.

women's swimming

Now in their third season of competition, the '78 Women's Swim Team is, according to Coach Rick Unrue, "one of the most coherent, as far as team effort and concern for other members' performances." The team's success has been more than considerable with thirty-nine varsity records broken and five members going to Nationals. The meet against an experienced Central Washington team posed the toughest for the squad but also proved to be their most satisfying.

The Information Booth, long sought after by students, was finally completed during the summer of 1977. The Booth was paid for by the University but its operation is the responsibility of the ASUPS, who pays students to keep the booth open during most days. Students go to the Booth for information about campus activities, as well as for candy bars, magazines, maps, and university publications. Black Student Union UPS's Black Student Union serves as a base for Black students to come together and mutually exchange awareness of Black culture. Their main purpose is to strive for unification as a body working together. The BSU is known for its annual Black Arts Festival, organized by members who bring speakers such as Jesse Jackson and Angela Davis to campus. A cultural and learning experience is shared by all who participate in the Arts Festival.

Tamanawas this year is dedicated to the crazy in all of us. In keeping with that, the staff has tried their darnedest to keep up with the rest of the student body and their craziness. However, we have all come to the conclusion that it's impossible to be that crazy, and so we have decided to allow the rest of the administration, faculty, staff and students to be committed to Western State Hospital. So that you don't get lonely though, we on the Tamanawas staff have decided to become psychiatrists. Despite being just halfway through the season, this year’s logger baseball team has been doing well. Holding a 9-8 record, the team has about 24 games left to play. Rod McHattie and Andy Walker both are this year’s high scoring batters, averaging about .380 a game. Outstanding plays are made by pitcher Rick Barnhard, as well as other pitchers Tim Parker and Jim Reynolds. Both Tim and Rick, as well as 7 other seniors will be sorely missed next year.
Starting its season with two straight wins, the Women's Tennis Team hoped to continue its success and set high goals for the rest of the season. Three specifically stated by Coach Dawn Bowman were to repeat last year's victory over PLU, to place high in the regionals and to qualify for Nationals. Playing against both Division I and II, the team expected to win all its matches against the latter. Competing against the tougher teams in Division I prepared the ladies for stronger competition in the regionals and Nationals.

This Spring the Men's Varsity Tennis Team jumped off to one of their fastest starts in many years. After losing their first match of the season to Green River, the Loggers ran off a string of six victories over some rather large universities.

The team had quite a lot of talent to work with. With six lettermen returning and with the acquisition of two fine freshmen, the team had more depth than they have had in quite a few years. Prospects are good for next year too as only two members will be lost to graduation.

There was a great deal of competition within the team to determine who would make the traveling squad. Randy Smith and Ben Jones dueled most of the year to determine who the top player would be. Those two also teamed up to form the number one doubles team. At number three singles was Glenn Landram. Another senior, Tom Parker, held down number four spot, with Junior John Shelton right behind in number five. Rounding out the top six were John Jacobson and Jack Whittall, also juniors and tough contenders for next year. Two freshmen, Terry Lane and Noel Fujii did not play much singles, but did form a very formidable doubles team. On several occasions matches were determined by the outcome of their matches and they never failed to come through.

With victories over Portland State (5-1), Western Wash. (6-3), Central Wash. (7-2), and Oregon College (5-4), the Loggers did much better than expected and look to be strong again next year.

Dedication is the key word when it comes to varsity crew members. Workouts at 5:00 a.m. everyday despite weather conditions is just one illustration of the amount of self-sacrifice involved in this sport. The Women's Crew, now in its third season, doubled in size this year, and was able to race in both the open weight and light weight divisions. With only three returning members, the rest of the novice crew provides a good basis to build from next year, commented Coach Al Lawrence.

The Men's Varsity Crew Team, with probably the smallest program in the area, put up a fine effort in the face of strong competition. With only three returning members, the inexperienced squad experienced some difficulties with stronger and more developed schools. The team being young holds great potential for coming seasons however. A highlight of the season came with the participation in the Meyer Cup Race, a fifteen-year long traditional competition held in Tacoma between UPS and rival PLU.
The UPS Varsity Track Team turned in a good season this year despite a few minor setbacks in the beginning of the season. The Loggers were not to be discouraged though and outstanding performances were turned in by miler Don Greco, as well as Steve Miner and Roger Levine, all seniors this year.

This season, Women’s Varsity Track was added to the competitive circle of athletics. Beginning the season with four members the team was reduced to only two later in the year. Despite their minimal size, the girls have been holding their own and placing consistently high in their division.

At midseason the UPS Golfers were locked in a three-way battle for top-ranking team among all of the Division II schools in the Northwest. The Logger swingers, paced by sophomore Curt Sargent, came from three strokes back to win their first tourney of the year in April. The team won the Portland Invitational by edging Western Washington 1210 to 1211. The Loggers also had a 2-1 record in dual matches, besting PLU by 10 strokes in a clash at Lake Spanaway, but losing by a single stroke at Fircrest.

The best score of the year was turned in by Curt Sargent, team captain: a 68 at Pasco in the opening round of the WSU Invitational.

The '78 season was a highly successful one for the UPS Ski Team. Led by team captains Martin Withington and Joyce Woodring, the team finished in first place in the Northwest Collegiate Ski Conference and second place in the Pacific Coast Conference behind University of Nevada.

This year a group of men established the first UPS Lacrosse Club. As of yet the team is still unfunded. Consisting of twenty strong members, the team competes in the Pacific Northwest Lacrosse Assoc. against such schools as U. of W., Oregon State, and Western Washington. The team plans to have an exhibition game later this year.

Working against beginning season difficulties, the Women’s Soccer Team finished a series of six games with a 1-4-1 record as of mid-April. The Ladies began their season in early March with a pre-season game in Redmond. The young squad was coached by Bob Mateson and competes in the Washington State Women’s Soccer League with 14 teams in the Pierce County.
softball

Renstated as a varsity sport this year, the Women's Softball Team will compete against community colleges and four-year universities alike. Led by team captains Terri Reed and Alice Sigurdson, the women will participate in both slow-pitch and fast-pitch play this season. The regional Tournaments will be hosted here in Tacoma this year on May 13-14.

STAY YOUNG!

Since our start in 1900 we’ve learned better methods to harvest our forests; we’ve been working to control insect, disease, and fire damage; we’ve expanded into making thousands of wood products; and we’ve made the forests available for recreational opportunity.

Forests are a renewable resource, and we’ve helped make sure that there are forests for the future.

In the first decade of the century, we were reforesting through natural regeneration. In 1941, we established the nation’s first tree farm. And now we’re planting more than 150 million seedlings and seeding thousands of acres every year.

Our aim is to stay young with new ideas and new forests.
