The Athletes
The Logger volleyball team was nothing short of fantastic this year. After a slow start, the entire team quickly elevated to their winning ways. Height, power and ball control were just a few characteristics that placed our Loggers in the playoffs. With 7 talented sophomores and freshman, 3 juniors and no seniors, UPS is assured of a solid future.

Faced with 7 of 11 games on the road and playing the best in the west, it was the time to pull together and improve with each game. Eliminate mistakes, attack new problems with a clear head, maintain clear vision of direction sought, and respect others for their contribution.

Ten wins and one loss left these happy moments: CHICO — hang on to preserve the win after a late rally and successful onside kick late in the game; PORTLAND STATE — down 17-3, 90 yard kickoff return and eventual comeback to win; UC-DAVIS — shut 'em out, 7-0 WOW or Phew! WEBER STATE — home of rain and steaks, a bad combination for Loggers; NORTHRIDGE — return home and a new offense that exploded; EASTERN WASHINGTON — time to travel, dodge the bullet once again 7-6, oh! for kicker’s life; SIMON FRASER — cheese anyone?; CAL POLY POMONA — who scheduled that fight? "peanut butter and jelly?" It took a half hour to get it off the roof of our mouths — whew!; SANTA CLARA — comes to town riding on a pony, hit the rain and the BOG and called the game baloney!; NOW WE'RE 10-1, no one left to beat — what's that? A call from the NCAA???PLAYOFFS??? SURE!!!

Now it's #3 UPS vs #6 North Dakota State University first ever playoff appearance (not the last) and an exciting two weeks of media coverage — what a time for the Logger program. A great game ensues only to find the Loggers lose in the last five minutes. WAIT UNTIL NEXT YEAR!!!
Fans Were Dazed

The Loggers finished with 17 wins, 3 losses and 2 ties which is the best finish in the history of Logger soccer. This year, the team won the Whitman Tournament in which no goals were allowed by the great Logger defense.

At home, the Loggers remained undefeated which gave the large crowds something to cheer about. The team is confident that the fans will have more to cheer about next year because they will only lose one teammate to the world.

Tough Team Looks Toward Future

Against Division B teams, the Loggers were undefeated (4-0). In the post season regional tournament, the Loggers finished third losing only to the eventual winner, Western Washington U. Starting seven sophomores and four freshmen, the Loggers are definitely a team of the future!

Front row: Ava Williams, Jearie Mansour, Beth Adams, Gail Smith, Lori DeRocher, Linsey, Denise Doyen, Gail Wilson, Debbie Boseck, and Naini Baldocchi

Cross-Country: On the Road

Cross-country is a combination of hard work, dedication and giving 100% in races. 20x400 meters, 5x29th Street Hill — grueling workouts. The Logger cross-country team, led by captains Jon Leachtenauer, Bill Boggs, Diane Thompson and Cindy Henry and with the addition of several talented Freshmen, represented the school well in six intercollegiate meets. Theresa Wilkison and Kathy Parnell went to and raced well at Nationals in Montana. This season will be remembered for the team unity and the stories told by Chris Luther on the long road trips.

Lacrosse Begins a New Tradition

Often referred to as the “fastest game on two feet,” lacrosse is also the fastest growing sport in the Northwest. Logger lacrosse came about through the persistent efforts of many dedicated players. This building season of play in the Pacific Northwest Lacrosse Association will be looked back upon as the beginning of a great UPS tradition.

Smoke On the Water

The decade of the 80's continues to be a bright one for rowing. Early race results for 1982 show the men's and women's teams to be more competitive than in past years. The coaching staff attributes this to the quality of athletes turning out for crew and the increased practice time available with the new facilities, built through alumni support in 1981. If this trend can be maintained, the University of Puget Sound crew should remain a dominate contender in Northwest collegiate rowing.

Women Drive to Playoffs

The Women's Basketball team was awesome this year. They finished second in Region 9 of Division III. This second place finish was good enough to send our Loggers on to regionals where they were ranked second out of sixteen teams.

Some of the feats that our Loggers accomplished were first in highest number of points scored per game, 73 points, highest team field goal percentage, 47%, and they possessed the leading free throw percentage in their division with 66%.

With the loss of only one player due to graduation, we can expect our Loggers to continue their winning ways in the future.
Cagers Rebuild With Victories
With the loss of key players last year, the 1981-82 season was a rebuilding adventure for the Loggers. New talent emerged on the front line which hints at the promise of future triumphs for the Loggers. It was the first time in years that our team did not make the playoffs but we can look back on the 1981-1982 season with pride and with great hope for the future.
"Team" Emphasis Inspires Track and Field

TEAM! University of Puget Sound Track and Field teams combined efforts this year to create a team atmosphere. This atmosphere was a vital part of the team's success. Both the men's and the women's co-captains worked with their teammates to create a combination of quality performances and a whole lot of fun!

Women Take to the Baseline

Netters Aim for Wins

After last year's 10-5 record, Logger netters are again looking forward to another winning season. It will not be easy because their number 1 and 2 players along with their number 1 doubles team did not return to this year's squad. "But we have some good new players who are willing to work," says Terry Lane, the Logger's assistant coach.

Logger Baseball Is Looking Up

The 1982 University of Puget Sound baseball team is looking towards a successful season as a NCAA division I independent contender. UPS baseball is unique because it is the only sport here that competes at the NCAA division I level.

Head coach, Ron Reeves, and assistant coaches, Dave Miyake and Rick Hacker, feel that the Loggers will pack plenty of punch with the bats. The Loggers had the second highest team batting average (.290) in the NORPAC League. Last season trailing only NCAA powerhouse, Gonzaga University. The big question for the Loggers this season will be pitching. Junior, Tom Turner, will definitely be the ace of the staff. If Turner can get some help from juniors Bill Backamus, Scott Dull, sophomore transfer, Randy Kaya, and freshmen Dan Domey and Todd Goldberg, the pitching staff should be solid.
Fastpitch Is Loaded
With Experience

The women's 1982 fastpitch team has five returning players this year. They are: Sheila Knapp, Angela Sheppard, Betty Sigurdson, Beth Adams and Mary O'Toole.

Having returning players with experience in collegiate competition will add depth to this season. The experienced players combined with the new team members will make this year's fastpitch team a strong contender for a regional berth.

Women Swim To Nationals

The women swimmers and divers finished their seventh season with as record of five wins and five losses, recording wins over Washington State, Central Washington, Pacific Lutheran University, University of Montana and University of Alberta.

The NCWSA Large College Regional Championships saw the Loggers move up another notch this year to a fifth place finish and qualifying ten women for the NCAA Division II National Championships at Northesat Missouri State University. The team of Michele Ames, Cheryl Eichner, Karen Jost, Kathy Knutson, Tiina Kosenkranus, Larua Loomis, Patti McEuen, Adele Pierce, Karis Sinderson and Liz Vander Valk took the Loggers to a twelfth place finish by making the finals in 18 of the 20 events in which they were entered.

The women’s swimming and diving team has now earned the distinction of being the number one private college team in the Pacific Northwest.

The UPS men’s swimming team experienced its most successful season in 25 years. The Loggers had a dual meet record of 8 wins and 3 losses. Losing only to Division I teams.

UPS took second place in the North Pacific Conference Championships, then finished second in the NCAA Division II National Championships, its highest finish ever.

Senior Bob Jackson completed his swimming career with seven NCAA II national championships in the 100 and 200 breaststroke and for the second year in a row, he also competed in the NCAA Division I championships at Milwaukee in the 100 yard breaststroke. Jackson took first in the consolation finals with a time of 55.10. This finish was good enough to place him seventh among Division I swimmers.

The UPS 400 medley relay team of Trevor Jones, Bob Jackson, Tom Roth and Tom Wick successfully defended its national title in the NCAA meet for the third consecutive year.

Loe Kosenkranus won his first individual national championship by winning the 200 backstroke at NCAA to finish off a terrific season for the Loggers.
The Main Events
There is a balanced student lifestyle at UPS due to the abundant extracurricular activities that accompany the academic life. A student may participate in the actual planning of the event, or participate through his attendance.

Lectures, campus films, cultural events, concerts, special events such as Homecoming and the Spring Luau, Showcase, Dances, and Inside Theater productions are just a sampling of the most popular "main events" on campus.

It is fortunate for this small University and for the city of Tacoma to have such a variety of activities from which to choose.
Showcase

For those in need of a break from the academic rat race, the student programs office brings to you "live" entertainment in the Sub lounge. Whether it be the UPS Jazz Band, our own Terry Lane or a travelling comedian, Showcase is a positive addition to student life at UPS.

Barkett Brothers

No Cheese Please
The Lectures committee had a goal of bringing speakers who would stimulate thought and entertain the UIPS community. Speakers such as Thomas “Brubaker” Murton, G. Gordon Liddy, Chet Fuller, and Jean Kilbourne helped to achieve this goal.
Songs, Shopping Carts, Victory and "The Ark"
Once again UPS Alums made their annual return to their Alma Mater. However, this year the Special Events Committee ought to receive an award for their most enjoyable weekend they produced.

From the usual songest with its unusual emcees, to the winning football games and half-time shopping cart race, to the grand finale on the Superferry Hyak with two bands and a mass of UPS students aboard, the weekend was a true success and a highlight of the fall semester.

Can it be that in the midst of finals and without snow that this campus can get in the Christmas Spirit? Through the efforts of some special people, we did have a Christmas Season. The SPURS hosted their annual Christmas banquet, candy-grams were sent and many decorations were put up. Santa even visited Todd Hall!
Cultural Events

The UPS Cultural Events Committee is dedicated to presenting the performing arts to the UPS and Tacoma communities. Their pledge in '81-'82 was to educate as well as entertain as they brought to us performances from Albert Einstein: The Practical Bohemian, The Trinidad Tripoli Steel Band, The Concord String Quartet, The Seattle Mime Theater, The Vienna Choir Boys, The New York Woodwind Quintet, and The Boys of Lough.

The committee is made up of student and faculty representing the various interests of the UPS community. The faculty who were on this year's committee included Bill Colby (chairperson), Esther Wagner, and Jim Sorenson.
Behind the Scenes at the Inside Theater

Those who have attended a play produced by the UPS Inside Theater know of the high level of acting. They will also know of the magnificent scenography and costumes. The 81-82 Season left the University and Tacoma communities without disappointments and we salute the entire production staffs as well as the actors, actresses and directors for their high quality performances.
