Blackwell Featured at Homecoming Ball Tomorrow

With a huge poster stating "Welcome Home" posted on the wall, grad and students will mingle under strings of alternating white and red lights papered over the Hale Armory at 11th and Ainsworth Streets tonight, following a four day celebration leading from 8 to 12 a.m. in red and white lights. Many scenes concerning the orchestra to be featured.

Chairmen Ber Johnson and Peter Plant announced that Robert Blackwell and his orchestra would take over the bandstand. The group has been heard on many Northwest programs and performed at the Paradise with the King Cole Trio. The vocalist, Jo Evans, has made several recordings on Black and White records. A few novelty numbers have been arranged to add to the enjoyment of the evening.

Blackwell may quench their thirst at his self-service bar now to be filled with punch. These will be placed near the front entrance. Either long or short dresses will be appropriate at this semi-formal affair. Tickets are still available at the office of the Alumni Ball. All signs point to an outstanding Homecoming which is characterized by the motto "Me Puget Sound Bound."
The Beginning of Jones Hall — 1923

Homecoming Old Tradition

Beginning as a regular campus tradition in 1903, Homecoming has been one of the most important events of the school year. As a two-day celebration, it grew to one of four days. One of the first traditional football games was played with the University of Washington. It was a CPS victory 24 to 6.

In 1924, eight short articles were the popular entry for the big downtown parade. It was the custom to have a big bonfire built on the athletic field, the freshmen gathering wood. Late that night, the freshmen would throw their green banners.

As the parades became larger they became more wild and glee were given to the people who had the most长春n and rattling floats. A 1922 float winner was composed of an old Ford mounted on a trailer and pulled by a truck. The wheels of the car picked up and set paddle attached to the spokes. As the wheels turned the paddle banged against the large bell. people bled in front and behind the wheels.

In 1933 ten CPS football players were fourth string. From this Homecoming game opponents in a huge parade. A new event was a five-course dinner; each event being a certain dish. The plates, of course, were domestic. A prize was given in this case for the most clever house decorations of cut-up overalls, plaid shirts, and Geneva Withers also helped in this the damage was slight.

The only casualty was Eleanor Jones. She turned in a list of students and allowances due. Promotions and shall receive the pay and allowances due.

VA again urges all vets to check this box and get your dough. The July edition of Pic magazine provides for inactive duty training of honorably discharged Reserve Components and for other veterans.

GIRLS IN DORM NEED ROWBOATS

The rain came and Anderson Hall was satisfy; that the people of the campus. Dorm fought the flood three times in three days.

Navy Vets who have not received pay for terminal leave pay now make application to the Secretary of the Navy. Various forms have been left for some Vets. VA again urges a all vets to check this box and get your dough.

The July 1924 edition of The Trail was a five-course dinner; each event being a certain dish. The plates, of course, were domestic. A prize was given in this case for the most clever house decorations of cut-up overalls, plaid shirts, and Geneva Withers also helped stop the flood!

Campus Trio Organized to Carry on Tradition

With one member from last year, the Campus Trio, composed of Ani­sta Robbins, Clara bowls and Mary Lou Cooper, is ready to carry on CPS Trio tradition.

Frazer Hill is understanding, and Nancy Lowell is accompanying. First and second sopranos are Anita Stellini and Clara Bowe respectively, with Mary Lou Cooper alto.

Mrs. Herstrom New Adviser to Theas

Mrs. Nevin, secretary to Dr. Thompson and a CPS alum has been chosen as the new adviser to Kappa Sigma Theta. She was a member of Theta when she attended the college as a student.

Can You Help?

Due to the lack of books in academic courses, many students may be unable to complete semester studies. The Trail office will aid these students in a book buying campaign. A list of subjects of the books they seek will be published each week. If not turned in at the Trail office in the fall, students will be requested to buy or sell them.

Roomers Are Flying

The latest rumor on the new Todd Building picked up by a staff member while hitchhiking to school with one of the construction workers, is that they can't get some of the important materials until December. Don't let this bother you though, we hear the basement will be ready soon.

The scene is the first floor of Jones Hall. The building is not complete and part of the auditorium is enclosed with canvas. It is June, 1924, and the small group of students gathered together comprised the first graduating class of the Puget Sound University. Classes had been held at 6th and Sprague but the graduation was in the new building at 15th and Warren Street.

The college was originated at a conference in Seattle in 1881. Bishop Fowler and Dr. David G. Leacock were the moving spirits in the organization. It was first called the Puget Sound University and in 1903 changed to the University of Puget Sound. The first building was erected at South 24th and Yakima St. There were 88 students enrolled and about 10 on the faculty.

The building later was sold to the city school board and today, as we celebrate Homecoming 1917, with approximately 2040 students enrolled, a faculty of about 90, a steadily improving campus, The College of Puget Sound has come a long way.

Members of the Dogpatch society are due for a shock. It's a peaceful day on the campus with rain drizzling down the gutters, but what's this? There goes 'Lil Abner and he's chasing Daisy Mae! It can't be. Al Capp would give up his pipe. It's positively against all ethics! Then why is it that Daisy Mae is not going to he a tolo? It just isn't ethical!

One of the biggest features of the Homecoming week this year will be the tangle of the CPS Loggers and the Willamette Bearcats for the Northwest Conference lead. Starting at 2 p.m. in the Truax Stadium, the contest finds both teams possessors of two in two league starts.

Sprawling of the Willamette powerhouse is Keiry Spruill, 15-year-old freshman from California, who has scored third of the Bearcats’ early only one-point Conversion and the visitors in Bill Roder who has kicked four conversions this season. Roder was chosen on the Northwest Conference second team at the end of last season.

Bob Douglas from the Willamette backfield also boasts a spot on last years second league team. Those are but two of the fourteen lettermen who bolster the Southern eleven.

Out of four starts Willamette has three times and last one. But Spruill in her opener she dropped a straighting one to College of Pacific, 34 to 0, has come to a standstill. The first was San Francisco Whittier 19 to 0, College of Idaho 34 to 0 and, British Columbia 30 to 0.

Scoring honors for the Loggers were divided between Ruid and Wood who each have twelve points, Ruid to Ellsworth Ryeo has six. Tom Binford has a perfect record with five points from five tries at placement.

Loggertesses, Marching Band to be in Parade

Many themes float from the minds of the same. There is much discussion as to which floats will be in the big homecoming parade tomorrow morning between third and Broadway at 10:15 a.m. The parade committee, consisting of Jim Johnson, Lloyd Silver and Bill Stivers, has numerous trucks up and down Main Street.

The floats will be carried in and out of their stylish dress, along with other activities, their independence.

Skiing the parade will be the marching band directed by Professor O'Conner and the Loggertesses. Also in appearance will be many old cars and colorfully dressed cars competing for the many prizes.

Local high school and military bands will spark the parade at intervals.

To Entertain Their Alums

Homecoming is being celebrated with banquets, breakfasts, and other special events to attend open house at the Sigma Mu Chi house after tomorrow's football game. Committed to amuse the largest seated audience in the history of the Alpha Beta Upsilon, Alpha Chi Nu, and Alpha Beta Upsilon joined forces Thursday, Oct. 23, to sponsor pledge day entertainment provided by the house of both groups. Chairman of the occasion was Benjamin E. Rice, president of the Sigma Zeta Epsilon. Open house will be held at the house for a get-together, with a tour of the house to see new developments.

Friday night will see the climax of the Chi Nu "Welcome Home" activities when a banquet honoring the alums will be held at the top of the Green at 8:00 p.m. A gala match will be held with the alumni versus the active members of Chi Nu Sunday announcements Chairman Jim Wurmstaff.

Unknown Talent
Hits Jackpot in Entertainment

Has another tradition for Homecoming been established? Will we have a minstrel show every year? Three questions are being asked over and over again by those who were fortunate enough to see "Centennial Revived" last evening and Wednesday evening.

Professor John O'Connor presented some scholastic music that thrilled the fancy of a packed house both nights. The arrangements and the orchestra were perfect harmony with the individual parts throughout. "Prelude to the wind and heart and soul to the song," was the slogan for the evening. The night included: "Asbestos Banks," "Spontaneous Reunion," and "Chimes of the Skies." The night concluded with a three-picking out comedy with both hands.

Many talented artists performed on the diversified program but outshone all were Ruth Webster and Madame Galli-Curci. Entertainer for the evening was Donald P. Freet is chairman of the event and Art Squires, president of the Sigma Zeta, Jack Blatt.

Flowers for the Homecoming
Corsages, Mums, etc.

Flowers for the Homecoming are being purchased by white roses, lilacs, and carnations which are especially thanked for the cooperation they have rendered. The Independents have offered their ideas and help, and all contributions of time and talent were graciously accepted.

The Lettermen's club sponsors a color dance this afternoon in the house, the kick-off dance for the Saturday evening. They are assisted by Mrs. Redman, Gene Brown, ticket chairman, and Blatt and Rosenblum.

Philotheans Hold 1st Reunion

The first reunion of Philomatheans, Chi society of Kappa Phi, was held at 6:30 Saturday night at the Rose Garden of the Towers.

The Phi's were one of the first mixed literary groups on the campus. They organized in 1905-1906, and dissolved when sororities and fraternities came on the campus. More than 290 initiatives have been sent out to the members. In the reception line were Dr. and Mrs. Todd, Dr. and Mrs. Thompson and Prof. and Mrs. McWade.

They met once a week at Kappa Phi room, and had a literary program and social functions.

The committee in charge of arrangements included Miss and Mrs. Paul Grantland, Ruth Mallin, Marion J. McLaughlin, Raymond Bever, and Mrs. Lester Weinhofen.
