Spring Housecleaning On Campus Thursday

Day's Calendar Includes Work Projects, Games, Food, and Entertainment. Second Most Attraction of the Day.

Armed with shovels, rakes and lots of enthusiasm, students will roll out of the dormitories, into the gymnasium and onto the athletic fields and around the campus, starting at 8:00, following a short assembly after first period for last minute preparations. Students divide into groups under the leadership of a faculty advisor and each project is assigned to a group in the same area. After the 8:00 roll, the program will begin with the cleaning up and water将是 the first of the projects for students in the areas around the college. After the water task is completed, the groups will move to the baseball diamond or other field and begin their specific projects. Students are urged to bring a water bottle and to wear old clothes. The day will be followed by a picnic lunch and a program in the gymnasium.

Ex President Paulson Extends

Sincere thanks for cooperation

Dear all,

It is time again to express my appreciation to the student body for the honor I have had of being your president. I want to extend my sincere appreciation to everyone who has been a part of our administration, on behalf of myself and the student body goes my sincerest gratitude.

Everyone Will Do His Best Work

During this period, everyone will do his best work. The student body must quickly get back into full stride. It is most important that everyone do his best work. It is the only way we can accomplish a few of your wishes. Everyone will do his best work and I want to extend my sincere appreciation to all of you.

The new sidewalk adds a great deal to the beauty of the school. We should turn the comments to praise. The new sidewalk is a great addition to the school.

Navy Announcement to College Freshmen and Sophomores 17 thru 19

You want to serve your country? Why not serve where your college training will do the most good?

Under the Navy's new plan, you can now seek military training in your college. If you make a good record, you may qualify within your college to become a Navy Officer—or the sea in the navy.

How to become an Officer

If you rank sufficiently high in the examination and can meet the physical standards, you will have your choice of two courses—each leading to an officer's commission:

1. For seaman's volunteer training as an Academic Officer: In this case, you will be permitted to complete your regular college course and receive your degree. You will be ordered to active duty as a Navy Officer as soon as you have completed your college course and received your degree.

2. Or you will be selected for training as a Floor Officer: You, or the officer who selects you in this case, will be allowed to complete your college course and receive your degree. You will be ordered to active duty as a Navy Officer as soon as you have completed your college course and received your degree.

The use of professional training in the navy will be to your advantage. It will assist you to do better work in the service. It will be of great benefit to you, both in and out of the service. It will be of great benefit to you, both in the service and out of the service. It will be of great benefit to you, both in and out of the service.

The Navy will provide and pay for all costs of your training. The Navy will provide and pay for all costs of your training. The Navy will provide and pay for all costs of your training.

After graduation you will be ordered to active duty for training to become a Desk or Engineering Officer. Approximately 15,000 men a year will be accepted.

If you do not qualify for special officer's training, you will be allowed to finish your college course and, after which you will be ordered to active duty as a Naval Training Station as Apprentice Seaman. Those who fail to pass their college work at any time may be ordered to active duty as Seaman Apprentice.

Your pay starts with active duty.

Softball Next On Program

Big things are cooking in the intramural program for the next few weeks. Letting the final week of March slip away will be a hardship which will not be solved until the second Tuesday of April.

In the first game at 12:30 Delta Kappa Epsilon will take on Alpha Pi. The Alpha Pi team will be worthy of respect and will make a good showing of themselves. The Alpha Pi team may be the best they have had in a long time.

The second game will be played on the east sports field. Joe Sandle and Vito Zappia will be the only two doubles who will make up the east sports team. Although they meet the first time, they are not expected to be too much of a hardship because the intramural program is so popular among the students.

The third game will be played on the west field at 1 p.m. Tuesday will bring together Delta Chi and Sigma Nu.

Wednesday afternoon will see the final day of the spring intramural season. This will be the last game on the east field at 12:30.:

The east games will be played on the west field. All teams have been divided to the west field for their final games for the spring season. The west field is larger than the east field, making it a better place for the final games.

Next Tuesday will be the end of the intramural season, and it will be good to see the teams that have been good the whole season. This will be the last week of the spring season, so it will be good to see the teams that have been good the whole season.
