Mid the fir trees' pointed splendor,

'Neath the mountain's crest,
Proudly stands our Alma Mater,

Symbol of the best.
College of our western border,

Time and tide may fail,
But our hearts shall love thee ever

C. P. S., all hail!

Dedication

This Tamanawas is dedicated to the eternal pursuit of truth. In the ivy covered buildings and in the college halls of our beloved Alma Mater — the College of Puget Sound — we set our minds, our hearts, and our souls on the eternal quest for truth. Through the teaching of a dedicated faculty we find values which build men's lives and eternal understandings which make deep friendships and sincere appreciation of all the true and great values in the human family.

Therefore, this staff dedicates this book as a constant reminder of memories, friendships and truths which we have learned and loved at our Alma Mater.
Administration

As "Tamanawas" means dedication to the highest, so the College of Puget Sound seeks to make available to her students the best in education. Here awakening youth finds association with great minds, high ideals, and a way of life which creates opportunities for tomorrow. The College of Puget Sound is proud to have an influence in the moulding of the destiny of our age.

CLASSES
Freshmen - 1959

The year was started enthusiastically by the Freshman Class when they won the annual Tug-of-War from the sophomores. Decoration of the Quad and building of the bonfire were their projects for Homecoming, along with selling caramel apples at the Homecoming game.

Their Frosh-Soph dance was successful, and they participated wholeheartedly in the all-class dance and campus day.

The Freshmen worked also to help improve relationships between C.P.S. and P.L.C. They ended their year with the Freshman Class picnic.

Officers were: Bob McGill, president; Gail Boden, vice-president; Darrell Finlay and Joan Patterson, representatives to Central Board, and Don Cooley, sergeant at arms.

Sophomores - 1958

The Sophomore Class was active in many phases of campus life. The Freshman-Sophomore dance, "Dribble Drag," was a highlight of the basketball season. Sophomore committees were active and the class was well represented at the April 7th all-school dance. The class held a picnic in May.

The "Sophomore Vigilants" with their armbands were a familiar sight on campus early in the year as they kept the extra-large Freshman Class in hand and enforced the ancient green-beanie tradition. The Sophomore Class decided upon its senior gift before the year was over.

Sophomores in campus activities cannot be overlooked. They competed on athletic squads, starred in the Varsity Show, worked actively in Spurs and Knights, and filled many important committee posts.

It's rosier on the other page—they won! Who's getting tired???
Juniors

The Junior Class climaxed a fine year by finding the seniors soon after the senior sneak started. A week after that they captured the hatchet.

The juniors raised money throughout the year selling refreshments at the movies presented by A.S.C.P.S. Their last project was the Commencement Ball.

The elected officers of the class were Dick Shorten, president; John Louderback, vice-president; Jeanette Wilson, secretary-treasurer; Cecil Bell and Juris Macs, representatives to Central Board; and Phil Raistakka, sergeant-at-arms.

Pin a geranium on your cranium.
This year’s Senior Class has been under the leadership of Chuck Brown, with the assistance of John Hewitt, vice-president; Bev Campbell, secretary-treasurer; Jerry Schick and Clark Olsen, representatives to Central Board; and Millie Bulatao, sergeant-at-arms.

The class of '56 first got the hatchet on Campus Day of their sophomore year.

Seniors Margaret Harris, Ken Stormans and Homecoming Queen Lynn Green (now Mrs. S.) with junior outcast Cécil Bell.

Ed Coy emotes in the Varsity Show.

ACTIVITIES
"... to provide an organization for promotion and control of students' affairs, and to encourage student cooperation in maintaining the standards of the Associated Students of Puget Sound."

Under the able direction of our Student Body President, Chuck Arnold, student government has seen a very successful year. Along with his many activities on campus, Chuck also undertook the job of being (ESCA President) or Evergreen Conference Associated Student President, bringing the Evergreen Conference to our campus for the first time.

Assisting Chuck, were Marjorie Casebier, vice president, better known as "Casey"; Mary Jane Vlahovich, secretary; Gerald Banks, treasurer and Ellery Capen, general manager.
Finance Committee

The Finance Committee is an integral and hard-working committee of Central Board. This committee is composed of the executive officers with the general manager as chairman. All matters concerning finances are referred to this committee.
Convocation

The Convocation Committee arranged the convocation programs at all times. This committee is composed of the president of the college, the president of the ASCP S, two faculty members, and members of the central board.

Publications

The Publications Committee was brought into being the early part of spring semester. This committee consists of the ASCPS Vice President, who acts as chairman; the editors of the Trail and Tamanawas, the Junior and Senior Representatives at Large to Central Board and the ASCPS President who is an ex-officio member.

The function of the committee is chiefly in aiding the editors of the Trail and Tamanawas in the formation of policies.

Student Affairs

All matters concerning matters of policy regarding the campus social activities are directed by the Student Affairs Committee.

The members of this committee consist of the ASCPS President, IFC President, Panhellenic President, a member of the ASCPS appointed by the ASCPS President, and approved by Central Board, and four faculty members appointed by the President of the College.
Rally Committee

Rally Committee was formed in 1948 for the purpose of creating and co-ordinating school spirit on the campus. It is a department of the Associated Student Body with four officers, 14 members and 27 representatives, three from each sorority, fraternity and the Independents. This year "Rally Comm." fostered many activities around the college which stimulated pep and school spirit among the students. Song leaders were added to the pep staff of the school, which added color and talent to the pep rallies and games. Margaret Harris, who organized the song leaders, was elected song queen and the other members of the team included Nancy Quigley, Karen Croteau, Carole Jo Zabel, Eloise Engbreton and Sylvia Crowe.

For the second year Ed Dorn led the cheerleaders as yell king with Sharon Joy, Doug Brown and Myrtle Theis as the other members of the squad. During the year Rally Committee's biggest job was the sponsorship of the Spirit Award, which is a trophy awarded jointly each year to the sorority or independent women and to the fraternity or independent men's group which shows the best active participation and interest in the activities concerning school spirit on the campus.

RALLY COMMITTEE

This year a new policy of "breaking in" underclassmen was initiated by the editor of the Tamanawas. The co-editors of each section were upperclassmen with two or three freshmen assisting each section editor.

The section editors were Administration—Florence Thurber and Margaret McDonough; Classes—Roberta Elson and Karen Croteau; Activities—Sharon Joy and Margaret Johnson; Organizations—Joanne Storer, Madalyn Rathbun and Adele Paul; Sports—Bob Roe and Don Negley; Greeks—Mary Ann Rolfson and Mary Ann Mike. The assistant-to-the-editor was Mary Ann Mika; the artist, Gail Dooley; photographers, Jim Holzworth, Fred Raebel; business manager, Don Nagley; and editor, Karen Mortensen.

Producing an annual requires the efforts of not only staff members but of students engaged in other activities as well. To secure articles and pictures of each organization on campus involves the efforts of people within that particular organization as well as Tamanawas staff members.
Combining headlines, type, and photographs with aspirin tablets and fingernail-chewings, the Trail worked toward more complete coverage of campus events. With Ed Garrison as adviser, Ron Frank edited the campus weekly in the fall, and Terry Schick took over the editor's chores during the spring semester.

Keeping the advertising columns filled and the ledgers in the black was also Schick's concern as he served as business manager both semesters. The task of convincing reporters to turn in stories fell to associate editor Dale Wirsing. Keeping track of the Logger sports scene was sports editor Don Nagley's job. Addressing, stamping and mailing out 200 copies of each Trail was the circulation manager's task, handled by Dave Srail in the fall and Delia Peterson in the spring. Picture-taking chores were divided between Buz Demarest and Fred Rabel.

At the first annual meeting of the Evergreen State Press Association held at Ellensburg in December, Frank was elected director of the organization, and Schick was named public relations director. CPS was chosen as the site of the next ESPA meeting and press clinic, scheduled for next fall.
Sigma Alpha Iota

Sigma Alpha Iota, national professional music honorary for women, was led this past year by Patricia Price, president; Patricia Smith, vice-president; Sally Stark, recording secretary; Mary Jane Hungerford, corresponding secretary Nancy Wagner, chaplain, and Karen Mortensen, editor.

SAI activities for the year included the annual get-acquainted tea in the fall, the "Clara Nygaard Johnson Fireside" after the winter performance of the "Messiah," the Religious Emphasis Week musicale, and the co-sponsoring of the annual Songfest. Also SAI's usher at all music concerts throughout the year as well as sponsoring the American Music Concert each spring.

Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia

To advance the cause of American music; to develop the truest fraternity spirit among its brothers; to foster the mutual welfare and brotherhood of music students; and to encourage loyalty to the alma mater is the purpose of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, the national honorary and professional music fraternity for men at the College of Puget Sound.

To carry out these purposes this year, Sinfonia, in conjunction with Sigma Alpha Iota, gave an American Music Concert, and a program of sacred music. Also, after weekly meetings, Sinfonia gave musical entertainment which individually increased the knowledge of music among its members and the performance ability of the individual.

Officers for the year have been LeRoy Gruver, president; Doug Evans, vice-president; Jim Eliot, treasurer; John Howell, secretary, and Leonard Jacobsen, advisor.
One of the most coveted honors at the College of Puget Sound is membership in the famed Adelphian Concert Choir. In order to secure the smooth blend of voices, the fine clarity and delicate vocal shading for which this choir is justly renowned, Adelphian membership is limited to from 35 to 40 voices. All members are thoroughly screened not only for their musicianship and vocal talent, but also for their ability to work together compatibly through long hours of exhausting and exacting daily rehearsals. Each member has appeared for an audition in the fall and accepted on probation until January. After that time, if a particular member has displayed sufficient ability to maintain the high standards achieved by the choir since the 24 years of its organization, he or she is accepted into full membership in the choir and is permitted to appear with the choir on its annual tour.

Each spring the Adephians tour the West and Northwest. This year they sang a total of 18 concerts, two radio programs and one television show in six western states and traveled a total of 2800 miles.

Choral Society

The CPS Tacoma Choral Society was founded three years ago by Dr. Bruce Rodgers and comprises an average of 85 in membership.

In conjunction with the CPS Symphony they presented the Choral and Finale from “Die Meistersinger,” Handel’s “Messiah”

C. P. S. Symphony

With the competition of this past season, Raymond Vaught marks his tenth anniversary as conductor of the C.P.S.-Tacoma Symphony.

Presented on the program during the year were such works as “Symphony No. 2” by Howard Hanson, “Acadian Songs and Dances” by Virgil Thomson, who is no stranger to C.P.S.; “Russian Easter Overture” by Rimsky Korsakoff and four numbers by American composers featuring the woodwinds of the orchestra.

Soloists during the year were Margaret Myles, faculty member; Violet Eckert, senior student, and Raymond Wheeler, faculty member.

The year was completed with a children’s concert in the spring.
Madrigals

Recognized as one of the outstanding authorities on madrigal singing in the United States, Dr. Rodgers is the founder and director of the College of Puget Sound Madrigal Singers, a group of 10 selected students specializing in the performance of music of the 16th and 17th centuries. In the four short years since their founding, they have been acclaimed as one of the best of such groups on the West Coast. Some members of the Adelphian Concert Choir are also members of the Madrigal Singers.

"To Teach the Art of Speech, Beautiful and Just..." is the motto and aim of Pi Kappa Delta, CPS's national forensics honorary. To that end, the local chapter has directed its efforts this year.

An annual task for Pi Kap is staging of the annual debate kickoff banquet. Featuring Sheila Ryan as toastmistress, the affair was held at the Model Grill in October.

Sponsoring of the CPS Tyro Tournament, an annual event in intercollegiate forensics competition, was another job handled by Pi Kappa Delta. The annual high school debate tournament, the largest west of the Mississippi, is also a Pi Kap responsibility.

Winding up the year for Pi Kappa Delta is the annual picnic at Dr. Battin's home on Fox Island, held for CPS and local high school debaters.

Pi Kap officers for the year were Sheila Ryan, president; Ron Usher, vice-president; Arlene Alexander, secretary-treasurer; Dr. Charles Battin, advisor and corresponding secretary. Dr. Battin is also an officer in the national Pi Kappa Delta organization.

Pi Kappa Delta
Forensics

"Join forensics and see America . . ." might well be the motto of CPS's active forensics squad. Seven CPS debaters competed in two transcontinental tournaments during the year. Spence Stokes and Ron Usher received invitations to West Point Military Academy's national tourney, and Jim Alderdice, Bob Beale, John Kelihers, Bob McGill and John Sherwood competed in the national AFROTC Speech Festival in Pittsburgh, Pa., where they brought another trophy home.

Sherwood and Alderdice, both freshmen, started the season off with a bang by winning the Pacific Coast Championship in junior men's debate at PLC's forensics tournament in November.

Continuing his winning ways, Sherwood captured one first and two second places at Seattle Pacific College's tourney. Taking second places in debate were Alderdice, Usher, Stoakes, Marlene Nelson and Arlene Alexander. McGill placed second in extemporaneous speaking.

Winning five first-place trophies, Logger debaters dominated their own Tyro tournament. Usher and Stoakes captured the debate trophy; Stoakes won extemporaneous, and Usher placed first in senior men's after-dinner speaking. Alderdice was first in impromptu, while Kelther won the trophy in junior men's after-dinner speaking. Bob Lashley was third in oratory, and Misses Alexander and Nelson tied for third in women's debate.

Choral Readers

Now in its 16th year at the College of Puget Sound, the Choral Readers once again have presented a year of fine work.

Their first undertaking was presenting a Christmas program throughout the city of Tacoma and outlying districts. One of the outstanding features was the beautiful Nativity Scene.

For their annual Spring Recital held on February 24, the Choral Readers dramatized "Common Clay" by George M. Cohan, and "The Creation" from "God's Trombones." Also included on the program were "Little Black Sambo" and a "Winter Wonderland" section.

As a fitting climax to a year of hard work, the members of the Choral Readers were invited to perform for the Northwest Conference of Methodist Women held at the First Methodist Church in Olympia.

Martha Pearl Jones directed the group and Don Wolvers assisted her. The leader for the Choral Readers was Jeanette Wilson.
This past year the Campus Playcrafters produced a total of seven plays. The plays included the Homecoming play, "You Can't Take It With You," "A Christmas Carol," the Frosh One-Acts which included "All on a Summer's Day," "The Valiant," and "Russian Salad." The Spring Play was Noel Coward's "Blighte Spirit."

The director was Martha Pearl Jones, Technical Director Don Wolves and the Student Dramatics Manager John Hewitt.
Some of the many activities undertaken by A.W.S. this past year have been the publishing of the Frosh Handbook, Freshman Orientation and the maintenance of a record library. The annual A.W.S. Tolo, entitled "Women's World," was co-chair-manned by Mary Ann Rolfson and Lou Ann Paulsen. In April delegates Iva Housner and Jeanette Wilson traveled to Gonzaga for the annual A.W.S. convention. The highlight of the year, the May Festival, was also an A.W.S. project and it is during the May Festival that tours are conducted for the high school students who are visiting the campus. In the late spring the annual banquet was held and the new Spurs and new members of Otlah were announced.

The officers who guided this organization this past year were: President, Sue Swayne; Vice-President, Iva Housner; Secretary, Elva Straw; Treasurer, Jeanette Wilson; Social Chairman, Mary Ann Rolfson; Publicity Chairman, Sib Enschede; Senior Representatives, Bonnie Jordahl and Millie Bulatao; Junior Representatives Janet Stapleton and Mary Louise Hansen; Sophomore Representatives, Roberta Elson and Alice Swordfeger. Their tireless advisor was Mrs. Doris Bennet.

Religious Emphasis Week

Religious Emphasis Week was begun this year with a musicale sponsored by Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia and Sigma Alpha Iota. The week moved into full swing when the keynote speaker, the Rev. Clarence Forsberg addressed Tuesday’s convocation. His subject was “The Man in the Gray Flannel Suit.”

The week was planned around the theme, “In Our Hands” and involved the efforts of more than 150 students. Cochairmen were Shelly Gerarden and Marjorie Casebier.

The Rev. Forsberg gave subsequent addresses on “Formula for Staying Young” and “Choosing a Major.” An interdorm banquet, morning meditations, informal discussions and study classes were held during the week. Climaxing RE Week was the Religious Leadership Banquet, at which former RE cochairmen Elbe Beamer and Marie Arbabi spoke.

ORGANIZATIONS
Todd Hall

There is more to college life than studying, eating and sleeping. One makes lifelong friends, learns to adjust oneself to various personalities, and experiences unforgettable times. This is accomplished at the men's residence hall. The men are self-governing, setting up their own house rules. Various social activities are planned, including an open house, interdorm banquets, and participation in the intramural athletic program of the college.

Anderson Hall

Life in the dorm, with girls living as one happy family, can be a true college experience for a girl. There is always some excitement bursting forth, if not a cold shower awaiting a newly pinned girl or a birthday party, it just might be another pleasant get-together.

The girls form a Standards Committee to settle all dorm problems. Semester dues cover activities on the social calendar which include inter-dorm banquets, dances, and a spring outing.
Cottage and Kittredge

One of the off-campus living accommodations is called the Cottage, which housed eight to ten girls for the school year. Their house mother is Helen Harper.

Kittredge Hall housed about twelve girls and their house mother is the Dean of Women, Miss Leone Murray. The girls living here have the same hours as the other girls living on campus.

Phi Sigma

Phi Sigma is a national biological honorary society. The Alpha Phi Chapter was founded in February, 1948. Membership is based upon scholastic and research ability with the purpose of the club being to discuss and investigate all phases of biology, especially in the field of research. They carry out projects under the advisoship of Dr. Gordon D. Alcorn.

Commerce

Membership in the Commerce Club is composed of Business Administration and Economics majors. Activities include monthly meetings to study problems of business and industry, a management conference for Tacoma businessmen, and banquets held throughout the year. Speakers prominent in their fields discuss opportunities open to college people in business fields.

Commerce Club. President Chuck Brown, Secretary-Treasurer Bonnie Nold, Vice-President Jerry Skaugset, Advisor Ellery Capen.
The Spurs, the national sophomore women's honorary, have, as in previous years, fulfilled their motto "At Your Service." These girls, chosen for their dependability, participation in college activities, and scholarship during their freshman year, have been busy from registration to commencement.

The girls wearing the white uniform and maroon Spur emblem strive to promote school spirit, support all activities of the student body, and to uphold all traditions of the college.

The Log Chapter of the Intercollegiate Knights has again had a year filled with activities of service to the College of Puget Sound. A major activity undertaken for the first time this year was the complete responsibility for the campus parking situation. As usual, the Chapter was busy with Homecoming activities. They assisted in the annual Beard Growing Contest, ushered for the game and the play, and conducted campus tours. In addition to its many weekly functions, The Log Chapter for the second year edited and published the Log Book under the leadership of Spencer Stoakes and Dale Wirsing.

The aims of the Student Christian Council are to educate the college, to learn good government, the Christian religion and to carry on religious activities on campus. The work on a commission basis, tries to relate the students to local churches and their youth fellowships, each commission is represented on the official council. The group sponsors Religious Life Emphasis Week and morning meditations.

The officers were: president, Bob Kinch; vice-president, Don Cramer; secretary, Shirley Slichter; treasurer, Paul Fitzsimmons. Their advisor was Dr. Magee.

"Every Methodist woman in the university world today, a leader in the church of tomorrow." Keeping the students in contact with the church and at the same time in tie with campus life is the goal of Kappa Phi, the national organization for Methodist and Methodist Preference girls. Officers are: Kathleen Jones, President; Jeanette Wilson, Vice-President; Mary Louise Hansen, Historian and Program Chairman; Millicent Bulatao, Recording Secretary; Margaret Tucker, Corresponding Secretary; Nancy Wagner, Treasurer; Nina Ellington, Chaplain; Sybil Enschede, Art and Invitations Chairman.
Pi Phi Nu

The Home Ec. Club is affiliated with the American Home Economics Association and the Washington State Home Economics Association. It is open to students who are interested in the field of home economics. Presiding officers are Nancy Wagner, president; Iva Housner, vice president; Jean Thore, secretary; and Florence Burns, treasurer.

Home Economics

Home Economics Honorary, organized in 1952, is composed of Home Economics majors and minors who are also active members of the Home Economics Club. The girls are chosen on the basis of leadership, cooperation, professional promise, and citizenship.
Future Teachers

The Future Teachers of America chapter at C.P.S. is sponsored by the National Education Association and the Washington Education Association. Therefore members of F.T.A. are junior members of both professional organizations and receive the publications of both.

This year was C.P.S.'s privilege to be hosts for the annual fall western regional WAFTA conference which was held December 3. The spring western regional WAFTA conference was held April 14 with the statewide W.E.A. conference held April 28.

Occupational Therapy

The purpose of Occupational Therapy Club is to enable the students to become better acquainted with one another, to hear outside speakers, to promote interest in the profession, and to keep up with recent developments in the field.

The activities carried on in the club are: sending Christmas cards to other OT colleges and hospitals affiliated with them; helping majors in this field, and an annual open house in the spring to acquaint new students with OT.
Chemical Society

Once a month the Student Affiliate Chapter of the American Chemical Society is called to order by Donna Lillis, President. Pat Pellegrini is Secretary-Treasurer and the Faculty Advisors are Dr. Philip Fehlandt and Dr. Robert Sprenger.

It is the purpose of this group to promote interest in chemistry in all of its aspects. Speakers from industries and from our faculty and students present outstanding talks throughout the year. Movies, field trips and a joint meeting with St. Martin's and Pacific Lutheran College give the members a picture of the industry today.

Geological Society

As a student chapter of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers, the Geological Society has the purpose of promoting interest in geology and its application to various fields. Meetings include movies and talks by various people in the field of geology. An outstanding speaker this past year was James Moore, district paleontologist for Shell Oil Company. Two informal social functions are held each year. A showcase on the first floor of Howarth Hall is maintained by the Society.
Chinook is a summer and winter recreational club on campus which sponsors activities for all students. Skiing, ice skating, boat cruises, folk dancing, picnics, hiking, fishing, and camping are included in their complete program. They are also sponsors of the Ski King and the intramural ski races on Washington's Birthday.

The membership fee is $2.00 per year, which entitles a person to stay overnight at Deep Creek at a reduced rate.

The officers for this year were: president, Ray Tabor; vice president, David Ernst; secretary, Lou Ann Paulsen. Their advisor was Dr. Robert Sprenger.
Axemen

The Axemen have as their purpose the fostering and directing of the athletic interests of the college and they further strive to uphold the ideals of sportsmanship. This year, under the leadership of Ken Marsolais, president, the Axemen have ushered at ball games, at the Golden Gloves Tournament, and sponsored a sport dance in the spring. Further officers include Bob McGuinnes, vice-president; Marv Manley, secretary; Dale Platt, treasurer, and Bob Mitchell, sergeant-at-arms. Their advisor is Joseph Hemel.
Otlah

One of the highest aspirations of every C.P.S. girl is an invitation, at the conclusion of her junior year, to membership in Otlah, senior women’s scholastic honorary. Active participation in school activities and high scholarships are the main requirements for membership, and the standards of the organization are very similar to the national Mortar Board.

The officers were: Carla Isaacson, president; Nancy Eierman, vice president Marjorie Casebier, secretary; Sue Swayze, treasurer; Kathy Jones, historian. Their advisors were Miss Murray, Dr. Fossum, Mrs. Seward.

Mu Sigma Delta

Mu Sigma Delta is a local scholastic honorary organized in 1929. Application has been made for affiliation with the national Phi Beta Kappa. Membership, open to both men and women who fulfill the requirements, consists of upper classmen and faculty members who have earned a grade point of 3.5 in their junior year or 3.25 in their senior year.

The officers were: Richard D. Smith, president; Willis Carruth, vice president; Helen M. Fossum, recording secretary Philip R. Fehlandt, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Jane Slipp, treasurer.

International Relations Club provides a meeting ground for students both of the United States and other lands. Members are expected to be interested and informed on world affairs and current developments. With the help of other social groups IRC sent needed equipment to Kauala, Greece. The highlight of their activities was the Foreign Dinner at the end of the year.

The officers were: Bruce Berney, president; Gordon Boyes, vice president; Carolyn Solberg, secretary; Leonore Somers, treasurer; Jose Cables, parliamentarian. Their advisors are Dr. Warren Tomlinson and Prof. Christian Miller.

Reserve Officers Training Corps

It was a year of rotations for the Air Force ROTC program at CPS and many new faces appeared and others disappeared at the detachment offices in the fieldhouse. One of the most notable of these newcomers was Lt. Col. Jack W. Lingo, who replaced Maj. Robert C. Owen as Professor of Air Science. Other new members of the detachment staff included: Capt. Marvin Borodkin, activities officer; Capt. Edwin S. Leonard, supply officer; M/Sgt. Warren G. Hood, and M/Sgt. Richard D. Huffman.

One of the first orders of business in the fall semester was the setting up of another year's program of indoctrination flights which brought favorable interest the previous year. Also, the outstanding cadets in the AFROTC program were rewarded with flights in T-33 jet trainers at McChord Air Force Base.

The crack CPS AFROTC drill team, with Cadet Lt. Gary Malstin as commander and Cadet Lt. Col. Ronald Bailey as advisor, prepared for a heavy schedule of performances. They represented both the college and the unit in parades at Wenatchee, Spokane, and Tacoma, as well as at many other public functions.

FOOTBALL
Twelve lettermen reported to Coach John Heinrick as the College of Puget Sound Loggers started the process of getting ready for their season's football opener against Pacific Lutheran.

Boasting a huge line averaging over 200 pounds, but hampered all season by injuries, the Loggers posted a six-won two-loss record, and finished third in Evergreen Conference play.

Rich Dodds, four-year letterman fullback, was the work horse for the Logger offense, lugging the ball 114 times for 484 yards. Freshman Herb Richey and senior Marv Hanley checked in behind Dodds with 263 and 239 yards, respectively.

Mike Cranston and Gary Brines handled the Logger passing, completing 38 tosses for 394 yards. Freshman Cranston also hit for two touchdown passes. Don Parsons was their favorite target, bringing down eight forwards.

End Phil Yant handled most of the punting chores, averaging 35 yards on 16 punts.

Dodds lead the team in scoring with 44 points on seven touchdowns and two points after touchdowns. Richey ended up in second place with five TD's for 30 points.

After the season finished, several maroon and white gridders were honored by selection to various postseason all-star teams. Dodds, tackle Dick Hansen, and guard Bob Mitchell were placed on the Evergreen Conference first team, a repeat performance for Hansen. The same three men were selected for the Little All-Northwest second team.

As in the past few years, the Maroon and White were again handicapped by the absence of that “big man.” This put a big pressure on the Loggers in the closing minutes of many ball games when that tall guy is needed to get control of the ball.

Captain Bob Eliason led the team in scoring with 272 points, followed by Bob Bafus with 190 and Ed Bowman with 185.

At the annual basketball banquet held this year at the Model Grill, five trophies were given out by Coach John Heinrick, honoring efforts for the past season. Eliason won the inspirational award, Erle Tallman for best foul shooter, Bafus for leading the team in rebounding, John Barnett for best defensive player, and freshman Dick Baird for most improved player. Tiny Starre was the main speaker during the evening.

Baseball

This year Coach Joe Hemel was greeted with a crop of newcomers who made the Loggers into one of the strongest teams in CPS history. Besides playing in the Evergreen Conference, they played non-conference games with CWCE and McChord.

The veterans of the squad, Dale Platt, Bob Maguinez, Jack Umbracio, gave Coach Hemel many happy moments. Newcomers Jerry Burke, Chuck Goe, Dick Jarvis and Bob Longe did a great deal to also spur the Logger cause.

Golf

This year the golf team under the direction of Major Jack Haek and Ed Goman, played consistently good golf and proved to be a tough team on the links. In early season play the Loggers lost to the U. of W. while they defeated Oregon State.

Skiing

This year the ski team, under the direction of Dr. Sprenger, participated in all the major college ski meets in the Northwest. Never in easy competition, the ski team always made a good showing.
Tennis

This year, under the coaching of Capt. Marvin Borodkin, the tennis team improved steadily through the season. Although an inexperienced group they played good matches.
Intramural Softball action.

Men's Intramural

This year as usual the men's intramural started off to a busy year with football in September and ending with softball in May. A wide variety of activities were sponsored to keep the male students of the college busy in athletics. To keep everything running smoothly, the intramural cabinet met regularly under the able leadership of Bob Roe.

With the beginning of the new school year, Alpha Phi sorority added twelve new girls to its membership. Their year of varied activities got under way October 10 when the collegiate chapter celebrated Alpha Phi's third birthday with the alumni.

"Song of a Dreamer" set the stage for the pledge dance held in sponsorship with the pledges of Sigma Chi fraternity, and "Winter by Candlelight" was the theme for the annual winter dinner dance held at Lake Wilderness Lodge on December 9.

A very successful spring rush culminated with the pledging of nine girls. The Initiation Banquet was held at the Top of the Ocean. Spring activities included the annual Sigma Chi kidnap breakfast, the Parent's Breakfast, and the spring formal held on May 12.

As their first function of the year, the Chi Omegas journeyed to Lakewood Terrace for the annual pledge dance "Happy Holiday," held in conjunction with the Phi Delta. This marked the beginning of a successful year of activities for the members and the fourteen new pledges of the sorority.

In December the Chi O's held their Christmas dance, "Village Sleighride." This was also held at Lakewood Terrace, and the decorations consisted of sleighs and white branches decorated with snowflakes.

During spring rush, immediately following the end of the semester, Chi Omega gained five new pledges, and in April the University Union Club was the scene of the spring dinner dance. Aside from these activities, the Chi Omegas also enjoyed such functions as house parties, firesides, and fraternity serenades.

With fourteen girls putting on the silver and green pledge pins of Delta Delta Delta, once again the sorority started a year of varied activities.

The first function was the annual Tri Delta-Sigma Nu costume pledge dance, “Charleston Daze.” A few weeks later, the members and pledges celebrated with the alumni members the founding of the sorority at the Founder’s Day Banquet.

With the beginning of the new semester, three more girls joined the ranks of Tri Delta new pledges. And in March the spring supper dance was held. At this time, Dr. Thompson read the Delta Golden Girl Proclamation, which named Carol Johnson as the outstanding senior girl in the sorority.

Other activities such as firesides, the Tri Delta-Sigma Nu Christmas dance, the Pansy Ring Tea and the Senior Farewell Banquet completed a very successful year for Phi Zeta of Delta Delta Delta.

Members and new pledges of Pi Beta Phi began a fun and work-filled year of activities with the pledge dance in the fall. "Down on the Farm" was the theme for the joint Pi Phi-Kappa Sigma dance. This was followed by such activities as coke parties in the room and firesides which were likewise held the second semester.

In the spring the new pledge class joined with the others in a house party and the Scholarship Banquet which provided some interesting times for the Pi Phis. For the banquet the menu was steak, chicken, hamburgers, soup, and mush—served according to grade points. The Mother-Daughter Tea was also held in the spring.

The main function of the year was the annual dinner-dance in March. Lake Wilderness Lodge provided the background setting for decorations of blue flowers and angel hair.

With representatives from each of the four national sororities serving on Panhellenic, this organization functions as the governing board of the sororities at CPS. Panhellenic is also a member of the National Panhellenic Association.

The main job of the organization is the planning of the rushing program for both fall and mid-semester rush. Other activities for this year included the all-sorority pledge reception, giving Christmas gifts to the children at Central School, and co-sponsoring, with Inter-Fraternity Council, the all-Greek Sneak.

Membership in Panhellenic consists of three representatives from each of the sororities — the sorority president, the Panhellenic representative, and the sorority rush chairman. Lynn Green Stormans served as president of the group; Carol Beeken, vice-president; Janet Stapelton, secretary; Ginny Weeks, treasurer. Miss Leone Murray served as advisor, and Mrs. James Wilhelmi assisted her.

In April, Lynn handed the gavel over to Carol Beeken, who will serve as president for the 1956-57 term. The other new officers are Elly Snyder, vice-president Helen Bitcon, secretary Roberta Elson, treasurer.
To promote the interests of the College of Puget Sound and the fraternities on campus, to regulate fraternity rushing, to promote intramural athletics, to raise fraternity scholastic standings, and to handle all matters pertaining to joint fraternity action is the purpose of Inter-Fraternity Council.

Activities for the year included sponsoring the Greek Ball, the high school debate dance, and reviving the tradition of the all-Greek Sneak. This was held in conjunction with Panhellenic. Another one of the main activities of Inter-Fraternity Council is regulating and coordinating the fraternity rushing programs.

Officers during the 1955-56 term were Ray Tabor, president; Juris Macs, vice-president Marv Matson, secretary-treasurer; Bill Kershul, assistant coordinator. New officers for the coming year are Shelly Gerarden, president; Marv Matson, vice-president; Emery Franzen, secretary-treasurer; Dick Shorten, assistant coordinator. Dr. Powell served as advisor for the organization.
As fall began, Kappa Sigma started their season by pledging twenty-nine men. Various work parties followed, which included the annual affair at Deep Creek. Many improvements were made in the fraternity house, under the supervision of Jim DeVore, pledge president, which saw complete re-decoration of the interior.

Social functions sponsored by the fraternity started with the annual Waffle Breakfast in honor of all new sorority pledges. Date firesides were held weekly, and during the Christmas season the Kappa Sigs went caroling to the various homes around the campus. The annual Black and White Dinner Dance climaxed the year's social functions with the coronation of the Stardust Queen.

Sports, activities, and scholarships were the watchword the Phi Delta Theta used in 1955-56. Climaxing the fall whirl of rush functions, seventeen men pledged the fraternity.

The Phi Delts started the year in a newly decorated house; chief improvement was a stair carpet donated by the Mothers' Club.

Highlights of the social calendar were the pledge dance, co-sponsored with the Chi Omega pledges, the winter formal at the Tacoma Athletic Club, and the annual spring dinner dance at Gaffney's Lake Wilderness Lodge. Other important events were the annual Christmas party for underprivileged children, and the March 15 Founder's Day Banquet.

Washington Gamma Chapter of Sigma Alpha Epsilon started the centennial year's activities with an initiation followed by a banquet. The "Lucky Thirteen" pledge class participated enthusiastically in the second annual "We Hate Women Week" helping to make the affair and the dance that terminated it a huge success.

The high points of the year were the Founder's Day Banquet — to honor those men who founded Sigma Alpha Epsilon on March 9, 1856 — and the Violet Sweetheart Ball held in the spring. Firesides, serenades, and the initiation banquet in the spring rounded out a full social calendar; intramural participation, work parties and group church attendance strengthened the bonds of brotherhood for the Sig Alphs.
...and to the lion who will fight, fight, fight...
There were many highlights in the 1955-56 school year for the Sigma Chi's. At Homecoming the Sigs took first place in the spirit awards and second in the house decorations. Throughout the fall and winter there were many varied activities such as the Sigma Chi-Alpha Phi pledge dance, the Christmas party, Big Brother banquet, and firesides.

Once again the Sweetheart Ball, which was held at the Tacoma Country and Golf Club, led this year’s social events. In the spring the fraternity also participated in the district sing at Vancouver, B.C., and the second semester pledge dance.

As the new school year got under way, Sigma Nu Fraternity added twelve new pledges to its membership. This was the beginning of a year of successful activities and events for the group.

The first function of the year was the annual pledge dance held in conjunction with the Tri Deltas. In December the fraternity sponsored the Christmas dance “Rhapsody,” which was held at Brown’s Point Community Center.

The outstanding event for the year for the fraternity was the annual Sigma Nu White Rose Dance held on May 5 at the Chateau. Highlighting the evening was the crowning of the new White Rose Queen. Other activities such as rummage sales, firesides, and the Mothers’ Tea rounded out the rest of the successful year.

Celebration of one hundred years of national fraternity membership was observed this year by the members and pledges of the local Gamma Psi Chapter of Theta Chi. This anniversary celebration and various other social activities in the school year were enjoyed by the group.

The school year began with the completion of a very successful rushing program in which twenty-six men were pledged. Activities which followed this encouraging start were highlighted by the Christmas dance which was held at Lakewood Terrace and the Dream Girl dance held in April. Other social functions included firesides and the pledge dance "Buckboard Bounce."

Independents

With one of the largest groups of members in the history of Indeeds, the Independents of 1955-56 had a very successful year. More than 50 students were in attendance at every meeting.

The initial event on the social calendar was the all-school Sadie Hawkins Day Dance. An enthusiastic membership turned out for the bowling party, which was held for the first time this year. Completing the Indee activities were the Christmas party at Deep Creek, the second annual spring semi-formal dance, "Drift and Dream," and the annual cruise.

The fall officers were: Harvey Denton, president; Margaret Tucker, vice-president; Alice Swerdfeger, secretary; Annette Burk, treasurer.

Officers for the spring term included: Margaret Tucker, president; Mary Louise Hansen, vice-president; Naomi Scruten, secretary; Trueman Tucker, treasurer.

"For a thousand years in thy sight are but as yesterday when it is past, and as a watch in the night." *

This school year that has passed before our eyes, as you and I have glanced through this Tamanawas has meant many things to each of us.

The memories of our student days will tend to fade as the fates play their peculiar fancies upon us; but when names and faces have slipped from minds view, let us remember the spirit of our youth, the forward-looking optimism and the striving toward the mastery of our goals.

*Psalms Verse 90 Line 4
wildlife thrives on tree farms...

Wildlife finds food and shelter in the Pacific Northwest mountain areas dedicated to growing timber as a crop.

Here it takes 80 to 100 years to grow trees to merchantable size for sawlogs. During this time the tree farmer must protect his trees from fire, insects and disease, harvest according to long-range plan, and provide for both natural and artificial reforesting. Virtually all Weyerhaeuser forestlands are in tree farms, managed by skilled foresters.
