LOGGERS LOSE TO CAMP LEWIS

25 to 15 Final Score in Game With Sixth Engineers

The Varsity Five lost to the Sixth Engineers at a basket ball game played last Thursday evening at Camp Lewis by a 25 to 15 score.

The game was fast in every way and as the only team from the junior and senior classes of the loggers were about 9 to 7 to win the P. E. team had opportunities in which they shot many baskets but the Engineers, but they could not put the ball where it belongs. The feature of the game was that it was the cleanest game played by C. P. S. this year.

The line up for C. P. S. was as follows: Dan and Brooks forwards, Enocks center; Blame and Ruth center guards. Wellman, invaluable for Brooks in last half.

CHRIST DIFFERENT FROM ANY OTHER MAN

(Ezra D. Martin)

"No person can put his finger on where Christ ended," said Dr. Martin on University Day, Wednesday morning. Christ himself said, "Which of you convinceth man?" No elixir man has been able to answer this question.

There have been some who have claimed that Christ was an impostor or a fraud, but when we consider the power of his argument, the moral and intellectual force of his personality, the benevolent influence of his character, it would be nothing short of a miracle if he were not a transcendent prophet, and his disciples the exemplar of his character of all history.

It is impossible to explain Christ and his influence on ancient and modern times, on art, satirical, and commerce in every other way that he represented God, that he was God in human form.

To live life in the right way one must learn to know Christ as living reality.

WHAT ARE THE DURABLE SATISFACTIONS OF LIFE?

"It is better to be a man disillusioned than a pig disinterested," wrote the opening words of an article given by Dr. Roubo at the College chapel, Friday morning. It is not too high a praise to the other, but it is a bad plan to praise the one and not the man.

Paul, one of the greatest men in history, found some "durable satisfactions in life," and he was the acquisition of a complete and true religion.

No man should take his joy in a sound hand. He should fight to know in whom he has been given, God and with the man who is struggling for the truth and that man will be delivered. If he keeps steadfast there is sometimes more faith in the heart of a man who has been cautioned than in the heart of a man who has been exalted.
