Chips Will Fly This Weekend
With Logger Day Competition

By Davy Jones

If there is a time for that woodelman in the Student Center to come to life, it should be tomorrow afternoon.

Chips will fly and muscles will strain as Todd Hall sponsors its tenth annual Logger Day. The activities include seven events, topped off with a three-hour dance at night.

Since the UPS Bunyan is not likely to participate, the performance of two professional loggers is the single change in this year's Logger Day. Fred Gorum and his brother-in-law Howard Hammer, both from Whatcom County (70 miles north of UPS) will demonstrate their proven ability in logging, sawing, and axe throwing.

Twenty-nine girls signed up for five song leader positions. The list will be cut down by preliminary screening. Among those expecting to perform are Karen Bagne, Cheryl Board, Jennifer Boyd, Emily Breitenstein, Sara Bruno, Kathy Caldwell, Nancy Cooper, Mary Lou Couch, Linda Dyer, Joyce Fry, Sandy Harvey, Ann Hoag, Jo Jacobs, Sue Jellen, Valorie Knecht, Marilyn Minnitti, Bev Miller, Sheri Parks, Susie Plets, Paige Rasmussen, Marilyn Sand, Cassie Short, Ede Steiger, Lynda Walter, Sharon Wells, Helen Whiteford, Mary Wolfe, Chris Gorum has won the All Around Best Logger title for the last two years in the Northwest Washington Logger Rodeo in Deming, Wash. He has also placed high in world championship logger competition in Albany, Ore., several times in the past few years in hand bucking and log chopping.

Gorum is a veteran of numerous competitions that should bring all campus organization presidents together once a year. It's a step in the right direction.

A. (Brown) I feel to each his own. I belong because I want to belong. They don't hurt a campus, if anything they aid it.

A. (Wiley) Some are made to be Greeks, others aren't. I don't think 35, 75 or 45 per cent should necessarily be Greek. If it should come down to racial ideas, I guess I'd be anti-Greek.

Council members voted down last semester. Draughon said he really was not familiar with that project. He said his council would bring all campus organization presidents together once a month for two hours to advise CB.

Questions went as follows:

Q. How would you have voted on CB's anti-discrimination motion?
A. (Brown) I voted against it because of the "if, and only if" clause which would make CB a court to prove whether discrimination exists.

A. (Wiley) I spoke in favor of the motion at CB even though it didn't say much. It's a conscience clearing device. It's difficult to prove discrimination, as Dick Gregory said, "Prove I'm colored." It's a step in the right direction.

A. (Draughon) I'd vote in favor. I feel we do not have a minority group problem on campus. Two fraternities recently extended invitations to Negroes to live with them as guests.

Q. What's the most pressing problem at UPS?
A. (Draughon) Organizations. Student government has generally failed to organize the student body as a whole. I see Greeks and independents as the basic organizations that should bring all groups together and centralize them into one unit.

A. (Wiley) Organization is primary, but diversified representation of students at CB is more important. We must extend representation to groups not now represented.

A. (Brown) Must give elected delegates and class officers more responsibility to report to unrepresented groups. Some can be done through IFC.

Q. What do you think of the present ratio of Greeks to independents?
A. (Draughon) I favor the current balance. It doesn't seem to depress the activities of anyone. If you decreased the number of Greeks, organization could go down the drain. Greeks play an integral part on campus.

A. (Wiley) Some are made to be Greeks, others aren't. I don't think 35, 75 or 45 per cent should necessarily be Greek. If it should come down to racial ideas, I guess I'd be anti-Greek.

A. (Brown) I feel to each his own. I belong because I want to belong. They don't hurt a campus, if anything they aid it.

Q. How can more students be involved in campus activities, especially on weekends?
A. (Draughon) Ultimate, basic and organization is organization. This is the way to stimulate student enthusiasm.

A. (Wiley) More co-sponsored social events between Greeks and independents and extension of a 7-Day Campus by the ASB. A. (Brown) 7-Day Campus can be promoted by the A&A program. A&I is primary as far as the student body as a whole is concerned.

Q. What do you think of the current budgets for Forensics, Drama, Cross Currents and the Trail?
A. (Wiley) Cross Currents is the only working, physical result of the creative aspect of the campus and should be promoted. It can do things which the Trail (Continued on Page 2)
SPECIFIC QUALITIES UNDERLINE SUCCESS OF ASB CANDIDATES

Step into voting booth, close curtain and flip lever. This is not the proper voting procedure in an ASB election, or any other election. The sequential manner by which you evaluate candidates, enter voting machine, close curtain and select thoughtfully.

The Berkeley seminar on “Issues of Higher Education” brought out a major point. Student government on almost all campuses has stagnated, failing to reflect the views of the students. As the newspaper, which is by necessity a formalities of majority rule and parliamentary procedure in an ASB election, or any other election, evolves from practicality, according to Maule.

The problem is either that creative, imaginative ideas supported by perceptive observation, proof of previous involvement with student government or similar activities, and the ability to guide and get along with colleagues. With such candidates, there's the party mood of the men and we don't like the present method of communication. Communication might have to be hit. Block booking is no good.
Central Board News

By Roy Jacobson

It was close, but that only counts in horseshoes. Eying the meet record of 39 min. 47 sec. set Nov. 16, 1965, an eager Central Board pushed rapidly through its agenda this week. But when the final gavel fell, the clock on the wall said 40 min. flat. Well, that’s board biz.

Anyway, Rich Crow, head of Elections Committee, moved that this year’s May Queen be elected later in the year, after ASB election, so the winner could be announced in style at Spring Week. Roy Kimbel wanted to know who would ride the school’s daffodil float if there is no May Queen. Crow suggested the Homecoming Queen. Someone in the back of the room said this year’s home may make it unnecessary for anyone to ride the float. Dennis Bakke suggested that Crow’s motion be amended to read that the delayed election be subject to the daffodil float committee’s approval. Bakke’s amendment was accepted and the motion passed.

As for the up-coming ASB elections, there’s been some concern as to whether voting machines will be available, or if paper ballots will be necessary. Crow said the machines are currently being used in some sort of county elections, but he added, “I have my fingers crossed on this,” and he seemed optimistic that the machines would be on land.

UPS Tankers Close Season With Honors

Coach Don Duncan's swim team closed out the UPS swimming season last Saturday by taking second place in the Evergreen Conference Swimming and Diving Championships held at Central in Ellensburg.

With the exception of the relay team members, the season has closed for those swimmers that led the consistently good UPS team to another winning season. Those who will not be back for the team next year are seniors Bill Marcy, Joe Lanza, and John Strain. Strain was considered by Coach Duncan to be the most improved swimmer at the EvCo Championships.

This Saturday the relay team members will compete in the Far Western Senior Invitational Meet sponsored by the Multnomah Athletic Club of Portland. Leav­ ing for Portland will be Lyndon Meredith, Bill Sievers, Doug Hanna, Doug Ewen, Dan Pender and Rich Taylor.

The 400 yard medley relay team (Meredith, Ewen, Pender, Sievers) took first place at the conference meet, while the 400 yard and the 800 yard freestyle relay teams took second.

Individual winners at the meet were Meredith in the 100 yard and 200 yard backstroke, and Sievers in the 100 yard breaststroke. Seconds were pulled by Ewen, Hanna and Sievers.

The official final team standings at the Conference Meet were Central—1921½ points, UPS—1320. Ewen—11. The upset of the meet was Eastern's win over Western for third place.

UPS Skiers Defeat PLU in Dual Ski Meet

The UPS skiers defeated Pacific Lutheran last week to even the cross-town rivalry at 5-3. The Loggers won the team title in the Crystal Mountain, Andrea Dew­ sheniek special slalom Saturday, but Fred Baxter of PLU captured the individual trophy. UPS won the team title on the basis of its top three finishers having the best accumulative time—311.1 sec.

The top six finishers are listed as follows: Baxter (PLU) 99.5; Chuck Stuckvik (PLU) 102.2; Tom Neu (UPS) 102.5; Terry Fields (UPS) 104.3; Terry Mey­ er (UPS) 104.5 and John Dins­ more (PLU) 132.0.

Have astronauts made pilots old hat?

Sure, the boys who go off the “pads” get the big, bold headlines. But if you want to fly, the big opportunities are still with the aircraft that take off and land on several thousand feet of runway.

Who needs pilots? TAC does. And MAC, And SAC, And ADC.

There’s a real future in Air Force flying. In years to come aircraft may fly higher, faster, and further than we dare dream of. But they’ll be flying, with men who’ve had Air Force flight training at the controls.

Of course the Air Force also has plenty of jobs for those who won’t be flying. One of the world’s largest and most advanced research and development organizations, we have a continuing need for scientists and engineers.

Young college graduates in these fields will find that they’ll have the opportunity to do work that is both interesting and important. The fact is, nowhere will you have greater latitude or responsibility right
2nd Vice President Candidates Reply at Trail Question Session

Dennis Bakke, Clay Loges and Hugh Martin, candidates for ASB second vice-president, gave these responses at the Trail-sponsored press conference Tuesday.

Questions were as follows:

Q. How would you have voted on CB's anti-discrimination motion?
A. (Loges) I voted for it, because so many evaluate student-faculty committee; issues and I think athletics should be emphasized, though never emphasized above academics.

Q. What changes will be made to the current inter-collegiate basketball and football program?
A. (Bakke) Student government should consider all issues and I think athletics should be made. Especially for the California area it will be a real drawing card, because so many evaluate student-faculty committee; issues and I think athletics should be emphasized, though never emphasized above academics.

Q. What would you have voted on CB's anti-discrimination motion?
A. (Loges) I voted for it, because so many evaluate student-faculty committee; issues and I think athletics should be emphasized, though never emphasized above academics.

Q. What was your opinion of the three-week tour to Europe?
A. (Bakke) You can't really pick out different types. The main selective basis is scholastics, but the minority groups should know they are welcomed here. Remember that diversity will come with academic improvements, disregarding social or minority restrictions. Student government can help in this situation.

A. (Martin) Welcome the minority; get more people here and there'll be more diversity.

A. (Loges) Certainly there should be changes, but the 2nd VP can help to roll out the welcome mat in the Logger Ledger. The more diversified the student body, the more rounded the education.

Q. Finally, what's your philosophy of student government?
A. (Bakke) ASB is a community, whose government is CB and the ASB officers. This group is not an agent of the administration; the students have a lot of power if they use it correctly. Finances, the racial issue, academics — anything in connection with the community is important and is related to CB and the officers.

A. (Loges) Student government is important as a maturing process, in order to get along with people and to work with them later outside a college atmosphere. Main purpose is to get people efficient and organized, to get the students to have an individual concept of themselves as separate from the administration and faculty. CB's purpose is to represent student views, to perpetuate itself and to cater to student needs.

A. (Martin) Student body is a community which should be represented, organized, and administered. Students should see or understand (relatively) mature persons they respond very well. They achieve interesting and friendly contacts with people they meet.

The educational experience has been tops, with far more learning than usually possible in the first three weeks of any semester. Sightseeing, as conducted by our high caliber guides, has been on par with university lecture levels, many times presentations are much more thorough than I have heard given for previous tour groups. Student investigations on their own (British Museum, Louvre, Vatican Museum, Art Galleries, etc.) have proved most valuable, as shown by the required written reports. Frequently they comment with enthusiasm and even an emotional response, especially if they have had background courses in Art or History, and now meet the great art works, contents of museums, or monuments and places they have anticipated. Others with less background are partially frustrated as to what they should see or understand.

The program of two days guided sightseeing and four "free" days is excellent. Several students have independent study projects which they have already done investigations.

Activities for all or most of the group have filled a part of the "free time": Lecture on philosophy at Oxford with added trip to Stratford-on-Avon and Warwick Castle, Lecture in Paris to Marcel, and early morning visit to the Charolles-market. Also market in Petticoat Lane in London. Here tomorrow attendance at a public audience by the Pope, an afternoon at the excellent preserved remains at Ostia Antica, old port of Rome. Theatre concerts, opera have added to enjoyment and appreciation.

The students have had many living experiences, mostly good and some bad — such as "being taken," and all beneficially educational. They profit from the learning of "foreign" cities, and living in big cities — new to many of them. The initiative with which they acquainted themselves with their new surroundings and find out what to do has been most gratifying. If they were actually "over-privileged" students from the Northwest, they are well past the description now. Particularly the tour has gone smoothly and well. Weather mostly mild, somewhat wet, like Puget Sound. But a warm spring day in Rome today.

Greetings to all at UPS!!

Sincerely
Warren E. Tomlison

2nd Vice President Candidates Reply at Trail Question Session

Q. What are the qualifications you should fulfill 2nd VP, considering the work on the budget committee and being a member of the Executive Council?
A. (Loges) I support it for the rights of the minority. Finally, what's your philosophy of student government?
A. (Bakke) Not to refute Hugh, but the minority groups should be considered, issue, administration and faculty, besides a background in parliamentary procedure, chrm. of the Academic Affairs Committee, co-chrm. of leadership conference.

Candidates for 1st Vice President Respond to Two Trail Questions

Marcia Burdette, Grogan Robison and Ronald Willhite, candidates for 1st vice-president, expressed opinions to the Trail staff regarding the following questions:

Q. What is the most pressing problem at UPS?

A. (Burdette) Probably, the problem of representing the students. I want of the student body. I've been a problem, but I think a campaign.

Q. How would you have voted if Central Board had voted to accept the motion?

A. (Robison) The most pressing problem at UPS now is student apathy — not only in sports activities, or student government, but the many aspects of such areas. One of the most pressing problem at UPS is the fact that the campus activities would not conflict with the A&L program. I would encourage a wide spectrum of programs, especially in the areas of Artist Entertainment and Academic lectures.

A. (Robison) The most pressing problem at UPS, which Central Board could act upon, is the problem of representing the students. Under the present policy, if a representative is voted to an office, he seldom relies upon the support of the student body. I have a plan to alleviate this which will be brought out in the campaign.

A. (Willhite) I don't feel it has been a problem, but I think it would be more difficult to try to give up Artist Lectures. This has been the first year of the program and it was done well but, like any program, it could be worked on and it would benefit the ball rolling for a contro-versial type looking questions.

A. (Jackson) The most important problem at UPS now is student inaction.

Q. How would you have voted if you were asked to vote on the anti-discrimination motion, as passed by Central Board at semester? And why?

A. (Jackson) No. The motion was passed and voted on before the affected people (the minorities) could voice opinions on it's matter.
Operation Rendevous OK, But Other Ventures Fail

By Roy Jacobson

A breathless young fellow adorned in AFROTC blue burst into the Trail office a few evenings ago, rushed with ravaged dignity to within thirty paces of the editor's desk, whipped the aghast Hale a stiff-arm salute that would've put a slot machine handle and bellowed, "Operation Rendevous, A-OK, sirs!" Message delivered, he then executed a crisp about-face and goose-stepped out the door, whisking Stars and Stripes Forever.

Well, we finally called from this shocking occurrence that last Saturday's Military Ball must have gone over like a swept-wing KC-137, so to speak. Congratulations! Unfortunately, other military extravaganzas didn't fare so well, tactically.

In Knoxville, Tenn., a platoon-sized party of freshmen celebrating the inactivation of a decommissioned air dissolved abruptly at 7:30 p.m. last Friday when one of their once-firmly found paddling around in the punchbowl in a wet suit and snorkle.

A recent ROCTC function in Cathlamet was thrown into an abrupt standstill two weeks ago when a lint-picking cadet general decided to inspect the guests at the door and every girl who showed up was ordered off to get a haircut.

At the University of Oshkosh last month, aspiring officers of the 305th Air Cadet Wing spiced the 305th Air Cadet Wing spiced the world safe for democracy and civilians.

The list is endless, and it's a shame, really. Our boys need all the extensive military training possible if we're ever going to make the world safe for democracy and civilization.

Ode to Meters

Mileage meters on all new cars since Jan. 1, 1965, are accurate, but on earlier cars specifications for odometers permitted errors up to five percent on the plus side. This contributes to safety by allowing motorists to think they were going faster than they really were but also cheated car renters and employers who paid workers mileage.
