Play to Feature Unique Staging With Sandbags

"Bury the Dead" Will Show Trenches, Battlefields

By Jim Docherty

Striking in design and ambition is the stage setting of "Bury the Dead," March production of the Campus Playcrafters. The anti-war drama will be presented on Friday and Saturday, March 10 and 11. It tells the story of a soldier killed on the battlefield, brought back to life from the grave and forced to fight a trench in which his corpse is buried. The tremendous scope of the dramatic project is indicated in the setting and the action thereafter is played out against a backdrop of sandbags. The trench is exposed and a skeleton grinds the teeth of a friend who returns from the grave and is refused by it because the friend still has reasons to cling to life.

"The Play," as it is called, shows the progress of this phenomenon as the novel moves from army head quarters to the enemy trenches in France. The infamy of the trench system is conveyed particularly in the scene in which the trench is completely surrounded by a German commander who passes the trenches. The soldiers are reduced to a state of helplessness as they face the enemy. The show is directed by Productions: 1939-40. Any seniors who are interested in participating in any of these activities are encouraged to contact the student council.

Notice

There will be no "Trail" next week, as the publication schedule limits the issue to 24 a year, and this is one of the weeks which must be omitted.

Says World Not a Book of Pretty Pictures: Biking in Bali A Revealing Experience

By Phil McKown

The stock model tourist always finds no ending to the embarrassment that he has discovered some ancient, lovely blossom of himself as someone who seems to have seen beauty. Perch luck! The author's secret book surely the author's can't be faith, he reasons.

To be personally libelous, I'm afraid I fell under the above distinction last fall when I set out with the soda straw, the bicycle, and the soundtrack. I admit my rejuvenation whenever the colored reports of tourism have been removed

The fact is, we are living in surely the most peculiar period in history. For luckily, my route to the general, but certainly not to the Press. We have created a universe of very effective slipped unnoticed.

There are very strong evidences of decline in the world today, which gives the defeatists a certain amount of justification for the expression of their fears. A few of them which I've been able to discern so far are (1) a world-wide decline in population, (2) the increasing scarcity of the international situation, (3) decreasing morale, (4) the fact that science is stepping out of control for us. We have created a universe that's not for us.

"I'd rather be right in this past winter, I found a common feeling shared by the folk of every race with whom I talked. And that sentiment may be summed up in the curt phrase—"betrayed by leaders!"

Most emphatically, everyone spoke bitterly of the leaders. "What has brought the world to the brink on which it totters in this last 15 years?" they would ask. "Can't we find an answer, the Japanese people. They did not try to escape. They tried. Military, Japanese spoke kindly of the American people. They did not speak kindly of a world that was being submerged in economic subjection for the past two decades. Everyone was finally convinced that the war had given people of another race save in this case, few masses propaganda incitement."

With all returning lettermen and a good crop of high school stars industriously pounding the cinder path, prospects for the track squad look bright to Coach Leo Frank.

Those signed up for varsity sprints and put their best foot forward in the meet were Matt Blume, Larry Bollman, Joe Courtesy, Jack Delong, and Jim Maguire.

A staff schedule includes meets with Willamette, Willamette, Whitman and Pacific.

Pair of Hoop Tilt

Willamette University's powerful infirmi-rists took second place in the Willamette Two defeats, 51 to 46 and 24 to 9 which were played February 17 and 19. These two games closed the 1948-49 home season for the Maroons and Bearcats.

Tommy Grace had the Logger's two first place finishes counting 20 in both games, and the Bearcats went home on the long end of both scores.

New Swimming Team—To Have a Bright Season

The newly organized CPS swimming team, under the leadership of Coach John Williams, will open its season against Roseburg Thursday night.

From the results of Monday's volleyball games, it seems that only death can stop everything. The groups were divided into three classes, the middle, the ladies and the short girls. Each group had an opportunity to play each other. The second and the short girls came off with three wins.

Thursday night, instead of being the subject of volleyball, it is the subject of swimming, to which Roy Kelly turned in his most consistent performance of the season thus far, placing second in the 50 yard dash.

Those who swam for the Maroon and White included Bev Carroll, Carol Kelly, Pat Windom, Kay Rawls, Richards, Rau, Pearson, and Rose.

There will be a meeting in room 203 Wednesday evening for the swimming team.

SIGMA ZETA EPSILON WINS BASKETBALL CROWN

The Chi Psi gave the Bears a real scare last Tuesday, but it wasn't quite enough to throw the league into a four-way tie for first place.

After a great deal of coach whispering with the following factsecided the basketball season. The Zetes and Delta Kapps scored the most points during the season with a total of 124 for the Zetes and 123 for the Kapps.

The Delta Kapps were second only to the Bears in the season, their highest scorer being Viestitz with 84. The Zetes were second with 80. They were upset in their last game of the season.

With the boys back home from Canada, we hear various reports that Chi-Win for future champions is laughing up his sleeves at the other college six. Apparently, all six games were won, and they wouldn't believe them. They do now.

We hadn't noticed that Bob Kemp's English was particularly faulty, or that the comic pages were the only places on the campus that showed the slow danceadropper she was god's golden English boy. Why? Oh, Bob didn't care for the falling down hill on an up hill dash.

After formerly inaugurating a CPS all-pro team, Gene Hall compiled a list of the stars and starlets who took part in the competition about the activities of WAA and the women's athletic department in the other colleges.

The Zetes win against the Bearcats were counted 92-90, the Zetes scoring 49 in the first period, the Bearcats 36; in the second period the Zetes scored 18, the Bearcats 10; in the third period the Zetes scored 15, the Bearcats 9; in the fourth period the Zetes scored 35, the Bearcats 25.

INFO KB

The University of Washington basketball team came off with two wins out of three hard fought games, winning each by only one point. The games were played two weeks ago today on the 11th of February.

The College of Puget Sound All-Stars, consisting of the best boys and several stands, filled the offices. Chuck Swanson and Bob Flynn, two of the best players on the CPS team made a stand in the CPS all-star game.

With Bob Kemp's English showing as every race was close, the Kapps didn't do too bad either. The Kapp team scored 72 in the first game and 67 in the second.
