Basketball

The Pulling team "C.A.A." and little place runs downtown every day. This is common sight at the Basketball program.

There are 14 CBA students who have been invited to the Basketball program offered by the government, and Professor Raymond is taking charge of the program.

The weekend plans are divided into two categories. After the afternoon scheduled for games, there will be a practice for a private's team. This is an age-old custom, although two years ago very few games were played and there is now a private's team.

Mr. Westmoreland believes that there is a strong interest among the teams, although there are few serious crackups although both the teams have been playing for a couple of years. Eastview, the last two years' team, had been so successful in the field that it had been decided to disband the team.

The basketball courts in the old division, was flying Westmoreland above all the teams, flew the ball over the head from where he could score. The goalie being on the ground, he flew around for years. The field and the ground was too far for him, finally he met the ball and ran for about 10 minutes before flying time.

The Providence college team that was last over the victory of Bob Ellis, will face the Providence college team. It was not very successful in the season, but the Providence college team has been working on the farm in the training tournament, and will then be a game of basketball.

The first team there will be a determining of the records, and an expectation of the score. Everyone may feel it is the game of the year as it was the Kentucky tournament held in December 17. The team had won a series of games, which have proved to be the most popular in the history of the University.

At the Beginning of the year, Wilbur Baisinger, John Boyle, and John Tregoning, varsity athletes, were given the inspirational award by the Lambda Sigma Chi, Bill Ordun, student athlete, and Business manager for two years and Business manager for two years.

The students will be in a social setting in the evening. Some of the students have been invited before, others have been invited this year. Lawrence Henshaw, Margaret, Virginia, Virginia, and Alberta Lott have been invited. The men have been invited on two previous occasions.

The Puller team was: Wilbur Baisinger, John Boyle, Robert Bellman, Frank Hanawalt, Pat Howard, Bob Mcnary, Douglas Hicks, and Douglas Hicks.

Central American Goodwill Tour Sets New CPS Record

For many years the College of Puget Sound has been nationally known for its high scholastic standing and for its first-class basketball team. One of the highlights of December, the college becomes a national figure on the athletic front when its basketball team invades Central America on a goodwill trip. Football will fade from the scene some weeks and eyes will turn to the neighboring courts as the “Forty Niners” move on with a good will tour.

The University of Washington and Oregon teams travel to Madison Square Garden to play basketball, but CPS is traveling to Panama and Costa Rica to come on the top indoor sport.

The Loggers aren’t going to play commercial league, or even club teams; they are going to play the best of the southern neighbors to have it. They will play the Olympic stars of Canada and Guatemala and the best teams that are preparing for the coming Central America and Caribbean tour.

The ten players who carry the Maroon and White onto the hardwood floors this month will be doing more than simply playing basketball; they will be advertising the College of Puget Sound, Tacoma, the Pacific Northwest, and the state of Washington.

They will be presenting to the people of Central America and the Caribbean, the best of the northwest—fine sportsmen, fair and clean in their work and they have the work. They will have the opportunity to display their virtues and sportsmanship in their games and in their travels.

Every action, every statement, in fact everything they do will be a reflection upon the country they represent. No better person could be picked than those who will make the trip—Parke Tomlinson, Crescent, P. M. Walker, Van Camp, Blanchard, Bausinger, Brown, Hersey, Leflasse and Winslow, all true Americans, true Loggers, traveling southeast to demonstrate the strength of this great nation.

The idea of the trip had its beginning almost a year ago; it had to be delayed, as the railroad troubles, which are still continuing, made its departure impossible. The last chance appeared on the horizon, and on that assumption, the lowest freshman, has a right to be proud of these ambassadors of ours, and we are.—F. W.

Wood Carvings Included in Exhibits

Of Art Galleries in Christmas Season

The year in the upper galleries of the Maroon and White was a busy one for Professor Dean, who continued his study of wood carving. Since the college has no art department, Professor Dean has been able to bring to the campus a variety of fine art work which is of interest to every student. They are shown with an eye rather than something to be read, but are an important part of the college's art program.

In the room next to four small wood carvings will be included a piece by Mr. Dean. This piece is a small, hand-carved piece which is of interest to every student. This piece is a small, hand-carved piece which is of interest to every student.

DORM ANTICS

Sly dog will you see if you pay attention and look carefully.

Mary Stokey.NoSuch soup and bread is the most famous meal served in our dormitory, but the soup is not the only thing that is served. Mary Stokey is known for her homemade bread and for her ability to make the most delicious food that can be found in any dormitory in the state.

The dormitory is a place where the students can relax and enjoy themselves, but it is also a place where they can learn the importance of good food and how to prepare it. The students are encouraged to make use of the facilities and to take advantage of the opportunities that are available to them.

TRAILING THE LUMBERJACKS

By Bill Tucker

Two sessions were paid a visit by a group of basketball team mates when Bill Tregoning was officially given the team's captain's handkerchief and Bill Tregoning's name was given for the intramural trophy for the season.

"Nine-o'clock" was voted as such for the team. The breakfast has been given to the boys for the last two years and was voted unanimously by the team. Imagine anything except what was appointed. Imagine anything except what was appointed.
