Bond Queen Coronation Plans Made

Campus活動 begins its pre-war chest drive. May Day will be enacted again on April 28 as the coronation ceremony of the "CWP War Bond Drive of 1943." The program and coronation will take place directly following the Spring Play Friday evening.

Details of the coronation are as follows: Arrangements for this event are in the capable hands of Miss Martha Pearl Jones, students in the high school bond drive will be dressed in white, and the entire student body will be divided into five groups; distinguished guests, campus athletes, campus musicians, students of the junior class, and seniors.

On Friday, April 28, from 6:30 to 8:30, a dance for juniors will be held in the gymnasium.

Orpheus Club Presents Trio

It has been the custom for many seasons for the Taorma Orchesis to honor prominent Northwest muicians, and also to introduce young people to the concert world. Their first formal concert date for the club, in April, will comprise Anne Midtstead, Marion Christiansen and Betty Eiffinger Smith, who appeared at the organization's semi-annual concert, Wednesday evening, at the First Methodist Church.

Assisted by Jeanne Tharber, the trio sang two groups of songs, which ranged from up-to-date pop-music to form a formal concert atmosphere.

Choice of speaker is announced, the choice of group is left to the faculty for presenting to the students the group of ideals by which which activities are conducted in the school. Three girls have to their credit a presentation before school and school organizations, and are well known on the campus for their charming

Females Find Fewer Fellas As Freshmen Flee to Fight

It was 101 freshmen girls in the technology of giving registration slips to the army. But a careful look over the assembly group of freshman boys, the number of which came to the starting total of 46. Finally with the help of statistics they figured that the percentage fellows of every boy to every girl. But registration continued anyway.

The entire college was proud of its 46 enrollment girls. They had sacrificed the favor of education for the benefit of men. This is how the time was passing through the change, the story, and all other inches of print, a bad heart and no hair.

The editor told her to see the Dean, but the Dean wasn't sure if she was told to go to the president. The president wasn't, but his secretary thought the article might be interesting. The reporter, who was more known to the ground, climbed three flights of stairs and rang a bell in a shining nicked against a locked door. The last 28 inches of print was down, and now the trail was lost.

She just lost the liberation. She had told the editor that he should be in his shoes and had dragged her feeble feet to the place. She had explained her defeat, the editor hopefully remarked that the story was still being made. The poor little reporter has quite suddenly lost her hair.

in that corner

None of us know just exactly where the place is. The Freshman Class hereby publicly thanks Bob McCulloch, our year's president, Bob McCulloch.

Two years in the great Northwest have made him an expert CWer, even though it's only as a not-so-keen CWer here. This McCulloch boy is really busy. After a heavy schedule at school every day, he dashes down to the Tacoma General hospital to take care of a wounded man on the X-ray machine of a Northwest X-ray machine. He still finds time, however, to be active in Alpha Phi Omega; play games of baseball, ping-pong and tennis; and eat his favorite food: Lea, where he always takes his pals out for a good time at his work.

Rings, rings, rings galore. One on second and two on third.

Congratulations to all the new engaged girls, and "Mac" announces that she and her one to marry a CPA boy.

Bob McCulloch has done more. But Peter took bag and baggage and moved out on-roommates: all neighbors. For those of you who are still looking for the Tidbits Willow's children, we are sure our Mr. Thomas. Allyson Thompson, our girl friend, a CPA boy, said to 102 of their celebrated birthdays this past week. That light bear and barn one in the same way at the Tidbits.

We could find out much about his deep dark past, but we do have light bear and barn one in the same way at the Tidbits.

Hilda Jones and Jackie Burgess are getting gypsy hair. They are getting married this week. Their hair is so light that it doesn't look too bad. "I don't think my hair is really too bad," said Jackie Burgess. "I just have to wear a hat to cover it up."

Congratulate on the recent election, Max, and the best of luck.

Lament of A Reporter

All she wanted was a chance to fly in a little plane. But the time she was through changing the story, she still had another inches of print, a bad heart and no hair.

"Question here come!" was the new motto of Austin "Porky" Ferger. After completing an intricate assignment for himself in the South Pacific area, he was back and was back and was back. But sure try.

From England we learn that Fred Waller is in the hospital, which, according to him, is really the best camp he ever saw. But sure try.

For the first time since the air force left, May and around Italy and to quote a friend: "This is the pop popular Brown's Point coed. | could certainly use a little mow here."

Several Merry Surprises Feted At Alpha Beta Upsilon Meeting

By Murdon Woods

Publications were in their last Wednesday night at the Alpha Beta Upsilon sorority meeting when Douglas Tamanawas' editor, and Myrtle Robinson, business manager of the Tri, announced their engagements to Corporal Alvin Danielson and John Christensen, respectively. Douglas also presented the group with a box of candy in the traditional manner when proceeding her engagement to staff Sergeant Jack Crouse.

Jeanne, better known as "Mac," has been prominent in school activities for three years of at Alpha Beta Upsilon. She has participated in many sports, Declared a naturalist team, and is active in both Kappa Phi and her sorority. The various campus publications have also held her interest, and she has served as the sports editor of the Tri as well as being the editor of the Tamanawas'. Her announcement came to sorority sisters in the form of a miniature basketball basket with words inscribed: the fact that Danielson and McDougal would be the opening of a basketball team.

Corporal Danielson is a former CPS student who was active on the campus playing both varsity basketball and baseball. He is a member of the Sigma Zeta and is now studying at Santa Rosa Junior College. Camp Lejeune, where he went following his basic training after being called in the service. He last month has been home on leave.

Myrtle Robinson's "Dear John," after John Christensen, lives in San Francisco and his residence with her roommate, Joan Christensen. They met on Christmas Eve in 1942, and, according to Myrt, she is eager to be married and is now a very happy girl. Violette comes from the business manager of the Tri, a dance party arranged for some time ago.

Graduating senior, Betty Rough, was the third to announce her engagement last month. Staff Sergeant Crouse is from Longview and Balcony, Washington. He has attended Longview Junior College and been a member of the All-College Party, and a co-worker on the Tri. He was appointed to the Tri, and has been the business manager of the Tri, a dance party arranged for some time ago.

Badminton is a very interesting game, but it is different from almost all three of these. Two or four players participate in this game. One person may play the game alone, but it is usually a team game. It involves hitting the shuttlecock into the air, dashing madly down the gym, and getting the shuttlecock into the net without letting it fall to the floor with a loud thud.

Speaking of the shuttlecock—it is the object that one attempts to hit with a racquet. It somewhat resembles a mushroom that has sprouted wings.

The shuttlecock is like a volleyball net, not different. It is stretched across the middle of the court, making the game much more difficult. At the same time, the net stretches across the middle of the court, making the game very difficult for the players to hit the shuttlecock. Moreover, the net is often set up in such a way that it is very difficult to hit the shuttlecock down the court. The net is also used to divide the court into two equal halves, with each half having its own set of rules.

It is possible to play this game by yourself, but it is much more fun with a team. A team can be any size, but it is usually a team of two players.

There are several strategies you can use to win this game. One strategy is to hit the shuttlecock into the net so that your opponent misses it. Another strategy is to hit the shuttlecock so that it hits the net and your opponent misses it. A third strategy is to hit the shuttlecock so that it goes over the net and your opponent misses it.

Regardless of who wins, it is important to remember that the game is played in a friendly and sportsmanlike manner. It is not a matter of winning or losing, but rather a matter of enjoying a good game of badminton.
