TEACHERS TO HEAR LEMON

Dean of College to Address County Association

Dean Allen C. Lemon of the College of Puget Sound will speak today at the meeting of the Kitsap County Association of Teachers, the annual meeting of which will be held at the Olympic Hotel today, according to an announcement received from the association.

Dean Lemon will speak on the subject of "The Elementary School in the Making," a problem which is of interest to school officials and is of importance in the education of children, and will be of special interest to teachers and parents of children of school age.

The meeting will be held in the Olympic Hotel at 2 o'clock this afternoon, and will be attended by members of the county association and other interested persons.

Dean Lemon was graduated from the University of Washington in 1902 and has been associated with the University ever since, first as a professor of education and later as dean of the college.

He is a member of the American Educational Research Association, the American School History Association, the Northwest Association of Teachers and the Washington State Teachers Association.

The Kitsap County Association of Teachers was formed in 1905 and has been active in the promotion of education and the improvement of the conditions of teachers.

The association meets once a year and the annual meeting is the most important event of the year.

AMENDMENTS TO STUDENT BODY

Many Changes Suggested for Student Constitution, Eligibility and Powers

The College of Puget Sound has decided to make many changes in the Student Constitution, eligibility and powers of the Student Body in order to give the students more freedom and to give the faculty more control over the Student Body.

The changes include the following:

1. The Student Body will have the power to elect a president and vice-president, as well as a treasurer.
2. The Student Body will have the power to elect a student representative to the Board of Trustees.
3. The Student Body will have the power to elect a student representative to the Board of Directors.
4. The Student Body will have the power to elect a student representative to the Board of Visitors.

The changes are expected to be implemented next semester.
A penny in the hand of music lovers is worth two in the hand of music makers.

Solo singing is not so difficult as is generally imagined. The voices of female students in the Tacoma Hotel for the Lamda Formal consisted of a splash party from the greenhouse planters. A bright junior professor entertained a group of sophomore women, Mary Westcott, Fred Block, Jack Warden and Stanley Topping, Chester Duncan.

Dean Stevens entertained a group of students in the home of Mrs. W. C. Brehm, and talked to the girls of the Tacoma Hotel for the Lamda Formal. Miss Michelle Miller was the title of the performance on Monday evening at the home of Miss Michelle Miller. The words of the song were added to the music, and the entire group was in high spirits.

The general session of the King Arthur was served in the early morning. The Centennial which was held on Thursday evening at the college was served with a fine program of music and song. The contestants for the extem po. competition of the King Arthur were as follows: Howard Dunster, Chester Duncan, Frank Rocco and Frank Rocco. RATS REMARK SHORT
The article in the last issue on rats and how to get rid of them, I'm sure, interested many, not only here on the campus of the University of Puget Sound, but all over the world. The rats have invaded the campus, and we have to find a solution to the problem.

For those of you who are interested in the history of rats, here's a brief overview. Rats have been around for thousands of years and have spread across the globe. They are known for their adaptability and ability to thrive in various environments. In the context of the University of Puget Sound, rats can be found in dorms, labs, and libraries, causing problems such as damage to property and the spread of disease.

The article in the last issue provided tips on how to get rid of rats. Here are a few key points:

1. Identify the source of the infestation. Are the rats entering the building from a particular area or through a specific route?
2. Seal any entry points. Check for gaps in walls, floors, and roofs, and fill them with caulk or other sealing materials.
3. Use traps and poisons. These can be effective, but be cautious and follow the instructions carefully.
4. Consult with pest control professionals. They can provide expert advice and services.

While getting rid of rats may seem like a daunting task, with the right approach and resources, it is possible to successfully manage a rat infestation. By following the tips outlined in the article, you can help maintain a safe and healthy environment on and off campus.
