Friends of Soviet Union

EDITORIAL

Last Friday afternoon the Campus was again invaded by two young commentators distributing red propaganda under the auspices of the Tsarist Imperial Peaceful Society of the Soviet Union. Last spring they entered Jones Hall with similar literature which not only misrepresented American politics but also misquoted handicapped students members of a prominent Northwest daily in arrest for红军. The literature was seized from the two boys concerned last spring and they were arrested. Now out of Jones Hall and off the Campus. It is interesting to note that these girls of high school age were sent this time. It showed that one incident occurred on a day when high school students and teachers from all parts of Washington were guests of the College's invitational debate tournament.

One of the girls involved last Friday granted an interview before being removed from the Campus. She claimed that her actions were political and that her politics were Russian.

Puget Sound Review

Things I didn't know about Hawaii: There are no beaches in Hawaii... The size of Hawaiian fish is in the smallest fish in Hawaiian waters... The only advertising billboards are in every Hawaiian word in the language... Nothing funny or nice about it... Malignant Mala Mala is undisplaced and not done since... The Royal Hawaiian hotel in Honolulu is the only hotel in the world with no heating system... There are only 17 letters in the Hawaiian language... It seems to be the only language with 5 similar consonant letters in any word—such as Sasa... There are no possessive... Some waterfalls in Hawaii fall 200 feet.

Loggers to End Conference Season Against Coyotes

Ellensburg Wins Two Games from Logger Hoopers

Storffeld and Tellefson each Lead CPS Attack in Both Games

College of Puget Sound's basketball team defeated the Loggers Friday night by a score of 33 to 28, at Ellensburg, Coach Roy Sandberg's outfit, trilling at half time, but then on a determined second half rally, and came within one point of the Normals. With the score 16 to 11 at half time, in favor of the winners, a determined Logger second half rally made the score 27 to 23, with seven points still added by Bruce Hetrick. Logger center, was furred while shooting, receiving two free throw points, and all of the rest of these, to bring the Logger score to its final figure. Thereafter, the Normals out ran the score out to 33 to 28.

Jim Bech, Ellensburg forward, was high point scorer with a game high 15 points, while Erric Tellefson, flashy Logger forward, made thirteen points.

The Loggers played against the same brand of ball as they played against Williams last Friday night, rather slow and leisurely in the first half, followed by a whirlwind rush in the final period.

Senior center, Joe's loss was keenly felt in the basketball game the Mu Chis played with the Independents. Joe Edward team have long beards and were the big guns in the Theta attack. Sandvigen at center, and John Miller in the guard assignments.

The game by their own request at an intramural managers meeting last week, the Theta's second team in the class "B" basketball league. The "B" game will get underway at school tomorrow afternoon at three o'clock with the Sigma Zeta-Epsilon second squad to meet the Mu Chi Mu outfit.

Coach Roy Sandberg has already called the third team for the Thahama games, the class "A" basketball league, for the first half, followed by a whirlwind rush in the final period.

Maidie Boswell, who scored all of the nine and eight points respectively, in the coach's office every afternoon as a result of the baseball game the Mu Chis played with the Theta's last night on the Stadium floor at 8:00 p.m.

The only independent team to receive the Delta Kappa Phi team had a tough time beating the Thahama squad 17 to 11, but a second half drive saw them capture their third win of the season and send the losers deeper in the cellar.

Women Urged To Swim

Unless more women become interested in swimming, the classes which are now being held at the YWCA pool on Tuesday and Thursday afternoon, will go by unscathed. Women who are now taking an active part in the classes in the group to get in touch with her the famous College swimming cage.

Baseball games are being played in the coach's office every afternoon as a result of the basketball games that are held there. John Milroy has been the official demonstrator of how to hit and Chuck McMillin is the famous swimming coach. John Milroy is the only woman interested in golf.
