College Spirit—A Renaissance

Among the many surprising things we have noticed this year is the revival of the campus. This has been manifested in a reawakening of common interests among the students and a desire to return to certain activities of the past.

There are certain specific factors which we believe responsible for what we call "renascence of college spirit" (CPS). Some of these are: CPS is a large factor in creating a lively campus. We add this last, not because we are the makers of it, but as a portion of the overture of Berlioz. John Bar-1 famed piano team of Fray and leag-1 w ill be in charge of the museum. Logger, Pacific 'U' Grid Forces
Battle At Forest Grove Tonight

By Coach Frank

The first two games of the season indicated that the Loggers are slowly moving forward. In their games against Eastern Washington at Cheney and against Boise State on Sept. 17, they came away with 17-0 and 7-0 victories. Several key starters of last year were unable to play against the Indians because of illness or an injury. Coach Frank

The Loggers have been practicing well at times but not consistently. They have been making some mistakes in the last half and are trying to correct them.

Assistant Wharfnam the offensive and defensive lines for the Loggers is spacious. The team has been working hard and is trying to improve in the passing game.

The Loggers tied for the league lead in two divisions. They have 17 points in the conference and 11 in the Northwest Division.

At the WAA meeting Tuesday, September 19, the University of Washington football situation was reported as good. There is a chance that the Loggers will be back at full strength.

Funny Story of the Week

WAA, as usual, does not have to report on any action in the first two games of the season. The Loggers have been practicing well at times but not consistently. They have been making some mistakes in the last half and are trying to correct them.

College of Paget Silver gridmen will attempt to make it two straight成功 in Conference play when the Loggers meet the Pacific 'U' Gridmen at Forest Grove.

Tonight's game will virtually eliminate the loser from Conference play and will determine which school will hold the highest就行了 for the title. At the present time, there are two schools, Washington and Oregon, tied for the top spot. A single victory for one school may be the deciding factor in a tilt that should close out the Northwest Conference.
