LISTENING POST

Since ‘way back when’ it has been a tradition at CPS to give fellow students with a ‘cheery ’ Till when passing on the campus. To new fellows don’t be afraid of it; we won’t bite if you don’t. So let’s show a little spirit, and even if your the conservative type you can chime in with a modest strain.

You are, one of the main requisites of the CPS student is friendliness. In fact, it has been this very thing in the personality of the student that has made it such a part of us, just as it will become a part of you.

We want this paper to be written for the students, for the students. And, as you of the ARTU are now members of the CPS family, we want you to add your lot to our venture. Or posse chaise these questions about the various student activities and committees that you wish cleared up. Just what we hear here.

So an adventuring spirit, that is left all alone, contrives to walk down across the office which you will find located in the first floor of Jones Hall. We want to know what you think of our school, and we’ll try to answer a question or two.

Until next week," Ed.

Soldier Students Arrive On CPS Campus Last Monday

In the cold of Washington winter morn, the long awaited happened. At approximately seven last Monday morning there arrived on the CPS campus the 300 or so, “new students.” The “curiosity” value of the follows has somewhat worn off by now, and students no longer stare in awesome wonder at the marching and drilling, now an accepted sight on the campus.

Partly because of the previous orientation given the student body by Major L. E. Darlington and partly because of the jeal, good-natured, quality of the followings, themselves, they have been fully taken into the CPS family. Occasionally, the Red Cross secretaries (Union Building) and the gym the new students have cleaned up their bit by the handsome names applied to their respective living quarters. Namely, the Falcon, and the Barn.

Dick Collins

Former CPS Ser Wounded

Richard Collins, former CPS student, has been reported wounded in action in Italy by the War Department. His parents were notified by telegram on Wednesday, December 16, a week later they received a letter from him stating that he is in a hospital receiving treatment from serious wounds, and expected to be out of the hospital soon. Pvt. Collins said he expected to be placed in work behind the lines soon.

While he was a freshman at the College of Puget Sound, Richard studied history and economics. In March he went to Fort Lewis, and later to Camp Robinson in Indiana. After a furlough in July, Pvt. Collins reported to a regimental center in Pennsylvania. From there he went to New York, across to Africa, and up into Italy.

“Remember” Is Junior’s Song

Coming up soon in the recent Sangfest was the Junior class song, written by Lelia Jackson and Jane Sharfer, and arranged by F’s n h Price and Marion Closson.

“Remember—Remember our college of dreams! Our hearts will ever be true. To friends we made on the campus. To memories, College, of you.

The days we spent with you, We knew must even disappear. But distance of time and space Will make you ever dear.

Little Theater To Have Comedy “Private Lives”

Noel Coward’s comedy-drama, “Private Lives,” opened Tuesday evening at the Tacoma Little Theatre. Its run will continue through the first of the year and from Tuesday to Saturday of next week.

The play takes place in France and the story centers around Elsy and Amanda, a divorced couple who meet again on their honeymoon with their spouses, Robert and Victor, respectively. Elsy and Amanda discover that, although they have not seen one another for five years, they are still in love, and so they run away together.

The leads are played by Margaret Carpenter, Jim Foster, Hettie Shirley and Lieutenant Gilbert.

A student season membership ticket for the Little Theatre costs $2.50, and entitles the holder to attend at least seven major productions a year, and numerous workshop plays and parties.

Dance Poll Give Honors to Seven

With the completion of the Drama Department’s Christmas concert of the year, Freshmen plays of the Homecoming one act, a poll has been taken to determine the making actors and actresses in them. Tying for high honors from the Renaissance group are Horace Riehl and Richard Wedemeyer, according to the votes turned in by the freshmen students of the Drama Department. In second spot are Edna Schure and Hamer Aschenbach.

Highest scorer in the freshmen group was Martin Fleischer, who received 20 votes for his act. Cathe Wobena and David Rock, ranging as the top coed contender.
Welcome Given by ASCPS Prexy

Welcome to our new boys! We know that you have heard a great deal since you have been on our campus, but we also feel that too many cannot be said, for we are happy to have you here among us, and we hope that you will be a joy to our campus; today, it is our first experience with an ASTU bunch. We're a little new at it!

No doubt, you've already discovered a few things about the campus here; and at the orientation chapels which you have attended probably most of your questions have been answered. However, should it happen that you want to know anything, just ask it. You're on the same floor here on which we are at your service (how's that sound after spending an hour with the CoEg?). At any rate, be it a question about college traditions, or how to get to the nearest fire station we shall gladly try to answer.

Though it has been nearly a week since your first acquaintance with us, your first glimpse of the campus and its facilities, it is your first "public appearance." You are now quite a part of the CPS family for you have attended chapel with us. Tonight we are extending our good wishes for your future success and happiness at the Big College League.

And now, we want you to know that we've got a new officers' committee,

NEW STUDENTS WILL SHARE LOUNGE TUESDAY

To provide a place for the new students to socialize with us after their leisure time, the Women's Lounge will be open daily from 7 p.m. until the late afternoon. Each evening, the lounge will be available for their use and will have charge of the room one hour a week. This group will be in charge of their own recreation and refreshments. They will supply magazines, devotional literature and booklets and will be making a solicitor, and everyone is urged to come in.

Hockey Rules of Intramurals

Leaving dummy practices and signed drills a day earlier, the CPS squad of Fred Tritle traveled by bus to the Holy Cross University, where the football field had been set up. Thirty-

The first drill included both girls and boys in the first half. Playing a defensive game from the beginning, the Tigers, playing good, along with Fontaine Gaddie and Betty Armo, broke the ball out of the defensive zone and in the first few minutes. Jane Shaffer was the captain. The Fresh team under the leadership of Captain Joe, Lindeman, showed great possibilities for future years. Holding the "Best Lima-ness" across, the first half of the game was almost nil. Calmness, majority for the Women, and the White team played an excellent game as equals. During rec-

The second team, according to all the papers, including many of the CPS boys who are now in the V-2 draft, agreed to play for Holy Cross, and incidentally rested their players. In the end, which was the worst beating, according to Captain McGillivray, the result was about 40-0. We don't keep track after that. One incident might be added. Jean Sismanufacture. The day was a little more battered, but am among them were some few CPS boys and you know what we voted for. 5. Once out of four years didn't rain, but rain is possible for next year. 6. Though with their hockey sticks under their arm and they didn't close the half, the announcement of the CPS boys and girls, who won the championship, was followed by a instant.
