TAMANAWAS 2000

Published by the Associated Students of the College of Puget Sound Tacoma, Washington
Katie Harman, Audrey Kittams, Co-Editors
New Beginnings
Table of Contents

Seniors  4
Student Life  34
Sports  70
Living  90
Graduation & Credits  120
TAMANAWAS
Volume 79

University of Puget Sound
1500 North Warner
Tacoma, Washington
New

Millenium.
New Academic Buildings.
New Colors.
Renovated Greek Houses.

A corner has been turned,
and the University of Puget Sound has walked into a new era.
An era of discovery, awakenings...new beginnings.
With a broadened sense of awareness and a smile on their faces,
UPS students can face the dawn of a new millenium
and leave behind a footprint in the sands of time.
Beginnings...

"A mind that is stretched by a new experience can never go back to its old dimensions."

~Oliver Wendell Holmes~
Seniors...
Valerie Diaz Ortiguerio
Musical Education

Jennifer Fisher
Math

Larke Frederickson
Politics and Government

Meredith Ginn
Politics and Government

James Finn
Psychology

Leslie Fowler
Exercise Science

Dan Gargan
Chemistry

Matt Grutman
History

Seniors
Rebecca Hayes
Communications

Heidi Holderman
Biology

Carolina Kaiser
English

Robert Killin
Chemistry/Math

Sean Higuchi
Exercise Science

Deseere Jones
Politics and Government

Anne Kelly
Exercise Science

Ryan Kimura
Business and Public Administration/Economics
Those Crazy Seniors

Senior ladies at an “Alter Ego” Halloween party.

Life-size M&Ms: Kim Nguyen, Tiff Hamaguchi, Naomi Soriano, and Andrea Sato.

Sexy divas: Josh DeYoe, Tyler Orikasa, Tae Ho Lee, Wayne Hudson, and Erik Mickelson.
THE BEST OF FRIENDS

Seniors Blakely Tsurasaki, Ched Cordero, and Mikey Elm hanging out in Canada with friends Akoni and Ellen.

Friends since freshman year: Sara Baze, Mary Sabin, and Riann Goettl

Just cruising with the guys.

Hui 'O Hawai'i women taking a McDonald's break.
Jennifer Krapf
Business

Josh McDonald
Business and Public Administration/Economics

Samantha Ann Morris
Biology

Jason Neighbors
Computer Science/Business

Rachel Melissa
English

Jennifer Kimi Kamalei Mori
Business

Jessica Morrison
English Literature

Christy O’Neil
Psychology
Erin Speck
Politics and Government

Sean Thurston
Chemistry

Kevin Weidkamp
Chemistry/Math

Karly Therriault
Business Leadership Program

Ragan Webber
Computer Science

Allison L. Weiss
Musical Education

1999 Fall
RDG Concert
The senior women of Kappa Alpha Theta at their 1999 formal, "Twin Stars."

Sydney Hull and Jason Neighbors at the 1997 "Twin Stars" Theta formal.

Just hanging out with Nafesia Kareem, Marisa Chang, Steph Inaba, and Ched Cordero.
Cori Takesue just got “lei-d.”

Miriam Karpilow and Lauren Sachs showing off their spiffy specs.

The Human Totem Pole: Mikey Elm, Yosh Shiraishi, Sean Higuchi, Ann Fujimoto, and Dan Kamimura.
This building is one of the oldest structures on campus. It houses the administrative offices as well as several classrooms.
Kittredge Hall
Located next to the Wheelock Student Center, Kittredge houses several art studios, art gallery, and printmaking shop, among other facilities. Kittredge is part of a cluster of three buildings which comprise the art department.

Art Department Faculty
(left to right) John McCuistion, Betty Regan, Wallace Weston, Ily Nagy, Ron Fields, Melissa Weinman, Jacob Kahn

Art Courses
The art department offers courses that range from printmaking and photography to ceramics, drawing, and painting.

Life Studies
Professor Melissa Wienman instructs her class on the finer points of figure drawing. Studio classes average fifteen students per class, providing opportunities for close relationships between faculty and students.

Painting
Classes study the use of acrylics and oil paints, in addition to color and composition.
Thompson Hall
This hall is the University's science building. It contains many facilities such as lecture halls and lab rooms. It also has special computer labs for departments, including Biology, Chemistry, Physics, Geology, and Math and Computer Science.

Biology Department Faculty
(left to right) Joel Elliott, Mike Gardiner, Terry Mace, Dennis Paulson, Ed DeGrauw, Wayne Rickoll, Alyce DeMarais, Mary Rose Lamb, Betsy Kirkpatrick, Alexa Tullis, Joyce Tamashiro

Biology
From molecules and cells to populations and ecosystems, the biology department aims to heighten student awareness of biology as a scientific discipline with historical perspective, and to convey the nature of science methodology.

Research in the Field
(far left) Professor Bruce DeMarais points out moss on a cedar tree to Biology 112 students.

Diversity of Life
(right) Point Defiance park is only a short drive from campus. It is an excellent resource for field research in biology.

Slater Museum
(bottom right) The James R. Slater Museum of Natural History is utilized by both students and the entire Northwest region.
School of Business and Public Administration Faculty
(Left to right) Thomas Anderson Schillar, Bill Baarsma, Alva Butcher, Leslie Price, John P. Dickson, Irene Chow, Paul Huo.

This program prepares students for careers in managed organizations through an interdisciplinary program grounded in the liberal arts. The courses and teaching emphasize a problem-solving approach built around the use of case studies.

Comparative Sociology Department Faculty
(Left to right) Ann Neel, Karen A. Porter, Sunil Kukreja, Leon Grunberg, George Guilmet, Nick Kontogeorgopoulos, Chuck Ibsen

One of the goals of this department is to develop a comparative perspective from the integration of theories and methods, drawn from both sociology and anthropology. In addition, students learn to comprehend diversity and commonalities of societies, from a broad range of cross-cultural and historical settings.
Great Balls of Fire
Jo Crane amazes the crowd at the annual Halloween magic show put on by the chemistry department. The magic show is a favorite of students, staff, and the community.

Chemistry
Chemistry courses range from basic topics such as analytical chemistry, to specialized topics like polymer chemistry.

Lecture
Thomas Roland lectures to the class about electrodes. Courses in chemistry consist of both lecture and a weekly lab.

Chem Lab
In Chem. 230, students perform titrations for their electrochemistry lab. Labs emphasize general concepts as well as precision and accuracy.
ECONOMICS

Economics Department Faculty
(left to right) Bruce Mann, Doug Goodman, Kate Stirling, Matthew Warning, Karin Sable, Mike Veseth, Wade Hands. Not Pictured: Ross Singleton (on leave).

Economics
This department focuses on decision-making and concerns itself with making intelligent individual and social choices in a world of scarcity. The economics program is designed to provide students with a strong background in economic theory and applied analysis.

School of Education Faculty
(standing left to right) Robert Steiner, Terrance Beck, Jennice King, Chris Kline, Heather Bruce, Patricia Houghton, Barbara Holme, John Woodward, Julian Edgoose.
(seated left to right) Margaret Setchfield, Carol Merz, Grace Kirchner.

Education
The School of Education engages in the preparation and continuing development of competent professionals in education. It offers undergraduate students of the University guidance and instruction leading to careers in elementary and secondary school teaching.

EDUCATION

Faculty
English

English Department Faculty
(left to right) Peter Greenfield, Barry Bauska, Beverly Conner, Hans Ostrom, Michele Birnbaum, Mary Turnbull, Robert Garratt, Julie Neff-Lippman.

English
The department offers courses in British and American literary traditions, and also many writing courses. These include poetry, short fiction, drama, composition, rhetoric, and professional writing.

French Department Faculty
(back left to right) Mike Sugimoto, Michel Rocchi, Mikiko Ludden, Sabrina Spannagel, Lotus Perry, Pepa Lago. (front left to right) David Tinsley, Steve Rodgers, Diane Kelley, Joe Deters, Connie Galante.

Foreign Language and Literature
Foreign language courses use a variety of methods that provide instruction and communication skills, cultural awareness, literary analysis, and historical perspective to provide a sympathetic understanding of a foreign culture.

FOREIGN LANGUAGES

Faculty
Geology

Department Faculty
(left to right) Mike Valentine, Al Eggers, Kathy Samms, J. Stewart Lowther, Barry Goldstein, Kenneth Clark.

Geology Rocks!
The department continually expands its fossil, mineral, rock, and map collection. Geology majors and faculty have on-going research projects in the Northwest, western North America, and Central America.

History

Department Faculty
(left to right) Theodore Taranovski, Walter Lowrie, C. Patterson Giersch, Nancy Bristow, Alix Cooper, David Smith, William Breitenbach, Suzanne W. Barnett.

History

History provides students with a fundamental understanding of the world in which they live and of the diverse forces that have shaped past and present. Such study encourages them to know themselves and to appreciate societies that are different from their own.
Math and Computer Science Department Faculty
(left to right) Ron VanEnkevort, Matt Pickard, Alison Paradise, Rosemary Hirschfelder, Carol Smith, Chuck Hommel, Mark Young, Rob Beezer, Bryan Smith, Sigrun Bodine, John Riegsecker, Bruce Lind, Martin Jackson

Math and CS Facilities
Academic computing resources include a network of Pentium, Power PC's, and UNIX workstations, providing a diverse collection of programming languages, software packages, and software development tools.

Computer Science 261
Professor John Riegsecker talks about determining program efficiency. This course provides an introduction to the study of fundamental data structures and their associated algorithms.

"This is the best part of my day"
Department Chair Robert Beezer enthusiastically teaches his calculus class about derivatives.
Music
The School of Music contributes to the cultural climate of the campus and surrounding community through frequent concerts and recitals.

Concert Hall
The Concert Hall, located adjacent to the Music Building, hosts many musical performances, which include student groups like choir, wind ensemble, and jazz band.

Practice Makes Perfect
Junior Cynthia Schandorf practices in the basement of the music building.

Music Students
Sophomore Rob Menaker, Senior Valerie Ortiguero, Junior Rita Horsley, Junior Eileen Bellington, Freshman Ohkoon Kwon, and Junior Bill Altig study in the music lounge.

Practice Room
Sophomore Brooke Johnson practices her oboe. The music building contains many private practice rooms.
I

I

i

*'
i

>

&

l

T:

Physical

Therapy

Department Faculty
Roger Williams, Ann Wilson, Bruce Baker, Jennifer Hastings, Roger Allen, Kathleen Hummel-Berry.

Physical Therapy
The department aims to offer programs that will not only provide a thorough background in a professional field of specialization, but will also significantly broaden a student's horizons.

Professor James Evans
Professor Evans teaches courses including Computational Physics, Digital Electronics, and the very popular Physics of Music.

Professor Frederick Slee
Professor Slee teaches History and Practice of Ancient Astronomy and Quantum Mechanics.

Physics Lab
Freshman Tait Schaffer, Freshman Kirticia Calkins, and Freshman Melissa King work on their optics lab for Physics 128.

Physics
Courses in this department include classical and modern physics, light and color, astronomy, the physics of music, circuits and electronics, computational physics, and quantum mechanics.

PHYSICS

Faculty
Physical Education
Department Faculty
(left to right) Gordon Elliott, Mike Orechia, Mark Massey, Jill Sewell, Robin Hamilton, Suzy Barcomb, Zeke Schuldt, Dick Ulrich, Beth Bricker, Ken Garland, Joe Cullero.

Physical Education
The Physical Education program offers the general university student 40 different activity classes, including fitness, recreational activities, sports skills, and dance.

Politics and Government Department Faculty
(back left to right) Dave Balaam, Patrick O’Neil, Lisa Ferrari-Lomeau, Arpad Kadarkay, Don Share, David Sousa.
(front left to right) Karl Fields, Bill Haltom.

Politics and Government
The department aims to acquaint students with the theoretical and empirical aspects of political experience. It seeks to develop an intelligent awareness of the structures, processes, institutions, and ideas of politics.

Politics & Government
Faculty
Psychology Department
(left to right) Mark Reinitz, Sarah Moore, Marianne Taylor, Lisa Wood, Carolyn Weiss, Robin Foster, Cathy Hale, Katherine Wadsworth.
Not Pictured: Barry Anton.

Psychology
A solid foundation in psychology hinges on an empirically-based understanding of the fundamentals of the human experience and behavior, including sensation, perception, learning, development, and social interaction.

Religion Department Faculty
Chris Ives, Carol Avery, Stuart Smithers. Suzanne Holland, Doug Edwards, Jane Marie Pinzino.

Religion
The department of religion seeks to help students understand the nature and importance of the world’s great religious traditions in historical context, and to glimpse some of the profound questions and answers about human nature and destiny that these traditions offer.
Student Life...

Preludes and Passages
Homecoming
Lectures and Concerts
Band
Plays and Opera
Choir
Student Media
Art
Pizza Cellar
Campus Films
International Clubs
Religion
Community Service
Preludes, Passages, and Perspectives

A time to make new friends and venture on journeys, Preludes, Passages, and Perspectives offered Freshmen an opportunity to grow together and have fun in their new environment. Students enjoyed backpacking in the Olympics and kayaking as well as singing songs and doing fun activities at Basecamp during Passages. In Preludes, freshmen got a taste of classroom studies and during Perspectives, became better acquainted with the resources Tacoma offers and learned ways that students can give back to the community through service.

On The Lake
New friends decide to go canoeing. It is one of the many options freshmen have at Basecamp.

Reaching New Heights
Backpackers take a break from the hike and discover a Natural Seat. They've got a long day ahead of them.

Bandana Buddies
Many new friends are made in the Dining Hall at Basecamp. It must be all the yummy food!
I'm Hungry!
These hikers' stomachs are roaring louder than the bears they encountered on the hike. They can't wait for their last meal at basecamp.

Ready to Rumble
Ready to jump into the Land of Mud and Mosquitos, these hikers are fresh and energetic. Their shirts weren't so white on their way back!

Watch Out for that Tree!
These backpackers have fun exploring nature at the end of a long day hiking. This is one way to stay out of the rain.

Munch Time
Backpackers end the day with a game of cards. This is a nice reward for hiking all day and setting up camp before nightfall.
Excitement ran high on October 23rd as UPS prepared for its Homecoming football game against Willamette University. With plenty of entertaining events scheduled all day long by ASUPS, Homecoming raised school spirits and helped to give Saturday a festive air. The morning of the game, the university held its special House/Hall decorating contest. Participants decorated their houses and dorms with themes ranging from the tropics to Mexico. Judges came by in the morning and handed out awards for the most creative designs.

Following the theme of “Blast from the Past,” there was also a float procession around Jones Hall at noon.

In the Fieldhouse, a special Student and Alumni Picnic was held to pump up the fans before the big game. A highlight of the picnic was the celebration of the 50th Anniversary of the Memorial Fieldhouse. When gametime finally arrived, supporters decked out in maroon and white poured into Baker Stadium to cheer on the Loggers. The atmosphere was energetic as students, parents, and other fans filled up the stands. After an exciting first half, the homecoming royalty was introduced and escorted around the field. The fun continued on into the evening with a spirit contest called Songfest. Students went up on stage and put on crazy and funny dance routines. The last event of the night featured comedian Kermit Apio, who has been a winner on Star Search and at the Seattle Comedy Competition.
YMCA
The Village People make a surprise appearance at the Songfest. Several groups performed wacky and hilarious dances.

Homecoming Court
The King and Queen, Junior Ryan Mello and Senior Gianna Piccardo are presented to the enthusiastic crowd. Piccardo served as vice-president of ASUPS during the '99-'00 school year.

Rhythm is a Dancer
A group from Anderson/Langdon Hall performs at the Songfest. The winner of the event received the Homecoming Spirit Log.
Spring Student Weekend

A chance to spend time with friends and relax before finals begin and the year ends.
Culture at UPS
Many concerts and lectures were brought to campus this year by the wonderful people of ASUPS. There were many interesting speakers as well as exciting concerts. A lunchtime preview brought many people to the evening concert by Kubuki Daiko. Kubuki Daiko was a percussion group that excited audiences with their very athletic style of playing. Many lectures by stimulating speakers captivated the campus community as well. If there is one thing UPS may be known for it is most likely great lecturers. The event that highlighted the year of concerts and lectures though was the appearance of singer Ani DiFranco. Many students attended and raved about the concert and it was a main event on campus. ASUPS did a great job in bringing such a quality performer to campus. We can only that this trend continues in the future and many more great concerts come to UPS.
Whether it be acting, singing, directing, or helping backstage, the students of the University of Puget Sound's performing arts programs have set the standard for outstanding performances. The '99-'00 year witnessed a wealth of fabulous productions, starting with a stirring rendition of Carol Churchill's Vinager Tom during the last week of October and the first week of November. The Student Directed One-Acts followed during the first weekend of December, and Shakespeare's As You Like It kicked off a well-received run the last week of February and first week of March. The School of Music presented two one-act operas--Riders to the Sea by Ralph Van Williams and La Divina by Thomas Pasatieri--during the last two weekends of February and presented to an enthusiastic and appreciative crowd. The year was rounded out with four fabulous Senior directed shows--Trust, Arcadia, Someone to Watch Over Me and Cabaret--from the last week of March to the last week of April. Overall, UPS was proud to witness such an incredible display of talent. Kudos to all who have made the performing arts at UPS a success!
A STAGE

Plays and Operas

Trust

Riders to the Sea
University Jazz Band
The Jazz Band performs music from all ages of Jazz, either formally or informally. In addition to frequent campus concerts, the group has made an appearance at the Seattle Opera House Annual Kent-Meridian Jazz Festival and the Western International Band Clinic. This group goes on regular tours throughout the Northwest. Recent guest artists who have appeared with the Jazz Band have included Ramsey Lewis, Louis Bellson, Arturo Sandoval, Paquito D’Rivera, Toshiko Akiyoshi, Cleo Laine, and Johnny Dankworth. Syd Potter is the conductor of the University Jazz Band.

University Band
The University Band is open to all students who are interested without audition. Performances are given each semester. Robert Musser is the conductor of the University Band.
University Symphony Orchestra
The University of Puget Sound’s symphony orchestra is composed entirely of undergraduates. The students are given the opportunity to perform various orchestral literature. Adam Stern is the conductor of the University Symphony Orchestra.

University String Orchestra
The University Symphony Orchestra performs several times a year. Adam Stern is the conductor of the String Orchestra.

University Wind Ensemble
The University of Puget Sound Wind Ensemble consists of 50 talented performers who are chosen by individual auditions. The ensemble performs music of many styles and periods. This Ensemble is highly acknowledged for its ability. Not only does the Wind Ensemble perform on campus, but also they tour in the Western United States every year. Robert Musser skillfully conducts this collection of wonderful musicians.
The Adelphian Concert Choir was founded in 1932 by John Paul Bennett. This is an audition-only group composed of some of the University of Puget Sound’s best singers. This group takes an annual trip across the West Coast and Canada during spring break to represent the U.P.S. music program. This year, they toured several cities in Oregon. The Adelphian Concert Choir is recognized as one of the truly outstanding choral ensembles in the country; consistently receiving high acclaim for their standards and interpretation to musicianship. This year’s director, Dr. Jerry Yontiman, has led this group to success in this ’99-’00 school year.

The Dorian Singers are the only all-female choral ensemble at U.P.S. The members of this group are selected by audition and consist of about thirty members. The Dorian ladies have a multi-cultural repertoire, singing songs from such places as Africa, Portugal, France, Italy and the United States. Their beautiful voices can be heard at their Fall and Spring concerts for which they join the University Choral. This year’s director was Evan Lambert.

The University Choral is the largest singing ensemble on campus. This is the only non-audition singing group at U.P.S. The group welcomes everyone who enjoys singing. Choral is composed of at least eighty members who do not all major in music, but who enjoy creating beautiful music. In addition to a Fall and Spring concert with the Dorian Singers, Choral performed in a unique exchange concert effort with the Olympic College Choir. The director of this group is also Evan Lambert.
Moani Wright-Van Alst and Leah Paulino take a break from singing their hearts out.

Members of Underground Jazz and Aldelphians enjoying some free time, outside of concerts.

The Aldelphian Concert Choir on their annual tour, which was to Oregon this year.

The University Choirs sing with the Olympic concert choir in a joint concert on the University of Puget Sound.
Artistic Talent

“Poppies” by Olivia Glascock

“Magenta” by Nita Lang
“Cherry Blossoms” by Olivia Glascock

“Escuela de Los Muertos” by Anna McCallister

“Monster Boy” by Nita Lang

Associated Students of University of Puget Sound: ASUPS

President: David Bowe
Vice President: Gianna Piccardo

ASUPS Representatives  Pictured here are some of the hard-working staff representatives and board members.
Links On The Side
Right: South Quad Area Coordinator Debbie Chee helps serve sausage links at the breakfast. Students were hyped about the free food.

Feel The Love
Below: Two UPS students pose for the camera after eating at the ASUPS sponsored midnight breakfast. The breakfast was a great success.

Happy Birthday
Above Right: President David Bowe does an awesome job and deserves this birthday cake. He loves it!

Silly Kids
Above: ASUPS officers work really hard, but they still have time to have fun. Thanks for a great year!
PHOTO SERVICES

The difficult and involved task of capturing the year in pictures falls upon several of the university's best and brightest photographers. For work and pleasure, members of Photo Services attend each and every function involving UPS students in an attempt to materialize memories into tangible photos. These talented artists may work behind the scenes and in the shadows, but truly deserve to share the spotlight with other media personnel!

(top row) Todd Stefan, Darkroom Technician Kathleen Holmes, and Beth Scott; (middle) John Kenworthy, General Manager Nathan Guy, and Gagik Shanerian; (bottom) Tyler Ranf and Chris Schneider.

Other members of Photo services include: Alexis Hodel, Alison Killen, April Brown, Beth Slaughter, Elie Wasser, Darkroom Technician Elizabeth Dallenbach, Emma Stevenson, Mike Radcliff, Sheena Bittle-Matsuki, and Sylvia Perek.
THE TRAIL

Extra! Extra! Read all about it! The University of Puget Sound is proud to produce one of the finest college newspapers in the Northwest. The Trail staff members are newsworthy themselves, and worth praise for many jobs well done.

(top row) Keith Chaffee-Ellis, Jessy Bowman, Elie Wasser, Bill Parker, Robert McCool, Ryan Sweeny, and Linzi Weber; (middle row) Kristine Erickson, Jessica Sickles, Trevor Anthony, Kamala Ellis, Marieke Steuben, and Jennifer Tillet; (bottom row) Editor-in-Chief Erin Speck, Vauna Jones, Jason Ronbeck, and Nicole Ashworth. Other staff members include: Laura Haycock and Katie Head.

CROSSCURRENTS

Crosscurrents is not just a literary magazine--its a bundle of poetry, prose, art, and creativity rolled into one! It takes a dedicated and talented group of students to produce an outstanding, eye-catching product, and that is certainly the group of students that makeup the '99-'00 Crosscurrents staff.

Staff members include: Editor Galena Kline, Zach Elhert, Buck DeFore, Liz Coen, Chris Halmos, Danielle White, Sarah Hashemi, Hillary Thoren, Gianna Piccardo, Rena Dudzic, Jenny Mikesh, Rachel Ratner, Freya Bloomgarden, Emily Goodrich, Heather Neace, Kristen Miller, Sara Distin, Virginia Wong, Marnie Andrews, Sarah Cutting, Dave Davis, Doug Herstad, Ahe Butterfield, Beth Martin, Nita Lang, Casey Mortenson, Nathanael Daggett, Roxie Devine, Dezaraye Choi, Tyler Ranf, Geoff Oakley, and Jessica Stewart.
Top: TV Time! Senior Michael Shandler takes a break from his studies while he watches the Cellar’s big screen TV. Other students also find the spare time to watch their favorite shows. Corner: Table Talk Renee Infelise, Caleb Brown, and Sadie Cole enjoy each other’s company at the Cellar. A lot of students find themselves studying, where others gather for pure enjoyment. Right: Terrific Toppings! Jason Sisneros patiently tops a pizza for a hungry student. All of the workers use their pizza making talent to keep the students happy.

The Pizza Cellar is a great place to spend time with friends, study, or enjoy pizza, breadsticks, and ice cream. The big screen TV also becomes a gathering place for many people depending on the night. Club Rendezvous also becomes a popular spot for many people. Students can enjoy the pool tables, video games, and a great time with their friends.

Pizza Cellar Staff (left to right) Jason Sisneros, Leah Paulino, Jen Schaeffer, Chris Gewald, Brooke Johnson, Rob Scotlan, Whitney Jacobson. [Not all staff present]
Campus Films shows all-time favorite movies as well as some more recent productions. Since campus films use authentic movie reels, the projection is most like a movie theater. Being only $1.00, campus films is an affordable way to enjoy a great movie as well as spend time with friends.

Freshman Ethan Rosenfeld asks the audience trivia questions before the show.

Campus Films Staff (below, left to right) Mary Kotchwar, Erin Abrahams, Cherisse Kent, Ethan Rosenfeld, Mariette Clardy, and Josh Galicinao. [Not all staff present]
Understanding Sexuality (U.S.)
Mortar Board
Below is a photo of one of the projects this year SHAC organization participated in. SHAC is a group of students who work to inform students about health issues and try to improve the overall health of UPS. This year SHAC is participating in activities like, safer sex negotiations, Menengitas Vaccine awareness, and Stress Buster Day. Also, SHAC puts up posters like the one in the picture around campus to help students become more aware about health issues.

Habitat for Humanity

Above is a picture of some students involved in the UPS Habitat for Humanity organization. This picture was taken during an on campus demonstration of what Habitat does. The students built a small house in front of the SUB to try and bring new members to their group. Habitat for Humanity does many projects like this throughout the community during the year. This is a group who builds homes in poor areas. The group at UPS works very hard and their efforts are to be commended.
SPURS

Spurs is an honors group for sophomores that does philanthropy work in the community. This year the group has done projects such as a PBS fundraiser, Adopt a Spot cleanup, and Bridges, which is a support organization for children who have lost family members. This is the 75th year for SPURS at UPS. A new group of sophomores has been chosen to be in SPURS and the group is excited to carry on the tradition of all the past years.
Asian Pacific American Student Union

Ashlee Nekoba, Fletcher Kimura, Sharon Wong, Kristen Shinohara, and James Prieto at the Asian Pacific Cultural Performance in Celebration of the Chinese New Year.

FONG CHONG CO.

APASU members enjoying some fine Chinese cuisine in Portland.

Ryan Stueber, Virginia Wong, Naomi, and Jenn Saiki at the Japanese Gardens.

Tomoko Kiyonaga and Virginia Wong proudly representing UPS.

Advisor Serni Solidarios, Ryan Manuel, James Prieto, Kin Luu, Matt Oxiles, Jennifer Hart, Virginia Wong, Tomoko Kiyonaga, and Kristen Shinohara display the 1999-2000 Theme Year for UPS.

International Clubs
BSU beauties: Melissa Dulton, Erica Woods, Coronda Taliaferno, Karmaria DeChabert, and Elizabeth Brown.

Mariette Clardy, Melissa Dulton, Czarina Ramsey, Erica Woods, Coronda Taliaferno, Todd Smith, Karmaria DeChabert, and Mele Moore are ready to boogie.

Black Student Union

Mele Moore is all smiles.

Erica Williams and Czarina Ramsay dancing the night away.

Czarina Ramsay, Melanie Locke, Carmen Jones, Melissa Dutton, Todd Smith, Coronda Taliaferno, Erica Williams looking fine for the Homecoming lip sync competition.

International Clubs
The freshmen of Todd/Phibbs and Regester: (Clockwise from top) Risha Abe, Carly Wong, Lauren Honho, Jenny Saiki, Lindsay Ward, Dave Estermann, and Erin Suzuki.

Mikey Elm and Cherilyn Inouye take a break from snowboarding at Stevens Pass.

Just hanging out: Dave Estermann, Brett Kakuda, Brian Siu, and Mike Mizuno.

Seniors Josh DeYoe, Angela Abellanida, Ched Cordero, Eric Mickelson, Kim Nguyen, Naomi Soriano, Amy Chen, Nate Bird from UW, and Wayne Hudson at the 1999 Hui 'O Hawai'i Luau.

Hui Club members at the Puyallup Fair in October 1999.
The University of Puget Sound

CeCe Olivares and Laura Beth Addessio at the First Annual CdeNM Luminaria Lighting Festival in December.

Advisor and Associate Dean of Students, Houston Dougherty, eating flan at the Mariachi Enchilada Fiesta in March.

International Club

(Right) Exchange student from the University of Wales, Aberystwyth, Matt Pilsbury enjoys the snow with Jen Hart, Katia Grokhouskaya, Matt Winslad, and Jason Neighbors on the International Club Ski Trip in February.

International Clubs members enjoying Thanksgiving Dinner.

Jason Neighbors, Katia Grokhouskaya, Jen Hart, and Matt Winslad, up close.
InterVarsity Christian Fellowship
This is an interdenominational Christian fellowship whose goal is to help individuals “grow to wholeness under the Lordship of Jesus Christ.” Small-group Bible studies are available as well as weekly large-group meetings, including scripture study, prayer, singing, and fellowship.

Fall Friends
(above) Sophomore Bao Le, Freshman Julie Jordan, and Freshman Kirticia Calkins enjoy the InterVarsity fall retreat.

Bible Study
(above right, clockwise) Sophomore Alison Dobson, Freshman Kirticia Calkins, Freshman Stephanie Moore, Freshman Stephanie Satre, Junior Christina Contryman, Senior Blakely Tsurusaki, Junior Anna Joujan, Sophomore Liz Ball, and Freshman Elizabeth Dallenbach gather in Anderson Langdon Hall for their small group Bible study.

Other Religious Organizations
- United Methodist Fellowship (UMeth)
  A fellowship in which students may openly explore spirituality through dialogue, critical thinking, and friendship.
- Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints Student Association (LDSSA)
  An opportunity for Mormon students to experience fellowship together and interact with other student groups.
- Jewish Student Organization (JSO)
  Promotes Jewish identity by arranging cultural and social events and by celebrating holidays and traditions.
- Catholic Campus Ministry
  Goals include spiritual growth and providing a community of acceptance and encouragement. Catholic and non-Catholic students gather weekly to share, laugh, pray, as well as coordinate larger activities such as campus retreats.
Lighthouse

Fall Retreat
Lighthouse members spend a relaxing day by the beautiful Pacific Ocean during their annual fall retreat. Retreats give members opportunities to reflect on their experiences and get to know each other.

Lighthouse
This ministry is for students to help each other “grow in relationship with Jesus Christ.” Activities include large and small group meetings, retreats, service projects, community outreach and leadership training.

Lighthouse Friends
Freshman Pam Neel, Alum Angela Koke, Sophomore Marie Potter, Junior Jon Koetje, and Freshman Abby Ormsbee have fun at a weekly meeting.

Broomball
During Religious Organizations Council (ROC) Week, Lighthouse sponsors an exciting broomball tournament. Members and non-members come together for an evening of fun.
University Sports...

Football  Soccer
Volleyball  Softball
Crew  Baseball
Track  Cross Country
Ski Team  Cheer
Basketball  Dance
Tennis  Golf
Swimming
Women's Lacrosse
Lacrosse

[Images of lacrosse players in action]
Team Tackling
Left: Senior Francis Hurd, senior Jason McLaughry and junior Cullen Pang come together for a tackle. The Loggers had hard-working defense this season.

Pumped Up
Far Left: Senior Kyle Maloy, senior Will Lathrop and junior Cullen Pang are ready on the line of scrimmage. The Loggers put forth great effort against our rivals, the Lutes.

Ready, Set...
Left: Senior Jeffery Halsted anxiously waits for the play to begin. Halsted was a key player for Logger Football.

Knockin' Em Down!
Far Left: Junior Cullen Pang and senior Jason McLaughry work together to stop the offensive player. Their efforts are successful.

Big D!
Below: Senior Jason McLaughry, senior Will Lathrop, junior Cullen Pang, sophomore Bobby Chang, sophomore Eric Brown and freshman Matt Hall come together for a defensive play. The teammates work hard to stop the opponents.

Gotcha!
Below: Senior Craig Knapp, junior Aaron Erickson, and junior Perry Saputo go in for the tackle. Knapp, Erickson, and Saputo show the value of teamwork.
Diggin' It
Above: Junior Eileen Gamache makes a pass to keep the game in play. Team members watch with intense anticipation.

We love this game!
Top Left: Senior Feather Robles, Junior Sarah Gross, Junior Lindsi Weber, sophomore Karen Thomas, and freshman Anna Marsh celebrate another winning play. The excitement could be felt throughout the gym.

Look at her go!
Left: Junior Eileen Gamache makes an incredible effort to go for the dig. Gamache's hard work has definitely been an asset to the Logger Volleyball team.

Logger Dig
Left: Sophomore makes a dig for the Loggers; her teammates come in close for the dig.
A Season for the Ages

The 1999 University of Puget Sound Men's soccer season was the most successful and memorable one in school history. Under the guidance of All-Northwest Conference Coach of the Year, Reece Olney, the Loggers combined experience with some young talent to produce a 20-2 overall record. The team finished with a conference record of 13-1, which was good enough for their first Northwest Conference Championship. The team advanced to the West Regional Semi-finals were they defeated Claremont College 3-0. This win advanced the Loggers to the Regional final against Trinity of Texas. Unfortunately this is were the Logger's dream season came to an end. Trinity defeated the team 1-0. This marked the end of the most successful Logger in the history of the school.

The Logger's were led this year by five seniors; Mike Rottersman, Bryan Fanning, Kevin Weidkamp, Kevin Zamira, and Jeff Craig. Many Loggers received individual honors along with all the team recognition. Goalkeeper, Ryan Wittstruck, was named the Northwest Conference Men's soccer Player of the Year. He was also one of four Loggers named to the all-conference first team. Joining him were Tye Tolentino, Chris Raymond, and David Ludwin. The team also had three players named to the all-conference second team; Kevin Weidkamp, Loren Cohen, and Erik Nielson. All the loggers had a great and unforgettable season and we all look forward to next year and more success.
A Magical Soccer Season

The women's soccer team had another remarkable season this year. The team finished second in the conference with a record of 9-3-2 (11-5-2 overall), and ended the season with a spectacular playoff run. The Loggers upset #3-ranked Willamette and #15-ranked UC Santa Cruz in the NCAA Division III National Tournament before being eliminated in a very tough 1-0 triple-overtime-loss to #5-ranked UC San Diego. But the Loggers' magical run through the sweet 16 will always be remembered as one of the greatest in UPS history.

One reason for the Logger's success this year was Coach Randy Hanson. This was Randy's fifth year as head coach of the women's soccer program, and he was named Northwest Conference Women's Soccer Coach of the Year. Another reason for the Loggers' success was senior Sarah Blawat, who recorded three assists and a team-leading seven goals. Blawat's season was ended prematurely when she broke her foot in the match against George Fox on October 24th, but she will be remembered as an outstanding player who made invaluable contributions on the field during her four-year career at UPS. She leaves UPS as the all-time leader in games played. The team also found leadership in juniors Laura Grinstead and Kerry Cerelli, and sophomore goalkeeper Karen Ecklebe. Blawat, Grinstead, Cerelli, and Ecklebe all earned positions on the All-Northwest Conference 1st Team. Freshman Beth Taimi earned All-Northwest Conference Honorable Mention.
"Row, row, row your boat, across American Lake." Every morning, while everyone is snuggled tight in their beds, the University of Puget Sound's varsity mens' and womens' crew teams are shedding their blood, sweat, and tears at American Lake. Crew begins with intense water and land training in the fall, in preparation for the official racing season in the spring. Crew is a sport that requires dedication, team work, and perseverance. In addition to practicing at least three hours a day, crew members also spend weekends at regattas in Seattle, Tacoma, and Oregon, as well as devoting their entire spring break to practicing and racing. The mens' varsity coach and head coach is Mike Willy, and the womens' varsity coach is Aimee Ettel. The novice men's coach is Mike Hagmann and the novice womens' coach is Jeanie Mascia.
The Logger swim team is one of the finest athletic groups on campus, with consecutive national championships. This year UPS was proud to send both the mens' and womens' teams to the National Championships. Not only has the group done well as a whole, but a number of individuals on the team received top honors in their event. The team received their first Northwest Conference dual meet loss in over seven years to Whitworth, but look to make a strong comeback next year. This year's team consisted of several All-American, outstanding conference swimmers and "athletes of the week". This extraordinary group is led to victory by head coach Chris Myhre, and assitants Lance Trebilcock and Paton McClung.

Lady Logger
One of the fine UPS women swimmers showing off her perfect back stroke.

Diving in
It's a bird, it's a plane...no it's the UPS swim team!

Super swimmers
The women of the Loggers swim team.

Poised for victory
"On your mark, get set..." UPS men get ready to go.
The future looks bright for the University of Puget Sound Men's Basketball team. The Loggers improved all season long and that improvement was evident in the end of the season. The Loggers finished the season winning three out of their final five games. During that stretch, the team had big wins over PLU and Willamette. Two of the wins came in overtime. The team finished the season with an 8-15 record overall and a 6-10 record in the Northwest Conference.

First year Coach Joe Callero led the Loggers this year. The team only carried one senior, Craig Henneberry, who plans to come back next year and play while working on post-graduate studies. The young Logger team was led by Junior Ryan Boyle who led the team in scoring and rebounding. His average of 9.6 rebounds per game was also the best in the conference. Craig Henneberry and Jeff Carlson also average double figures in points this year. With a lot of young talent the future looks bright for Coach Callero and his Loggers.

Air
Far Right: Senior Craig Henneberry skies towards another basket. Henneberry's leadership was a huge key to the young Logger's season.

The Tip
Left: Sophomore Jeff Jones goes up and wins the opening tip for the Loggers. Jones' height was a factor all year for the Loggers.

In the Post
Sophomore Jeff Jones looks to score another basket for the Loggers. Jones' strength in the post was a big part of the Loggers offense.
Women's Basketball

The University of Puget Sound Women's Basketball team had a disappointing year, but the season was not in vain. Many players gained valuable experience for the seasons ahead. The team ended the year with a pair of losses to Linfield College and George Fox University, both of which advanced to the NCAA Division III National Tournament. The Loggers were plagued by injuries throughout the season and ended with an overall record of 9-16 and 3-13 in conference. The team will graduate five seniors this year who have contributed immensely to the program throughout their careers at UPS. Seniors Jana Dorn, Erin Peterson, Beth Davies, Karen Hansen and Cori Takesue will be tough to replace in the seasons ahead.

Coach Suzy Barcomb and assistant Joleen LaMay will be looking for recruits to boost the Logger's offense next year. Only one player this season, Julie Vanni (11.6 points per game), averaged scoring in double figures. Other key contributors this season who will be back next year were sophomore Courtney Leybold (8.6 ppg), junior Tina Garrett (7.5 ppg), junior Erin Dahlgren, and freshman Alison McCurdy (5.5 ppg). Sophomore Julie Vanni and Senior Erin Peterson were both selected to the honorable mention All-Northwest Conference squad.

The 1999-2000 Women's Basketball Team
Left to right: Cori Takesue, Erin Dahlgren, Beth Davies, Erin Peterson, Jana Dorn, Karen Hansen, Julie Vanni, Allison McCurdy, Anja Crotts, Kristin Bloom, Tina Garrett, Kate Eiriksson, and Courtney Leybold. Coaches left to right: Assistant Joleen LaMay and head Coach Suzy Barcomb.

Intensity
Lower Middle: Freshman Allison McCurdy brings the ball up the court. The Loggers will count on McCurdy's offense next season.

Vision
Senior Erin Peterson surveys the court in search of a teammate. Peterson completed a very successful career at UPS this season.

Composure
Lower Right: Junior Erin Dahlgren prepares for a pass. Dahlgren provided a lot of offense for the Loggers this year.

Women's Basketball
The University of Puget Sound Cheerleading Squad cultivates spirit and school pride at athletic events. The squad performs during football games in the fall and during basketball games in the spring. UPS cheerleaders can attribute their successful cheers and dances to their advisor, Marg Beerdimple.

Thanks, ladies, for supporting the Logger Athletes in all their endeavors. Go, Loggers, go!!!
The renowned UPS dance team known as UPSWING performs at basketball games and other events throughout the school year. The group consists of auditioned members who are experienced in the art of dancing.

The Repertory Dance Group (RDG) was founded in the spring of 1997 by UPS students in hopes of bringing dance to UPS and the surrounding community. RDG is open to the entire student body and encourages as many people as possible to participate. All dances are student-choreographed and the group is run by UPS students as well. RDG's Fall and Spring Concerts are continually growing and becoming a greater success each year.
A New Beginning
The 2000 Logger baseball team began a new era this season with the opening of the gorgeous new Field. The field combined, with a talented team, made for an exciting season. The team had a great mix of young talent and experienced veterans. A great group of seniors led the team all year. Quality pitching and timely hitting were the key to the Logger’s success.

Ryan Johnson and Jake Goode led the pitching staff. Johnson received NWC pitcher of the week for his dominating outings early in the year. Jeff Halstead, Alika Antone, and John Keller led the offensive charge with exceptional hitting. Overall, the Loggers improved greatly this year, and the future looks as bright as the new field.

The 2000 Loggers
Front Row: Alika Antone, Nate Angelo, Jesse Draeger, Ryan Keller, John Keller, Aaron Saxe, Jeff Halstead, Jake Roth.
Second Row: Steve Beck, Tyler Brown, Mo Hall, Matt Sorenson, Mike Ford, Michael Charno, Hakim Jones, Casey Cowles, Brad Medlock.
Top Row: Keith Sole, Nick Gill, Seth Sampsell, Josh McDonald, David Harris, Jeff Lebrun, Bob Strahl, Ryan Johnson, and Tom DePony.

The Hot Corner
Sophomore Nate Angelo prepares to make a play at third base. Angelo’s fine glove and clutch bat were big keys to the Logger’s success this year.

The Bulldog
Junior Casey Cowles’ timely relief pitching helped the Loggers all season and earned him the nickname Bulldog.

Speed Team
Far Right: Senior Leadoff hitter Jeff Halstead takes his sign before stepping into the box to hit. Halstead’s speed was an important tool for the Loggers.

Rallytime
Right: The Logger dugout looks on hoping for a rally to cheer about.
The Canon
Sophomore Jenny Erickson prepares to fire the ball across the infield. Erickson was a key for the Loggers up the middle.

Power
Freshman Gena Frasier connects for a base hit. Frasier’s is one of the young and talented players that helped the Loggers all year.

A Tradition Continues
The Logger softball team changed colors this year just like all the other teams but this did not change the tradition that the program has built. The Loggers continued their success this year. Head Coach Robin Hamilton won her 300th game as Loggers head coach early in the season during a tournament down in California. Throughout the season, the Loggers impressed fans around the Pacific Northwest. Their stellar play had them near the top of the League standings all season. The colors may have changed, but the legacy stayed the same.

Team Huddle
The Loggers huddle before a key inning. Team unity like this was a large part of the team’s success this year.

The Heater
Far Left: Senior pitcher Kassia Vote throws another steller pitch. Vote was one of the top pitchers in the league as she has been throughout her career.

Concentration
Left: Senior Zoe Yearout concentrates in anticipation of a sharp ground ball. Yearout’s leadership and talent helped the Loggers achieve many of their goals.
Team
The Men's and Women's Golf teams both finished up their season competing in the Northwest Conference Championships Tournaments. The men's team is highly competitive which gives them an overall successful record. Junior Andy Bruno placed first in the Pacific Invitational at Pumpkin Ridge Golf Course. He transferred this year from Seattle University bringing exceptional talent to the team. Not only did Sophomore Travis Allen place first at the Pacific Lutheran University Fall Invitational as well, but the team also broke a school record at this tournament. The women's team, although small, competes in numerous tournaments and finishes with a consistent record. Their strength and potential does not go unnoticed; however, with the expansion of their team a more competitive edge would be in place.
Men's and Women's Tennis teams completed their seasons with the Northwest Conference Tournament. With a fourth place finish in the Conference for the men, the team had a very successful season. The men's team had two first Team All-conference players, sophomore Rob Weingeist and sophomore Andrew Loveless. Their relatively young team will provide strong players for next season. Not only did the women's team finished fifth in the conference but also had two players selected to the Northwest All-Conference second team, junior Melanie Hiramoto and senior Kirsten Bounds. Bounds was also selected as the Sportswoman of the Year. Congratulations to both teams for their successful season, determination, and hard work!
The ski team had a very fun and exciting season this year. The season included races at Mt. Hood, WA, McCall, ID, and Mt. Spokane, WA. This year’s Conference Championships were held in Schweitzer, ID. Both the men and the women had a successful season as both teams sent representatives to the Regional Championships. Some of the most successful races this year were completed by Junior Nick Rohrback (fourth place) and Freshman Kim Racine (first place). Without losing any seniors, the team is sure to be even more competitive next year and hopes to advance to nationals. But more than anything, this season will be remembered for its fun and good times. Rumor had it that the motto for this year’s ski team was: “Our drinking team has a skiing problem.”

Right: (Clockwise from upper left) sophomore Cristan Norman, freshman Annie Barton, sophomore Evan Ruffeningo, sophomore Mark Churchill, freshman Kim Racine, freshman Aaron Mainer, junior Nick Rohrback, and sophomore Reagan Wilson.

Lower right: (Clockwise from upper left) sophomore Mark Allen, freshman Aaron Mainer, freshman Ethan Boyd, sophomore Evan Ruffeningo, freshman Jeremy Rogers, junior Nick Rohrback, and freshman Tom Hoke.

Below: (From Left to right) sophomore Abby Baca, sophomore Allison Jackson, sophomore Cristan Norman, freshman Bree Hickel, sophomore Tara Logan, sophomore Reagan Wilson, freshman Cali Miller, and freshman Annie Barton.
The University of Puget Sound Intramural Sports Program was back in action this year. Students, faculty, and staff participated in a variety of sports, including flag football, volleyball, basketball, soccer, racquetball, tennis, and water hoops. The program gives many people a chance to play a favorite sport or one they have always wanted to try but never had the opportunity. Above all, the Intramural Program offers participants an enjoyable and fun experience.

Far left:
Rebound in the Pool
Water basketball players fight for the rebound while struggling to stay afloat in the pool. Water basketball was a new addition to the Intramural program this year.

Left:
Battle in the Key
Two players do battle in the key during a coed basketball game. Basketball has a reputation of being one of the most intense and competitive intramural sports.

Showdown on the IM Field
An intramural soccer player attempts to cross the ball during a men's game on the IM field. Many former athletes live out their dreams on the IM field.

Breakaway
An intramural player leads the charge down the court during a coed basketball game. Coed basketball was one of the most popular intramural sports this year.
Campus Living

Alpha Phi Schiff
Gamma Phi Beta Harrington
Kappa Alpha Theta Anderson/Langdon
Kappa Kappa Gamma University
Pi Beta Phi Todd/Phibbs
Sigma Nu Regester
Phi Delta Theta Seward
Sigma Alpha Epsilon Langlow
Sigma Chi
Dorms

Schiff Hall group photo.

Abbie Stevens, Anni Kelley-Day, Anna Bugge, Syane Recorp, and Lisa Bentley.

Teresa Hotchkin, Jessica Wann, Lizzie Bennett, and Anna Karl.

Candice May and Julia Vill.

Josh Whiting, Eric Ankrim, and Andy Anson.

Heather Hanna, Dave Jones, Rachel Alm, Tanya Chernor, Tina Wagenaar, Wenn Murphy, Cyrus Brown.
Moani Wright Van-Alst, Morgan Gonquist, Heather Easterly, and others.

Alexa Sanders and Katie Lee

Jessica Gillian, Tonya Jones, Christina Twomey, Maggie Lyman, and Malissa Robertson.

Alexis Hodel and Jeryln Nicholson.

Girls in the hall...

Boys in the hall: Geoff Miller, Nick Wilson, Noah Blinder, Brett Broek, Justin Davidson, Grant Wiley, and Kyle Shimumoto.
Seward

Reid Hellekson, Cody Leary, Paul Allen, and Ethan Boyd.

Erik Swanson and Stacy Swanson.

Chad Mahoe and Michelle Crigo.

Laura Richert, Lisa Confehr, Ned Kletz, and “Kids Can Do.”

Josh Epstein, Chris Abbott, Jon Howland, Katie Callaghan, Ty Jones, Cat Rapp.

Seward friends.

Katie Callaghan, Ryan Miller, James Ramsay, Michael Smith, Emily Goodrich, Erica Kuichera, Justin Garland.

Erica Kuichera, Katie Callaghan, Cat Rapp, Ryan Miller, Michael Smith, Emily Goodrich, Josh Epstein, Geoff Zeiger, Jon Howland.
Teddy Sanders, Trina Olsen, Nine Dodge, Liz Perry, and Abbot Taylor.

Branson Quenzer.

Megan Kefaurer and Mike Caranci.

Sarah Krone, Lindsey Bonner, and Amy Davis.

Megan Hoeler, Shelly Mellberg, Marilyn Reeves-Woelfel.

Tom DePony, Aaron Mainer, Ben Shelton, Tyler ?, Tom Muller, Brad Senson, and Don Johanns.
Jessica Berry, Erin Scott, Lacey Leffler, Jaci Jones, and Jenny Owens.

Laurie May and Jessica Berry.

Beth Taimi, Susan Grat, and Erinn Spencer.
Elizabeth Barrat, Stacy Fajardo, Kristin Baker, Lisa Thorngren, and Christina McDonlad.

Meghan Harrington, Brittany Stafford, Rael Barlow, and Jennifer Hart.

Leslie Scott, Becki McAdams, Michelle Baillie, and Sylvia Perek.
The ladies of Alphi Phi show their pride as they smile for a picture with their Dream Man on bid day. Alpha Phi was led into the new year by President Becca Lewis.
The ladies of Alpha Phi enjoy a function with Sigma Nu. The theme was graffiti and people were canvases.

These ladies can hardly wait to get to their formal dance!

The pledges enjoyed bonding and getting to know each other at their pledge retreat.

The dance was wonderful and everyone looked great!
The men of Beta Theta Pi prove that their chapter is as strong as ever with a large group picture taken in their own chapter room. Beta was led by President Steven Benson.
The Beta's traditional sea saw for charity campaign continues with their flag flying high.

These two Brothers stand with pride in the hall at the Beta house.

The Betas smile proudly at their Christmas formal.
The Gamma Phi Betas have a lot to smile about: their chapter room was almost too full to fit all these girls into one picture!
Always looking their best,  Gamma Phi gets ready to dance the night away at their Mystery dance.

The Ladies of  Gamma Phi enjoy the company of their  Sigma Chi neighbors.

Sisterhood is a fundamental of  Gamma Phi. Their friendship will last a lifetime.
Kappa Alpha Theta in front of their house on Union.
It's all about sisterhood at Kappa Alpha Theta.

These Theta ladies are ready for their chapter meeting. Much is to be discussed because this year has been a busy one for these ladies.
Kappa Kappa Gamma in their chapter room during their chapter meeting.
Kappa girls anxiously wait to be chosen for “Singled Out”. Sigma Nu and Kappa Kappa Gamma know what a good function is all about.

Phi Delta Theta in their chapter room during chapter.
This picture explains it all: Individuals. Friends. Brothers.

Safety first at Phi Delta Theta. Phi Delta Theta strive to make campus a safer place with their in house with "Lifeguard" training.

Phi Delta Theta actives sing their pledges to sleep.
Pi Beta Phi at their chapter meeting.
Bid day was more than just a work out for these ladies: they made it a full aerobic dance club!

After being dubbed an angel, this Pi Phi pledge is excited about the coming year and living with her sisters!

A casual dinner is often the plan for Pi Phi.
Members of Sigma Alpha Epsilon look down from their deck as students below head towards their classes.

Nothing beats a hot day like an afternoon in the mini-pool. SAE knows how to relax in the sun.
Sigma Chi men dress up for their chapter meetings, showing true class.

Nothing beats a formal dinner in Whistler, Canada. These men party it up with their dates after a long day of snowboarding.
Sigma Chi is almost ready for their Christmas party.

Two Sigma Chi men with their house's "sweetheart."
The men of Sigma Nu display their diversity in their unique composite.
The Sigma Nu Midnight Football Team gets ready to head out for a late night game against their rival University of Washington house. UW lost 21-0.

Sigma Nu knows what brotherhood means. After a weekend of snowboarding in Whistler, Canada, these guys could not be any tighter.

These two Sigma Nu pledges enjoy the good life from inside the Sigma Nu house.
TAMANAWAS...

...a word applied to Chinook youth meaning “a link between himself and the spirit world.”

Staff
Co-Editors: Katie Harman and Audrey Kittams
Photo Editor: Tyler Ranf
Layouts: Heather Easterly and Joanna Oldfield
Page Writers: Ashley Clipson, Kamaria DeChabert,
Tom DePonty, Matt Grutman, Cherilyn Inouye,
Eric Johnson, Cherrise Kent, Betta Peterson,
Christie Stewart, Jennifer Tsai, Moani Wright-VanAlst
Thanks to: ASUPS and Photo Services
The 1999-2000 Tamanawas staff was composed mostly of members of the freshman class. Producing a yearbook takes a lot of time and patience, all of which the outstanding staff gave willingly. For many students, this was the first yearbook that they had ever worked on. We hope that you have enjoyed, and will enjoy for years to come, the product of many hours of hard work that has gone into making this year forever memorable.

To our staff:
There are not words that can express how thankful we are that we had all of your hardwork and dedication to help us make this book successful. We hope that you have found working on the 79th volume of Tamanawas to be rewarding and a learning experience. Thanks to all of you--this book would not have been possible without your help.

Sincerely,
Audrey and Katie
Congratulations
to the Class of 2000