Because some of the games of the first round had to be postponed because of the debate tournament held last two weeks ago, all the games will be played without the same number of games. This may seem confusing at first, but as the results are read off each game we will be able to follow the tournament as it will be the same as the original.

This has been a real fun season for us with no serious happenings during the games. Minor things would include red-faced referees, which is no fault of theirs, but the fault of the ditto players who insist on aiming their shots at all members of the team, and squealing sometimes cause a number of our games to be called off.

The Northwest Conference was greatly improved this year through the efforts of Ted Danks, who is a real star in the Northwest Conference.

For the evening in which it is up for the contest, the following teams have been invited to take part in the contest:

The Puget Sound five was chosen as the other team, with the following members:

CPS Casaba Five Takes Doubleheader From Idaho

The CPS Hopsmoots trek to Vancouver tomorrow to play their first game of the season against the conference leaders, the University of British Columbia, the outcome of which will determine the championship of the Northwest Conference.

With Bob Fincham’s Near victory in the last ten seconds of action, the basketball season on the home court came to an end another year Tuesday night when the confident, finally, short-shooting Luger quintet steamed over the game, and badly outshone basketkets from the College of Idaho, 82-33.

That final free throw of Fincham’s, which completed his scoring in both games and brought 41 tallies, gave the Paseo boys a 53-23 edge at the half and a 65 to 33 advantage at the start of the second half. The Timbermen gave a lop-side 75-41 score.

The victory gave the unbeaten possession of top honors for a single game Northwest Conference. And 41 points added to the 50 he handed the night before sets a new conference record for the season.

The victory gave the unbeaten possession of top honors, since the conference meets each year three times at Vancouver.

With Fincham scoring 53 in the first half, the second half was 16 to 13, with the Luger boys out in front, after previously shots out in the first five minutes by reading.

In the final four minutes, after Fincham had 29 countenants, he set the quarter-down and dumped in 14 on five field goals and a free throw on a charity.
