THE COLLEGE
COLLEGGE spirit is a very essential element in all college enterprises. This year has been favorable for the development and growth of a greater C. P. S. spirit. Our athletic teams have made splendid records; our debating teams brought great credit to dear old C. P. S; our college play was a wonderful success: the Trail has proved itself worthy of praise. The one big activity remaining is that this annual will prove equally successful. That the success of the Tamanawas may be favorably compared with the other activities of the year has been the aim of the editors. We only hope that it will serve you as a cherished record of the golden days of 1923.

Dr. Edward H. Todd

To humbler functions, awful Power!
I call thee: I myself commend
Unto thy guidance from this hour;
Oh, let my weakness have an end!
Give unto me, made lowly wise,
The spirit of self-sacrifice;
The confidence of reason give;
And in the light of truth thy Bondman let me live!

The above ode to duty is one which shows the kind of a faith and vision our President, Dr. Todd, has which causes him to be successful in what he undertakes. It is his faith in God and his commending of himself unto the guidance of God that has made it possible for him to make our college what it is today and what our new college will be in the future.

Class of Twenty Four Celebrates the close of
The Second Decade.

THE class of '24 counts it an honor to produce the Tamanawas on this the closing year of the second decade of the corporate existence of the College of Puget Sound.

This class entered C. P. S. the fall after the close of the first Half Million Dollar Campaign in 1920. During the three years over One Million Dollars have been subscribed for endowment. We do not assume credit for the raising of this amount, but we rejoice that during our day these great accomplishments have been wrought.

We take this opportunity to extend our congratulations to President Edward H. Tood for the leadership which has witnessed the accomplishments.

In celebration of this second decade of C. P. S. History we give a brief summary. President Todd came into office at its beginning. Although he met some gloomy people and a discouraging prospect, he sounded the note of optimism and faith in God which has inspired confidence, and has been the secret of success. His first duty was to re-sell the College to most everybody. He showed that the institution during the first decade was far from a failure. He then called upon them to set as the goal for the ten years the putting of an additional Million of Dollars back of the College. They smiled then, but today they laugh.

The name has been changed from University to College. Its organization has conformed to this name. It soon dispensed with the academy and the Business college. It now offers only courses above High School grade. It is now recognized, from coast to coast, as a College of Liberal Arts.

The enrollment of the college students has gone from the last year of the first decade to 407 this year. This is exclusive of registration in the conservatory of Music of over 200.

A senior is not necessarily polished because you can see his finish.
These gratifying results in academic standing and size of college student body have been made possible by the financial success which we record. President Todd found the amount necessary to meet the challenge of Mr. James J. Hill of $50,000 on condition that $200,000 additional should be raised for endowment, only half raised. This was completed in the fall of 1915.

Mr. E. S. Collins made a challenge of $100,000 toward the raising of $1,000,000 for endowment and building in 1919. In May of 1920, one half of the Million was pledged by citizens of Tacoma and Pierce County and friends of the College.

Then this class appeared on the scene. We hope we have helped President Todd some. There have been two other Half Million Dollar Campaigns since we came. One was completed in April, 1921. This met the challenge of Mr. Collins. Soon after its close, Mr. Butterick, President, and Dr. Arnett, Secretary of the General Education Board visited the college. This resulted in an offer of $250,000 on condition that an additional $250,000 should be pledged by January 1, 1923, and that $750,000 should be collected for endowment by January 1, 1928.

That third Half Million Dollar Campaign was finished within the limits of this school year—December 7, 1922. The school had a real jollification. The new forty acre campus has been purchased and is ready for the erection of the new buildings. The plans are growing daily in the office of the architects Sutton and Whitney. Plans for the breaking of ground for this first building are well under way before the close of the school year.

It is but just that we acknowledge those who have subscribed making these conditions possible. Every student in college says three cheers for the subscribers. There are a few who gave the inspiration and leadership in each of these efforts. We can take space to record these names that all may be better acquainted with these leaders in giving.

To start the decade there is the pledge of Mr. James J. Hill, the founder of the Great Northern Railway. Our friend and long time patron Mr. E. S. Collins came, and Mrs. R. L. McCormick, whose husband has been on the Board of Trustees during his life came in with a gift which assured the success of the first campaign. And it was done through the gifts of many others.

Mr. E. S. Collins came in as the starter of the movement which became a Million and a Half Dollars before it ceased moving. Messrs Charles H. Jones and J. P. Weyerhauser gave the impetus in the Tacoma campaign and many others came in following their leadership. Mr. C. C. Gridley and Mr. P. J. Briix, Mr. Wm. Glass and Mr. Robert A. Booth of Eugene stood out in leading roles during the second half Million Dollar campaign.

Then came the climax. President Tood has been cultivating the General Education Board of New York for years. The result of the visit of the officers of that board has been mentioned. It seemed to many impossible to again approach the people for additional gifts. But when it was done, the people responded as if there had been no campaigns before. The leaders in giving were found. Mr. E. S. Collins came in again with a large gift. Mr. Chas E. Maiben of Burlington; Mr. F. S. Maiben; Miss Lillian Maiben; Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Wells; Mr. Corry Bushnell; Mrs. M. A. Norton; Mr. F. S. Gowen, Seattle; Mrs. A. H. Anderson, Seattle; Mr. L. M. Vannice, Dayton; J. P. Weyerhauser; Mr. John Buffin, Tacoma; Mr. Chester Thorne, Tacoma; Mr. William R. Rust, Tacoma; Mrs. Rocina L. Hewitt, Tacoma; and a large number of Seattle business men gave leadership in giving during the last movement.

A beautiful and great gift came at the last. Mrs. C. H. Jones gave $50,000 in the name of her husband who died on the 28th of November during the closing days of the campaign. Her husband had given a leading subscription in the beginning of the movements and she gave this in his name at the close that he might be represented in the closing of that which he had helped to start.

These givers were found and rallied through a very effective campaign organization. The men who gave these services are worthy of mention. We are recording the form and members of the organization that with our contribution to history we may do our part to pay due respect to these persons.

We are privileged to give a few sentences from congratulatory messages received by President Todd at the close of this campaign.

Bishop Shepard of the Portland Area of the Methodist Episcopal Church writes:

"Although I have been very busy in the Williamette Campaign I have not forgotten by any means the great victory which has been won by the College of Puget Sound. I had not the slightest doubt of your success two weeks before the culmination. The announcement of the victory was nevertheless very welcome."

_When it gets cold, you can feel the change in your pocket._

Telegram from John L. Seaton of the Board of Education, M. E. Church, of New York City:

"Wonderful is the report from the College of Puget Sound. It does not surprise us as we knew your faith, invincible courage and enduring energy. Long live the President the best of yet to be."

President Eugene C. Hickman from Kimball School of Theology, Salem, Oregon:

"I want to extend to you my heartiest congratulation upon the wonderful achievements which you have wrought on behalf of the College of Puget Sound. The notable victory of December 7th is one of the most significant in the annals of the Methodist College History. I am sure it is the general feeling that the success of the movement was due very largely to your splendid leadership."

President W. B. Fleming, President of Baker University, Baldwin, Kansas:

"Accept my hearty congratulations upon the success of your third campaign. You are doing a wonderful work for the Methodist education in the Northwest. May God bless you and give you continued success."

Arthur L. Marsh, Secretary Washington Education Association and former Dean of the College of Puget Sound:

"I am frank to say that in spite of previous accomplishments I felt quite sceptical in my own mind about the possibility of reaching the goal in this last drive, but you long ago established your reputation for accomplishing the impossible."

Mr. Bertram, Secretary of Carnegie Corporation, New York City:

"One cannot but appreciate the perseverance with which you, Mr. Blaine, and your colleagues have gone through with this progressive movement, involving the raising of so much money in the constituency offer it had already provided such a large sum as $500,000 so recently as 1920."

Telegram to Bishop Shepard from the Bishops Meeting in Baltimore, Maryland:

"Board of Bishops at First session send affectionate greetings to you personally and assurance of profound interest in your educational campaigns. We rejoice with shouting over work already done. We salute all your helpers including Booth and Collins, worthy sons of noble fathers. We send cheers to old Willamette and Young Puget Sound. God send you full and immediate triumph."

Were you ever arrested for trespassing on coffee grounds?
John W. Hancher, Board of Education, Department of Finance:

“Again I congratulate you upon the great achievement of your administration to date at the College of Puget Sound. It really is very wonderful.”

John H. Race, Publishing Agent, the Methodist Book Concern:

“Just this brief but highly enthusiastic word of congratulations over the stupendous and remarkable achievements of Puget Sound College under your fine leadership. Blessings on you in every way. With heartiest greetings for the New Year, believe me, Faithfully.”

THE Junior Class of 1923 counts it a great privilege to express its deepest appreciation to Dr. Todd and his fellow-workers, for the wonderful work they have accomplished for the students. The new college will make it possible for many other young people to go to college, which would otherwise be impossible, if they had to leave the city. It is impossible for we students to fully realize the great work that has been done. The results can never be comprehended, or counted in dollars or cents, but we hope that, though it is not known, we will make the best of the opportunities given to us through the new college. May it be a living monument of the work these faithful men have done.

RESULTS
The victory was consumated not because of one, but many working together. Over twenty five hundred did their part by subscribing. Many of the gifts were small but accompanied by the “fervent, effectual prayer of the righteous which availeth much.” These smaller givers who gave sacrificially in many instances furnished a large portion of the inspiration for success. On Gleaning Sunday a host of friends lifted mightily and the aggregate of their gifts sent the movement well on to victory.

In the last three days of the Development, a large number of Tacoma citizens united in pushing the Campaign well over the goal line.
The success of the enterprise was due to the united co-operation of the many rather than the conspicuous work of the few. However, all unite in saying that the chief element in the success was the inspiration radiated from that optimistic man of faith who years ago recognized the opportunities and possibilities of the College of Puget Sound, its President, Edward H. Todd.

Music the fiercest grief can charm,
And fate's severest rage disarm;
Music can soften pain to ease,
And make despair and madness please;
Our joys below it can improve,
And antedate the bliss above.

—Pope.

Mrs. Gulick just came to us this year, but this poem shows the attitude we have when we enter her classes and hear musical laughter. We may have pain and despair in the morning when we arrive at school, but as we leave her classes we are all smiling and our pains are eased, and our despair is pleased.

Mrs. Gulick is a friend to all, and a friend in need. It is thought that professors are one-sided, but this word is obsolete in her dictionary.

And last but not least, we enjoy her chapel talks and especially those of her life in Europe.

Senior Class History

'Tis no proud boast when we do claim
That we're deserving of praise and fame.
When we as Freshmen entered here
—This dear old school we hold so dear—
We won the scrap from the Soph'mores proud
And loud were we praised by all the crowd.
Not only this but many more
Were victories for us in store.
We won the Glee with grace and ease
And forced our rivals to their knees.
Yet in Freshman days our social life
Was not neglected for friendly strife.

Gladly we came for our Sophomore year
And knew there was nothing for us to fear.
We won the scrap and the Glee again.
And feted the Freshman maids and men.
At a Japanese party most cleverly planned,
They entertained us with right willing hand.
And so thru the year with lessons and all
And picnics and parties, the following Fall
Found us ready and willing a new task to assume.
Into the most jolly Juniors we were to bloom,
And work for the college as best we could
And join for her in brotherhood.

The Annual then our thoughts did claim
And here we also upheld our name.
We put out a year-book of which we're proud
'Tho it meant work and worry our shoulders had bowed.
At May Day Breakfast the Seniors we fed.
'Twas a lovely affair so everyone said.
Then we ushered for them at Commencement affairs
And longingly thought of when we'd be in their chairs.
At campus day and in chapel too
We put on stunts that much applause drew.
So, our third year, the class "two-three"
Stepped bravely forth good Seniors to be.

Our Senior year we had a "Track Meet"
And gave the Juniors a novel treat.
Then came lessons and study and hard tasks until
Our very last year was packed to the fill.
But Sneak Day offered a joyful relief
We had a good time beyond all belief.
Commencement affairs came rapidly then,
Receptions and banquets and breakfasts again.
So now we're leaving our old C. P. S.
And out in the world her teachings we'll test
We'll never forget nor unfaithful be
And we hope she'll remember the class of "two-three."

Senior Farewell

'Tis but another chapter read
   Another Chapter written, too;
Still the Book of Life is open wide
   And volumes yet remain for you.
May echoes from the dimming past
   Recall sweet memories on your way,
And goals of now make dreams anew
   To start you on another day.
Time spent in earnest toil to win
   The mantle that's given to serve
Cannot be torn but from within—
   May never your purpose swerve!
Still greater may your service be,
   Still upward may your purpose climb
Yet you must see what all men see,
   And make the human vision all sublime—
So build the human structure; mark
   For only from the bottom a structure rise.
Let every vestige of the stately peer
   Melt with the life of those who serve Him,
Let mighty mingle with the mere,
   And glowing lights help out the dim.
Let ignorance forstall the follies of the wise,
   Let virtue not become too good for sin;
The Earth must still be sighted from the skies,
   Serve God, and serve where God has been.
Man's soul is greater than the man
   For only man upon the cross was laid,—
Life is the cross of every soul; its demand
   Is not every wretched thing that man has paid.
Be that which searches out and uplifts all
   To the course and courage of a God's intent;
Dignify not, for you are human and may fall,
   But with mankind and its God, remain unbent.
So as the time moves on from sun to sun
   And life and history swells the passing trance,
The soul remains no longer then as one,
   And lives dream out and thru the vast expanse.
Thru all, the man and mind shall learn
   The music of the human heart and soul,
And sympathy and love in all shall yearn
   And pull and lift you to a common goal.
And as the future reaches out to lift
   The mystery that is hidden there,
There is no call for scenes to shift,
   But greater folks to do and dare.
Each day dwells in eternity,
   Each moment counts its store;
You are serving now for whate'er may be
   As God has done before.

—Eldon G. Chuinard.

JUNIOR CLASS HISTORY

In the year of 1920
There flocked to these halls so dear,
A class—large and famous
Of which you soon will hear.

First came the scrap,
Our Freshman warriors brave
Lined up on the campus
The day for us to save.

What do we care that we lost the scrap,
The Sophomores felt our might.
In every thing all through the year,
They learned how we could fight.

Then when we were Sophs
So full of pep were we,
Tho the Freshman won the scrap,
We won out in the Glee.

And now that we are Juniors
Our efforts we shall bend
To edit the Tamanawas
Before the year shall end.

And next year we'll come back
To be the graduating class
Well—of course—that is
If our teachers let us pass.

Anything is possible to a man who knows his end and moves straight for it, and for it alone.

---Scheiner.

A snore is an unfavorable report from headquarters
GREEN, green and more green—green skull caps were in evidence, green bunting dangled from trees, telephone poles, wires and buildings. Green numerals were painted on the walks and various other conspicuous places. Everywhere—green. The Freshmen—class of '26—held sway. It was the "king of the castle", the class supreme. May it ever be thus.

It was back in the fall of 1922 that the class of '26 made its initial bow to the campus life of the College of Puget Sound. That bow was made in much the same fashion as the first-year bow of every other class before it; but '26 proceeded further and made the rest of the classes bow in profuse submission to it. And it all came about by the crushing and heartless defeat of the '25 class by the new '26ers in the annual Soph-Frosh melee.

Straightway, following the opening of school came the election of officers for the green-capped babes. Merril Ginn was elected president, Joyce Glasgow vice-president, Erma Eagan secretary, Clinton Hart treasurer, and Chadwick Christine central board representative. Under this administration came the triumph of the Frosh. The second semester saw the yearlings electing William McKenzie president, Ruth Bitney vice-president, Joyce Hazelton secretary, Allison Wetmore treasurer and Richard Yost sargeant-at-arms. The position of central board representative held over for the entire school year.

The part taken by the '26ers in the athletics of the college might well be termed "the lion's share". On the gridiron, playing first string college football from the Freshman class were, Ralph Brown, Chadwick Christine, John Kelley, Don Wellman and others. Freshmen that received the big "P" for playing the required number of halves on the varsity basketball team were, Joe McArthur, Don Wellman and Aaron Van deVanter.

Out of the five-man varsity wrestling team, three were Freshman, namely; Ralph Brown, Glen Brown, and Pete Carli. In track the '26ers to receive their letter, were Bob Weisel and Don Wellman. It may be stated here that Don Wellman was the first man to receive three athletic varsity letters of the current school year. He won them in football, basketball, and track. The tennis team has at last been picked with Allen Hokenson and Merril Ginn, Freshman, making the team.

Sports were not all. In debate the Freshmen had Ralph Brown, Allison Wetmore, (Debate Manager for next year), Howard Roben, Elizabeth Reynolds and Carol Hovious. Richard Weir and Benjamin Lampher distinguished themselves before the footlights. Another triumph for '26 was the election of Eldon Chuinard as Business Manager of the Trail for next year. He is also president-elect of Amphictyon.

—Preston Wright.

Orators will happen in the best of families.
The Junior Class knows that it voices the sentiment of the entire student body when it takes this opportunity to express its appreciation of Mr. Swayze and his work. We see him toiling from early morning until late at night, in the buildings, or on the campus. We know of no one more faithful to duty, more conscientious in his work, and more willing to be of service. He is an indispensable unit in our college life, and we truly feel that our college would not mean so much to us without him. We sincerely hope that Mr. Swayze will forgive us for our thoughtlessness at times, the many careless things we do that make his work so much harder. May students at C. P. S. in the future be more thoughtful than we have been, and may they learn to love and respect him as much as we have.

Some girls think they are literary because they use a pencil on their eyebrows.

THE Associated Students have had a very successful year, even though they have had many problems and difficulties. Under the administration of the student government with Alfred Matthews as the efficient president, the Student Body has made great strides forward. Perhaps the greatest task accomplished was the establishment of the Honor System.

Miss Lawrence deserves praise for the work she has done as Vice-President.

However, credit is due to every officer and manager for the successful year of 1923.

A word to the wise is useless
Associated Student Body

The history of the Associated Students parallels the history of the college. Like the college the Associated Students as an organization has bent its efforts toward a Greater College, through the expansion and elevation of its activities, and the improvement of its form of government.

The student administration of this year has accomplished much that will give future administrations enlarged opportunities for service to the students and the college. The College of Puget Sound is proud of its athletic record and the future schedules which have been arranged. It is proud too of its enviable forensic record. “The Centre College of the West” is its athletic slogan; “The Bates College of the West” is its forensic slogan. The following sections of this Tamanawas shows what has been done in these activities this year. Dramatic and music activities have their prominent parts in the All-College Play and the Men's and Women's Glee Clubs. All student activities are supervised and directed by the Associated Students.

This year special attention has been given to the reorganization of the form of student government to meet the demands of the growing college. The constitution has been revised, making it more responsive to the needs of the organization. The by-laws have been revised for the sake of stable finances and proper awards. The final touch is the adoption of the Student Judiciary Council which makes the organization of the Associated Students complete.

With this completeness of organization, with the unusually good selection of officers for next year, and with the record of success as assets, no future outlook is more bright than that of the Associated Students of the College of Puget Sound.

Extravagance is the way other fellows spend their money.

Oratory

VINCENT VILLAFUERTE

Oratory holds one of the leading places in the activities of the college, thanks to the very liberal prizes offered by attorney Burmeister for the best oration written and delivered by any student. This is one place where any student, man or women may take part and feel amply repaid for their efforts even though they may not win first place, for the man or women that can write and deliver an oration will find plenty of places in life after leaving college to use this ability.

Orations for the oratorical contest are limited to eighteen hundred words and must be turned in to the judges by March 1. This year only three orations were handed in but what they lacked in number was made up in quality. Those entering orations this year were Vincent Villefuerte, Eugene Avarientos, and Harley Notter.

The contest was held on April 2 in connection with the annual glee contest as in former years. Rev. Rhodes of the First M. E. church, Rev. Warner of Epworth M. E. Church and Mr. Lyness of the News Tribune office acted as judges. The orations were all of excellent composition and great skill was shown in their delivery. The judges found it rather difficult to decide which was best of three such excellent pieces of work but after due consideration and consultation first place was given to Vincent Villafuerte, winner of last year's contest and winner of third place at last year's interstate oratorical contest held at Pullman. Second place was given to Eugene Avarientos.

Mr. Villafuerte won second place in the interstate contest this year.

"Syntax—a tax on whiskey."
Debate

At the beginning of school last fall the Debate Department found that only two of last year’s varsity debaters would be able to take part in debate this year. These two being Stanton Warburton and Dorothy Wallace. In order to arouse interest in debate and oratory and to induce others to try out for the teams a dinner was sponsored by Mrs. Hovious at the Woodstock Apartments on November 17. The Debate manager, Roy Norris acted as toastmaster. Speakers for the evening were:—Mr. Warburton, Mr. Matthews, Mrs. Hovious, Mr. McKee, and Mr. Newbegin. The dinner was a decided success and aroused the desired interest, as was demonstrated by the debate tryouts held a short time later.

The Intersociety debate contest was limited to one debate this year due to the fact that there are only two literary societies in C. P. S. at this time. This contest was held on December 18, 1922 with Harley Notter and Ester Osborne for the Philos holding the affirmative against Marjorie Anderson and Ralph Brown of the Amphictyons on the question, Resolved:—That the United States should cancel the allied war debt. The debate was won by the Philos which gave them possession of the “Newbegin Cup” this year.

The Varsity debates opened with the dual debate with Pacific University on February 23, on the question, Resolved:—That the direct primary system of nominating candidates should be abolished. Ralph Brown and Harold Nelson upheld the Affirmative on the home floor and won a 3 to 0 decision for C. P. S. The Negative team composed of Edwin Newell and Harley Notter went to Forest Grove Oregon but did not fare so well at the hands of the judges as they got the small end of a 2 to 1 decision.

On March 30, for the first time in her history C. P. S. met an Eastern college in debate, when Stanton Warburton and Allison Wetmore took the negative on the question, Resolved that the United States should adopt the parliamentary cabinet system of Government, against the Simpson College (Indianola, Iowa) team that was touring the west. C. P. S. again proved that she produces debaters when we won this debate by a 2 to 1 decision.

The freshman debates were sponsored by the local chapter of the National Pi Kappa Delta Forensic Fraternity. Mr. Matthews acted as coach for the freshmen and Miss Dorothy Wallace arranged the debates.

The Freshmen women debated the Althena Club of the U. of W. April 18, on the ship subsidy question and won by a 2 to 1 decision. The C. P. S. girls were Elizabeth Reynolds and Carol Hovious.

The men debaters of the Freshman class met the Stevens Club of the U. of W. January 12, in a dual debate and won unanimous decisions in both contests. On January 19, three of our Freshmen met a like number from the Badger Club of the U. of W. in a single debate in the chapel and won a unanimous decision from them. The question for both these debates was, Resolved, that the United States should cancel the allied war debt. The men on these teams were; Howard Roben, Harold Nelson, Allison Wetmore and Ralph Brown.

We consider this as one of the most successful years in debate that C. P. S. has had as we only lost one out of six debates.

The old saying, "You can't keep a good man down" certainly is true of the dramatic department this year. E'en tho there were many odds and the fates themselves seemed against us, the dramatic department has had a record breaking year.

The first semester Mrs. Hovious, with her enthusiasm, and the play producing class, formed the nucleus of the dramatic activities at the college.

Two groups of one act plays were presented in the college chapel. The first group was presented November 28, 1922 and included "The Sidhe of Ben Mor." "Neighbors." "Where the Cross is Made."

The second group presented February 9, 1923, offered an interesting and varied program: "Pierrot of the Minute." "The Mirage." "Columbine." "The Trysting Place."

The handicaps which confronted the dramatic class did not in the least dampen their enthusiasm, but rather increased it.

The class made several additions to the equipment of the dramatic department. New curtains and drops were made by the girls in the class, while a new front stage was made by the boys, (no doubt you have missed the squeak, squeak of the old one). An elaborate back drop was purchased to represent the desert scene in "The Mirage."

Coming as a climax to the year's work was "Come Out of the Kitchen" presented in the Tacoma Theatre, May 1, 1923. "Come Out of the Kitchen," was truly worthy of a College Production.

A chapter of the national honorary dramatic fraternity Theta Alpha Phi has been installed at C. P. S. No longer is athletics the big and only activity at C. P. S. Dramatics have come into her own.

"COME OUT OF THE KITCHEN"

STUDENT activity and spirit attained a fitting and overwhelming success when the interest in dramatics culminated in the presentation of the all-college play "Come Out of the Kitchen". It was played to a capacity house at the Tacoma Theatre on May 1st, and marks a new lasting era for this field of activity in C. P. S.

Mrs. Hovious' wonderful work became more appreciated in the well-coached cast she provided for the play. No less credit goes to the loyalty and efforts of the players, who established themselves near the realm of professionalism, and gave to the theatre-goers an entertainment second to no other.

The plot of the play centers around the Daingerfield home, which is being taken care of by the four children while their parents are abroad. Being financially incapacitated, they are forced to rent the house to one, Burton Crane. A stringent clause of the contract provides for white servants—which fail to appear. This necessitates the four children, unknown to Crane, to assume the role of household duties. The characters of the boot boy, the upstairs maid, and the butler allowed many opportunities for the genius of the actors to be evidenced, and they were played to full possibilities. The old negro mammy, the "mushy" Tucker, who had a secret liking for the kitchen, and the Poet, presented the most interesting personages of the play. The leading characters, Olivia and Crane, were plainly masters of the stage throughout. Olivia proved herself an ideal heroine by supplying the possibility of saving the household, and Crane showed himself an equally capable hero by maneuvering the circumstances of the plot till he won her from the position of cook to that of matrimonial possibilities. It is hard to say which was master when the curtain dropped, but both seemed determined to "hang on."

At no time could the history of C. P. S. be written without giving space to mention the success of "Come Out of the Kitchen". Due honor and credit goes to the coach and cast who produced the play, but in no less degree to the students who filled the house. Each captain and each high individual seller must be given credit for the wonderful work, spirit, and results they obtained in the competition of the teams. Up to the last two days, one-half of the expense had not yet been raised; but the spirit and endeavor swept up and on, and when the curtain dropped to mark the success of the play, it also dropped to the tune of three hundred dollars profit in the coffers of the dramatic department.

Such a display of spirit and co-operation on the part of students, and a witnessing of the results, should imbed deeply within the student life and activities the realization that no enterprise is too great, no circumstances are too complex, and no goal too remote to be attained when we will awaken and direct our interests and endeavor. Despite all doubting suggesting circumstances, we dared to set a goal, we determined to work for it, and behold!—we found ourselves far above and beyond it. Only the students' spirit of sacrifice and work made it possible, and if other activities are to be successful in any similar degree, those same loyal workers must be ready to lend themselves to the unfailing scheme of cooperation and determination.

To Mr. Ellis, leading with his successful business methods and result, goes the honor of the brilliant program of establishing the dramatic department on a firm financial basis; to Mrs Hovious goes the praise of directing this wonderful college presentation of interpretive entertainment; to the cast is due the full expression of commendation and thanks for their loyal work; and to the captains and students is owed the final possibility of presenting the play. All in all, it has not only been a success in dramatics, but in a broader and better sense, it has been a happy illustration of the co-operation of the students, of student life and endeavor, and the possibilities thereof. May the spirit and prosperity grow out to every activity, reserving only the just remembrance that the greatest contribution of this year's dramatic department was the presentation of—student body co-operation.

The Annual Glee

The Annual Glee came off with a great amount of enthusiasm on April 2, when each class vied with each other for the best College song. At 8 o'clock Monday evening the chapel was crowded with groups of lively visitors. Before Professor Robbins, who presided, called the assembly to order, the din was terrible.

Owing to some misunderstanding or other the Freshman Class failed to appear with their song, leaving the Sophomores the first to appear, decked out in their class colors. Following the Juniors and Seniors each presented their song, using respective class colors in some unique way. The tension was high when the judges, Professor Clayton Johnson, Professor Paul Schilpp and Mrs. Eleanor Gulick were called out to arrange the decision. By a unanimous vote they awarded the honors to the Sophomore Song which naturally resulted in still greater outburst of glee.

The Sophomore Class Song was entitled "Puget Sound the Best, the Truest," the words were written by Margaret Parkin and the music by Ellena Hart.

The Sophomore Class will have its numerals placed upon the large glee pennant and the song will be learned and sung by the entire student body, being placed also on our large sheet of college songs for all coming student bodies to make their own through the years.

It is the custom to hold the Oratorical Contest in connection with the Annual Glee. Immediately after the presentations of the songs Professor Robbins introduced the contestants. Vincent Villefuerite won the seventy-five dollar prize with his oration "Americanism" which was a fine piece of work; Eugenio Avarientos, another of our Philopino boys won the twenty-five dollar prize on "The Federation of Man". The last speaker was Harley Notter whose subject was "Liberty, Equality, and Fraternity" which he presented in a manner worthy of mention.

Vincent Villafuerte, winner of the first prize, will enter the Tri-State Oratorical Contest competing for higher honors.

Religion is a coat some people wear for looks, which they will shed after they are dead.

"Puget Sound the Best, the Truest"

Puget Sound, the Best, the Truest,
East and West thou hast a name;
Loyal sons and daughters
Far and near have brot thee fame.
Toiling long with earnest effort,
They have helped the world's great needs;
Stirred men's souls to greater action,
Promoted hearts to worthy deeds.

Puget Sound, the Best, the Truest,
High ideals hast thou upheld;
Noble minds and hearts made perfect,
In all things hast thou excelled.
To thy halls a host advances,
Who shall mighty vict'ries gain;
For maroon and white they conquer,
Puget Sound fore'er shall reign.

Chorus:

Puget Sound, the Best, the Truest,
Puget Sound, supreme art thou;
May the God in heaven watch o'er thee,
May He rich rewards endow.

THE College of Puget Sound has a Men's Glee Club a real live functioning body. This is the first time for several years that the college has been able to make a success of this form of school activity, and Professor Schilpp is the man who is responsible for this success. As soon as he arrived on the campus last fall he realized the need of a glee club so he set to work and put it across. At first his group had a different personnel at every practice. Then came the weeding out of voices, until finally the club consisted of sixteen voices.

The Glee Club made its first appearance at the Annual Banquet shortly before Christmas. Calls for outside programs began coming in immediately, so a varsity quartet, reader and violinist was added to the group and it was ready for business. Besides putting on a number of complete programs outside of the city the club and quartet have given special numbers for many of the business men's clubs, churches, and other organizations in the city.

The grand finale of the season will be the home concert which will be given at the First Christian Church, May 16. Before disbanding the glee club will have its first annual "blowout" to celebrate the close of a successful season.

Special recognition is due Miss Willabelle Hoage, the pianist who paved the way to a finer glee club by her excellent accompanying.

The members of the quartet when it was first organized were Charles Mentzer, first tenor; Matthew Thompson, second tenor; Clinton Hart, first bass; Preston Wright, second bass. Near the end of the season Mr. Mentzer withdrew and his place was filled by Melvin Olene.

Those that assisted the Glee Club so ably and deserve praise for their good work were, Miss Hilda Melin, violinist; Miss Joyce Glasgow, reader; Mr. Roy Hallen, soloist.

ORGANIZATIONS
The Otlah Club was organized last spring by a committee of the faculty. The organization is in the nature of a club for the purpose of honoring Senior women who have throughout the three years of their college work maintained an average grade of 90 or above, and have taken at least two years of their college work in the College of Puget Sound. Further qualifications for membership are womanliness and service to the College.

The charter members of the club are Helen Murland, Helen Monroe, Frances Goehring, Myrtle Warren, Florence Maddock, Dorothy Michener, Martha Shackleford, Helen Brace, Margaret Ohlson, Phoebe Nicholson, Ermine Warren and Norma Lawrence, the last three of whom comprise the active membership of the club.

Owing to its small membership the club has not been able to function as it might, but looks forward to a brighter outlook in the near future.

New members of the Otlah Club will be announced at chapel in May and assisted by their very able advisor Miss Balcke, the present members will be hostess at a dinner in honor of the new members.

THROUGH the Y. W. C. A. the girls of the college have been brought together into a single unit, developing especially the spiritual side of the girls' lives. Most important of its activities during the year are the Bean Feed, the Mixer, the Tea at the beginning of the year to get the students acquainted.

The early bird doesn't get much sleep
THE Y. M. C. A. this year has been up against it in more ways than one. We have had three different presidents, which has been a great hindrance. There has been very little interest shown by the men of the College as a whole. Of course there are the faithful few who have stuck by the ship and have helped the organization keep together.

At the election for next year's officers, Percy James was elected president; Eldon Chuinard, vice-president; Kenneth Warner secretary; and Edwin Newell, treasurer.

The Oxford Club

The Oxford Club is composed of young men looking forward to the Christian Ministry, and is a national organization.

The Church is one of the greatest bulwarks of society. Whether it holds that place or not depends to some degree upon its leaders. It is the duty of the Church to engage in the solving of society’s most difficult problems and to administer to its great fundamental needs. As such we believe that the Ministry is one of the greatest challenges coming to the red-blooded, progressive young men of to-day.

We have many things to boast of in respect to our places in the life of the Student Body. It was our Villafuerte and Avariantos who won first and second respectively in the Oratory Contest. When it came to Debate we were not lacking there, having two lettermen, Brown and Nelson. Brown also made a letter in football. Along comes Cruver with his letter which he made in wrestling. It was our “red-headed” Yost that showed the Sophs how to “scrap”. When it came to the All College Banquet they had to call on our “Tom” to be toastmaster. Our social man Ernst saw to it that we had a party and a clam bake in conjunction with the Student Volunteers. Owen our president surely is a busy man. McKee led a few yells for us at the first of the year but his “heart” said no. Two of our men, Norris and Cruver, have made known to us that they have won the greatest victory of their lives and have as a reward the “heart of a lady.” Our advisor Schilpp surely is a real sportsman.

Now, we have done something other than wear a Prince Albert coat and study theology.

The Student Volunteer Band has accomplished much this year. In the hall we have placed a framed map of the world, tracing all our missionaries from C. P. S. to their fields. We have studied this year for our mission study “South America To-Day”.

Among the various outside speakers we have had this year Mr. Chet Hartlett, one of our Student Volunteer Secretaries from New York; who brought us many new ideas and was the source of much inspiration. We also sent a large delegation to the meeting of the Student Volunteer Union of Western Washington, held in Seattle. Here one of our members, Miss Florence Todd was elected Vice-President of the Union.

The Educational Club commenced its organization under the sponsorship of Mr. Gjesdahl but owing to the change in the educational department was not completed until this year, with the assistance of Dr. Weir.

The club was organized for the purpose of promoting professional interest in teaching among all those who intend to take up that line of work upon the completion of their College or Normal courses.

A number of interesting and profitable meetings have been held during the past year. Some of the speakers who have made the meetings valuable are Mr. Fisher, County Superintendent, Dr. Weir and Mr. Slater.

_A worm in an apple is worth two in the mouth_
ONE of the greatest opportunities afforded by the College of Puget Sound for the promotion of scholarship, and character is through its Literary Societies. Most of the students who are participating in student body activities belong to a society, and at these meetings discuss subjects of concern to the welfare of the college.

The Amphictyon Literary Society takes its place in such a work. With its ideals of Leadership, Friendship, and Democracy it tends to contribute constructively both to the college and to the society. In Leadership, many members of the society are active workers and leaders in class, student body, and organization programs. Its Friendship is the most cherished manifestation among the members, and is extended beyond the society. The unreserved spirit of Democracy allows for participation in all activities, joining in Friendship with all enterprises of the school. Despite the strong loyalty to the society, the dominating desire of the members is to be of service to each other and to the college.

The programs of the society, held every Monday night in the Amphic room, are full of friendship, education, and humor. The basic principle of the construction of the programs is to give entertainment and education. A welcome is always extended to visitors, and members of the faculty join in interest in the programs.

Another feature of the Amphictyon Society is its house parties. Four times a year the Society goes to a nearby resort for a week-end vacation. Hiking, canoeing, story telling, housekeeping,—all have a dominating part in the happy and ideal time spent on these trips. Usually a place is chosen that will allow for a boat ride out on the sound. One of the memorable trips was ended up by visiting the Legislature at Olympia.

Amphictyon desires character and talent, and to develop it. Friendship is no deeper and truer, endeavor is no more honest and earnest, ideals are no higher or more sincere, spirit is no more spontaneous or lasting, loyalty and purpose have no better objective, than among the members of The Amphictyon Literary Society.

If a Physician does well the world proclaims it, if he does ill the earth covers it.
As the summer vacation came to a close the college called to us to return again to its halls of learning and activities. We were sorry, to find that many of our members had not found their way back to school. Those of us who did return set out with that old spirit of a true Philo which says "Never say no" and as a result we have had one of the most successful years of our society.

The programs this year have covered a wide range of subjects and have been most pleasing. We were sorry, because of so many school activities, we were not able to keep the Philo tradition of having the contest programs between the boys and girls, but Philo is always willing to give way when the whole student body is needed to put across some school activity.

Debating has found its place as usual in the year's work. Three of our members have been on the Varsity Debate teams this year. Those representing the school of our number in the intercollegiate debates were, Miss Esther Osburne, Mr. Notter and Mr. Newell. Mr. Notter also tried out in the Oratorial Contest.

We have not devoted all our time entirely to our books, for Philo has had a year well filled with rousing social times. Our social life started with the Philo Rust banquet held in the Home Economics room. Then our noted Third Degree, of which the most important part was held at the home of Miss Heleln Brix.

House Party? Well we sure had a House Party Christmas vacation that will be remembered by all that were fortunate enough to go. Towards the first of the second semester a group of girls again surprised Philo with a party after a Monday evening business meeting. This time the party was held at the home of the Misses Gladys and Marion Harding. It was sure a success and enjoyed by all. We this year started a new tradition of having our lunch together at noon which has proven to be popular.

Then there was our Spring House party at The Blue Triangle Lodge at Indian Point. The outstanding features of which were the announcement of the engagement of Dorothy and Roy.

The commencement activities included the Launch ride in May and the Philo Alumni Banquet.

Ere we close our little story we would extend our best wishes to those Seniors and Senior Normals who leave us this year.

The Scientician Club has in accordance with the purpose of scientific research made a study of "The Electron Theory" this year.

The meetings were held in the homes of the Scientician girls who demonstrated their ability to apply science by serving dinners which even Miss Balcke made no attempt to criticize.

The last meeting of the year was held at the home of Miss Ruth Wheeler, at Steilacoom Lake at which time a novel feature was added to the usual program in the form of a surprise for Miss Balcke to whom the club is greatly indebted for the active interest she has taken in the organization during the past two years in the capacity of advisor.

The two social events of the year in conjunction with the Science Club were entered into with characteristic vigor. The Annual Banquet was given at the Tacoma Hotel Stone Room, the Scienticians being hostesses. The Science men were the gallant hosts at the Annual Picnic.

Smile as you go on your way.
FOR the benefit of the uninitiated let us state that the Science Club is an honor organization for men who are specializing in science and is limited to ten members. The purpose of our organization is to foster scientific interest and individual research among our members.

Each month one of our members acts as host at a "scientifically planned" dinner after which we listen to reports from each other on the results of our study in the various fields in which each of us is especially interested. Thus the fund of knowledge is enlarged and broadened by the assimilation in a condensed form of the results of the investigation of the others.

Our research is not limited to literature and laboratories, however, but is intended to inquire into such problems as the period of alimentation and assimilation of a scienticians Banquet at the Tacoma Hotel or the resistance of the water of Puget Sound to passage of a member of the budding scientists or the energy required to hike from Manitou to Custer and prepare a picnic supper.

At the first of the school year, the need for an inter-sorority council was apparent. The Council is composed of two representatives from each sorority. It is the work of this organization to decide on rushing rules and matters of mutual interest to the sororities. The work this year has been very successful considering that we have just been organized. We are looking forward to a still more successful one next year.

May your real friends have champagne, may our sham friends have real pain.

THE Inter-Fraternity Council, as it is organized at present, consists of two representatives from each fraternity. These representatives formulate the joint fraternity policy and the inter-fraternity rules. The purpose of the Council is to settle possible disputes between fraternities and to elevate fraternity life on the campus. The Council is a relatively new organization at the College of Puget Sound and its main activities for this year have been the consideration of pledges and rush rules and the investigation of plans for more permanent organization. Plans have been proposed whereby the Council may aid the individual fraternities in raising their average scholarship, promoting their cooperation with the student government and forming a nucleus for a more vitalized school spirit.

SOCIAL SORORITY

THETA has enjoyed a very happy and prosperous year. There were only eleven of us when the school year began, but with the helpful companionship of our advisor and sponsor, Miss Crapser and Miss Blacke, we were a host. Our girls have been busily engaged in dramatics, Y. W. C. A., debate and other school and class activities, this year, as usual. We missed many of our girls, who did not come back to school this year, but we soon felt at home again, when we pledged eleven new girls although only one of these could be pledged the first semester. We have enjoyed many delightful programs, spreads and parties, besides the more serious work in the classrooms.

We have only one senior this year but we are very proud of her and we all agree that she makes up in quality for any lack of numbers. We reluctantly say goodbye to each other and to all our friends and schoolmates and hope to find them all back at school again in the fall. But before we go let us all join in singing:

"The Thetas all are merry,
They spread their Joy around,
And by this little ditty
They may anywhere be found.
For each Theta is a sister
And as they go along
They make life seem much sweeter
As again they sing their song."

SOCIAL SORORITY

This has been a very delightful and successful year for Lambda Sigma Chi. There has not been one dull moment. How could there be with every spare moment chuck full of house parties, spreads, hikes, auto trips and everything else that goes to make up a good time? The older members will not soon forget that a great deal of the success of the sorority has been due to the wonderful co-operation and loyalty of the new members and pledges.

It has been the endeavor of Lambda Chi to broaden her interests to include all important college activities, and in many of these the sorority is well represented.

As the history of Lambda Chi does not date back earlier than last year it is to the future that we must look rather than to the past. We are justly proud of our beginning but it is our hope that we shall accomplish a great deal more in the future and that each year we shall be able to look back on the preceding year and say that it has been worth while.

We shall miss those of our members who will not be back next year more than we can say. They have our best wishes for their success and happiness in life and may they always cherish and live up to the ideals of Lambda Chi.

Of the many who have worked for the sorority this first year there is none who has labored so diligently, so faithfully and so loyally as our President. She has fully lived up to our ideals as the first President of Lambda Sigma Chi.

Dust—mud with the juice squeezed out.
UCH an eventful year drawing to a close. New Friendships have been made, our field of activities broadened, our scholarship raised and our social outlook ever bright; altogether a successful year.

The first few weeks of each semester have been devoted to rushing, a very strenuous time, but our efforts were well rewarded by the pleasure we take in our new members and pledges. Among our rush events the first semester were several teas at the homes of Dorothy DuBuisson and Dorothy Floberg, a stunt party at the home of Dorothy Floberg, a formal progressive dinner at which the Misses Hoage, Du-Buisson and Fox were hostesses in turn for the various courses, and the last great event, a Hallowe’en Party for which Mrs. R. L. Kelly opened her home. This was followed by our Pledging Breakfast at the home of Miss Edith Thomas.

Rushing for the second semester was not so intensive but just as successful and included informal teas, a theater party and a silhouette party.

We were well represented in school organizations, such as, Scienticians, Otlah Club, Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, Women’s Executive Council, Student Body and Central Board, also the Glee Club.

Our girls are also active in school activities, Willabelle Hoage, Helen Small and Carol Hovious taking part in the All College Play, Carol Hovious and Mildred Harper both on debating teams, while Dorothy Floberg, Helen Brix and Carol Hovious received their letters in Basketball.

We are very proud of our new house and after being out in the cold for the greater part of the first semester, it certainly did seem nice to have a place which we might call home, and to which we can retire and hold secret conclave. Having done most of the work ourselves, garbed in the insignia of the bungalow apron, brandishing a paint brush in one hand and a hammer in the other, we came, we saw, we conquered, and are now better able to appreciate the grey splendor, in the midst of which we now hold sway.

On moving into our house, we have inaugurated a new custom, very popular with all our members, that of dedicating each Friday noon to preparing and eating a charming sweet commonly called fudge, prepared by our ablest cooks.

The custom established last year, of having a Parent-Faculty reception was celebrated this year at the home of Dorothy Floberg.

We are much indebted to Dr. W. W. Mattson, for his kindness in loaning us his beautiful summer home on Vashon Island for our spring house party.

We owe much of our success this year, as well as last to the wise council of Mrs Charles A. Robbins, our dearly beloved honorary member and advisor.

ALUMNAE CHAPTER

The Delta Alpha Gamma Alumae Chapter was organized during the past year. Mrs. Charles Robins, honorary member of the Delta Alpha Gamma sorority is sponsor of the chapter.

Agnes Scott, who was asked by the sorority to organize the alumnae received her B.A. degree from C.P.S., June 1922. She has been teaching school this year at Midland.

Esther Dufall of the senior class, now Mrs. Arnett resides in Seattle with her husband who is a newspaper man.

Mabel Scott, of the Sophomore class, is employed in government work this year but expects to return to C.P.S. next fall.

Helen Miller, of the junior class, is attending Grinnell College in Iowa. She has written several interesting letters telling us of her work there.

Plans are now being carried out for the organization of the “Delta Alpha Gamma Mother’s Club,” whose work and interest will be closely affiliated with that of the alumnae.

The first social affair given by the Alumnae Chapter will be a tea at the home of Agnes Scott, for the sorority members, their mothers and patronesses. The affair will honor the Alpha Gamma members who will be graduated and join the Alumnae in June.

Patrons and Patronesses of the Delta Alpha Gamma Sorority Alumnae Chapter are:

Prof. and Mrs. Charles A. Robbins            Prof. Georgia Reneau
Mrs. Robert Laird McCormick                  Mr. and Mrs. Horace G. Scott

LOOK upon our works, ye mighty, and despair.”

From Mt. Olympus treeless tops to the sands of Death Valley, from Alpha to Omega, the world has called and is calling for men. (Having eaten in restaurants we revel in the Greek.) Certain of our members, the founders, heard the call, and organized our noble order of Sigma Mu Chi for the purpose of concentrating the capabilities of such men.

Our success was marked from the beginning. Filled with the dynamic force with which the lure of life gives, success has smiled where e'er we have turned our hands.

Scholastically, we won the college championship. (Southern.)

Athletics have felt the touch of our trade mark. (X)

Debating has brought forth a Douglas in our midst.

Socially, we are demons with the women. (Translated, means they played the devil with us.) The Lambda Chi’s have honored us with parties that would have made the memorable “fatted calf” draw in its horns and give up the championship. Right royally have they treated us and when prohibition goes out of effect, to them shall we make our first toast.

Our spiritual welfare is far from being neglected for we possess four members of the Oxford Club.

Our programs are our pride. This year we have put on four programs outside the college, which have won commendable criticism, (both internally and externally; for full details ask Percy James.) Talent is developing so rapidly along this line that our stars are forced to adopt stage names such as “Broadway’s Pride”, Merrill Ginn, and “Step-and-a-half”, Ralph Brown.

This year has seen a rather vigorous working program within the fraternity, notwithstanding the fact that it has been internal rather than external. Although Sigma Chi is in its youth and the problems are greater than that of a fraternity well established, with members like Brown and Cruver the men have wrestled with the problems unflinchingly. This year is nearly done and the close of it will be greeted with the cry of the victor for the cornerstone of a new and live organization is resting on a bed of rock; and the dawn of the coming year will see another epoch in the page of school history.

Yea, though our heads are in the air, our feet are on the ground. Genius has marked us for her own and we are going to stay married to her.

All to thy glory C. P. S.
Thy praises do we sing.
We’ll gather heaps of treasures
And prestige to thee bring.
To thee we come and from thee go
As a candle with a light,
As everlasting as the sun
Shall we keep up thy fight.

SOCIAL FRATERNITY

The ten young men who founded Delta Kappa Phi, Wallace Scott, Alfred Matthews, George Monty, Roy Norris, Max Vaughn, Richard Cook, Charles Mentzer, Cleo Osborne, Theodore Raudebaugh, and Edward Amende, submitted their petition to the faculty and trustees on May 30, 1922. This petition was duly granted and when Senator Walter S. Davis and Professor Charles A. Robbins gladly consented to act as advisors the fraternity was launched on its bright career. Wallace Scott became the first president.

The two immediate concerns of the fraternity were a house and pins. Through the efforts of Max Vaughn the house of Mrs. Corey at 617 South Oakes Street was secured, and the pin design submitted by Alfred Matthews was unanimously adopted.

Delta Kappa Phi has been well presented on this and other campuses. “Wally” this year took the lead in the All-University play at the U. of W., where he is a member of Alpha Delta Phi. He is Northwest Tennis Champion. “Al,” old Varsity Debater, coached the Frosh teams this year and didn’t lose a decision. He was full of ideas for the fraternity progress and President of the Associated Students. Roy was Forensic Manager and “Ed”, Business Manager of the Trail. Guy as General Manager carried the responsibilities of Associated Students’ finances. Max was “Chemistry Assistant,” and wrestler; Cleo, wrestler; Upton, track; McKee, yell leader; Raudebaugh, college financial campaign Student Manager; Mentzer, Hunt, Pihl and Warner, singers; Cook at U. of W.; and George—got married.

But Delta Kapps’ lives are not all serious. Chinese dinners, hikes, luncheons, and stunts as well as sports take leading places in their interest.

Where there is a will there is a law-suit to break it.

_Echo—the only thing that can cheat a woman of the last word._

One hundred twenty-nine
It has been said that a college fraternity is a manufacturing plant wherein lifelong friendships are made. That is true, for more bonds of lasting friendship are tied within the narrow confines of the fraternity hall than on all the wide open spaces of the campus combined.

Running a fraternity is no joke, nor an easy matter. Many problems present themselves for solution, and there is an unlimited amount of work. Like true brothers the men are not always in harmony, and the steady hand of a real skipper is often needed to steer the old craft into smooth waters.

But the work and the play and the "family rows" and the administrations of that manly mode of discipline which really warms a fellow up to that degree where he gets into the harness and pulls with the team, after all, only the cement which bind the fellows together.

The close scrutiny of a man's record, the study of his personality, the seriousness with which he is considered before he is bid to membership, are factors which draw the old members of the fraternity to a new one. Any strangeness that a new man may have is worn off long before he gets through the first degree, and then with his heart and mind opened the seriousness and the fraternal appeal of the final degree bring about his entrance into the inner circle.

Once in, the steady evolution of true comradeship begins. That is as it should be. One cannot be an intimate friend of all the world, nor of all the men in the college. It is far better to leave college, having acquired a few real honest-to-goodness friends, than to have formed only casual friendship with many.

Fraternity membership does not prevent the latter, but without the close association provided by fraternity activities it is more difficult to get close to the other fellow, and to know him, and paraphrasing Harry Lauder, "but to know him is to love him."

Sigma Zeta Epsilon has had the best year in its history. Not because it has achieved more in outward successes than in any other previous year, but because of triumphs within the organization. The word "within" is used advisedly. The fraternity ideals are high, and the ideals of the individual members are in keeping with the lofty aims of the group.

Of play and work and comradeship there has been no end. Of plans for next year there is no dirth. But plans are only incidental. The really worthwhile accomplishments of the year are friendships made.

WASHINGTON Alpha chapter was installed at C. P. S. in May 1922. Theta Alpha Phi is a national honorary fraternity of the highest type in the field of dramatics, having chapters in many leading universities and colleges throughout the United States. Eligibility to membership means higher character, dramatic activity and ability which will meet the standards of the National Council, upon recommendation of the local chapter.

The pledges for this year are: Lester Ellis, Juliette Palmer, Harley Notter, Edwin Newell, Helen Small, Willabelle Hoage, Matthew Thompson, Evelyn Ahnquist.

_Umbrella—something never seen after lent._
SINCE the installation of the Washington Alpha Chapter of Pi Kappa Delta on May 27, 1922, the organization has been co-operating wherever possible in the forensic activities of the College of Puget Sound.

The most ambitious undertakings of the fraternity this year were the Freshman debates. One women's and three men's debates were held with debating organizations of the University of Washington, all of which were won by the C. P. S. debaters, three of the decisions being unanimous. Alfred Matthews, president of the chapter, coached the teams, under the general supervision of the college department. Miss Wallace and Mr. Warburton managed these debates, and worked up enthusiasm in the student body in other ways.

Washington Alpha has twenty-one members. There are ten debaters eligible this year. This is indicative of the forensic interest at C. P. S.
Ideals are like stars; you will not succeed in touching them with your hands, but like the seafaring man on the desert of waters, you chose them as your guides, and, following them, you reach your destiny.
—Carl Schurz.
COACH McNeal has had a successful season in all branches of sport. Starting the football season handicapped by having only four lettermen turning out, Coach McNeal developed a team that won a glorious victory over Willamette University.

Coach McNeal showed that he was a basketball coach in that he made a winning team with only two lettermen turning out, of which only one would be in a game at a time.

One of the greatest athletic victories of the season was the winning of the medley Relay race at the University of Washington by Coach McNeal's Relay Team.

Coach McNeal's favorite sport is baseball. He has started the game going in the College this year. It is hoped that in another year he will have a team that will be competing with other Colleges.

The principle parts of a sentence—thirty days on bread and water.

Rain or shine you will find Lin Wright on the job. Lin, for several years, has given his services in assisting the football coaches in their work. He played football for C. P. S. many years ago. His interests are still with the team and his services have been valuable to the coach. Coaching all the men that turn out for the team is more than one man can do. His services have been greatly appreciated. We hope he will be able to help us out next year when we buck up against the U. of W.

Orpheus was always in bad company, for he never was without a lyre.

One hundred thirty-eight
YEAR by year the College of Puget Sound is making that progress in athletics which will distinguish her as the “Center College of the West.” The progress has been consistent with the growth of the College. Year by year the College has been growing and by reviewing past athletic history it will be easily seen that the athletics have kept pace with the College.

This last year a great change has taken place in the character of the teams that represented the College. Strict adherence has been made to the rules which require high scholastic standing of the men playing on the teams. The men on the teams were full fledge C. P. S. students in every sense of the word. Some of the rulings concerning the eligibility of the players were stricter than some of the Conference rulings. The teams that represented C. P. S. were teams that will pass the closest scrutiny of any Athletic Conference in the country.

The athletics of the College are being recognized by the larger Institutions throughout the Northwestern States. They are waking up to the fact that C. P. S. is progressing along these lines. They are now requesting games with the football team. The University of Montana and Montana State College are both wanting to open up athletic relations with the College. The greatest surprise came when the U. of W. scheduled a football game with C. P. S. for next season. They want to make it a traditional game.

A more rounded athletic program has been put across this year than in the past. The College was represented by football, basketball, wrestling, track, baseball and tennis.

The future of C. P. S. athletics is looking bright. A football schedule has been prepared that is creating considerable interest. An intense advertising campaign is being carried on for new students of athletic ability. Many of this year's lettermen have stated their intention of returning to College next fall.

It is the aim of those interested in the athletics of the College to make C. P. S. the “Center College of the West”. To accomplish this purpose means hard work on the part of the Student Body. It can not be accomplished in a year or two. It will take time but it can be done.
THE football season was a success. Regardless of defeats or victories as long as C. P. S. had won from her old time rivals Willamette the season is considered successful.

C. P. S. was confronted with many obstacles at the beginning of the season. There were only four lettermen back on the job. This was not a nucleus for a team. So the first job Coach McNeal had to do was to build a new team with material that never before played Collegiate football. In the face of this Coach McNeal had to put his team before the strong Gonzaga aggregation before the members of the team hardly had time to get acquainted with each other. In spite of the handicap at which the C. P. S. team was placed, they put up a strong fight against the Gonzaga U. It was in this game that Frank Brooks made his debut as a punter.

It seems sad to think that Bellingham had won from us, especially after we defeated Ellensburg and Ellensburg defeated Bellingham. The best exhibition of football that the team displayed was in the Willamette game at Salem. The men worked together as one unit. This was plainly seen when Harry Parker, the C. P. S. famous halfback, carried the ball 95 yards for a touchdown.

The football material in the College this year was the best that has been here for years. C. P. S. had a line that was like a stone wall. When one thinks of it, look who composed the line: Brooks, Swartz, Christine, Wasson, Stone, Kelly and Blevins. Very few gains were made by the opposing teams through these men. Practically all points scored against C. P. S. were made by the forward pass.

Too much credit cannot be given to those men who turned out and acted as targets for the varsity team. This group of men had exceptional ability and they gave the first string men a fight for their positions on the team. These men were Paul Rule, Joe McArthur, Achieson, Carli, Vaughn, Rumbaugh, Van de Vanter and Ralph Grannis. Simpson and Guntle who were injured at the very beginning of the season showed all characteristics of being good varsity material.

Basketball

BY PRESTON WRIGHT

THE College of Puget Sound recently completed the most successful basketball seasons in the history of the college. The team got off to a poor start, but before the schedule was half over the quintet had hit its stride and continue to improve as the season progressed until the final whistle blew in the last game, which was won from the fast-going and well coached Tacoma Elks five.

When Coach McNeal issued his first call for turnouts the array of material that responded to the summons was indeed discouraging. Newell Stone was the only letterman out; and the rest, with the exception of Wilbur Daniels, Bruce Blevins, and Melvin Olene, had never played a college game. Seldom did the turnouts exceed ten players, and with lack of experienced men and no support or encouragement outside the immediate campus sport circle, it can readily be seen the big task the coach had in molding a real team.

In all, ten games were played and of these but two were lost. These two losses were sustained at the start of the season; and in each instance the Loggers had no difficulty in winning the return game. The most impressive score registered was against the 10th Field Artillery of Camp Lewis, the count being 51 to 15, and the closest shave happened to be with the same team, the figures being 15 to 14.

As mentioned before, Newell Stone was the only letterman out at the start of practice, but soon after the first game was played he had to drop out of the college. Frank Brooks, a letterman of two seasons previous, and Jess Mathis, a veteran of one season, were soon added to the fold, which strengthened the team materially after they had gotten down to form. The return of Harry Enochs, former University of Washington freshman performer, after the close of the city league season, was another big improvement to the squad.

An account of the Loggers' 1923 season would not be complete without mention of Joe McArthur. The playing morale of the men can be laid directly to him. At first it looked as if Joe didn't have a chance to make the team, but he turned out steady and improved and took on the college calibre so fast that it was not long before he had clamped onto a guard position for good, and was generally acclaimed the best and most sensational guard in the city. The daredevil spirit he manifested on the football squad was carried out to an even greater extent on the basketball floor.

A button shoe does not speak to a lace shoe because it has no tongue.

What next season will bring, with the return of six lettermen, is not hard to say; and with Coach McNeal capable of starting that season where he left off a couple months ago, things certainly look rosy for the “Centre College of the West” in the hoop sport. Next year the basketball team will actually break into big college and university circles.

Girl’s Basketball

LAST year the girls’ Varsity Basketball team was formed for the first time in many years and the score was fifty-fifty. This year we won every game and hope that next year the girls’ team will get to play a few more than five games and be able to win them all. This is the one and only kind of athletics for girls at C. P. S. and it certainly should be continued,—not only for the good of the school, but for the training which the girls receive. Large universities, as the U. of W., have only class turnouts, but the number turning out for a class event is many more than our Varsity turnout, since we have such a small school. This is a better reason why C. P. S. should continue Girls’ basketball and train women in the only athletic game offered for them.

This year the girls’ basketball team displayed wonderful pep and willingness to play the game. The girls played and won five straight games. The team amassed One Hundred Sixty points to the opponents’ fifty-one. The record is as follows:

Total: 160
Total: 51

The girls who composed the team were as follows:

HELEN BRIX (Captain). Helen, who managed the team as well as being its captain, deserves much praise for the work accomplished this year. She held down the center position on the team in an excellent manner. Helen has always been one of the mainstays of the team. The great record made by the girls is due largely to the persistent manner in which she got the team out to practice. As a player Helen’s record is one that is hard to beat. She plays a hard game from beginning to end.
HELEN KING. Helen played side center. She is a whiz of a player. She comes from the U. of Oregon where she played side center on their varsity team. She was the main sensation and attraction of every one of the girls' games for she certainly can travel with wonderful speed. She was without doubt the fastest player on the team.

DOROTHY FLOBERG. Dorothy is one of our star forwards. This is the second year she has played on the C. P. S. Varsity Team and she certainly can pile up the points on the score. She made 87 out of the 160 points annexed by the team, which speaks for itself.

EVA MEYERS. Eva comes from Duval, a small town in King county. The Duval girls had a wonderful team on which Eva played. Eva is one of the fastest forwards the C. P. S. girls have ever had. She is everywhere at once. The wonderful teamwork displayed by Dorothy and Eva when either of them received the ball was a large factor in winning for C. P. S.

INEZ MICKI. “Mickey” is certainly a peppy little guard. The way she fought for C. P. S. was wonderful. She was always ready to play the game and play it square. She developed into a fast guard during the season and was also a good forward and side-center. She was one of the few players who never missed practice.

MARGERY DAVISSON. Considering that before coming to college Margery only had a few chances to play basketball and that in her Freshman year at High School, she made an enviable record in making the Varsity in her first year at College. By next year she will be a crack player and a great help in forming a new team.

LILLIAN VERNHARDSON. When Lillian played she took the guard position and played exceptionally well. Lillian will not be back next year and we certainly are sorry as we need all the players we now have. She did her best to outplay her opponent and help win the game.

CAROL Hovious. Carol, Although not turning out as regular as some of the others, played enough to win her letter. She was a consistently good player and scrapper. She was on the go every minute and anyone who has ever played against her will surely agree.

JULIETTE PALMER, Gladys Anderson and Edith Thomas were the other girls who turned out, but who did not get to play in the games enough to earn letters. However, Juliette and Gladys deserve special mention for the way they would come out to practice and helped the rest of the team along. Juliette did not miss one single practice. Gladys may perhaps have missed one or two. They certainly deserve letters if anyone does and it is too bad they didn’t get to play the required amount of times.

Wrestling

His is the first year that wrestling has been carried on as a competitive sport at C. P. S. However, the team worked its way to the top and put the College on the map in that respect. Twelve husky "Loggers" turned out for the grappling squad at the first call. Officers were elected and the ball started in earnest. Max Vaughn was elected president with Theo. Upton as vice-president. Denne Schenk and Allison Whetmore were elected on the social committee.

Like any other sport wrestling required hard work and constant training. One period each week was required at the local Y. M. C. A. and the boys responded with eagerness to place themselves on the "Logger" squad of C. P. S.

The first meet, a Triangular meet, between C. P. S.—Stadium High—Y. M. C. A. ended with the college in second place, having received two decisions and two falls. In the second meet the college encountered the Y. M. C. A. grapplers and won eight out of twelve falls. The squad now consisted of five regular weights, namely; 115 pound held by Osborne, 135 pound Glen Brown, 145 pound Lewis Cruver, 158 pound Pete Carli, and heavy weight which was handled by Ralph Brown.

The University of Washington frosh squad was the third opposing team. In this meet the college lost mostly on decisions. Cruver won a fall and decision from his man, Osborne lost by falls, Pete Carli lost by decision and G. Brown, R. Brown lost by decision and fall.

This defeat created a desire for victory, and it came at Raymond Washington, when the "Loggers" rolled their men for three out of five. The final meet was staged at the college gym and the same fives met and the results were C. P. S. 3, Raymond 2. An appreciative feed was given at the close of this match by the Lambda Sigma Chi Sorority.

Those who won their "P" by winning at least one match were, Osborne, Cruver, G. Brown, and R. Brown.

The doctor says, 'Take one pill three times a day'.
Much praise can be given those four men who were responsible for the old college winning the class B relay race in the U. of W. stadium on April 28. The frosh team of the U. of W. gave our men their hardest fight, but grim determination on the part of C. P. S.’s team saved the day. The men who ran were Jess Mathis in the 220 yard, Bob Weisel half mile, Don Wellman 440 yard, and Ted Upton (Captain) ran the three-quarter mile.

Last year track started for the College of Puget Sound when Claude Turley won points in a meet at the U. of W. There was very little interest shown in the sport except for a few days after Turley’s showing. When a few men began to get in shape for the hard work that “Why we haven’t even got a track for them to train on.” But they never failed, and by hard tedious work they rounded themselves into shape.

We are proud of the team and the individuals who make up that teams, because every one should be able to realize what a disadvantage it is to work without the support of the student body and their boosting. Next year we will have many track artists of no mean ability who are here this semester and we will undoubtedly have new men of prominence in that line of activity. The old College of Puget Sound is registered at the University of Washington in athletics, and this means that our old school is in a position of advantage. Let us boost for track next year, and remember that our team won the relay race at class B meet in the U. of W. Stadium.
Baseball

C. P. S. has not attempted to put a baseball team in the field for many moons. When "Mac" arrived last fall he immediately started looking for baseball equipment. Upon being told there was no such equipment he forthwith announced that this spring would see a baseball team at C. P. S., even though the "Loggers" had to play in football uniforms. There have been many discouragements offered athletic officials in the matter of baseball but "Mac" goes merrily along, his usual smile adorning his countenance, informing folks that C. P. S. must have a well rounded program in athletics, without undue stress being given any particular sport.

Baseball is the most pleasing game, from the players standpoint, of all the games in the athletic curriculum, and therefore, argues the coach, is the most easily developed. The season was somewhat late in starting, on account of having to look outside the regular sources for financial backing. We now have a complete outfit, all new, and good for two seasons at the least.

A schedule will be made up of local teams, many of which play better ball than the average college team. This will give the "Loggers" plenty of experience and will keep the expense down to the minimum. Among the men turning out there seems to be material for a fair team. The receiving position will be difficult to fill but with Mathis and Parker willing to tackle the job, even though they be without experience, it is likely that it will be well taken care of. "Horse" Blevins seems to be the most promising hurler, with Cruver and Hageness doing their part. The infield will be picked from Brady, Swayze, Peterson, Daniel, Carli, Hageness and Wellman. These are all promising men but have nothing to offer in the way of experience. In the gardens the contortions will be staged by Enochs, McArthur, Van DeVanter, and Carroll. Just how strong a lineup "Mac" will be able to patch together from these men is to be seen. One thing is certain. That is that C. P. S. will make a definite start in the baseball world this season. This means that next year will see the coach with some experienced men and we confidently expect he will get results.

Football Players

WASSON, RICHARD, Captain CENTER
“Big Dick”
Puyallup

This is Dick’s third year of varsity football. Each year he surpasses the previous one by his phenomenal playing. “Big Dick” is all that his name indicates. Along with his size is speed. The two together make a wonderful combination which is admired by those watching Dick play. Dick filled his position as Captain of the team in a manner that deserves considerable credit. He turned out every night for practice and he was a good, hard worker from the time he would go out on the field until it was time to quit. Dick has the Center position down so pat that it seems as if football was an instinct with him instead of an acquired ability.

BLEVINS, BRUCE, Captain-elect TACKLE
“Horse”
Albany, Ore.

One hundred and ninety-nine pounds of “Horse” muscle composes Bruce Blevins. The line this year was like a stone wall. It was such men as Blevins that composed it. Blevins and Stone were two of the best tackles that C. P. S. has had for many years. Although this is “Horse’s” second year of football, he plays like a veteran. Blevins was a hard worker both in the game and when at practice. It was this quality that won for him the honor of heading the team into battle next year.

A miner sure has a deep knowledge of things.
STONE, NEWELL
“Dearie”
TACKLE
Sunnyside

Stone was to the line exactly what his name indicates. The battering rams of Willamette had their horns broken when they bucked into Newell Stone. His playing indicated that he was an old timer at the game. This was Stone’s third year on the varsity team. He came to C. P. S. from Willamette, and it was with great joy for him to help get revenge from the Willamette team. Newell was handicapped for a time with an injured knee. But even at that, he certainly delivered the goods to dear old C. P. S.

BROOKS, FRANK
“Horse-collar”
END
Tacoma

Frank Brooks is a man of great potential ability. All that is needed is an opportunity to convert this ability into actual practice. A punter was greatly needed for the C. P. S. team. “Mac” finally tried Brooks. The great test came in the Gonzaga game, where Frank displayed his ability as a punter. Brooks played consistently throughout the season. This is Frank’s last year, and he will be greatly missed next season.

Hypocrisy is the homage which vice pays to virtue.

REVELLE, CHARLES
“Rip”
HALFBACK
Tacoma

“This was the common phrase heard in grandstand when Rip carried the ball. Rip was considered our most consistent ground gainer. Rip played the game with all that was in him. He would work hard from beginning to the end, and in a game his work was an inspiration to the team. Rip has that fight in him that makes the world go round.”

DANIELS, WILBUR
“Danny”
QUARTERBACK
Albany, Ore.

“Just because a man is small, it is not a sign that he cannot play football. For Wilbur Daniels proved that a small man can play football and also take a large part in the game. The responsibility of generalship fell to Danny. He handled the big task in an excellent manner. Danny had some mighty stiff problems to solve in some of the games and he solved them to the good of the team. This is Daniels’ last year at C. P. S., and as he graduates we will have to look for a new quarterback for next season.”

The honeymoon is the lull before the storm.
OLENE, MELVIN
FULLBACK
"Vas-o-lene"
Albany, Ore.

Olene is another one of the Albany boys that has made good at C. P. S. in football. He played a hard and fast game throughout the season. Olene had an injured arm, which handicapped him at times. Olene, like Stone, was in his glory when playing against Willamette. For Willamette was an old time rival of his when he was at Albany College.

WELLMAN, DON
END
Tacoma

Don came to us from Tony Bell's team at Lincoln High. He showed the earmarks of Bell's training and he certainly proved to be a wonderful addition to the C. P. S. team. Wellman likes the game for the game's sake, and these are the kind of men that make good football players. Don was out to practice every night and was a good example for many members of the team. Don is still growing and getting heavier. He has a fine build for a football man. Great things are expected of Don on the gridiron, and it is safe to say he will live up to the expectations.

It's a cruel world. A pickpocket is only trying to keep money in circulation.

One hundred fifty-two
Ninety-nine hundredths of the crowd that attended the football games did so because the “big” Harry Parker would be seen in action. Harry was troubled to a great degree with an injured knee which kept him out of the game at times. One of the most thrilling feats pulled off on the gridiron this year was Harry’s 95-yard run for a touchdown in the Willamette game. Some say Harry ran 105 yards, but as we don’t believe in exaggeration, we’ll call it 95. Harry’s willingness to work and his pleasant personality help to keep the morale of the team at its best. Harry has a warm place in the hearts of the C. P. S. students, and it is hoped he will be with us next year.

Chad was another stone in the strong C. P. S. wall. This was Chad’s first year and he made a wonderful showing. Chad had pep and he helped to instill it into the game. Throughout the darkest moments of the game Chad would encourage the men along. He expects to be back next year. At the rate he is now going he will make a whale of a linesman, and we look forward to him cutting wide holes in his opponent’s line.
When Ed presented himself for a uniform the manager had to buy a new complete outfit for him. His shoes were something like No. 12, Jersey size 52, and pants with waist line something like 64. At any rate, Schwarz, with Ralph Grannis, were about the largest men that have turned out in C. P. S. uniforms for a long time. In the St. Martin’s game, it was a common sight to see Ed scatter four or five men away from him at one time like flies. Ed was a hard worker and displayed plenty of football ability.

Ralph came to us as a product from Vancouver High. He is full of pep and perseverance—the qualities that are essential to a good football player. This is Ralph's first year of Varsity football. His record on the team was a good one. By another year or two we should see Ralph shining among the football stars of the “Center College of the West.”

Courtship days are not those ecstatic days, but that ecstatic daze.
KELLEY, JOHN

“Upper-berth Kelley”

John Kelley played a wonderful type of Varsity football, considering that this was his first year of Collegiate athletics. Kelley is a typical looking football player. Part of the time Kelley was playing at the position of Center. Here he showed great accuracy in handling the ball. Coach McNeal predicts a great future for Kelley as a football player.

Tennis

TENNIS was officially introduced into the College last year when Wallace Scott and Salem Nourse met St. Martin’s College. In the contests play C. P. S. proved to be the victor.

This year's tennis was opened up under the management of Ed. Newell. He did splendid work in getting the tournament under way. He tentatively scheduled meets with Pacific Lutheran College and the Seattle College.

As a result of the tournament, Daniels, Hoakenson, Ginn, Minch, Vaughn and Newell were chosen on the tennis teams to represent C. P. S. These men have all been playing a splendid game and it is expected that they will uphold the honors of C. P. S. on the tennis court.

Tennis is fast becoming one of the major sports of college throughout the country. It is hoped that this game will be developed to a greater extent in C. P. S. In another year matches ought to be scheduled with the U. of W. and other institutions of the same calibre.

There is no such thing as the principles of interest. The right kind has no principles.

Why don't they call a right-handed pitcher a northpaw.
Blushing is the color of virtue.
A PART of the athletic program of this year was the establishing of the Training Department. It is the first time anything of this nature was attempted in the College and there were many things to be learned. In the future it is expected to be a vital part in the producing of winning teams for C. P. S.

The Training Department was under the careful supervision of Mr. C. V. Munsey who is a hygienist and Physical Director for the Elks' Lodge. The Chief "Rubber downs" were Harry Enochs and Digby Williams.

The value of this department to the football team is very great. The trainers treat the bruises, Charley horses, skin and other small injuries that happen to the football men in practice or games. When the men come off the field at night they are given a rubbing down. Each man is weighed before getting into uniform and after coming out of the uniform. A careful check is kept on these weights. If any radical changes take place the cause is investigated and corrected. The trainers try as much as possible to look after the general health of each man. When a man turns out for the team he is given a physical examination by a physician. If he has heart or lung trouble he is not allowed to take part in the strenuous games. Dr. Penny was kind in rendering his services for this work. The trainers try to encourage the men to keep in training when it comes to eating, getting their sleep and performing those things that make for good health.

It is claimed that when a man is in good health he stands less chances of injury when on the football field. This year there was not a single man injured in a varsity football game. The doctor bills were very low in comparison to other years. So the fundamental principle of this department is to keep the men in the best of health, so they will be able to give all that is in them for the honor and glory of C. P. S.
A LETTERMAN'S CLUB was organized this year whose membership consists of those men winning letters in athletics. The purpose of the club is to be of an aid in helping to put across athletic programs. Also to help keep a high athletic standard in the College. So far the only work the Club has had time to accomplish is that of recommending to Central Board a suitable standard of awards for the various athletic teams.

The officers of the Club are as follows:
- President .............. Dick Wasson
- Vice-President .......... Don Wellman
- Secretary-Treasurer.... Harry Enochs

What is better than sincerity?

One hundred eighty-four
HUMOR
Deaf mutes are summoned by ringing dumbbells.
LISTEN WORLD
He: "I've got a swell story to tell you. I don't think I ever told it before to you."
She: "Is it really a good story?"
He: "Oh, yes it's a fine one."
She: "Then, you haven't told it before."

THE DECEITFUL AGENT
Agent: "When are you going to pay for that sewing machine I sold you?"
Mrs. Deerie: "Pay for it? Why, you said that in a short time it would pay for itself."

Last winter a woman passenger on an eastern railroad asked the porter why the train had stopped between stations.
"Oh," said Rastus, "the engineer done found a broken rail."
"Well," said the woman, "why stop for that? Do the passenger trains on this road stop to pick up every broken rail they find along the track?"

WHAT'S SCHOOLS FOR ANYHOW
"I am delighted to hear of your success on the school baseball team, Tom," said his aunt, "but you must remember that there are other things in life besides baseball."
"Yes, I know there are," replied the youngster, "but you see, aunt, I'm too light for football or rowing."

"Can anything be worse than to be old and broken?"
"Yes, it's worse to be young and broke."

TO THE WOMEN
A street car is just like a woman
I think you'll not find me wrong;
Let this one go and you'll find out
There'll be another along.
In the wee small hours of the morning
When midnight long has been passed
Here's not so many running around
Oh, no, but they go twice as fast.

BE A BOOSTER EVERYWHERE
If you can't be a pine on the top of the hill,
Be a scrub in the valley, but be
The best little scrub by the side of the hill,
Be a brush if you can't be a tree.
If you can't be the sun, be a star,
But the best little booster wherever you are.

DEANS SPILL THE BEANS
Our beloved profs, Mrs. Gulick and Mr. Henry made the startling announcement that they would be friends in the near future. All the students and the RAIL wish them the best of luck.

FACULTY ANNOUNCE COURSES FOR NEXT YEAR
The following courses are to be scheduled for next years curriculum.
"Catch'em Young and Treat Them Rough."

Prof. Hansom Gravy, "Osculatory Stargazing."
Prof. Kansas Canhewalk Practical Housekeeping and Home Economics.
Prof. Fellintha Brooks Buick "Public Squeaking and Private Sparking."
Prof. Spinach Pluvius "The Theory of Disillusion."
Coach Sob Oatmeal "The Inside Dope."
James our waiter. These attractive studies should induce many people to our school this fall.

PACKED THEATRE YIELDS TO COLLEGE PLAY
"Come Into the Cellar," was successfully played to a crowd of over 25 people exclusive of cast and stage hands last night.
The story deals with a wealthy family living on the plains of Switzerland who being afflicted with smallpox import some servants from Honolulu. Complications arising from an affair between the butler and eldest daughter held the audience in a spirit of compressed suspenders for two spasms.
B. Lanpher in the role of Jane Ellen portrays most vividly a young and innocent girl's idea of petting in the original. J. Palmer as Jefferts brings interest in his tragic insinuations. The gentle languid character of Mr. Randy Weeks was amply filled by C. Hovious.
D. Weir as Mrs. Faulkner demonstrates the curse of motherhood and J. Mathis as the daughter was very spirited. M. Donahue, as Crane portrayed the part...

EDITORIAL
STUDENTS, ATTENTION
We are very often told that when we run out of topics of conversation, the weather is still left to us. What would we do with out the weather? But how little we appreciate it. It, like the poor is always with us. But alas, the weather like the government is always in the wrong. It is never monotonous, at least, not on Puget Sound. But was ever anything so much maligned and misrepresented as that same weather? As for being made the subject of stale jokes, it is unsurpassed. However we hope for the best.

to the uttermost. Sorry to say he has had a police motive served on him for the final love scenes. Araminta, the maid, was cleverly characterized by M. Thompson. Mandy, the negro mammy was taken by E. Newell. Others of the cast were Smithfield, the butler. W. Hoage. Charles by H. Small and Mr Tucker by H. Notter at times. The critics were all unanimous in their condemnation of the play and all praise Mrs. Hovious in said decisions.

SPORTS
"In the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love," so the boys under the excellent leadership of Wilbur Daniels, Sr., turn out hourly for practice in proposing. Girls sports have been curtailed due to the lack of time that is being used to sew upon trousseaux.

Might have been worse Dear Old Party (to returned soldier who had just been issued an artificial leg) "Why, Mr. Lieut. I 'eard as 'ow you'd lost a leg." Lieut.: "Why so I have." D. O. P.: "Oh, well I'm glad to see you ain't lost your foot as well."

Lonesome Mama Blues.

FACULTY
Not His Job
Prof.: "What do you mean by such insolence? Are you in charge of this class?"
Student (humbly): "I know I'm not in charge, sir."
Prof.: "Very well, if you're not in charge, don't try to act like a conceited ass."

Parent: "Who is the laziest boy in your class, son?"
Frosh: "I dunno."
Parent: "I should think you would know. When all the class are industriously working, who is it that sits idle in his seat and watches the rest instead of working himself?"
Prof.: "The prof."

The Faculty conducted an intelligence exam, the following questions being asked:
1. In what state is the capital of Montana located?
2. In what season of the year did George Washington spend the winter at Valley Forge?

POETRY NEEDED
Visitor: "What does the chaplain do here?"
Frosh: "Oh, he gets up in chapel every day, looks over the student body and then prays for the college."

None but the brave go to the fair.

PATRONIZE THE ADVERTISERS.
Money talks, but it does not give itself away.

BOQUETS
Everyone ought to get into hot water at least once a week.

Ed Amende says a kiss is like a bottle of olives. After you get the first one the rest come easy.

Walter Hunt is so dumb he thinks Fly Paper is an aviation periodical.

By the look of Russel's new suit Peg Moore must be trying to keep him in check.

COMEBACKS
When a plumber makes a mistake, he charges twice for it.
When a doctor makes a mistake, he buries it.
When a judge makes a mistake, it becomes a law of the land.
But when an editor makes a mistake.—GOOD-NIGHT.

Margaret says a girl is not a Lemmon just because she makes your lip pucker.

BUGHOUSE FABLE
Dean Henry: "Tomorrow I will take arsenic."

Weather in town, is like a lark in a counting-house out of place and in the way.

Claude Turley likes fresh bread especially Graham.

Poetry is a gift, but most editors won't take it even at that.

'TWAS EVER THUS

The end of the period was drawing near, and the professor was in despair for the class, so he hurled this at them: "I've told you all I know and you don't know anything yet."

—O—

Co-ed: "Dear, you look splendid, to-night."

Ditto: "Really? You're not flattering me?"

Co-ed: "It's true. Why I hardly recognized you."

—O—

"Dog gone these anti-trust movements," said the soph as he glared at the chaperone.

—O—

WHICH ONE

She: "Henry, dear, what is the translation of the motto on the ring you gave me?"

Henry: "Faithful to the Last."

She: "The Last—Henry, how horrid. Why you're always telling me I am the first."

—O—

PROOF POSITIVE

"I know she loves me. Why she came down to the station to see me off."

"Bushwah. She wanted to be sure you were leaving town."

—O—

NO NAMES MENTIONED

"You know, last year the doctor said if I didn't stop smoking I'd be feeble-minded."

"Why, didn't you stop?"

—O—

TIME'S UP

Colonel: "Been livin' heah all yoah life, Sambo?"

Sambo: "Naw suh—not yit."

We'd like to tell the one about the trap but it's too snappy.

—O—

"Did you take a bath, this morning?"

"No, is there one missing?"

—O—

POLITE

Stude: "May I kiss you?"

Co-ed: "You forget yourself."

Stude (confused): "Please, may I kiss you?"

Smile—it won't hurt—honest.
THESE INTELLECTUALS

Prof.: "And now, has anyone of you any questions?"

Brilliant Student: "Yes, sir; what time is it?"

Some of the guys that have the idea that they get by so wonderfully with the wimmen, ought to hear themselves discussed by these same wimmen.

Mrs. Newlywed: "I'll take this pair of pajamas, and charge them, please."

Clerk: "Who are they for?"

Mrs. N. (hotly): "My husband, of course."

We'd like to tell the one about the crude oil, but it isn't refined.

"We were torpedoed and cast on an island on which lived some strange, mad women who had no tongues."

"No tongues? How could they speak?"

"They couldn't. That's what made them mad."

WOULD BE CONSIDERED A TIP NOW

A city man, visiting a small country town, boarded a stage drawn by two dilapidated horses, and found that he had no other currency than a five-dollar bill. This he offered to the driver. The latter took it, looked it over for a minute or so, and then asked, "Which horse do you want?"

THESE BILLS

An old negro who was very ill called in a doctor of his own color. As his advice did not help him, he finally sent for a white doctor. The latter felt his pulse and looked at his tongue.

"Did my black colleague take your temperature?" he asked.

"I don' know f' sure, massa," said the negro doubtfully, "I don' think he lef' me nuffin 'cept mah photograph."

WORTHLESS

Percy Prunes (who has a headache): "Will you give me something for my head?"

Druggist: "No. Wouldn't take it as a gift."

There is much goodness inside the wall of reserve.
SUFFICIENT ENOUGH
Little Tommy Brown was interested in his new little sister.

One day he was peering down upon it while the nurse was singing her to sleep.

"Nurse," he whispered at last, "she's nearly unconscious, isn't she?"

"Yes," nodded the nurse, and continued singing the lullaby.

But Tommy whispered in alarm, "Then don't sing any more, or you'll kill her."

ALSO BALANCE
"What is your favorite book?"
"My bank book; but even that is lacking in interest these days."

REVENGE
"Stop, will ye, Murphy?" cried Pat, as he was being let down into a well that needed repairs. "Oi want to come up again."

"What for?" asked Murphy.

"Never moind," replied Pat; then, when he found himself still being let down, he shouted, "If ye don't stop, Oi'll cut the rope."

FAIR ENOUGH
It was Monday morning. The chapel speaker had arrived at "thirdly". Suddenly he noticed a lad sleeping—and in the front row. "Will you please wake up that boy next to you?" he said in a low tone to a boy sitting beside the sleeper.

The boy replied loudly: "Wake him yourself. You put him to sleep."

ONE IDEA OF COLLEGE
When farmer Basset decided to send his son to college, and selected one exploiting the advantages of its physical training system, he had a plain talk with the president.

"John don't need no setting-up exercises. He sets up too late already, so I'd rather you'd cut them out. But say, if you've got any good getting-up exercises, that are the sure thing, go to it with John."

KEEPING BUSY
Mistress (to butler): "Why is it, Hawkins, every time I come home I find you sleeping?"

Butler: "Well, ma'am, it's this way. I don't like to be doing nothing."

"Was the car crowded, dearie?"
"Crowded? Why say, even the men had to stand."

TWO WOMEN YOU KNOW

There's the one who puts on her street costume, dabs a bit of powder on her nose and sallies forth to shop. She hunts and hunts and h-u-n-t-s. When she arrives back home she is jazzy and jaded—all mussed up.

There's the other, who really has learned the shopping art. She reads the advertisements in her morning Ledger before she starts out. She finds out exactly what she wants and where to get it. Then she goes down town right to the store that has it and comes home fresh as a daisy.

And the moral is: "A Straight Line is the Shortest Distance Between Two Points."

Read the Ledger, Tacoma's only morning and Sunday paper, for store and world news. News features for everyone in the family and the best money can buy.

Stepping up to get her diploma, her graduation frock is certainly in the limelight. Both Mother and Daughter will be concerned in selecting one that will be as pretty as any of the rest, no matter how large the class.

The FROCK—not just another white dress, but the frock for the great occasion. It may be of sheer white voile, or organdie, or of silk crepe de chine, trimmed with dainty laces, ruffles, ribbon sash, and maybe a floral motif at the waistline.

Bang—went the rifles at the maneuvers.
"Oooooo," screamed the pretty girl, a nice decorous, surprised little scream. She stepped backwards into the arms of a young man.
"Oh," she said blushing, "I was frightened by the rifles, I beg your pardon."
"Not at all," replied the young man, "let's go over and watch the artillery."

"C. P. S. needs your 'absolute co-operation'."
“There is no folly equal to that of throwing away friendship in this world where friendship is so rare.”
"Friends are worth more than gold and silver."
“FRIENDS O’ MINE”

“A friend is one who knows your faults but still likes you.”
"In friendship there is nothing pretended, nothing feigned; whatever there is in it is both genuine and spontaneous."
"FRIENDS O’ MINE"

"Much as worthy Friends add to the happiness and value of life, we must in the main depend upon ourselves, and everyone is his own best friend, or worst enemy."

Two hundred twenty
“Seek no friend to make him useful, for that is the negation of friendship; but seek him that you may be useful—for this is of friendship’s essence.”
