Statistics Reveal Enrollment Up For Fall Term

Although late registrants are still being accepted by the registrar's office, the total number of CPS day students at press time stands at 1,142, a 10 per cent increase over last year's fall enrollment, said Richard D. Smith, CPS registrar.

More than 370 freshmen entered CPS this semester. This is a 15 per cent margin over last year's frosh class.

The number of students transferring from other colleges and universities jumped by a large number this semester. The records show that the majority of transfer students came from Pacific Lutheran college and the University of Washington.

Total figures of the many students attending late afternoon and evening classes at the college are not yet available, but the figure is expected to go over the 400 mark.

Last minute program changes by the students are still being smoothed out by staff members in the registrar's office. However, most students have now completed their schedules and classes are well underway.

Bursar Lists Rules for Car Parking

Campus parking stickers are still available, free of charge, at the bursar's office. Every student car that is parked on campus for more than an hour should have a sticker for identification purposes.

Gerard Banks, bursar, stated that the following regulations in regard to campus parking must be observed by the students: (1) Park only in areas where parking space is provided; (2) do not park in areas that would block the flow of traffic; and (3) do not park in spaces provided for administrative and faculty personnel or in specially designated areas for reserved parking such as the quad area in front of Jones hall.

A warning ticket is usually issued for first offenses. Subsequent violations carry a fine of $1 which is assessed against the student's college account.

UTAH USED AS OUTDOOR CLASS BY GEOLOGY PROFESSOR, STUDENTS

Accompanied by four of his geology students, CPS Professor Norman Anderson spent four days in Utah taking part in a field trip during the past summer. The fifth annual affair of its kind, the jaunt was under the auspices of the Inter-Mountain Association of Petroleum Geologists.

This four-day excursion began on the morning of Aug. 25 and was completed four days later. This marked the third year that Anderson has gone on the trip. However, this year was the first time he has taken students along with him.

The trip was primarily for professional geologists, but students were encouraged to attend. Anderson commented that "we were the only school that had students on the trip. They all got a good chance to see what a real live geologist looked like." The stu-

The entrant with the best beard will be judged at a Coke dance at the SUB on Thursday, Oct. 21 and will reign as king of the three-day homecoming celebrations.

Juniors to Picnic At American Lake

The junior class picnic has been scheduled for Saturday afternoon, Oct. 9, according to information released by Dick Thayer, class president. Marian Roberts has been appointed general chairman for the affair.

The outing, which will begin at 1:30, is to be held at American lake. Those desiring transportation are asked to meet at one o'clock in front of the SUB.

Luncheon will be served pot-luck style with everyone, with the exception of the drivers of the cars, providing one dish. Entertainment including softball, volleyball and swimming will be available for those wishing to participate.

Although this is the first year that the junior class has planned such an outing, it is believed that the event will enable the new and old classmates to become better acquainted.

dents who went along with him were Gerald Sweeney, Jack Starkweather, Lawrence Jensen, and Richard Fowler. The trip gave these senior geology majors and their professor a chance to look at some of the outstanding geologic structures in the United States.

They viewed such sights as coal and oil wells, and natural gas and uranium mines. Their trip started in Price, Utah, located 125 miles southeast of Salt Lake City, and ended at Bryce National Park. It was an outdoor classroom affair, with meals consisting of chicken and sirloin steaks.

Anderson's first one or two meetings of his geology club will be to organize and plan the activities and membership of the club for the coming year. Their meetings are held every Wednesday at noon. Further information regarding the club can be obtained from Anderson.

Homecoming to Be King; So Will Male With Longest Beard

Homecoming celebrations honoring the alumni of CPS will be held Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Oct. 21, 22 and 23. Preparations for the many homecoming events which will center around the theme of "All Ashore in '54," are under the direction of Donna Van Winkle and Bob Higley.

The Homecoming queen will be selected from candidates nominated by each sorority and the Independents. The queen, chosen by male members of the student body during convocations Oct. 12 and 14, will be crowned Thursday evening before the first performance of the homecoming play.

The king of homecoming festivities will be chosen from entrants in the beard-growing contest which started Monday. Sorority presidents and queen candidates will judge the entrant who has the most outstanding beard to reign as king. Nancy Wagner and Cecil Bell are co-chairmen for the contest.

Thursday and Friday evenings the homecoming play will be presented in the auditorium at Jones hall. This year's play, "Goodbye My Fancy," is under the direction of Martha Pearl Jones.

Donna Detrich and Sam Glass are working on plans for a coke dance to be held Thursday evening.

Friday afternoon CPS sororities will hold their annual football game. A pep rally preceding Saturday's game will be held Friday.

Campus tours, open house and a Saturday afternoon luncheon highlight the schedule for returning alumni. The three-day activities will be climaxed by a parade, game and dance on Saturday.

Trophies will be awarded for floats, stunts and marching units

WE'RE SORRY, MAJOR

If you've noticed a new airman—with the obvious non-faded spot on his sleeve where more rank formerly appeared—Trail suspects it knows the reason.

Last week the paper received a release from the Air Force's campus ROTC headquarters reporting a Major Jack J. Hack had been assigned to the unit.

That was great, except that the major spells his name Haek.

CPS Students' Wives, Husbands To Receive ASCPS Activity Cards

Wives and husbands of students attending CPS will be entitled to limited ASCPS activity cards, Central Board decided at its meeting last Thursday.

The limited activity cards will cost $2.50 and are on sale at the bursar's office. The holder will be entitled to all ASCPS activities, including free admission to all home games, reduced rates for buses and movies, and the CPS Trail. The holder will not receive the Tamanawas.

Central Board ratified the following appointments:

The student activities committee will consist of Lynn Green, Dick Thayer, Chuck Kruger, Juris Macs and Ron Brown.

Ken Künzel was approved as student advisor to Rally committee.

The student affairs committee will be headed by Chuck Brown.

Bob Burglin was appointed to the position of publicity coordinator.

The senior representative to the Judiciary council will be John Chapman. John Vipond and Evelyn Dodge will represent the junior class. Representing the sophomores will be Bob Kinch, Mike Matern and Sibyl Enchede.

The convocation committee will include Elberta Conklin, Donna

'Goodby, My Fancy' To Be Annual Homecoming Play

Campus Playcrafters of the College of Puget Sound will present "Goodbye, My Fancy," as the annual Homecoming play, announced, Martha Pearl Jones, director of the performance.

A three-act comedy by Fay Kanin, it will be given Oct. 21 and 22. Technical director of the play is Don Wolvers, CPS instructor in speech and dramatics.

"Goodbye, My Fancy," a recent Broadway hit, tells the story of a liberal congresswoman who returns after many wartime experiences to her old school as an honorary visitor. In her effort to acquaint fresh young candidates with the actual horrors of war, complications arise over a documentary movie that is considered harsh and improper by college trustees. The ensuing conflict provides a most amusing story.

Student dramatics manager is Peter Misner, and stage manager is John Hewitt. Elizabeth Register is holder of the book and Jeanette Wilson, Virginia Weeks and Margaret Holm are in charge of properties.

Students taking part in the production include Mary Vlahovich as Ginny Merrill; Lenna Sang as Amelia; Margaret Holm as Clarisse; Ann Drath as Mary Nell; Nancy Eastwood plays the part of Mrs. Shackelford; John Hewitt is First Janitor and John Huston is Second Janitor.

Jim Nelson appears as Telephone Man; Marjorie Casebier as Woody; Sue Swayze as Agatha Reed; Arlette Terrien as Ellen Griswold; Jeannette Wilson as Professor Birdshaw and Mardell Hodges as Jo.

A Three-Fold Purpose . . .

Trail policy this year will be centered around what this page believes are the three goals which a college or university newspaper should strive to achieve if it is to fulfill its obligations to the students and the college. These objectives deal with school spirit, public relations and work in the field of journalism.

Throughout the year, the pages of the Trail will try to capture in printing the true spirit of the college. This can only be accomplished by reporting the events of all campus groups—the students, faculty and administration. These three units, sometimes working harmoniously, sometimes not, reveal the spirit of the college.

Proper college public relations play a vital role in bringing additional students to the campus of CPS. By sending copies of the Trail to Washington state high schools, students at these schools will begin to associate themselves with CPS before they decide what college they will attend.

Finally, the Trail will be a workshop for students planning to make their career in the field of journalism. Only by working on a newspaper can journalism students learn the techniques of newspaper writing and publishing.

If these objectives are reached, this page believes that the Trail will have fulfilled its duty as the official publication of CPS.

On the Right Road . . .

"Man, what's happened to the kids at this campus? School spirit is really booming!"

These exclamations and similar comments could be heard last week as students chatted about the week's activities over cups of coffee at the SUB. For something had happened at CPS of which the upperclassmen could not grasp the significance.

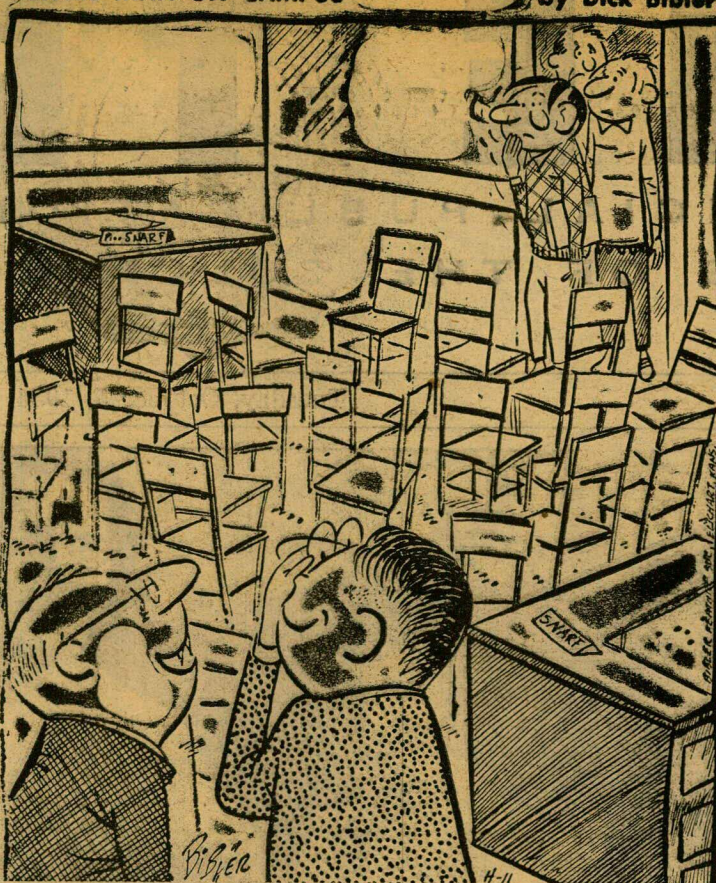

The Indees had a record number of students at their first meeting, a large group journeyed to Deep Creek's open house, and a freshman class valiantly defended their bonfire, only to see it go up in smoke. But what is noteworthy is the fact that this ambitious class built it back up again as soon as the ashes of the old fire began to cool.

Then there was the football game with PLC. Organized by an active Rally committee, CPS students gave their wholehearted support to the Logger gridiron squad. Other groups have reported the same thing—the campus is alive with all kinds of spirit and activity.

Yes, it looks like a good year for the College of Puget Sound.

Choir to Perform At Seattle Church

The CPS Adelpian Concert Choir, under the direction of Dr. Bruce Rodgers, is at work in preparation for the year's coming musical activities. The choir's first concert will be sung on Oct. 21, in the First Methodist church of Seattle, where they will be singing for the World Council of Churches Visitation Team.

Again this year the choir is taking their annual tour which will be from March 24 through April 7. The itinerary for the trip will be planned and announced at a later date.

Members of the choir this year include Millicent Bulato, Delores Crandall, Shirley Dickinson, June Kilgore, Anitra Lowman, Carolyn Newhouse, Janis Parten, Janice Pittman, Rylla Rockey, Bess Rutledge, Laureen Sakugawa, Pat Smith, and Joan Stamey, sopranos.

Tenors are Dale Bailey, Ed Coy, Harvey Denton, Ken Marsolais, Tom Martin, and Ron Newgard.

Basses include Jim Anderson, Arden Chittick, Jim Elliott, Dave Ernst, Doug Evans, Jim Giesy, Bob Kinch, Pete Misner, Frank Niwa and Stebbins Rohrback.

Others are LaVonne Eggert, Maureen Prawitz, Marilyn Sachs, Eleanor Snyder, Sally Stark, Margaret Tucker and Nancy Wagner, altos.

Kappa Phi's Hold Annual Rose Tea

The annual Kappa Phi Rose Tea was held at the residence of CPS president, Dr. R. Franklin Thompson on last Sunday afternoon from 3 to 5. The purpose of the tea was to acquaint the old members with the new Methodist Preference women on campus. The group invites all interested women to attend.

The new officers for this semester are: Anna Mae Morris, president; Sib Enchede, vice president; Rosemary Needham, program chairman; Kathy Jones, chaplain; Shirley Nelson, recording secretary; Jeannette Wilson, corresponding secretary; Joan Warren, treasurer; Ruth Brown, historian; Margie Casebier, membership chairman; Beverly Wilcox, publicity; Pat Smith, song leader; Pat Thompson, art chairman; Elberta Conklin, social chairman, and Nancy Wagner, service chairman.

Rally Comm Picks Dorn, Baker CPS's Yell King and Queen

Ed Dorn and June Baker have been selected by the Rally committee as yell king and yell queen, announced Jerry Hulscher, president. Chosen as duchesses on the yell squad were Sharon Walker and Jean Weigle, and as dukes, Bob Weeks and Marv Matson.

Rally committee is a student organization created to promote and coordinate spirit activities. It is composed of three representatives from each fraternity, sorority, and the Independents, and three elected officers.

The other elected officers are Bonnie Jordahl, vice president, and Sue Ellingson, secretary-treasurer. Senior advisor to the group is Ken Kinzel.

Besides its other activities, Rally committee chooses the cheer leaders, and sponsors pep rally and half-time entertainment. Plans for the year's coming activities are in the process of formation.

Large Indee Group Holds First Meeting

The Independents started the year out with a turnout of 96 students at their first meeting, many of whom were enthusiastic freshmen. This was encouraging as it was the largest group CPS has had in the last few years.

Anyone interested can open the door and check the new improvements on the room, which include a new paint job, new shelves, drapes and lamps. The next item will be a new rug.

Professor and Mrs. Peterson are joining Dr. and Mrs. Phillips and Mr. and Mrs. Goman in advising the group.

The Indee's social calendar is filled. First on the list is the picnic Oct. 2 at Pt. Defiance. Secondly comes Homecoming, for which many plans have been made. Annually sponsored by the Independents is the Sadie Hawkins dance Nov. 6, which is an all-school function.

Just before Christmas vacation, the group will tour the hospitals and rest homes Christmas caroling.

Loggers Whip Eastern; Meet Western Saturday

CPS to Battle WWC Vikings; Beats Eastern

Coach John Heinrick's undefeated football eleven hits the road once again this weekend when they trek to Bellingham to meet the Western Washington college Vikings. The game will count in the Evergreen conference standings.

The Viking team was humiliated by CPS last year 33-0 and undoubtedly Coach Chuck Lappenbusch's gridsters will be out for revenge. The Vikings are always strong and tough to beat in their own lair.

Coach Heinrick's thin squad may be bolstered by the return of two lettermen who were injured in the first week of practice. Guard Gerry Murdock might be ready for the trip and end Shelly Gararden has recovered from a shoulder separation. The status of Co-captains Warren Logan and Ray Boyle still is in doubt.

Joe Stortini will probably start at the quarterback spot for the Loggers. Fleet-footed Dale Meshke and Rich Dodds are certainties at the right and fullback positions respectively. The starting left half spot is wide open with Don Parsons, Dave Groche and Marv Manley battling it out. The hard-running Parsons, freshman from Centralia, has a slight edge at the present.

Dale Meshke plunged into the end zone from one yard out for the first of three CPS scores, and the Loggers went on to blank the Eastern Washington College Savages 18-0.

A 45-yard gallop by Joe Stortini took the ball into the Eastern 11-yard line. Five plays later Meshke bulled his way over for six points.

CPS manufactured a 60-yard drive in the third period with Wes Pruitt, sophomore halfback from Goldendale going the full two yards for the score.

In the final period, end Phil Yant recovered a fumble on the Eastern 15 to set up the third Logger TD. Four plays later Joe Stortini went the final yard on a quarterback sneak.

'TALKIN' IT OVER' ... with Ron Frank

How successful will the College of Puget Sound football team be this fall?

This is the question that most Logger fans are still asking even though two games have been played. The 7-6 win over PLC and the 18-0 blanking of Eastern Saturday night at Cheney give CPS fans a somewhat clearer indication on how the Loggers will fare.

Tremendous improvement in the offensive was shown at Cheney Saturday as the Loggers scored three times. Fleet footed Dale Meshke and other CPS backs began to gain yardage in large chunks. In the PLC game, the offensive was almost completely inept.

Comparative scores do not mean too much to anymore but it should be pointed out that the highly touted Whitworth Pirates tripped Eastern 27-0. This means on a comparison of scores the Loggers and Pirates are fairly close. The Oct. 16 battle here with the Pirates probably will be about the most important game of the year. Coach Jim Lounsberry of the Bucs figures that his Pirates, Central and CPS would battle for the crown.

Coach John Heinrick believes that his Loggers still need lots of work before they'll be able to take on the likes of Whitworth and Central. The steady improvement of the Loggers, however, certainly must be a source of satisfaction to the gray-haired mentor, for he's had several injuries to players which have caused him a great deal of anxiety over his title chances.

The major blow came in the PLC game, when Co-captain Warren Logan injured his knee in the fourth quarter. Logan is now hobbling around on crutches and is out indefinitely. His loss is being felt very deeply at end since letterman Shelly Gararden is also hurt. Gerarden received a shoulder separation in the first week of practice, but the Renton sophomore hopes to be ready to go this week.

One of the reasons for the Loggers' slow starting offensive machine has been the loss of three-year letterman Gerry Murdock. Murdock suffered a head injury in practice. The medics feared that Murdock would have to quit football for good but it seems that the Menlo boy may come back. Feeling much better, the Loggers' great blocking guard may be in the lineup against Western Saturday.

If the CPS eleven gets a break from "old man injury" and continue to show improvement, the Heinrickmen could grab the Evergreen title away from those ambitious Whitworth Pirates.

LOGGER GUARD Bob Mitchell, six-foot, 235-pound lineman, who will probably start at left guard against Western Washington at Bellingham Saturday night. Mitchell has been a starter in both of the Loggers' games. He lettered here in 1951 before entering the service and played his high school ball at Stadium of Tacoma.

'MEETING the LOGGERS'

Dale Meshke

Heading this year's crop of backs is Dale Meshke, 185-pound returning letterman. Meshke, a junior, started off the year in a spectacular fashion by returning the second half kickoff against PLC 79 yards for the only Logger touchdown of the evening. Meshke, a White Swan high school product, is rated one of the top backs in the conference.

Marv Manley

A valuable addition to the roster this fall is Marv Manley, who transferred from Grays Harbor Junior college. This little 155-pound package has the ability to go all the way from any spot on the field. He's one of the fastest men on the squad. Although a newcomer, he moved right into the Heinrick system and nabbed a starting birth.

Rich Dodds

Raring to go this season after being out with a severe knee injury last year is Logger fullback Rich Dodds. Besides his fine blocking and running, Dodds' defensive talent brings rave notices from sideliners. A tremendous all-around performer at Centralia high school, he stands a stocky five feet ten inches, and weighs 170. A real asset to the CPS grid machine.

Don Parsons

Making a strong bid for a starting position, Don Parsons, a freshman, hails from Centralia. This husky 182-pounder gives CPS a solid bench strength.

ROTC Starts Stepped-up Program; Rifle, Drill Teams are Organized

A new program in the ROTC department this year is to get all the cadets into the air with approximately 2,000 combined flying hours, announced Major Robert C. Owen, head of the air force ROTC detachment at CPS.

Last Friday was the first stage of this program when Major Owen and Major Haek took the junior and senior cadet officers up in a C-47. The same day MATS, Capt.

Pack and Lt. Whitaker took 25 sophomores up in a C-54, with the remainder of the class scheduled to fly before the end of October.

This program is designed to orient the cadets in the mechanics of flying and to give them a chance to handle the controls of various airplanes.

Rifle Team

Under the direction of Captain Pack, who said, "we're going to have the champion team of this area," the ROTC rifle team has begun practicing for the year's competition.

Challenges have been accepted from schools as far away as Notre Dame and Cornell with many more being scheduled.

This year the team will use 12 new model 52 Winchester .22's. They will do their shooting at the Point Defiance rifle range.

CPS is trying to get the A.F. R.O.T.C. area championship rifle meet at the Point Defiance range, said Pack.

Drill Team

A new activity this year will be a ROTC drill team. They will be equipped with special gear, including military rifles, white gloves, leggings and helmets. Under the direction of the cadets, the drill team will perform in parades and drills representing CPS.

CPS Students Come From Many Lands

Approximately 20 students have enrolled for CPS fall semester classes from foreign countries, which range from far off Athens, Greece, to nearby British Columbia.

Two students who are from Greece are Peter Simitak, from Athens, and Costas Kouklakis, from Canea. From Italy comes Leonard Laudadio, and from Germany is Patricia Holmes who attended high school in Nuremberg.

A representative from Latvia is Mudite Petersons, and to the northwest of Latvia, from Denmark, comes Elise Ipsen. Another Scandinavian, John Kristoffersen, comes from Oslo, Norway.

Several students coming from the east have enrolled at CPS. Geraldine Frick attended high school in Tokyo, and Raymond Chan comes from Hong Kong, China. Another student from the east is Loreto Jose Manor Cables who formerly lived in the Philippines.

Lenore Somers is attending school here from London, Eng.

There are several students here from British Columbia. Among these include Bette Sheasgreen, Patricia Cann, from Victoria, and Faith Elvin and Shirley Inveen, who hail from Vancouver. From Alberta comes Lois Davies, who went to high school in Calgary. Coming from Coombs, British Columbia is Arlette Terrien.

Versatile CPS Kord-Kings To Travel Throughout State

By JOAN WALSH and VIRGINIA MARUCA

Last year CPS students attending one of the last convocations, witnessed the performance of a most welcome addition to the campus—the Kord-Kings, formerly of Everett and now of CPS.

The novelty quartet was given encore after encore by the student body, and as one of the members, Doug Evans, a sophomore music major, puts it, "we had such a good time and such a good lunch, that we just decided to stay."

This year finds the Kord-Kings, Doug, John Howell, Bob Erickson and Larry Wilson, freshmen, staying at Todd hall. All four have made plans to graduate from CPS where Doug, John and Bob are music majors and Larry is in pre-law.

Doug, as the only sophomore, attended Everett Junior college last fall, but followed the gang to CPS. The boys have a pact that they will "stick together," which includes trying their professional luck back east after graduation and the army.

One of the favorite numbers of the comedy quartet and their audiences is one entitled, "Adobe Hacienda," a number in which they don sombreros and sarapes. Singing is not the only talent of the group, however. All four Kord-Kings play musical instruments, and John lists the violin, organ, piano, trombone, trumpet, piccolo, tuba, French horn, saxophone, clarinet, drums and string bass.

Plan New Program

"CPS's Methodist student group is planning a big and better-than-ever year in the way of Sunday night programs," announced its president, Milt Nelson. The group will meet at 7 p.m. each Sunday at the home of the Rev. Frank Brown, 1017 No. Cedar st.

An interesting and varied program is scheduled for the first semester. It has been printed on the back of the CPS football schedules. For four Sundays preceding the date of the November elections, government and politics will be discussed on the city, state, national and world levels. For each of these meetings a well-known political figure will be the speaker.

Cecil Bell is vice president of MSM and Joan Warren is secretary-treasurer. IFC Issues Ruling On Board Notices

"All campus groups desiring to post notices of any kind on fraternity bulletin boards must first have them cleared through the Inter-Fraternity council," declared Richard Mosier, IFC president.

The purpose for this decision, made by IFC at its meeting at the Theta Chi house last Tuesday, is to channel all information pertaining to fraternities through one central group. The organization meets on the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month.

Other officers include Gerry Murdock, vice president; John Chapman, secretary-treasurer, and Ray Tabor, coordinator.

Representatives to IFC are Bill Medin, Bill Kershul, Kappa Sigma; Frank Johnson, Terry Schick, Phi Delta Theta; Wally Rich, Don Sabol, SAE; Dave Ernst, John Ramsey, Sigma Chi; Chuck Arnold, Mike Matern, Sigma Nu; and Gerald Aldridge, Wade Cokendall, Theta Chi.

The next meeting of IFC will be held at the Kappa Sigma house, Oct. 12 at 8 p.m.
