The observation of Pioneer Week at the College of Puget Sound is a fitting sequel to Religious Emphasis Week. A definite period of time devoted to this subject is a typical feature for any college, especially one that professes to be Christian. There is no other college in the Northwest that has such a speaker as Dr. Edwards of Oregon as "College Minister" during this week. His addresses and other talks on this subject have been closely and forcefully presented.

For a long time, Dr. Edwards has brought a worthwhile message to the students of Puget Sound not only in his assembly talks each morning but in the little group meeting in the Little Chapel every evening.

I cannot help but believe that these subjects have been wise enough to extend these meetings and to give thought to Dr. Edwards' message of finding of genuine belief in meeting the problems of a young man or woman's life.

As an aside, with the problem of the life I constantly feel my mind to me a knight in shining armor. To win the battle, the young man has to be wise and noble. He must not only be a knight in shining armor, but he must also be able to help the lady he loves. He must be able to protect her from the dangers that may come her way.

George Washington

Washington has been my favorite and my subject of the north in the year of the year. It is because of the Washington that I choose to be a Christian and to live as I have been in the past. The years are the steps that lead us to our goal.

Washington was a man who spoke of his life in the United States. He was a man who loved his country and was a man who led his country to victory.

there is a great amount of good that has been done by the banquet at the College of Puget Sound.
