Homecoming Festivities To End With Dance

Coronation, Play, Community Singing and Songfest Scheduled for Tonight; Bond Drive To Be Held Saturday Evening. According to Doreas Egeesbo, Homecoming Chairman.

Tonight's Homecoming festivities will begin with the crowning of the King and Queen at 8 o'clock in Jones Hall at 9 o'clock, according to Doreas Egeesbo, homecoming chairman.

The Queen has already been elected by the votes of the men in the campus, but the winning candidate will not be revealed until this evening. Reigning as King will be the winner of the election tonight.

Following the coronation, a third presentation of "Ramshackle Inn" will be given, which, in turn, will be followed by community singing and the Songfest. The singing is to be followed by the Bond Drive.

Proceeding the play and the coronation, the faculty will be "at-home" in the reception room at Jones Hall from 7 to 9 o'clock.

Committee Chairman Peggy

Songs will be assisted by a committee composed of Shirley Millett, Ruth Reevins, Mary Louise Guth- nan, Joanne Blake, Helen Jean Darling and Shirley Gibb.

President R. Franklin Thompson is to crown the Queen. Escorts for the royal party will be Bob Nor- geesbo, Edith Konser, Nick Nicho- las in short, and Jerry Baker.

Songs entered in the Songfest are to be presented in the following order:

Sophomores — "Leader Victory March," with music and lyrics by Lewis Birt and words by John P. Cook.

Junior — "Oh, Victory," with music by Dr. R. E. Pearse and Kelly Hamilton, and words by Harland Sprague. Junior Mike Anttille, Kelly Hamilton and Leonora Ryan.

Seniors — "The Timber Song," with music by Elizabeth Anderson and words by Janice Lindeman.

Juniors — "Our Pledge," with music by Jane Kentner and words by Jane Thurber.

The winning song will be selected by a faculty committee. President Thompson, Prof. Clyde Kett- ners, Prof. Clyde Kettner, Mrs. Zella Dresdel and Betty Reevins, members of the faculty committee, will determine the winning entry as presented on the看一看al plaque.

Bonds will be sold by the figure from a booth in the main entrance of the S.U. and at a table at the end of the lunch line on Tuesdays and Thursdays between 12 and 1:30 o'clock.

Along with the national drive, the school drive will close on December 8, according to Peggy Rough, chairman.

Heading the committees for advertising in each class will be Virginia Horton and Betty Schneider for the Seniors, Janice Lindeman, Jun- ners, and Shirley Millet for Sophomores, with Bob Winski as general chairman.

"Nearly 100 men from the College of Puget Sound have served on all fronts of the world. Forty-seven of these have died. It is the responsibility of all of us to support this last loan. In order to help those who have lived, we must work together. We must work for reconstruction and work vigilantly, as we must make the victory complete," says President R. Franklin Thompson.

Class Competition To Be Stressed In Bond Drive

"Of course the Freshmen and Sophomores are going to win, but I think the Seniors and Sophomores should keep just as many bonds and as stamps as they possibly can, any- way," says Gretchen Ernst, chair- woman of the Victory bond drive public- ity committee of the Freshman classes.

With these words, Gretchen rest- ed her case until the work after next when the Juniors and Freshmen will again be handling the advertis- ing of the drive, the plan being for each group of classes to add a different campaign up.

New Radio Club: President Elected

Anyone interested in radio is in- vited to join the newly formed radio club, which was organized Monday, October 29, with Dr. Re- ward as faculty advisor.

Ken Hogue was elected presi- dent of the club, with Pat Pratt as vice president, John Tucker as secre- tary, and Clinton Smith as treasurer. Meetings are planned for Tuesday evenings in the Physics lab, and invitations to membership are extended to anyone inter- ested, both men and women.

The purpose of the club, accord- ing to John Tucker, is to help the members to get an amateur radio license. Valuable technical and scientific training may be gained, as well as practical knowledge, and it will also prove to be an inter- resting source of recreation.

Music Department Presents Program

Opening a series of broadcasts of which there will be at least six dur- ing the coming year, a student of the CPR music department, under the direction of Prof. Clyde Kettner, announced the "Campus Theater" program over station KMO at 4:30 Wednesday, Oct. 24.

The program was rebroadcast by "transcription, over KTN and KVI at 3:30 the following night.

The next CPR broadcast in this series, which consists of perfor- mances by high schools and colleges of Tacoma and vicinity, will be Nov. 20, revealed Professor Kett- ners.

Homecoming Play Features Horror, Humor and Romance

BY MURDEN WOODS

With a howling wind, a tumble of thunder and a flash of lightning, "Ramshackle Inn," this year's Homecoming Play, started its first performance Thursday afternoon for an enthusiastic high school audience. It was presented again in the evening, and will also be given tonight.

Adding both an air of mystery and suspense, the semi- darkened stage shows shadowy figures moving here and there throughout the entire play. Coming to the front for the horror role is Walter Seabloom as Patt, the character more at home with a knife or pistol in hand than a daisy, and whose ambition is to populate the local cemetery.

Bringing a bit of humor (of the uproarious variety) is Irene Fearn as the "lady in waiting" (old maid, in case you didn't guess). This flighty ex-librarian, Belinda Pyred, is just the right person for such a "ramshackle crime club."

Supporting her is John Larson as Commodore Lucas Tower of the "Towners Forkens on a bun" fame.

Romantic interest is aided by Leonard Raver and Elizabeth An- derson as Bill Phillips (just re- cently out of the "voter's") and Mary Temple. Uncle Thad Temple, the "old guy" is vivaciously portrayed by Byron Crull.

Small town, Contable Small is ably portrayed by Marshall Cump- bell, and his bumbling assistant, Gilchrist, by Kelly Hamilton. Just to complicate matters there are several persons of mystery, that people are rather questionable in more ways than one. Topping the list is Shirley Day Baltlinger as Joyce Rogers, Unit村子 as Dr. Steven Russell, and Maris Harold as "the old guy." I wish I could keep an audience in a complete state of edge-of-the-seat action. And to complete the at- mosphere it is well spiced with shrieking winds, screams, coughing thunder, and flashing lightning, as well as a goodly assortment of dead bodies rapidly leading the cast on a merry chase.

Homecoming Thoughts

When one thinks of "Homecoming," one begins to wonder what the other fellow is going to do who has not thought before of this.

In other words, is the college you are returning to (or will be returning to in future years) really your "fostering mother" and you her son or daughter? Much of your college is necessary elements for being a true son or daughter?

These requirements are quite simple in nature and yet are often difficult to fulfill, for it takes a whole lifetime, in any case.

First: each of us must attempt to meet the most of our talents and abilities, if not for ourselves, for the college that has tried to have us use them. A college is great not only because of its faculty and president. It is as great as the greatest of its graduates. And it is as weak as the weakest of its students, and others.

Finally, then, our duty to our college is to attempt to discover the latent abilities within ourselves and try to develop them. Otherwise, it will only cost us more than ever to fulfill our duties.

Second: We should attempt to discover and capture happiness. The peculiar thing about this requirement is that happiness is an elusive quality which cannot be captured or directed against. To gain it one must take a round-about way, sometimes through almost insurmountable difficulties.

Actually, people find happiness sooner when they are not even looking for it. Many times it is a partner of the round-about way, and at times, it comes to a partner to a life of service for others.

These two, then, are the great requirements, if one would be a true son or daughter of the College of Puget Sound. Along with these two comes a far greater requirement—that of learning to be a true Christian. It ranks above the others, without doubt, and takes an added importance in these days of atomic energy.

Vivian P. Shibley

The city seems to be a product of Tacoma and Tahoma, it is a very light sleeper. Every night it says, "If you want to get out of here, go on the third floor that "someday you will be a real citizen."

I must leave you now and get busy and clean my room for all the guests who will arrive after the dorm Friday night. I'll see you all soon.

P. S. What's going to happen to our college?

3:00 p.m. in Point Defiance School, Mason Junior High, and Tacoma High Middle, before entering CPS. Here CPS is majoring in Business Administration, and will receive her degree this year. She is also fascinated by art, and will continue to work in this line (as a hobby, because, upon graduation, she wants to work for an intelligent people, preferably in combination business.)

"Marriage" says Dorcas, "as for me, there's only one. I'm an artist—I want, intelligent, to achieve realizations, and yet still be able to if I wish, to all-around personality—and if I don't want ever find him; why, then I'll get married."

Dorcas is of the Norwegian tradition, as both her father and mother immigrated to this country from Norway when they were very young. Her mother is not at all a politician, making suggestions to the president of the college that she will either don't think for themselves, and they don't seem to care. This is really the first year that I am starting to my own mind, and it's well, existing, to say the least."

As for Homecoming, Dorcas said, "for this year we are re-establishing the old pre-war spirit among the college students and the city as workers for the college. The city will be in the hands of a young man, for W. C. A."

They were in China for approximately 30 years doing their work. Dr. Clay did work at Chang Li hospital and during the stay in China Mrs. Clay did considerable research work on the tussock grass as a food. The couple was interested in China for many months but returned to the United States and died about a year and a half ago in Minneapolis.

Mrs. Clay, then, a Misses, served as president of the CPS for a number of years during the time of World War II.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Amos (Allie Raymond), graduates of the College of Puget Sound, are now the parents of 14 children, of whom Dr. Amos is the founder of the college.

Dr. and Mrs. Ernest H. Clay are living in San Gabriel, California, where he is a prominent physician.

The Puget Sound Academy

The Puget Sound Academy is the school which many of our alumni are attending. It is a school which has many students competing among the city's best students. The was, and more, an important part of the college with the city.

The old Adelphian chorus has not been functioning during the war years, and the group which meets each year, takes place its takes place. This week the "A" crew for this year was officially chosen by the members, and they feel that this same will do much more for the college than for the school.

From now on the College of Puget Sound's current chorus, will be known as the Adelphian Chorus, offering to have people automatically auctioned by the college with the city.

The Homesteader Chorus (formerly the Adelphian Chorus) is the group which a large group of its members are attending. The membership is necessarily limited competing among the city's best students. This year we have a team of 20, which is a fine effort. The city is very much to worry about—to get. These who sing in the chorus now are:

Soprano: Geronetha Dwyer, Irene Paris, Elizabeth Alexander, Virginia Klise, Netta Harrell, Dolores Klein, La Verne King, Dorothy Myrle, Nancy Newson, Irene Shively, Anna Sheblins.

Alto: Marilyn Sym, Dolores Fathom, Francine Holt, Jane Strauss, Anna Sheblins.

Beginning Friday, November 16, the main department will begin a series of informal student concerts.

These recitals are designed to acquaint our vocalists and instrumentalists to the ways of performing in public. The time and place for these programs is 8:00 p.m. in the music building and everyone is invited.

These recitals, once started, will be every Friday until the end of the semester, except during December and January when there is a little matter of vacation. The purpose is to give the students an opportunity to buy and no one is required to attend, except the residents of the college who live here, and enjoy them.

The Puget Sound Symphony Orchestra has been giving public concerts for some years and has been very successful. It has compiled that he has been able to attend concerts and hear some of our city's outstanding musicians. This winter his winter is accepting to work his concert. He will have no other engagements. He will have the first concert, now scheduled for January 31, and the new director, Frank Hauer, is doing very well.

The Puget Sound Gay Club is not in the business of promoting evil only. It is not a highway to indigency, but a highway to all-around personality—and if I don't want ever find him; why, then I'll get married."

Dorm Open House; Officers Elected

“We hope that everyone will be able to come and see dorm life as it really is,” said dorm president, Peggy Doolan, in announcing the open house to be held the second night of Homecoming. The rooms will be open for inspection by the public, and it is hoped that as many as possible will take advantage of the opportunity to see just how the girls live.

House meetings are held in the dorm every Thursday evening, and the girls have elected officers for the coming year as follows: President, Peggy Doolan; vice-president, Thelma Hardy; secretary, Mary Lens Elliott; treasurer, Lucille Randall; sergeant-at-arms, Maisie Harold; and historian, Frances Quinn. A program for the year has been planned, with two main social functions each semester. The big first event is to be the freshman dance, which will be held on December 2.

Girls' Interclass Basketball Begins; Teams Announced

Girls' basketball is now well under way, with ten teams chosen for interclass playing. Following the interclass schedule will be the intersorority tournament.

Team 1 (Freshmen) consists of: Sarah Lou Miller, Ruth Potter, Ellison Roundtree, Pearl Moberg, Harriett Warne and Donna June Bennett.

Team 2 (Freshmen): Jo Anne Hedges, Shirley Hugg, Marilyn Wagnild, Jane Hargrave, Barbara Prechak and George Earin.

Team 3 (Freshmen): Mary Wright, Doris Mitchell, Dorothy Schulte, Jane Swift, Mary Lou Lindstrom, Natalie Nicholson and Mary Wright.

Team 4 (Freshmen): Joanne Williams, Marj Hein, Amy W. Taylor, Maude flight, Betty Blazer, Betty Robinson and Sue Kiechler.

Team 5 (Sophomores): Leila Fuerst, June Max Menger, Dorothy Bates, Alice Mahoney, Stella Lamer, Dorothy Kuenzler, Wanda Smith and Carol Ted.

Craver, Ellen Boyd, Shirley Cummings, Helen Hewett and Shirley Gilr.

An all-senior team, Ralph Ronald Hanz, 1948, has been doing research work on the atomic bomb and was present in New Mexico at the time of its trial. Prior to this he had been working toward his masters degree in physics, and also teaching at the California Institute of Technology.

A new record student, Ralph Ronald Hanz, 1948, has been doing research work on the atomic bomb and was present in New Mexico at the time of its trial. Prior to this he had been working toward his masters degree in physics, and also teaching at the California Institute of Technology.

Delores B. Jones, another graduate, has recently taken over the direction of the Stadium High school band. He has been engaged in public school music work here in Topeka for a number of years.

Many New Books Added To Library

Over 120 new books with such varied titles as "Child Psychology," "Experimental Coloring" and "Diamonds" have been added to the library this year, according to Miss Mary Batterson, librarian.

Of interest to art lovers is a portfolio of European drawings from collections of the Metropolitan Museum of Art. Selections from Italian, Flemish, Dutch, German, Spanish, French and British art are presented in the portfolio. These drawings cannot be loaned until they are bound but anyone is welcome to come to our office to see them," explained Miss Batterson.

Also on view in the library is a copy of the official Japanese Survey Report Document, which might be of interest to many students. It is planned up on the bulletin board.

Basketball Practice to Be Coached by John Heinrich

With John P. Heinrich, Stadium High School's athletic director, as their newly acquired coach, 23 enthusiastic basketball aspirants began workouts Tuesday evening in the gymnasium.

Mr. Heinrich, at the initial turnout Monday afternoon, explained that the tentative time for practices will be every 7:30 from Monday to Thursday, inclusive. The regular schedule at Stadium prevents him from having turnouts in the afternoon.

No official conference games have been planned, but practices with the former members of the Northwest Conference are being tentatively scheduled. A road trip for the team through the Willmington Valley is definitely a part of the season's plans. Also, tunes with service squads are probable for the C. P. S. home, 1948.

Of the nearly dozen prospective cage men, Graham Heinrich will be welcomed by several hoop veterans, and if the ball experience on former high school and service teams, this follows forming the nucleus of a potentially powerful varsity squad will be formulated, backed up by a group of second-stringers.

Prospective managers are: Bob Boz, Fred Holm, Curt Anderson and Todd Broom.
