New Constitution Makes Election Rule Changes

Under the new Rally Committee constitution the entire yest for staff for next year will be elected this spring. This year the election will be made entirely by Rally Committee. However, in future years the finals list (as selected by Rally Committee) will be placed on the all-school ballot and shall be voted upon during the routine. There will be three yest queens and three yest kings, the same as in the past. Primary tryouts for next year's song leaders will be held within the next two weeks. Those who are eliminated will be taught a routine. Time and place will be announced.

Yest staff contestants are responsible for a routine of their own, original or otherwise. Sign ups for all contestants, song and yest, will be held sometime in the next two weeks. "Sunday night is the place to be," says Jim Foreman, rally chair. Those desiring to join must register their names at the Rally Committee Monday evening.

The one toward whom it is directed enjoys nothing more than a contented mind. I should make it clear that I have no intention of being involved in any extended debate regarding the subject. It is a matter of personal opinion, and I hope that a friendly and open-minded discussion can ensue.

In the writings of John Keil, there have been several references to issues of conformity and rebellion. I believe that the student body has the right to question orthodoxy and demand re-examination where before acquiescence to conformity sours and seems intolerable.

CPSSwimming Team 52-34

The Logger swimmers turned in one of their best performances of the year Friday although they lost to the Coast Conference Oval for the Conference victory. On Saturday afternoon the CPS team hosted the Eastern Washington Seahawks and swam off with a 67-59 win and their Conference victory. The dual meet sea­

Coach Duncan's fragment swam almost every event from the Long Beach Western Vikings last Monday. Most of Western's swimmers swam a second-place lap when CPS had only one man entered in the event.

The basketball season is history. Seniors Dick Ballard and Hall were the purple and white for the last time Saturday night. The Loggers will miss the services of the two top performers.

The dual meet season may mean more to CPS than in previous years. The college can be proud of the work invested in intercollegiate competition.

Randy Ferguson, a graduate of the class of 56 of CPS and now an inventor and president of the Ferguson Instrument Co. of Seattle, is giving three students at the college an opportunity to excel in the field of physics.

A scholarship of $600 will be divided among three recipients. The students honored are Jim Driskell, a senior; Dan Johnson, and Lloyd Eib, juniors. The money will hold toward tuition and in return the students will do experimental work in extra projects not usually included in the regular physics curriculum. The scholarship is to be a yearly gift.
