Music Head
In Concert
January 7

Opening the new year with a song will be Clyde Keutzer, director of the music department at CPS, who will present his first Tacoma concert at the First Congregational Church on the evening of January 7. His program will feature four soloists who have made their names with the public and will begin at 8:15. Accompanist for Mr. Keutzer will be Leonard Judson, head of the college's piano department, who is now on terminal leave from the service.

At the Crystal Ballroom, Tuesday, January 9, the grand Christmas dance will begin. Prom tickets may be purchased now at the school office. Full dress is optional and the program will feature music of the season under the direction of Clyde Keutzer.

International Relations Club Holds Party
Christmas festivity prevailed at the last meeting of the International Relations Club Monday, Dec. 19, the meeting, in the home of Mrs. Lela Shiffbauer.

After a short preliminary business meeting the program was presided over by a number of people. With the help of these, the members were taken on a imaginary journey through several countries of the world to view the people and customs there at the holiday season.

Taking the group, via word picture, to England, Christmas pudding, toffee, and long lasting traditions, was Wilma Reed from Canada. Next the group was taken to the north and across the English Channel to Sweden where Mickey Sundin outlined a typical Yuletime season. This last was complete with description of festive meals, gay parties and merry customs.

The group next moved south to France where Virginia Mekkes depicted her festivals, First to Germany where Maurine Golden held the group up to 1933 and the Christmas dreem for a sight of Christmas in that country. Here all present were introduced to Father Christmas who arrives in that city by train.

Dr. Tomlinson, advisor of the group, took them to Germany and told them of a great many of the United States customs that originate, especially many traditions concerning the Christmas tree. According to Dr. Scheler, the Chinese do not have any unusual Christmas celebration, but do have a Festival to celebrate the New Year which is comparable to the Christmas traditions and customs at that time they have several feast days beginning with a

Christmas Carol To Be Given Wednesday

Third Performance of Dickens' Play to Be Presented in Special Chapel at 10:45 Wednesday Morning

Amid Christmas excitement with shining red bows, the time-honored Christmas story, "The Christmas Carol," by Charles Dickens, has been presented twice in the Jones Hall auditorium, with the third performance scheduled for a special chapel period tomorrow at 10:45.

On Friday afternoon the play was given for the first time for an audience of over 500 high school students from Tacoma and surrounding towns. It was presented again as the annual Christmas vacation service of CPS for friends of the college.

All the richness of Christmas in music and pageantry is included in the performance, with over 125 students participating in the many musical selections, which consisted mostly of the familiar carols.

Christmas Carol Cast
Members of the cast are Scrooge portrayed by Marshall Campbell, his former sweetheart, Karrin Kuhn; Fred, his nephew, Jerry Baker; Fred's wife, Larraine Hasse; Bob Cratchit, Kenny Hamilton; Mrs. Cratchit, Irene Pfeuer; Tiny Tim, Steve Keutzer; other Cratchit children, Carolyn Keutzer, Marilyn Larson and Elizabeth AndichTextBox as Martha, Fred's brother's former employer, Mark Kennell; the ghost of Marley, his deceased business partner, Dan Niesen and Bill Smith, a solicitor.

Taking the various scenes together is Stella Larson as reader.

Marie Oppedia, first Dorothy and Carol Todd represent the Peck, Peanuts, and Pencils in Scrooge's visions. The unusual lighting created an amazing supernatural effect for their appearances, while the marvelous Baker sisters wear clothes on the organs. Chuck Lee and Bob Lyons are in charge of the lighting.

The Adelphi Chant, the Women's Chorus and the Campus Trio provide music for the scenes, while the Choral Readers present four Christmas readings.

SAC Features Chapel Services
Christmas spirit has been radiating from halls of CPS during the last week, but it was centered and expressed in a religious way on Sunday and Tuesday in the Little Chapel when students attended church services there. The series, "Christmas at Church," was based on the stories of inspirational worship Favorite Christmas Carols and stories of Jesus were featured in both services.

The program was under the chairmanship of Faye Walker, chairman of the SAC, and was decorated by Cathy Williamson, chairman; Irene Ritter, and Gladys Jensen.
The Christmas Cynic

Someone once said that a cynic is a man who found out when he was about ten that there wasn't any Santa Claus, and he's still upset.

There are many cynics in the world today; some are habitual cynics, some are only cynics on occasion. The worst of them all, however, is the Christmas Cynic, for the Christmas Cynic not only doesn't believe in Santa Claus, but he does not believe even in the spirit of Christmas.

It is love for our fellowmen that predominates at Christmas, that is shown through our exchanging of gifts and merry greetings; it is love of our fellowmen that is taught in the Christmas services of worship.

This all-pervading sense of love is the essential of Christmas. There are many cynics in the world today; some are habitual cynics, some are only cynics on occasion. The worst of them all, however, is the Christmas Cynic, for the Christmas Cynic not only doesn't believe in Santa Claus, but he does not believe even in the spirit of Christmas.

It is love for our fellowmen that predominates at Christmas, that is shown through our exchanging of gifts and merry greetings; it is love of our fellowmen that is taught in the Christmas services of worship.

On the evening of January 7, at 8:00 p.m., the Seattle Civic Chorale will journey north 30 miles from Seattle to the Christmas services of worship. A request that the government provide free meal for their singing, this group is sponsored by the State Council of Churches.

On that afternoon, they will arrive in Bremerton. After a well-earned meal and perhaps a cigarette smoke to soothe their voices, they will cross over to Gig Harbor. There they will change to the telephone cable passenger train and will reach Tacoma at about 3:30 p.m. Fifteen minutes or so later, they will be in their accustomed seats in the Tacoma Opera House. A few minutes later, they will be singing their own rendition of the Christmas Carol, "We Three Kings of Orient Are," the concert tour giving performances for the Army and Navy in the Pacific Northwest during the Christmas season.

For three hours, they will be giving a stirring presentation of Vivaldi's "Gloria" and Handel's "Messiah," and in between they will present a number of carols from the music of the Christmas services of worship. The occasion is a meeting sponsored by the State Council of Churches.

There is a great deal of speculation as to whether or not Mr. Keutzer will want to play "itchy-coo." And then Flash had a birthday on December 6, and his Red Cross girl was surprised that anyone would even think of doing such a thing. "After all," she said, "I keep him young and healthy." And then Dennis Walker. At intermission, he received a Howarth Scholarship for his concert tour giving performances for the Army and Navy in the Pacific Northwest during the Christmas season.

Of interest is the fact that the concert tour giving performances for the Army and Navy in the Pacific Northwest during the Christmas season is being given for the benefit of the U. S. Government in 1855 in the Ebbell of the Northwestic Regional College of the U. S. Government, and the U. S. Government in 1855 in the Ebbell of the Northwestic Regional College of the U. S. Total of Ten Seniors Named for 'Who's Who'

Ten senior students have had the distinction of being chosen to have their biographies in "Who's Who in Colleges and Universities" during the last two years. Eight were named for the first time, and two, Eunice Amundsen and Jeanne Thurbur, were chosen during their junior year. Students to be listed in this year's edition are: Ruth Ann Overstreet, Betty Holdinger Smith, Doris Eggleson, Mary Ann Triquet, Margaret Lindeman, Murden Woods, Don Carsten and Charlene Nee.

This year's list is put out in the name of the outstanding student body of the United States from over 600 educational institutions.

The publication is primarily for listing senior students and is a small group of outstanding juniors.

Verma Anderson is national president of Spur's, president of Delta Alpha Gamma, and a member of the Women's College Nighers; Jeanne Thurbur is president of Kappa Sigma and the corresponding editor of the Campus Trio.

Ruth Ann Overstreet, ARCP is also a member of Kappa Phi and Delta Alpha Gamma, the holder of a Howard Scholarship in journalism and was a Spur during the last two years.

Don Carsten, vice-president of ARCP, is a member of the Adelphian Concert Choir; Knights of the Legend and holds a Howarthur Scholar's in physical education.

Doris Eggleson is president of Gamma Sigma, Eta Sigma Chi, and was chairman of homecoming activities for this year.

Margaret Lindeman is also a member of Kappa Sigma, Theta, is also president of the Women's Fraternity Association and a member of Women's College Nighers.

Betty H. Smith is president of Alpha Delta Phi and a member of the Campus Trio; a member of the Howard International Relations club, and is a part of the four-year end of the Trail, and a former member of the Red Clown.

Chuck Nee is president of the Knights of the Legend and also student president of the student government; Jeanne Thurbur, chairman of the chapel committee; Betty Holdinger Smith, chairman of the Adelphian Concert Choir, Delta Alpha Gamma, and a former Spur.

Keeping Christmas

It is a good thing to observe Christmas Day. But there is a better thing than the observance of Christmas Day, and that is keeping Christmas.

Are you willing to forget what you have done for other people, and to remember what other people have done for you? Are you willing to be patient and think of what you owe the world; to put your rights in the background, and your duties in the middle distance, and your chances to do a little more than your duty in the foreground; to see that your fellow student is not as capable and try to look behind their faces to their hearts, hungry for joy; to own that probably the only good reason for your existence is not what you are given, but you are going to give to life; to close your book of complaints against the management of the universe, and to look around you for a place where you can sow a few seeds of happiness; are you willing to do these things even for a day? Then you can keep Christmas.

And if you can keep it for a day, why not always.

—Henry Van Dyke

CPS Traveling Over Holidays

Travel-bound for the Christmas holidays are many CPS students who will celebrate in the Christmas spirit in their homes or in those of friends and relatives. Anderson Hall and Kinnedg Hall will be closed for this holiday period.

To Montana Zella Ley and Helen Howlett, heading home, while Gloria Beckmann, leaves for Los Angeles, Nevada. Canada sends its representatives William Reed, Gloria Clapp, and Anne Evans and Luis Pelit hopes for a trip to far-off Virginia.

To Chalhills will get Gretchen Ernst, as guest of Eleanor Round rejoins with visions of pleasures soon to be theirs. Away to the windows we flew like a flash.

College Life by Don Winken

As always, when the Christmas season rolls around, the whole student body becomes a little restless, and the professors a little harder to please. For the past two weeks, everyone on the campus has been busy doing their shopping for quarter exams, and trying to put on a little of the zest they once felt for the holiday season. This year, however, many are much younger, and on the whole much happier without College worries and cares.

No exception, I too, have been busy shopping for quarter exams.
