What would UPS be without the awesome people who inhabit it? Every one of us is an important part of the UPS community. Staff, students, friends, family, and faculty alike all form a picture that can be distinctly called our own. These are the people you see every day. These are the people who make you who you are, and help you become who you want to be. These are the people of UPS, and they are your family.

The FLAC house has first year students interested in living with other students who have either studied foreign languages in school or in study abroad programs who are interested in this field of study.
From philanthropies to Greek-run events, it was a busy year for the women on Union Avenue. During this fall's Greek Week, Pi Beta Phi edged out philanthropy through their annual the other competitors and came out in first place. However, it was Gamma Phi Beta who brought out their competitive side during Sigma Chi's Derby Days events, surpassing the three other houses and claiming the title of Derby Days Champion for the second year in a raise money and canned food to help homeless families in Tacoma during Thanksgiving.

This year, Kappa Alpha Theta participated in a 5K marathon to support their philanthropy, CASA, while Pi Beta Phi raised money for their Arrospike volleyball tournament. Alpha Phi's events included a soccer tournament as well as their traditional Red Dress Gala. Additionally, Gamma Phi Beta hosted the second annual Turkey Bowl, a flag football event to raise money and canned food to help

This year Kappa Alpha Theta was recognized as the sorority of the year by Puget Sound, and these Theta's in particular were recognized during the Campus Leadership Awards.

Gamma Phi's braved the cloudy, cold, and rainy weather during the Greek Olympics.

With their hot pink letters and bright blue hoodies, the Alpha Phi's showed their Greek spirit during Greek Week.

For one sisterhood even, the women of Alpha Phi spent an evening rollerskating.
The three fraternities here on campus had a busy year. With Sigma Nu gone, Phi Delta Theta had a good year and sponsored Waffle-Off, raising money for Lou Gehrig’s disease. Sigma Chi helped set up the Puget Sound AIDS Walk, and Beta participated in the SAMA foundation marathon, as well as successfully meeting the sanctions to keep their house. They look forward to another exciting year.

Remember the overwhelming display of clubs and groups at Logjam? Here is a chance to look at what they have been doing all year! These student groups work on addressing many issues and interests. Clubs don't limit themselves to activities on campus, you will find Puget Sound students reaching out into the community as well as becoming involved in international issues. Clubs form close groups of friends with similar interests and bring new experiences to students.
As we ride into a new school year, the former members of our student government take their new paths as well. With that, we receive a whole group of promising new members ready to show their dedication and determination.

KUPS  music  the radio station  90.1 FM
your soundtrack

Our radio station at Puget Sound has snowballed over the years into one of the greatest influences on campus. KUPS has won several awards since it opened its doors in 1968. In addition to reaching number 9 on the Princeton Review's Top Ten Best College Radio Stations in the Country. This year, KUPS won the MTVU Woodie Award for best college radio station. With the support of a core staff and many student volunteer DJs, our radio is broadcast on the air 24/7. They broadcast all over Tacoma as well as online, and sponsor events across campus and in the community.

The Trail  journalism  the newspaper breaking news  stay informed

The Trail is Puget Sound's official newspaper. Under the Editor-In-Chief this year, Merissa Moeller, the Trail covers all pertinent news from campus events and local updates to national and global news. In addition to these important articles, the Trail is also home to the classic "Hey You" section: an anonymous shoutout board to anyone and everyone in the know.

Praxis Imago  the film club movies  on-screen magic  colorful characters

Praxis Imago is run this year by co-presidents Geoff Bokaniewicz and Hallie Bateman. Our film club wants to get students thinking and push the limits of filmmaking. Students are encouraged to film, edit, and present their very own films through the club's special events and festivals. One such event this year, The Outrageous Octopus, pits student-made films with a common theme against one other for a chance to win an award.
Tamanawas

good times
it’s all coming back

Tamanawas is what you hold in your hands; a year of work and love is poured into every yearbook at Puget Sound. With a fresh new style under the direction of Editor-In-Chief Maria Montzka, the 2009-2010 issue is focusing on conservation and nature. Tamanawas turns the spotlight on the lives of the students and staff who make UPS such a great place to be. The arts, athletics, and academics are all given a chance to share everything that has happened over the course of the year.
