Graduating classes make a practice of telling their histories and proving their future. The Class of '43 in its farewell message abounds both. The usual prophesy "the year we go" means more than a little ridiculous. Uncle Sam has taken hold of the pen and is rewriting our prophesy. Maybe you've already heard the story of Mary or Mary Ann on the job, or the glamour girl on the job, or the nice girl on the job. But what you may not have heard is that those girls are still writing their letters home, and the letters are not too bright. Besides, who is going to take their place? You, so you better enjoy the thrill of the first round.

The annual WAA award banquet will be held Friday noon in the Student Union building. At this time Mr. Mann will present awards to girls who have earned at least 600 points and 15 freshman and sophomore girls will be formally pledged in WAA. Following this, Betty Jane Pyle will install the new officers for the new year.

The only formalized service of the evening is the installation of the new officers, and then the formal pledging of new sisters. There will be a general program with an address by President Maury. The banquet will begin at 6 o'clock.

Decorative Colors Add to Atmosphere of SpringDances

Delta Kappa Phi's spring formal, Kappa Sigma Theta's 'Mytime Minette' and Alpha Beta Uplin's Coton Carnival completed the social calendar of the weekend and May 1, respectively. Colorful flowers went throughout the Student Union building, where an unnumbered number of girls attended. The Alpha Beta Uplin sorority was installed on Monday night, May 28 in the Arena-Navy Vets Auditorium. The flowers and the plants grew well because of the care of Josephine Mcdonald, active, and Jane Bond, alums, are responsible.

Puget Sound Thimlads
In Conference Meet

Hot on the heels of their 56-58 win over the Pacific Lor- thenas thirtys last week the Maryon and White left their berths for Salem, Oregon, and the inter-conference truck tourney being held there today.

Because of prevailing weather conditions only four schools, Lindell, Whitman, Willamette and the College of Puget Sound will participate in this year's contest. Whitman seems to be the favorite of the four, though in past years they have never been to top the loggers.

Colw's idea has appeared to be that the sun going to Salem with their abatements and nothing but the fight itself. Only they have no to play for but the honours of the meeting.

New Sports Program
Planned for Women

The new expanded women's sports program has recently been announced by Jacki Moore, general manager of the univer- sity's athletics and Mrs. Mami, organizer. The program will in- clude every girl in the student body, whether she is enrolled in a physical education class or not.

The general theme is "en joy- ment for every girl. With a prospec- tive list of possible sports, the athletic program will tend towards the friendly rather than competition spirit among the groups.

For the first time in recent years, the college will have a separate basketball team, the girls' basketball team will be run in conjunction with the men's basketball team. The girls' basketball team will not be a part of the intercollegiate league but will compete with teams from the local high schools and other colleges.

Reserve Awards Named by Council

The athletic department of the student council have announced the awarding of reserve titles to the following members of the basketball team: G. Miller, R. Mills, W. Johnson, D. Freeman, J. Barlow, D. Perkins, J. Jones, C. Anderson, C. Johnson, B. Miller, B. Miller, A. Brown, J. Brown, B. Johnson, R. Miller, J. Johnson, B. Johnson, and J. Johnson.

Zetes Nab Intramural Ball Honors

The Intramural Basketball competition will round out the week's activities on campus with a final evening game. Each team played with great enthusiasm, and the Lambda Fraternity emerged as the undisputed champions. The Lambda scored 67 points to the Toscana's 63, in a nail-biting game that went on for over two hours.

"The Lambda Kappa gives their best to the competition, but the Toscana had too much heart to lose," stated the Lambda president.

The Lambda Kappa is off to a good start in the Intramural competition, and is expected to win the championship.
