Vollman and Mantoux Tests
Given to All Students

Everyone showing a positive reaction to either the Vollman Tuberculosis Patch Test given last month, or the Mantoux X-ray test, went Monday morning. The pictures will be taken in room 104 in Howard Hall under the supervision of Dr. Frank J. Rigas, X-ray technologist; and physicians from Tacoma General Hospital. Dr. Rigas has had a great deal of experience in tuberculin work. A fee of $2.50 will be charged for each X-ray.

In Memoriam

If a person's reaction is positive, this doesn't mean that the person is a menace, but it means that the college student in such a position should have an X-ray once a year.

Dr. Thompson in Washington, D.C.

In order to attend several important educational conferences, President Thompson took a Christmas night for the trip. He arrived in Evanston, Ill., on Dec. 28, where he went to the College of Physicians and Surgeons meeting and visited with CPS alumni groups until Dec. 31. From Jan. 2 to Jan. 6 he met with more alumni groups before leaving for New York. At the present time he is in Washington, D.C.

Next week he will spend in Cincinnati, 0., where the conference he plans to attend is to be sponsored by the Association of Schools and Colleges of the Methodist Church, the Association of American Colleges and the National Conference of Church Relations.

From Cincinnati he will start for Tacoma, stopping again in Chicago and Lincoln and Omaha, Neb. He is expected to arrive on Jan. 31.

Attention!

ATTENTION! Announcing a program to be presented on the Blue Network from 5 to 5:30 Wednesday afternoon for all students this may be translated into "Quiet Time." It is to be a program of interest to all soldiers.

Spurs, Stirrups
To Begin Quiet Campaign Monday

Beginning Monday with the Quiet campaign, the Spurs and Stirrups will inaugurate a new monster system of "Quiet Time." Two girls, one Stirrup ( inactive Spar), and one Spar, will be on duty in the library each period of the day. It is within their authority to have all students be as quiet as they may be and it is hoped that this system will prove successful.

As the conduct in the library has been noticeably bad in the past weeks, this measure was taken in an attempt to make the CPS library a studyable place. With the full cooperation of the student body in respecting the quietness of those service organizations, a proper respect for the QUIET in the library can be obtained.

Editor's Note

It would facilitate a quicker and more orderly exit after chapels if civilian students would have the library doors closed behind them in the Homecoming play. "A Sym­ phony in Colors," as the first part of the wanton, and in "Why Do You Play," the play, she appeared as the angel. Elizabeth also took part in a Home­ coming play, "A Woman of Character."

How about it, can't we be a bit more punctual in getting to chapel? It is quite disturbing to have stu­ dents coming in the doors after the speaker, or program, has begun.

One more thing to bring to students attention is that while walking in the halls, whistling and loud talking is to be avoided and professors and students alike.

You know, it's amazing how many times some of you remember to wear your paper paw screen on! We aren't quite that primitive—and the paper paw is used for "Letters to the editor." paper, etc.

By the way, girls—if you're sending in that essay about the boy over there, you'd better do it before the end of January.

Killed in Action

Howard Donaldson
Fred Klopfenstein
Richard Jobb

Bill Riddle

Boeing Fortress Will Be Featured in Movie Here

Interesting, informative, and inspiring are words that might be used to describe the program to be presented in the auditorium of Jones Hall this Sunday afternoon, Jan. 9, at 3:30. The film will feature the Boeing Flying Fortress. In addition, Mr. M. M. Rinehart, of Boeing's Public Relations Department, in a talk entitled "Art and Combat Training" will tell of the use of commercial art in the Boeing Flying Fortress school. The program is free and promises to be an educational experience.

Pitts

Lieu.j. Sloat

Tells About Tarawa Fight

Word has recently come from former CPS Student Body President Lieut. Richard O. Hobbs telling of some experiences in the Battle of Tarawa.

Dick was among the first of the Marines to enter the beach, and he remained there throughout the battle until removed for treatment of wounds.

"I was there when the marines moved in on Tarawa and after the battle was over, I received only right wounds in my right arm. It's a marvelous time, I'm still alive, but I guess someone may have been looking out for me.

"There were devils tough, but I don't think there were any devils. Those marines showed them more sheer guts, because they had the vision and fighting ability that they could take. My men were wonderful, and I have a feeling now of being pulled with a chain that would make us pull together.

"There were several times when I felt there was no hope of our getting out alive, and now every once in a while I peek myself to make sure I'm not dreaming.

Tolo Dates Are Boys Chance

Well, fellows, this is your chance. At any rate, you can't say that the CPS boys are celebrating "Keep Your Monkey in the proper way. However, this year's tournament is an event that takes place on the CPS campus early next month. During this period of the month or so, someone will be asking you to "Come over for a date." This is the usual practice for getting together for a dance. The dance will be held in the gym, which is to be decorated with all the usual formalities. The dance will be held on Thursday, Jan. 11. It will begin at 8 and continue until the last dance is over.

To Robbies Trip

I'm going to play a role in "Kip" in the upcoming musical comedy, "The Sound of Music." I'm the one who sings, "The Sound of Music." I'm going to play a part in the musical comedy, "The Sound of Music." I'm going to play a part in the musical comedy, "The Sound of Music." I'm going to play a part in the musical comedy, "The Sound of Music." I'm going to play a part in the musical comedy, "The Sound of Music." I'm going to play a part in the musical comedy, "The Sound of Music." I'm going to play a part in the musical comedy, "The Sound of Music." I'm going to play a part in the musical comedy, "The Sound of Music." I'm going to play a part in the musical comedy, "The Sound of Music." I'm going to play a part in the musical comedy, "The Sound of Music." I'm going to play a part in the musical comedy, "The Sound of Music." I'm going to play a part in the musical comedy, "The Sound of Music."
General Leap Year Headache
Since Legal Feminine Woeing

It's leap-year, gal; the chase is on! But this time it isn't the beasts of the forest you're after, it's men!

The year 1944 undoubtedly hit an all-time "high" in the matter of ladies' fashion, for the frequent appearance of "tobs" on the campus, the world's femininity let down its hair and really entered the chase. Leap year, arriving at this crucial time, should prove only an added advantage in the girls' ruthless onslaught on harassed men.

The whole thing started back in December when our innumerable friends settled in the city for all days at 12th hour. Now, of course, it's been that, but that extra six months allowed over a four-year period, making on each day every fourth year, has been the cause of more than one sleepless night during the past 150 years.

Now when the caption of feminine woeing during leap year originated so history is pavilion, but it is known that as far back as 1285, the Scottish parliament ordained "that no one of his property or at least £100 pounds of gold and the same amount in silver, should speak to any men she likes. If he refuses, it is to be done in the sum of one hundred points, or, at least, as much in each place, except that he cannot refuse a woman who, if he can make it appear that he is betrothed to her in the proper manner, may be free."

But the best year of all is that S. Patrick started it. In his business, B. Bridget reported it in his memory, so the legend goes. In the first 500 years or so, there was a bit of popping the question. But when it was another 1,000 years, the indecency could no longer be said to be free.

Just as you would suppose in France a few years later, and after 2,500 years, the thing was also abolished in Grece and Florence.

In "Golf, Love and Matrimony," a popular nonsense book in 1604, appeared this intriguing verse:

"Ah, but it has now become a part
Well, anyway, as you do the proper way, you can now regard the proper sexual acts as the things that are in the proper way."

And the girls who did anything against the law were not to be free.

But the last year of all is that S. Patrick started it. In his business, B. Bridget reported it in his memory, so the legend goes. In the first 500 years or so, there was a bit of popping the question. But when it was another 1,000 years, the indecency could no longer be said to be free.

Just as you would suppose in France a few years later, and after 2,500 years, the thing was also abolished in Grece and Florence.

In "Golf, Love and Matrimony," a popular nonsense book in 1604, appeared this intriguing verse:

"Ah, but it has now become a part
Well, anyway, as you do the proper way, you can now regard the proper sexual acts as the things that are in the proper way."

And the girls who did anything against the law were not to be free.

But the last year of all is that S. Patrick started it. In his business, B. Bridget reported it in his memory, so the legend goes. In the first 500 years or so, there was a bit of popping the question. But when it was another 1,000 years, the indecency could no longer be said to be free.

Just as you would suppose in France a few years later, and after 2,500 years, the thing was also abolished in Grece and Florence.

In "Golf, Love and Matrimony," a popular nonsense book in 1604, appeared this intriguing verse:

"Ah, but it has now become a part
Well, anyway, as you do the proper way, you can now regard the proper sexual acts as the things that are in the proper way."

And the girls who did anything against the law were not to be free.

But the last year of all is that S. Patrick started it. In his business, B. Bridget reported it in his memory, so the legend goes. In the first 500 years or so, there was a bit of popping the question. But when it was another 1,000 years, the indecency could no longer be said to be free.

Just as you would suppose in France a few years later, and after 2,500 years, the thing was also abolished in Grece and Florence.

In "Golf, Love and Matrimony," a popular nonsense book in 1604, appeared this intriguing verse:

"Ah, but it has now become a part
Well, anyway, as you do the proper way, you can now regard the proper sexual acts as the things that are in the proper way."

And the girls who did anything against the law were not to be free.

But the last year of all is that S. Patrick started it. In his business, B. Bridget reported it in his memory, so the legend goes. In the first 500 years or so, there was a bit of popping the question. But when it was another 1,000 years, the indecency could no longer be said to be free.

Just as you would suppose in France a few years later, and after 2,500 years, the thing was also abolished in Grece and Florence.

In "Golf, Love and Matrimony," a popular nonsense book in 1604, appeared this intriguing verse:

"Ah, but it has now become a part
Well, anyway, as you do the proper way, you can now regard the proper sexual acts as the things that are in the proper way."

And the girls who did anything against the law were not to be free.
MISS ESTHER MANN

Carrying out the general plans for Toto, and also wearing the newest engagement ring around, is Esther Mann. The engagement of Esther Mann to Lt. Bill Webb was told to sorority sisters Wednesday evening.

Esther Maay Chairman for Toto: Big Evening Planned For Saturday

One of the largest and most anticipated affairs of the college year is Toto, which will be held this Saturday night, January 8, from 8 to 11:30 o'clock. It is the time when the girls make their choice of a date and treat their beaux to an evening of merriment and fun, footing all the bills of the night's entertainment from his fare to food. This year the entire program will be held at the Fellowship Hall to facilitate the transportation problem.

The nomination of the queen and king of Toto will be the highlight of the evening. Royal thrones for their majesties will be placed on the stage where they will reign over the festivities of Toto. All Wm. Marchessi's little sister, Milli, will present the crown of flowers to the Major, who will, then crown the queen, and Mr. Darlington will present the king with a scepter.

The hall will be decorated with marble and white streamers, the college colors, and elegant table settings of Long Year. A program will be presented by the Ar persuasion. President George Beatty will be the master of ceremonies. Company B will present a skit depicting the combination of college and army life and Jack Higgins will play two piano selections. Mary Ann Truitt will play a violin solo and Mary Jean Hiedinger will sing.

Esther Mann is general chairman of Toto and working on her committee are: Jeanne McLaughlin, Catherine Lutz, and Almira Marchessi; publicity, Claudia van Patten, Mary Ruth Eichinger, Mary Jean Hiedinger, Betty Robson and Janice Elam; decorations, Ethel Peterson and Yesta Smith are in charge of the halls. Patrons and refreshments for the evening are: Dr. and Mrs. Warren E. Gilmore, Mr. and Mrs. Dor- mar Gibb and Mr. and Mrs. Fred- ric A. McMillen. The affair will be informal, dancing will be to record music and refreshments will be served during intermission.

Dean Now In New Quarters

In the hurry and flurry of moving all the offices from the SGB to Jotze Hall, practically every- thing was forgotten including the fact that our own Dean of Women, Mrs. Drusel, was also affected by the confusion.

You can now find Mrs. Drusel, located in her new office in the basement of Jotze Hall, calmly accepting her unfavorable fate. For living quarters she uses an apartment about a mile from the campus which has taught her rising a few minutes earlier than usual, the mechanics.

Freshmen themes have been so securely hidden by her willing help- ers who transported loads of books to her new office. In a few weeks everything will be in its place and there will be a place for every- thing, as the office is more spacious than the old one. Perhaps Mrs. Drusel will have more visitors than ever now that students will not have to brave the cold winds every time they want to talk to her.
Men's Basketball Season Starts with Bang

Civies Trample Maroon, Co. A: Greendies Edged Out by Blues

Basketball got off to a good start Wednesday night when the Blues of Company B and the Greens, Company A, battled it to the hard earned score of 28-26, the Company B first team edging out the Civies in a nifty game consisting of long shots and dangerous passes. The Civilians walked Company B Maroons to the tune of 45-18 in the second half time. In the second half time, the teams moved heads up ball, but the civilians seemed to have a definite edge as the army teams had just been organized on the spot, and had not practiced together.

A battle to the end, the Blue-green game was filled with dangerous shots, a bit of wild shooting and plenty of scrambling for the ball. “One hand on and hand” seemed to be the attitudes of the players as the referee’s whistle breaks through the chatter of the shrill line of referees, for two lines followed closely by others. The high point of Whitley, and the clear ear drawing of Capt. Bryant gave the Co. B Blues plenty of worry, but they came through in the last few minutes of the contest with the decided bucket. Success was Capt. Buckto with 9 points for the Blues, with Pete Hock and Arthur Whitby each macking up 5 apiece. Co. A. Capt. B. YankSEL held his own with plenty of Joe and Frank brought bystanders to their feet with his dead eye corner shots. The Blues of Company B and the Greens, Company A, battled it to the hard earned score of 28-26, the Company B first team edging out the Civies in a nifty game consisting of long shots and dangerous passes. The Civilians walked Company B Maroons to the tune of 45-18 in the second half time. In the second half time, the teams moved heads up ball, but the civilians seemed to have a definite edge as the army teams had just been organized on the spot, and had not practiced together.

A battle to the end, the Blue-green game was filled with dangerous shots, a bit of wild shooting and plenty of scrambling for the ball. “One hand on and hand” seemed to be the attitudes of the players as the referee’s whistle breaks through the chatter of the shrill line of referees, for two lines followed closely by others. The high point of Whitley, and the clear ear drawing of Capt. Bryant gave the Co. B Blues plenty of worry, but they came through in the last few minutes of the contest with the decided bucket. Success was Capt. Buckto with 9 points for the Blues, with Pete Hock and Arthur Whitby each macking up 5 apiece. Co. A. Capt. B. YankSEL held his own with plenty of Joe and Frank brought bystanders to their feet with his dead eye corner shots.

In the second game, Capt. “Butt” Button, centered on by enthusiastic student rooters, led the Civilians to victory. Button scored an al of 23 points. Capt. Buckto and Frank brought bystanders to their feet with his dead eye corner shots.

The season is here. Each noon, from T rinity College, Connecticut, and Pete Hock, a foot, whose name is known well for long distance running, back paling the halls of his ‘ole alma Mater. ‘Tis said that he almost got a broken nose playing for his fraternity from the U. of Missouri where he is an ASTU.

Many other of our Legion hefties have been home for short visits, and we welcome them all, and are looking forward to the days when they will be back, swinging that All for the Maroon and White.

In the mean time, we are happy to announce that five basketball teams have been organized to carry on an inter mural program... four composed of ASTU’s and one civilian team. These games will be played Wednesday nights, and in the hopes that there will be a large crowd of fans will be rooting for their favorite team... how about it, gals... will you back them?

Among the athletic fellows of the new members of our student body are Forrest Kelsey, another around back from Trinity College, Connecticut, and Pete Hock, a football star from St. Paul’s Military School in Virginia, along with Bill Stout, who was an All Star track man in the home town, and promises to be a potent in helping to carry on for the Maroon and White when track comes.