FOREWORD

It is customary for a college annual to be dedicated to some idea or person, so that all who read it are made conscious of the school, through that central thought.

This year, we, instead of putting forth any one thing as the most important here at the College, have left the choosing to you, and have presented as best we know how, a complete picture of the college year of '45-'46.

That which you have felt and enjoyed as a member of the Associated Students of the College of Puget Sound has been covered herein with a few words and pictures.

We hope that these will remind you of the problems, plans and ambitions of all of us here at the College, that in the years to come you may once more feel as a part of the year just finished.

ADMINISTRATION TIME-OUT FOR LUNCH!!

SHORTER ASSIGNMENTS

SHORTER HOURS!
As elsewhere the return to peace, and to peacetime pursuits here at the College, was not easy. Instead of labor troubles, the student and faculty administrations had the honor of welcoming a large group of veteran students; but at the same time had the trials of re-orienting this large group, that soon outnumbered other students, into college activities.

By the end of the second semester there were over eight hundred and fifty students at the College as compared to the previous high of approximately seven hundred. Of these 800, the men, for the first time in three years, outnumbered the women. Yet this large increase was not the end. Even as room was being made for those students who came back this year, plans were allowing for over 1200 students to attend the College next year.

To meet this influx, the faculty administration and trustees okayed the building of a new mens’ dorm to be ready for next year’s students.

In spite of this great increase in the schools’ population, classes ran as smoothly as ever, and slowly the student government integrated the newcomers into an all-college program.

All students took part in the ASCPS elections, said to be the hottest in many years here at the College. Mixers, Dances, Games, Campus Day, the Senior Sneak; all of these instilled into each student some of the friendly spirit of the College.

By the end of the year, all could truthfully say that indeed the College of Puget Sound had lost none of the cordial, friendly atmosphere that made every student feel as though he were wanted here on the Campus.
With the great increase in the size of the Student Body came the necessity of an increased faculty. Several new faculty members were added to the staff by June, and Dr. Thompson came from back East where he had been interviewing members of the teaching profession with the promise of fifteen new faculty members for next year's enrollment.

Another new feature was the adoption of the plans for the new Men's Dorm by the board of trustees of the College. This structure is to be built sometime this year.
The student government here at the College is carried on by elected representatives who serve on the various committees of the ASCPS. Central Board, the legislative group, passes all laws and rules of the student body; appropriates all of the money used by the various departments; and carries out the traditions of the College. Student department heads, class representatives, the editors of the Trail and Tamanawas, and the officers of the Associated Students of the College of Puget Sound, are members.

The Chapel Committee plans all chapels for the College, obtaining speakers, musicians, and outstanding personalities who speak to the students three times a week. This year they obtained such speakers as General Wainright, and Mrs. Buena Maris.

The other important legislative group on the Campus is the Finance Committee which recommends to Central Board a solution to all financial difficulties and troubles.

CLASSES
We entered CPS with Dr. Thompson, all of us very green. He called us a class with 'spizirinctum'! That has been our motto throughout four years, during which time we dwindled from a class of near 200 to 42 in our Junior year. True, we didn't win the bag rush in our Freshman year, but we did give the Sophomores a run for their money. We showed off our vast variety of talent on Stunt Night and in the Freshmen Plays.

In sponsoring the first dime dance of the year as Frosh, we said good-bye to some fifty of our own classmates, plus about the same number of upperclassmen leaving the campus to join the Armed Services. It was at this time that we bid farewell to our able president and vice-president, Dick Perkins and Bernie Crowell. Then for the remainder of the year we watched as one after another of our group left the campus.

As Sophomores we adopted Martha Lucille Thompson as our official mascot, presenting her with a CPS letter sweater (her size), and a scroll signed by the entire class. This was in the form of a tribute to Dr. Thompson as he entered CPS the same time we did.

When we reached the status of Juniors, our number had shrunk to 42. Yet, in spite of that, we still had 'spizirinctum.' We sponsored the first social event of the season, a splash party for the entire school. Still on our toes we discovered the Seniors at their secluded 'Sneak Spot,' and later snatched the coveted Hatchet from the grasping fingers of the Sophomores.

In this our Senior year, we are glad to see many familiar faces returning to the campus. We managed to elude the Juniors, for the most part, when we took a day's vacation at Lake Sylvia. Renewing another tradition we are sponsoring a Senior Ball to be held Commencement night. Now we leave CPS with some sadness, there are only seventeen of our original class, but as the boys return they will follow in our footsteps. We have great faith in the future of our Alma Mater and pass on our Pep, School Spirit, and 'Spizirinctum' to all those who enter these halls after we have gone.

As Freshmen we entered CPS 137 strong, just another wartime class. However, we had plenty of pep and spunk. We did have one particular note of distinction, the ASTU moved onto our campus when we entered school. These 238 Army Specialized Training students became a part of our class for their stay here on the campus of CPS.

We showed off our talent at Stunt Night and in the Freshman one-act plays: In the last bag rush to be held until the end of the war, we carried off top honors over a team of upper-classmen. Our song, written by Maxine Atkinson, "Our Gentle Mother," won the Homecoming Songfest that year.

In our Sophomore year we had lost a number of male members. However, we kept up tradition as much as possible under war-time conditions. Even though we had to discontinue the annual bag rush, we kept up the social end of things by sponsoring an evening of games and dancing at the SUB. We were also the first class to sponsor an All-College ice skating party.

This year we have been active in bringing the college back to pre-war basis. Outstanding among our efforts has been the reviving of several traditions abandoned during the past few years. Perhaps the most prominent and successful of these was the Junior Prom. We also entertained the Seniors at a Junior-Senior breakfast, as well as another bit of entertaining when we interrupted them on their Sneak after chasing them from street to highway, to ocean, and finally to lake.

We entered CPS as just another war-time class, our ranks sadly lacking in man power. However, we still had spirit and ambition. Before Matriculation day we had planned a dance, "Pilgrim's Dance," which proved to be a success. In the Stunt Night and Freshmen Play performances we showed the upperclassmen that we had talent.

In spite of the fact that we had to abandon the regular rivalries between the Freshmen and Sophomores that year, we still kept up our green beanie spirit. Four of our class were on the first-team basketball that year.

As Sophomores we revived an old tradition this year; or rather enforced it. With the Frosh in such evidence we saw to it that they were properly respectful to upperclassmen by wearing their green beanies. This was a big step in rehabilitating our campus to pre-war activities.

One of the outstanding social events of the first semester was the barn dance given by our class, the "Hayseed Hi-Jinx" which was held in the gym. Teamed with the Seniors, we took top honors in the Victory Bond Drive.

Reviving another tradition, we participated in the Frosh-Soph tug-of-war on Campus Day... and won!

As Freshmen we had Shirley Oslund, John Scupen, Clair Candler, and Charles Morris as officers. Carol Todd was our representative to Central Board. This year we have had Peggy Rough, President; June Larson, Vice-President; Marian Tregoning, Secretary; Dick Eckert, Sergeant-at-arms; and Clair Candler as Class Representative.

We Freshmen have the distinction of being the first class to enter CPS after the close of World War II. In September we came in some 200 strong, one of the largest classes in several years. During Freshmen Week we elected officers to lead our class throughout the year. These included: Harold Simonsen as President; Waldo Davila, Vice-President; Jeanne Miles, Secretary; and Nick Nicholas and Ed Meneghetti as class representatives.

Our Stunt Night was a huge success and we were noted for our pep and good spirit. Faithfully we wore our green beanies under the watchful eyes of the Sophomores. In October we led off with the first dance of the year, the 'Beanie Bounce.' Next in line we presented a group of exceptionally good one-act plays.

We made a further name for ourselves when we carried off the winning honors in the Homecoming Songfest. Our classmates were active in many school events.

ACTIVITIES
One of the busiest years for the dramatics department began with the production of five Freshman plays on October 5, 1945. The five plays produced were "Before the Curtain Rises," "Ghost in the Green Gown," "Would Your Husband Shoot?", "Wrong Numbers," and "Thank You, Doctor."

Student directors for these plays were Mary Rough, Dorothy Schweinler, Elizabeth Anderberg, LaVerne King and Irene Fearn. Assistant directors were Peggy Rough, MarthaJean Sandin and Lorraine Hasson.

The first of November saw the production of a mystery farce in three acts, "Ramshackle Inn." The leading role, that of Belinda Pryde, was taken by Irene Fearn. Others in the cast were Walter Seabloom, Ray Cason, Sherley Baisinger, Bonny Jean Steele, Marshall Campbell, John Larson, Maisie Harold, Dale Nelson, Mary Rough, Leonard Raver, Byron Crull, Elizabeth Anderberg, Kelly Hamilton and Harold Simonson.

Campus Playcrafters, in cooperation with the music department, presented the annual Christmas program. This year's play was "Dicken's Christmas Carol."

On February 15 the Playcrafters gave four one-act plays in honor of the debaters who were on the campus for the annual high school tournament. The plays were directed by Inez Doherty, Dorothy Schweinler, Elizabeth Anderberg and Irene Fearn. Prompters and property chairmen were MarthaJean Sandin, Gloria Beckerman, Helen Thomas, Beverly Farrell, Miriam Manke and Jane Hagen.

THE CHORAL READERS

From top to bottom: Helen Strong, Irene Fearn, Kerttu Kahn, Gloria Gipple, Carol Todd, Helen Darling, Inez Doherty, Bonny Jean Steele, Sheila Lamar, Murden Woods, Dorothy Schweinler, Ruth Ann Dodsworth, Katherine Alff, Gretchen Swayze, Elizabeth Anderberg, Barbara Rowe, Shirley Baisinger.
The Choral Readers, in their sixth annual recital, presented four groups of poetry, including children's poetry and Lindsay's "The Congo." The most effective part of the program was the ending poem, "Cathedral Chimes At Midnight," for which the group gradually formed a cross.

The spring play, Thornton Wilder's "Skin of Our Teeth," was given May 3 and 4, with Irene Fearn, Troy and Helen Strong, Shirley Milsted and William O'Connell in the leading roles. This play, a Pulitzer Prize winner, depicts man's survival through the Ice Age, deluge and war.

Director of the Campus Playcrafters is Miss Martha Pearl Jones. Dramatic manager is Charles Nee and dramatic department assistant is Ruth Ann Dodsworth.

Art Sheets, Betty Barkost, and James Lentz.
FORENSICS

Forensics began its successful return to normal by hanging out the welcome sign for Coach Dr. Charles T. Battin who had been in government service in Alaska during the war. In his absence, Dr. Marvin R. Schafer, assistant coach, served as adviser. The annual high school debate tournament in February was the first event sponsored by the department. It turned out to be one of the largest ever held west of the Mississippi River drawing teams from some 30 schools in Washington and Idaho.

Practice debates with colleges of the Puget Sound area warmed up the Logger squad for participation in the Northwest Tyro Tournament held on the CPS campus in which teams from Washington and Idaho competed. In this revival of pre-days, CPS’s Rad Hartwell took first-place in impromptu speaking with Harriet Fiske landing in the finals in that event of the two-day affair.

The season that far turned out to be just proving ground for the squad, for when it traveled to the Coast Regional Tournament at Linfield College in McMinnville, Oregon, to participate, it returned with two first-, a second- and a third-place. Taking the honors at this three-day meet by walking away from 25 colleges representing Montana, Idaho, Washington, Oregon and California were Norman Schut, returned veteran, first in one-man Lincoln-Douglas style of debate, first in extemporaneous speaking and second in impromptu: Harriet Fiske and Lyle Lindelien, third in junior division of University or two-man style of debate.

The season reached its climax when the squad traveled to Stockton, California, to compete with colleges from eight states in the Pi Kappa Delta, Province of Pacific Regional Tournament, held on the College of Pacific campus.

CPS there nabbed two first-, one second- and two third-places besides reaching the finals in all events entered, despite competition of such schools as UCLA, USC and OSC. Norman

Schut took first in one-man debate, with Lyle Lindelien backing up the Maroon and White record by placing second. In junior division, Harriet Fiske and Louise Kipper teamed to take first place among the women, while Bob McNary and Byron Norton placed third among the men. Harriet Fiske and Mary Jean Kean landed in the finals of impromptu speaking with Harriet taking third.

Washington Alpha chapter of Pi Kappa Delta, which is the national forensic fraternity maintained on this campus, admitted the following on the merits of their work during the year: Degree of Special Distinction, Norman Schut; Degree of Honor, Lyle Lindelien; Degree of Fraternity, Harriet Fiske, Louise Kipper, Mary Jean Kean, Bob McNary and Byron Norton. Faculty members of Pi Kappa Delta are Dr. Charles T. Battin, Dr. Marvin R. Schafer, and Dr. John D. Regester.

The squad which competed at the different tournaments during the year on the topic of establishing a policy of free trade was composed of Ferd Bondy, Bernie Crowell, Kelly Hamilton, Rell Anderson, William Johnson, Harriet Fiske, Louise Kipper, Mary Jean Kean, Byron Norton, Bob McNary, Lyle Lindelien, Norman Schut, Rad Hartwell and manager Don Bennett.

In April the finalists of the high school oratorical contests in the Sixth Congressional District competed at the College before the student body. Local businessmen who acted as judges gave first place to Richard Drues of Stadium High School in Tacoma.

The contest, sponsored by the State Department of Conservation and Development, awarded a first prize of $100, besides a medal and a trip around the state inspecting Washington's resources. The six district champions will vie for the state championship in Seattle May 22.
MUSIC

Under the direction of its new head, Prof. Clyde W. Keutzer, the music department of the college expanded 165% this year, with 55% of the entire student body taking courses in music.

Prof. Keutzer came to CPS from Scott Field, Belleville, Ill., where he served as director of the USO. He has been head of the Department of Voice at the University of North Carolina, concert soloist throughout the East and South, and Director of Voice at Baldwin-Wallace College.

His revival of the Adelphian Concert Choir, which had been almost inactive throughout the previous years, brought about that organization's extended tour throughout Washington and parts of Idaho during the spring semester.

President of the Adelphian Choir was Irene Fearn, while secretary-treasurer was Mary Ann Truitt. Marshall Campbell edited the new music column, "Off Beat," which appeared in the Trail.

Mary Ann Truitt acted as music department manager and director of the Puget Sound Symphony was Frank Anarde.

The Campus Trio remained an ever-popular group around town, with its personnel changing more frequently than usual. Trio members at the beginning of the year were Virginia Kilde, soprano, Midge Heidinger, second soprano, and Betty Heidinger Smith, contralto. At the end of the first semester Betty was graduated and replaced by Frances Swenson. Toward the end of the spring semester Virginia Kilde dropped out. The new soprano was Anita Stubbins. Accompanist was Jean Thurber.

A new group on the campus, the Harmonairs, composed of Elizabeth Anderberg, Neva Iverson, Carl Niwa, Don Carsten and Arthur Knight, made their debut on the Adelphian tour, and thereafter sang for various programs around town and at the Fort.

Since admission to the Adelphians is by try-out and permission of Prof. Keutzer, and is of limited membership, the Women's Collegiate Singers were organized for those women who wished to belong to a choral group, but who were not eligible for membership in the Adelphians.

TAMANAWAS

Despite the handicap of a staff of thirteen students the Tamanawas of 1946 came out on schedule. Another major barrier to its publication was a lack of funds. Editor Winskill felt that a student body the size of CPS's should have a bigger and better annual than ever before and every effort was made in that direction. Bob appeared before Central Board to plead the case and receive 625 dollars in addition to the budget.

The editorial staff has tried in every way possible to make this year’s annual a clear picture of the years’ events. When actual photographs were not available it was endeavored to paint word pictures so that in after years people will be able to know what happened at CPS in the year ’45-’46. The staff consisted of Elizabeth Anderberg, Don Carsten, Kerrtu Kahn, Murden Woods, Harriet Fiske, and Lyle Lindelien.

The art staff though small was very good. It turned out fine work and in quantity. Art editor Peggy Doubek drew the sketches of the professors, and Cathie Reed designed the cover and the division pages.

The ad staff, too, did its part in turning out a bigger and better Tamanawas. They got busy and secured enough ads to fill all the holes in the budget. Headed by Mary-Anna Schenk and Gwen Simmons, were Beverly Farrell, Jackie Holmberg, and Barbara Hodges.

The photographer for this year was Nelson Richards. He spent lots of time following Bob around the campus and did a swell job on the group photographs. The class pictures were taken by Kennell-Ellis Studios.

Our advisor Dr. Jaeger has been a big help to us all.

The Staff in Action: Lyle Lindelein, Harriet Fiske, Elizabeth Anderberg, Peggy Doubek, Murden Woods, Bob Winskill, Kerttu Kahn, Gwen Simmons, Mary Anna Schenk, Don Carsten, Beverly Farrell, Barbara Hodges.
The Puget Sound Trail embarked upon one of its most successful seasons this year under the direction of Elizabeth Anderberg, Editor-in-Chief. While finances did not permit the Trail's coming out every week, it did come out every other week: with every issue better than average. All of the honors are due to Miss Anderberg's direction.

Those who served on the staff in particularly responsible positions were the following:

Betty Jane Cappa, and Anna Marie Vaughn as Business Managers; Lois Lynch as feature editor; Sheila Lamar as society editor; and Nick Nicholas and Harold Simonsen as sports editors.

Those features that were liked particularly were, Off Beat by the Em Cee, actually Marshall Campbell: The Senior Spotlight written by Carolyn Cummings: Dorm Dora of course: and Gym Shorts by Evelyn Marshall.

One of the highlights of the publications' year was when the office was moved back to its old location at the SUB. Tired newsmen, too long used to fighting their way through the mass of junk in Jones Hall, could really take pride in their new room complete even to keys, to keep those persons out who insisted upon borrowing the staff typewriters. Immediately the room was christened the PUB and became known as "the PUB in the SUB."

Dr. Jaeger acted as Trail advisor throughout the entire year.

Married Couples' Club Organized
The student government was delighted with the result of the election for the officers of the club. The officers, who were elected a fortnight ago, are Nick Nicholas, President; Dorothy Kostenbader, Vice President; and Harold Simonsen, Secretary. The club met for the first time last Tuesday and plans are being made for a number of activities throughout the semester.
