POOH: WILL BE DISTRIBUTED IN THE NEAR FUTURE; STAFF HAS WORKED HARD TO PREPARE IT, WHICH IS LARGER THAN USUAL

The Tamanaania is published in print and will be ready for distribution in the near future. The staff, headed by William H. Leveson and Ernest Cooley, has worked hard to prepare it, which is larger than usual.

The Tamanaania will be a valuable resource for students and college admins to get an accurate picture of the activities and events occurring on campus. It is an essential read for anyone interested in the college community.

“Morning Watch” Is Well Attended

Services Are Discontinued; C.U.D. Until Next Morning

On Saturday morning, the “Morning Watch” service was held in the college chapel. The service was well attended, with many students and faculty members present. However, due to unforeseen circumstances, the service was discontinued until further notice.

The move was a result of a decision by the C.U.D. (College Union Dispersal) to suspend all services until further notice. Although disappointing, the decision was made in the best interests of the college community.

LOGGERS WIN FROM PACIFIC; SCORE IS 6 TO 2

PUFG HT TEAM LOSES PRACTICE GAME WITH BANGING NINE

Proving again that the last few stories are always the best parts and that the biggest stories are always the most interesting, we now bring you the latest and greatest of our practice games. The challenges of the game are high, but the players are determined to overcome them. The game is filled with excitement and strategy, and the players are working hard to improve their skills. The next game promises to be just as exciting and competitive.

WILL THE TEAM MAKE THE TRIP?

The College of Puget Sound baseball team has won the championship of the Western Division of the Northwest Conference. The squad is one of the closest in the conference and has managed to carry all the way to victory. The Loggers are within striking distance of the Conference pennant.

This year the Maroon and White has good baseball material. However, four members of this outfit leave in June, never to return among students of the college. Bruce Blevins, the best pitcher in the conference, and one whose like will not be seen again, and Frank Grinnell, a member of the graduating class, have already made up their minds to go. But football and track may yet lose the services of one or two others. Their places will be filled by fresh men from the Pacific Northwest Conference. The Loggers are strong and their strength will be further strengthened by the addition of these new men. The Loggers are sure to win.

Two years from now the Loggers will be much, much stronger. They will then have had two years of experience in the conference. The players are working hard to prepare for the future.

LOCAL RACQUET WIELDERS KICKED BY RENTED TENNIS MEN

In College of Puget Sound tennis, the challenge for the next two weeks will be fierce. Our own players are out and we expect a good showing from them. The Loggers are expected to make a strong showing in the conference, and if they do, they will be a force to be reckoned with.

The athletic department is looking for some new faces last week. We hope they find some and that the team will improve.

Jimmy Boze says that some men will be kicked out of the team. Others will be kicked in.

The Athletic Department is looking for some new faces. Last week we predicted that Washington would do something with their new star, but the team has not shown any improvement. The new star has not been able to get on the team, and the team is not improving.

THE PUGET SOUND TRAIL

FOR THE FIRST TIME

With this new issue of the "Pug Sound Trail" the new staff does the honors, preparatory to next year's work. The new staff cannot compare with the old staff of '04, who have no doubt had enough experience on the "Trail" this semester or before to know what the work is like.

The business department of a newspaper is fully as important as any other. It is always possible for the editor to make some good productions, as all who witnessed them will testify. This year's dramatic presentation looks better yet. Last year the plays, "Beau Brummel" and "Captain Applejack" by Puget Sound students, for it deserves the support of every student.

The production of this play has meant a great deal of work to the students, and consequently are superior to high school productions. We are unusually fine productions, as all who witnessed them will testify. This year's dramatic presentation looks better yet. The world is so full of a number of things, I say Mourning Watch (Continued from page 1)

For the number of vacancies noted for the Trail staff this last term put down a few and stick to it. Frederick says maybe, there'll be a list of disappointed girls when the holidays come; we have reason to be friends in mourning.

Vacation to the Rescue

By Wilma Ernsteiner

Just as April showers bring May flowers, (snatched, we do wonder, pure expressions, and much consequent being a growing garden, ready to be watered, at least, a month before the production would have tipped the ink tray for the first time.)

As our President, County President, and County President, we would like to see more fine young girls in the cast of the play. The country girl still has a reason to be interested in the play. And to the same end, what is this? we note another fine young man. We have reason to be proud of our President, County President, and County President.
