DO YOU BELIEVE IN CHRISTMAS?

And we rewatched "The Star of the East" and "The Little Town of Bethlehem" with about as much emotion and YWCA and the like, we see in the long-forgotten days of our youth, "hang our stockings with care in Christmas Eve, and watch with the merriment of the season to come!"

By the time we had acquired the great expectation of a second-grade the Christmas Carol, we were quite well aware that Santa Claus ranked with the fairy tales. It was lots of fun to "greenstrip" the whole story and even more fun to go through our stockings on Christmas morning.

In those days we wanted very much to be in the Christmas Carol. Some of our classmates felt that they think they are in Santa Claus, and few realized the psychological game of a popular tradition and became mature social relations.

This page of the Christmas Carol is designed so skillfully that the whole thing was just a farce.

Registration For Spring Starts Jan. 6

Registration procedure for the spring semester will begin January 6 and 7, and may be completed any time before January 22, according to Dr. E. Smith, registrar.

Application cards will be distributed to students and representatives of the spring semester classes, and the students will complete them and submit them to the registrar.

Some Clear Through Registrar

Any student whose second semester program is merely a continuation of this semester's program may complete his registration without permission.

Programs which are largely continuations and involve only minor changes may be completed in this manner.

Other Requirements

Students who wish to take summer courses in the United States and Europe will have to complete their registration for these courses before the end of the fall semester.

The rest of the money will be banked and later divided among the students who have taken the courses.

New Constitution Passes Final Judgement: In Effect

The new, completely revised constitution has passed its final hurdle in the process of becoming official and "to now 'legal' and in effect," according to Ralph Paulson, student body president.

Nineteen pages shorter than the constitution adopted last fall, the new document has eliminated confusing contradictions and is constructed to serve the needs of the college's various student groups.

Central Board ratified the constitution first, after which it was put to the students, who voted to accept it.

Helen Strong, Bob Huston

To Go to SCA Convention

Helen Strong and Bob Huston have been elected representatives to the National Assembly of Student Christian Associations at the University of Illinois at Urbana, December 27 to January 31.

Periods Rescheduled

Because of the cancellation of "A Christmas Carol" the student body meeting was postponed to the following period has been rescheduled in full:

First period, 8 to 8:30, second, 8:45 to 9:25, third, 9:30 to 10:10, fourth, 10:15 to 10:50.

This year, although the movie was not shown, and some of the money was not divided equally, the students were satisfied with the proceeds.

The Trail Streamlines

The Trail has gained another "Carl" this year with the addition of two new members to the program.

The new members are: Bob Huston and Helen Strong, who will be representing the college at the National Assembly of Student Christian Associations, at the University of Illinois at Urbana, December 27 to January 31.

"The Star of the East": sometimes seems to be lost in the inexpressible brilliance of 10,000 stars.

We see our faith blended out the shining glar of celestial discoveries which overwhelm us. But some of these are remarkably small and insignificant. To some of us the word "religious" means a revealed religion and the lessening and losing of the whole orbiting establishment of our own system.

Individuals may be.

There are groups who are virtuous and who are chiefly to be divided by the results of their obedience to their own system. They are loving and OB. They are not understood by any.

They believe in the Christmas story as the symbol of these unseen things and as the eye of the human.
TODD EXPLAINS BIRTH DATES

I have many novels about the little brown plumes embedded in the resumé of Jones Hall. Well, we've never even tried to find out the history behind them. After asking questions for a while I found out that very few people did know the story behind the little brown plumes. We went to the best authority on CPB traditions, Edward Todd, president emeritus. Todd explained that it has been the tradition in the school for every senior class to place a unique gift on them in front of Jones Hall. The tradition started in 1948 when the students were in front of Jones Hall at this time the school bought the plaques and brought the students up to date. This tradition continued until 1991, which is the last date to appear. The reason for this was that the equipment has been used by the school. The senior class symbolizes the four points upon which CPB is based.

Tradition of "The Hatchet" Is One of the School's Oldest

One of the oldest and most strongly entrenched traditions of the college is with the "Hatchet." The hatchet is a relic found in the basement of the old University of Puget Sound building when it was located on Sprague street, is the gift of each graduating senior class. It is an end to the heritage that is passed on from class to class. The hatchet is a symbol of the school's spirit and its worth. The students of the senior class are the only ones who are allowed to touch the hatchet. There is a legend that if a person places his hand on the hatchet, he will be a senior forever. It is said that a mob scene occurred in Jones Hall and that Dr. Todd, then president, fought his way to the center of the fight, grabbed the hatchet, and threw it into the air to stop the riot. The students who were involved in the incident then left school. The hatchet was used to help in the search for a new campus. Equipment Received

Twenty-two desks, 22 filing cabinets, and 10 faculty offices have been received by the college, through the War Assets Disposal. Dr. Frank Thompson said this week. Working through the Tacoma office, the equipment will be used primarily to provide office facilities for new family members.

50 Chorus Members Celebrate Christmas Cheer At CPB

About 50 CPS students are asking Santa for an unusual present this year—a new voice. These five female students are members of the Men's and Women's Collegiate Choirs. Up to this time they have been only a name in the College Bulletin, but during the Christmas season they have blossomed out and proved their worth.

For the past three weeks they have increased their weekly rehearsals to three a week and so most will agree, have shown surprising improvement in the Choir Gym Chapel.

Last week the Women's Collegiate Choir gave its first performance, a choral program of Christmas music, designed to tell so well that the Adelphians had a better watch than he did. He stated that they had done a good job of maintaining the high standards set forth by the musical groups in past years. The incidentally soloed were Paul Wigger, Betty Lee Friday, Peggy Allen, Beverly McDonald, Mary Kirchhoffer, Margery Todd, and Lorraine Overstreet.

Join Forces for "Caroll"
The men and women joined their efforts and did an effective job of background singing in the dramatic production of Dickens' "Christmas Carol," which was given Friday the 13th for the high school assembly and Sunday afternoon for the public.

Last Monday night the weary travelers who drifted in and out of Union Station were greeted by the choristers, under the direction of Professor Ivan Ramsey. This year they gave one of the greatest Christmas concerts.

Mary Rough

Mary Rough, a dark-haired, blue-eyed senior, was "surprised and thrilled beyond words" when she discovered that the mail which she supposed was just another advertisement was the letter saying she had been chosen for "Who's Who Among Students." Graduating from Clover Park High School, she came to CPS in 1945 and became a member of the Campus Playcrafters, RCA, and Alpha Delta Phi. Mary is an occupational therapy student with a biology major. While a sophomore, she was president of the Occupational Therapy students.

Janice Lindeman
Janice Lindeman is majoring in business administration. She was secretary of the freshman class, a member of Spur, and president of the junior class. She is a member of Otlah, Mu Sigma Delta, and has won the Howarth Scholarship in business administration. Secretary of ARCS and a member of the Central Board, Janice is president of Kappa Sigma Theta.

Carol Todd
A charming, blue-eyed brunette, Carol Todd, active member of Delta Alpha Gamma sorority, may be seen on CPS's campus at almost any time of the day, kor-rying from one busy task to an­other. She is the president of the junior class and belongs to the Legislative, Inter-Sorority Council, and Kappa Phi. Carol, during her sophomore year, was song leader of the Spur, and is now kept busy on the chapel committee.
