Baseball has grown at Puget Sound during past three years

National Sport owes its success to coach McClure; Loggers won first game in three years

Born out of the last two years of the 1924 baseball season about this time three years ago Coach W. M. MccNeal advanced that a Logger team could be formed. It was done with the idea that the game might be a success. Today there are thirty boys who are taking the field for the Loggers.

The idea referred to the formation of a Loggers team. The first game was played against the present campus guards, a high school team, in a one-sided game. It was won by the Loggers 24-0. Mention of a campus team or a Loggers team can bring a smile to the face of every Puget Sound student, as the idea of campus versus Loggers is too unique to be forgotten or lost.

The first game was lost, but the Loggers were victorious in the second game. The first two games were played on the field at Northwest Field. It took a little time to get the ambition to win down to the campus guards, but when that was done the university consisted of the Loggers team.

A third game was played on the campus, but the Loggers were outmatched as the campus team was made up of some of the campus guards.

The Loggers have defeated the campus guards, won one game and lost one game.

ANOTHER SPORT DEVELOPS

The popularity of basketball has increased in many respects. It is popular with unusual occurrences that are of great importance in the history of the school. One of the most important ones in the formation of a conference for small colleges, in which the College of Puget Sound has entered.

Another event of interest is the opening of relations with the University of Oregon. The two schools showed an interest in football and friendly rivalry and both hope that it may be continued.

The second event was the decision of the Board of Trustees to continue the program for the enlargement of the campus.

The third event was the organization of the Puget Sound in the track team that will meet the University of British Columbia at the Oregon State in June. For several years the athletic department has tried in vain to attract enough men to keep effective track and field and to suit conditions.

OUR GLEE CLUB

Puget Sound's glee club is in top form. Their performance Wednesday evening was worthy of any musical organization. They were well received by the audience.

In the future the Glee Club should be as great a factor in the college credit when it participates in contests against other schools.

From Other College Campuses —
